1. The Merchant Marine Council will hold a public hearing on Tuesday, March 23, 1954, commencing at 9:30 a. m., in Room 4120, Coast Guard Headquarters, Thirteenth and E Streets NW., Washington, D. C., for the purpose of receiving comments, views, and data on certain proposed changes in the Navigation and Vessel Inspection Regulations as generally described in Items I to XI, inclusive, below.

2. The proposed changes in the Navigation and Vessel Inspection Regulations, together with the statutory authority for making such changes, are generally described by subjects in paragraphs 5 to 46, inclusive. The Merchant Marine Council Semiannual Meeting Agenda (CG-249), dated March 1954, has been prepared. This agenda contains the specific changes proposed and where possible the present and proposed regulations are set forth in comparison form, together with reasons for the changes where necessary. Copies of this agenda have been mailed to persons and organizations who have expressed a continued interest in the subjects under consideration and have requested that copies be furnished them. Copies of the agenda will be furnished on request to the Commandant (CMC), United States Coast Guard, Washington 25, D. C., so long as they are available. After the extra copies for distribution are exhausted, copies will be available for reading purposes only in Room 4104, Coast Guard Headquarters, or at the offices of the various Coast Guard District Commanders.

3. Comments on the proposed changes in the Navigation and Vessel Inspection Regulations are invited. All persons who desire to submit written comments, data, and views prior to the hearing for consideration in connection with the proposed changes should submit them for receipt prior to March 18, 1954, by the Commandant (CMC), Coast Guard Headquarters, Washington 25, D. C., or comments, data, and views may be presented orally or in writing at the hearing before the Merchant Marine Council on March 23, 1954. In order to insure consideration of comments and to facilitate checking and recording, it is essential that each comment regarding a section or paragraph of the proposed regulations shall be submitted on Form CG-3287, showing the section number, the proposed changes, the reason or basis (if any), and the name, business firm or organization (if any), and the address of the submitter. There is a small quantity of this form attached at the end of each agenda. In the event additional forms are required they may be obtained upon request from the Commandant (CMC), or from any Coast Guard District Commander.

4. At this public hearing the proposed changes in the Navigation and Vessel Inspection Regulations will be considered in the order of the item numbers assigned to the various subjects under consideration.

ITEM I—MARINE ENGINEERING REGULATIONS; CONSTRUCTION

5. It is proposed to revise 46 CFR 52.01-55 (a) and 61.20-15 (f), regarding maximum allowable pressures for boilers constructed before November 19, 1952, so that calculations of maximum allowable pressures on boilers constructed prior to November 19, 1952, may be recalculated on the basis of the regulations in effect at the time the boiler was built rather than current requirements in effect, but in no event will the maximum allowable pressure be revised to permit a boiler to operate with a factor of safety of less than 4½. The proposed changes are intended to remove inequities which arose because of the changes made in the method for determining the maximum allowable pressures for existing vessels. When the regulations were revised in 1952 it was not intended that the requirements regarding maximum allowable pressures for marine boilers should be made retroactive in effect.

6. Several safety valve failures have occurred and the cause was attributed to improper or nondrainage of the safety valve body. To eliminate corrosive condensate from being entrapped within the safety valve body, it is proposed to add a new paragraph designated 46 CFR 52.65-15 (f) which will require direct drains from each boiler safety valve.

7. Requests have been made to remove the prohibition against the use of small socket-welded boiler connections. Information on the performance use of screwed connections in boiler mountings and attachments was also submitted. It is proposed to amend 46 CFR 52.70-10 (a) to permit socket-welded boiler connections up to 2 inches in diameter size and to limit screwed connections to ½-inch maximum pipe size for boilers of design pressures exceeding 150 pounds per square inch.

8. The authority for regulations regarding marine engineering is in R. S. 4405, as amended, and 4462, as amended; 46 U. S. C. 375, 416. These regulations interpret or apply R. S. 4399, 4400, 4417, 4417a, 4418, 4421, 4426-4431, 4433, 4434, 4453, 4491, as amended, section 14, 29 Stat. 690, 41 Stat. 305, sections 1 and 2, 49 Stat. 1544, section 17, 54 Stat. 166, section 3, 54 Stat. 346, section 2, 54 Stat. 1028, section 5, 55 Stat. 244, 245, as amended; 46 U. S. C. 361, 362, 391a, 392, 399, 404-409, 411, 412, 435, 489, 366, 363, 367, 526p, 1333, 463a, 50 U. S. C. App. 1275; and E. O. 10402, 17 F. R. 9917; 3 CFR, 1952 Supp.

ITEM II—MARINE ENGINEERING REGULATIONS; PIPING

9. Changes to 46 CFR 50.01-15 (d) and 55.07-5 (d) are proposed in order to permit the use of ultrasonic or other nondestructive methods for determining the thicknesses of the outer walls of pipe bends after fabrication. The proposed changes provide an alternate method for determining pipe wall thicknesses and will require that a nondestructive method of examination and determination of wall thicknesses shall be employed where the design temperatures of the piping will exceed 750° F.

10. It is proposed to amend 46 CFR 55.10-1 (g), regarding relief valves in exhaust piping, in order to clarify the intent of the regulation when the exhaust line of machinery is designed at the same pressure as the inlet pressure. In such cases relief valves on the exhaust side are not necessary and it is proposed that they no longer be required.

11. It is proposed to add a new paragraph designated 46 CFR 55.10-1 (h) to the requirements regarding steam and exhaust piping to restrict certain installations to minimize the possibility of thermocracks in superheated steam lines. It has been noted that cracks in the superheater outlet piping have occurred on vessels where the instrument or gage piping has been installed to permit the condensate to enter superheated lines.

12. The bilge and ballast piping requirements in 46 CFR 55.10-25 were revised in 1952 to implement the 1948 International Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea. The requirements in § 55.10-25 (j) have been interpreted as applying to cargo vessels operating on the Great Lakes, which requirements are similar in effect to those in § 55.10-25 (i), applicable to ocean and coastwise vessels. It is proposed, therefore, to amend 46 CFR 55.10-25 (i) and (j) and to add a new paragraph designated 46 CFR 55.10-25 (k) in order to clarify the requirements regarding bilge and ballast piping and bilge pumps.

13. The authority for regulations regarding marine engineering is in R. S. 4405, as amended, and 4462, as amended; 46 U. S. C. 375, 416. These regulations interpret or apply R. S. 4399, 4400, 4417, 4417a, 4418, 4421, 4426-4431, 4433, 4434, 4453, 4491, as amended, section 14, 29 Stat. 690, 41 Stat. 305, sections 1 and 2, 49 Stat. 1544, section 17, 54 Stat. 166, section 3, 54 Stat. 346, section 2, 54 Stat. 1028, section 5, 55 Stat. 244, 245, as amended; 46 U. S. C. 361, 362, 391a, 392, 399, 404-409, 411, 412, 435, 489, 366, 363, 367, 526p, 1333, 463a, 50 U. S. C. App. 1275; and E. O. 10402, 17 F. R. 9917; 3 CFR, 1952 Supp.

ITEM III—MARINE ENGINEERING REGULATIONS; INTERNAL COMBUSTION ENGINE EXHAUST LINES

14. Requirements regarding gasoline engine installations in 46 CFR 57.10-5 (d) (3) were formerly published in the Motorboat Regulations and in the 1952 revision of the format of regulations these requirements were transferred to this part, and were also made applicable to motor vessels. However, compliance with these requirements by some of the larger motor vessels was not possible without extensive rearrangement of machinery. It is proposed to amend 46 CFR 57.10-5 (d) (3) to remove the specific prohibition against the use of 90° elbows or bends of less than 5 diameters in the exhaust of all internal combustion engine installations.

15. The authority for regulations regarding marine engineering is in R. S. 4405, as amended, and 4462, as amended; 46 U. S. C. 375, 416. These regulations interpret or apply R. S. 4399, 4400, 4417, 4417a, 4418, 4421, 4426-4431, 4433, 4434, 4453, 4491, as amended, section 14, 29 Stat. 690, 41 Stat. 305, sections 1 and 2, 49 Stat. 1544, section 17, 54 Stat. 166, section 3, 54 Stat. 346, section 2, 54 Stat. 1028, section 5, 55 Stat. 244, 245, as amended; 46 U. S. C. 361, 362, 391a, 392, 399, 404-409, 411, 412, 435, 489, 366, 363, 367, 526p, 1333, 463a, 50 U. S. C. App. 1275; and E. O. 10402, 17 F. R. 9917; 3 CFR, 1952 Supp.

ITEM IV—PASSENGER, CARGO AND MISCELLANEOUS VESSELS; APPLICATION OF RULES AND REGULATIONS

16. The format and arrangement of the rules and regulations for vessel inspection were revised in 1952. In this revision certain requirements based on the 1948 Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea were applied to motorboats, vessels operating exclusively within the jurisdiction of the United States, or to certain vessels which were exempt from the requirements of the 1948 Convention. In certain instances requirements were made applicable to certain vessels where it was not intended that such craft should be required to comply with them.

17. It is proposed to add new paragraphs designated 46 CFR 70.05-10 (a) and 90.05-10 (a) describing the intent of the phrase "vessels on an international voyage." The proposed regulations are in agreement with the 1948 Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea.

18. It is proposed to clarify the intent of the application of certain regulations with respect to lifesaving equipment on passenger, cargo and miscellaneous vessels. The proposed amendments do not change requirements for various lifesaving items, but do change the application of the regulations to certain types of vessels. It is proposed to amend the application of regulations designated 46 CFR 75.10-15 (b) with respect to passenger vessels in the coastwise service, 46 CFR 94.01-1 (a) with respect to lifesaving equipment for cargo and miscellaneous vessels, Tables 75.43-10 (a) and 94.43-10 (a), in 46 CFR 75.43-10 and 94.43-10, regarding the number of ring life buoys and water lights required; 46 CFR 75.15-90 and 94.15-90, regarding stowage and marking of lifeboats and life rafts; 46 CFR 94.45-1 (a) and 94.45-10 (a), regarding line throwing appliances on cargo and miscellaneous vessels; 46 CFR 94.50-10 (a), regarding illumination for lifeboat launching operations on cargo and miscellaneous vessels, and 46 CFR 94.55-1 (a), regarding portable radio apparatus on cargo and miscellaneous vessels.

19. In order to eliminate the application of certain fire detecting requirements to motorboats and to clarify the regulations, it is proposed to amend Table 76.05-1 (a) in 46 CFR 76.05-1, regarding fire detecting and extinguishing equipment, 46 CFR 76.05-5 (a), regarding manual alarm system, and 46 CFR 76.05-10 (a), regarding the supervised patrol or watchman system, which are required on passenger vessels; and 46

CFR 96.05–10 (a), regarding fixed fire extinguishing systems, which are required on cargo and miscellaneous vessels. In order to exclude motorboats from certain requirements regarding hand portable fire extinguishing and semiportable fire extinguishing systems, which were not previously applied to them, it is proposed to revise Table 76.50–10 (a) for passenger vessels and Table 95.50–10 (a) for cargo and miscellaneous vessels in 46 CFR 76.50–10 and 95.50–10.

20. It is proposed to revise 46 CFR 78.30–10 (a), regarding supervised patrols on passenger vessels, so that this requirement will not be applicable to motorboats. It is proposed to revise 46 CFR 93.01–1 (a), regarding applicability of stability requirements for cargo and miscellaneous vessels, so that these regulations will apply only to vessels on an international voyage which are contracted for on or after November 19, 1952.

21. The authority for these regulations is in R. S. 4405, as amended, and 4462, as amended; 46 U. S. C. 375, 416. The regulations interpret or apply R. S. 4417, 4418, 4426, 4470, 4471, 4477, 4479, 4483, as amended, 49 Stat. 1544, sec. 17, 54 Stat. 166, sec. 3, 54 Stat. 346, sec. 2, 54 Stat. 1028, and sec. 5, 55 Stat. 244, 245, as amended; 46 U. S. C. 391, 392, 404, 463, 464, 470, 472, 476, 367, 526p, 1333, 463a, 50 U. S. C. App. 1275; and E. O. 10402, 17 F. R. 9917; 3 CFR, 1952 Supp.

ITEM V—PASSENGER VESSELS; STRUCTURAL FIRE PROTECTION

22. It is proposed to revise the regulations regarding structural fire protection of passenger vessels by clarifying the term "main vertical zone" in 46 CFR 72.05–5 (h) and 72.05–10 (b) to indicate that the mean length for one zone on any one deck shall not exceed 131 feet; to clarify the ventilation requirements in 46 CFR 72.05–50 (g) so that ducts from auxiliary machinery spaces which pass through accommodations will not be required to have automatic dampers; and to amend 46 CFR 72.05–55 (c), regarding furniture and furnishings to require that all upholstery and padding of sofas, chairs, etc., in passageways and stairway enclosures shall be of approved fire retardant materials.

23. The authority for these regulations is in R. S. 4405, as amended, and 4462, as amended; 46 U. S. C. 375, 416. The regulations interpret or apply R. S. 4417, 4418, 4426, 4470, 4471, 4477, 4479, 4483, as amended, 49 Stat. 1544, sec. 17, 54 Stat. 166, sec. 3, 54 Stat. 346, sec. 2, 54 Stat. 1028, and sec. 5, 55 Stat. 244, 245, as amended; 46 U. S. C. 391, 392, 404, 463, 464, 470, 472, 476, 367, 526p, 1333, 463a, 50 U. S. C. App. 1275; and E. O. 10402, 17 F. R. 9917; 3 CFR, 1952 Supp.

ITEM VI—PASSENGER, CARGO AND MISCELLANEOUS VESSELS; ACCOMMODATIONS FOR OFFICERS AND CREW

24. In order to clarify the intent of 46 CFR 72.20–10 (b) for passenger vessels, and 46 CFR 92.20–10 (b) for cargo and miscellaneous vessels, it is proposed to amend these paragraphs so that the crew spaces shall not be located any closer to the stem of the vessel than a distance equal to 5 percent of the length of the vessel.

25. The authority for these regulations is in R. S. 4405, as amended, and 4462, as amended; 46 U. S. C. 375, 416. The regulations interpret or apply R. ITEM VII—PASSENGER, CARGO AND MISCELLANEOUS VESSELS; RAILS AND GUARDS

26. In order to reduce the possibility of people falling through the guard rails, it is proposed to specify the maximum distance between courses of rails as 18 inches for vessels contracted for on or after January 1, 1955. To accomplish this it is proposed to amend 46 CFR 72.40–5 (a) and (b) for passenger vessels, and 46 CFR 92.25–5 (a) for cargo and miscellaneous vessels.

28. In the requirements covering inspections and certifications for passenger, cargo and miscellaneous vessels, the hydrostatic test for CO_2 storage bottles for hand portable fire extinguishers and fixed and semiportable fire extinguishing systems was omitted. It is proposed to add this requirement as a footnote to Tables 71.25–20 (a) (1) and 71.25–20 (a) (2) for passenger vessels and as a footnote to Tables 91.25–20 (a) (1) and 91.25–20 (a) (2) for cargo and miscellaneous vessels in 46 CFR 71.25–20 and 91.25–20, respectively.

[Docket No. AO 123–A 17]

HANDLING OF MILK IN LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY, MARKETING AREA

DECISION WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was conducted at Louisville, Kentucky, on January 11–12, 1954, pursuant to notice thereof which was issued December 31, 1953 (19 F. R. 71).

The material issues presented in the record of the hearing related to:

1. A decrease in the price of milk used in the production of certain products classified in Class II.

2. The need for immediate action by the Secretary on issue No. 1 because of emergency conditions prevailing in the marketing of producer milk.

3. An extension in the area where milk is permitted to be transferred and be classified in Class II.

4. A minor change in the procedure for assigning utilization of skim milk and butterfat to producer milk and to milk from other regulated markets.

5. Adjustment of minor administrative provisions.

Findings and conclusions. The following findings and conclusions on issues numbered 1 and 2 are based upon the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof. Emergency action is recommended on issue No. 1. Findings and conclusions relating to issues numbered 3 through 5 and final action on issue No. 1 will be recommended in a separate decision to be issued at a later date.

1. Handlers should be allowed a credit on Class II butterfat used in the production of butter or American type cheese. This credit per pound of butterfat should be calculated on the basis of the difference between the Class II price and the average of the prices reported paid producers by the 7 local milk manufacturing plants as calculated pursuant to § 946.51 (b) (1) of the order divided by 3.8. In no case, however, should such credit be allowed to exceed 6 cents per pound of butterfat.

Evidence in the hearing record indicates that handlers are experiencing difficulty in disposing of milk in excess of that required for Class I sales. Outlets for manufactured milk are more than amply supplied by virtue of substantially increased volumes of milk from both Grade A and ungraded sources. Receipts of producer milk in December 1953 were 20 percent over December 1952, which were in turn 9 percent over December 1951. Record evidence indicates that this increased rate of production was maintained in January 1954 and may be expected to continue. A representative of one of the larger handlers testified that he had nearly as much surplus milk for manufacture in January 1954 as at the point of peak production in 1953. As a result, manufacturing facilities in the area are already heavily loaded and may not be sufficient to handle the flush of milk this spring even on an overtime basis.

A considerable amount of evidence was presented at the hearing by handlers of Class II milk to show that substantial losses are now being incurred in the handling of such milk. Most handlers under the order dispose of their surplus through sale or transfer to unregulated manufacturing plants. Butter and cheese manufacturing plants in the Louisville area which normally accept this surplus milk are reluctant to purchase any milk except that received from their own producers. Plants which are accepting bulk Grade A milk generally are paying the same prices for such milk as they pay ungraded producers. This is well below the Class II price fixed under the order. The December price for Class II milk was 56 cents over the average price paid by 7 local manufacturing plants listed in the order. The average amount by which Class II prices exceeded the paying prices for the 7 local plants for 1953 was nearly 60 cents. The smallest difference during the year was 38 cents.

One handler with no processing facilities of his own testified he was forced to sell bulk milk for Class II use at a price which returned him 70 cents per hundredweight less than the direct cost of the milk under the order. In addition to this loss, he had to meet the expense of receiving and cooling the milk, and hauling it to the plant where it was sold.

Some handlers who had processing facilities of their own testified that they were losing considerable money making butter, cheese, and nonfat dry milk solids even though they allocated only direct costs to the manufacture of these products.

In order to encourage handlers to continue to receive all milk delivered by producers during the coming months of flush production, it is found necessary to amend the order promptly to lower the price for milk used in certain Class II outlets. In order that this action may be taken promptly, the usual time allowed for filing exceptions is being omitted. This amendment should be effective only temporarily. Final action with respect to this issue should be reserved pending further study of the hearing record and after interested parties have had opportunity to file exception to recommended findings of the Deputy Administrator, Agricultural Marketing Service.

The present Class II pricing provisions of the order result in an automatic decrease in the Class II price beginning April 1. This year, however, the earlier than normal development of surpluses, coupled with a somewhat distressed market for manufactured products, makes it necessary that Class II prices be decreased sooner, and somewhat further than the order now provides.

The primary need for this decrease is with respect to milk the butterfat of which is used in the manufacture of butter or American type cheese. These are the products for which markets were most distressed, and they are the products which resulted in losses to the handlers. These are likewise the products which absorb the surplus above the more or less usual sales of products marketed locally, such as cottage cheese and ice cream.

The emergency butterfat credit to handlers allowed under the amendment herein provided should be continued through the months of greatest production. The record indicates that May is ordinarily the month of largest production in the Louisville area. The months of June and July are also months of large production, and it is concluded that the allowance herein provided should be continued through July in order to facilitate the disposition of excess milk when such milk is in largest supply.

The maximum credit which should be allowed is 6 cents per pound of butterfat. This will allow normal differences between the average pay prices of the 7 local plants, and the Class II price to be reflected in a lower cost for butterfat used for butter and American type cheese, but will not allow unusually large differences to be reflected.

Where milk or cream is transferred or diverted to an unregulated plant, the use of producer milk should be considered to have been established if an amount of butterfat equivalent to that transferred in producer milk was used at the plant during the month in the production of butter or American type cheese. Class II producer butterfat utilized in the plant of a handler should be assigned pro rata along with other source butterfat to all Class II products in such plant.

2. The due and timely execution of the function of the Secretary under the act imperatively and unavoidably requires the omission of a recommended decision by the Deputy Administrator, Agricultural Marketing Service, and the opportunity for exception thereto, on the above issues.

The conditions complained of are such that it is urgent that remedial action be taken as soon as possible. Delay beyond the minimum time required to make the attached order effective would defeat the purpose of such amendment. Accordingly, the time necessarily involved in the preparation, filing, and publication of a recommended decision, and exceptions thereto, would make such relief ineffective.

General findings. (a) The tentative marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the tentative marketing agreement and in the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(c) The tentative marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity, specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Determination of representative period. The month of December 1953 is hereby determined to be the representative period for the purpose of ascertaining whether the issuance of an order amending the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Louisville, Kentucky, marketing area in the manner set forth in the attached amending order, as amended, is approved or favored by producers who, during such period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the marketing area specified in such order.

Marketing agreement and order, as amended. Annexed hereto and made a part hereof are two documents entitled "marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the Louisville, Kentucky, marketing area," and "order amending the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Louisville, Kentucky, marketing area," which have been decided upon as the detailed and appropriate means of effectuating the foregoing conclusions. These documents shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and orders have been met.

It is hereby ordered, That all of this decision, except the attached marketing agreement, be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The regulatory provisions of said marketing agreement are identical with those contained in the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended by the attached order which will be published with this decision.

This decision filed at Washington, D. C., this 19th day of February 1954.

[SEAL] ROSS RIZLEY,
Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

Order[1] Amending the Order, as Amended, Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Louisville, Kentucky Marketing Area

§ 946.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Louisville, Kentucky, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity, specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Louisville, Kentucky, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, as follows:

1. Delete that portion of § 946.51 (b) which precedes subparagraph (1) thereof and substitute therefor the following:

(b) Class II milk. From the effective date of this section through July 1954, the price of Class II milk shall be the higher of the prices computed pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph.

2. Delete § 946.70 (e) and substitute therefor the following:

(e) From the effective date of this section through July 1954 deduct for each pound of butterfat in producer milk which was allocated to Class II pursuant to § 946.46 and which was either used in the production of butter or American type cheeses or assigned to such products pursuant to § 946.44 six cents, or an amount obtained by dividing by 3.8 the difference between the Class II price and the price calculated pursuant to § 946.51 (b) (1), whichever is less.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[17 CFR Part 250]

PRESCRIBING STANDARDS FOR EMPLOYEE STOCK OPTION PLANS OF REGISTERED HOLDING COMPANIES AND THEIR SUBSIDIARIES

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given that the Securities and Exchange Commission is considering adopting a new Rule U-51 under the Public Utility Holding Comany Act of 1935 which would prescribe the standards for employee stock option plans of registered holding companies and their subsidiaries.

The proposal to adopt U-51 is made pursuant to the provisions of sections 6, 7, 12 (f), 12 (g), and 20 (a) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act.

The proposal is a result of informal consideration given by the Commission, as reconstituted last summer, to several stock purchase plans for officers and employees in holding company systems. These plans conform in most respects with a letter, dated May 15, 1953, sent by the Division of Corporate Regulation at the direction of the Commission to each holding company registered under the Public Utility Holding Company Act; copies of the letter were made available to the public. The letter stated that the Commission was prepared to consider under the Act incentive compensation plans involving the issue of equity securities by a holding company, provided they met the requirements set forth in the letter.

The informal discussions of the Commission relating to plans currently filed or proposed to be filed have resulted in further consideration of the legal question as to whether, in view of the provisions in sections 7 (c) and 7 (d) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act, the Commission can permit a declaration in respect of any stock purchase plan or stock option plan to become effective if it might result in the issue of stock to officers and employees at a future date and at a price less than the then prevailing open market price. The discussions also resulted in the raising of questions as to whether the standards prescribed in the letter of May 15, 1953 are adequate to protect the public interest and the interests of investors and consumers.

The announcement of the proposed rule is not to be deemed a prejudgment of its merits. The Commission proposes not to take final action on any application or declaration in respect of stock option plans prior to an ultimate decision with respect to the proposed rule.

The proposed rule reads as follows:

§ 250.51 Employee stock option plans—(a) Operation of the rule. The Commission will not grant or permit to become effective any application or declaration which pertains to the issuance of stock to officers or employees of a registered holding company or of any of its subsidiary companies pursuant to an employee stock option plan, as hereinafter defined, unless:

(1) The plan meets the standards set forth in paragraph (c) of this section;

(2) The plan has been filed with the Commission as part of the said application or declaration and no options or rights to purchase have been issued under it prior to the grant of such application or the effectiveness of such declaration;

(3) The declaration or application includes an opinion of counsel which states that the plan wil comply with State law and that the grant of stock options under it will be legal under State law, and which further states whether or not the approval of any State regulatory authority is required to be obtained in connection with the adoption of the plan or the issuance of options or shares thereunder; and

(4) The declaration or application includes as an exhibit any order or orders of State regulatory authorities stated by counsel in said opinion to be required in conection with the adoption of the plan or the issuance of options or shares thereunder.

(b) Definition of employee stock option plan. "Employee stock option plan" as used in Rule U-51 means a plan adopted by a registered holding company or by a subsidiary company thereof pursuant to which officers and employees of companies in the holding company system with which the adopting company (hereinafter called the "issuer") is associated are given rights to purchase common stock of the issuer at a fixed price and for a definite period, and, in addition, means a plan under which any of such officers and employees is given a right to return to the issuer within a specified period any stock which he may have purchased from such company and thereupon to have refunded to him the purchase price paid therefor, or a plan under which any of such officers and directors, after having entered into a subscription contract for the purchase of stock of the issuer, is entitled for a specified period to rescind such contract and obtain a refund of any payments theretofore made pursuant to such contract.

(c) Standards. An employee stock option plan of a registered holding company or of any subsidiary company thereof must comply with the following standards:

(1) The plan shall provide for "restricted stock options" as defined in section 130A of the Internal Revenue Code.

(2) The plan shall comply fully with the law of the State in which the issuer is incorporated.

(3) The plan shall pertain only to common stock of the issuer and, subject to fair anti-dilution provisions in the event of stock splits, stock dividends and like changes in outstanding stocks, shall not pertain to more than five percent of the shares of common stock outstanding at the time the plan is approved by stockholders.

(4) The plan shall provide that options can be granted thereunder during a period of not exceeding five years after the date of stockholder approval of the plan and that the options themselves can extend for a period not exceeding seven years after their respective dates of grant.

(5) The plan shall provide for an option price no lower than the fair market value of the underlying shares on the date the option is granted.

(6) The plan shall provide that in order to exercise an option, the optionee must be an employee of the issuer or of an associate company in the same holding company system with the issuer, or, if the applicant or declarant so desires, the plan may provide that the option may be exercised within the three-month period subsequent to termination of employment, or if the employment shall have been terminated as a result of death, within one year of such termination.

(7) The plan shall provide that upon exercise of an option in whole or in part the optionee must make full cash payment for the shares being acquired, or complete the cash payment therefor if payments have previously been made on installments; there can be no right in favor of an employee after he has exercised an option in whole or in part to rescind the purchase and return the purchased shares to the issuer in exchange for the purchase price.

(8) The plan shall provide that the optionee is required to covenant upon exercising an option that he is acquiring the resulting shares for investment and not with a view to distribution; and this covenant shall be required irrespective of whether such shares have been registered under the Securities Act of 1933.

(9) The plan shall be drafted so as to assure that the grant of an option thereunder will be supported by a reasonable equivalent in value given by the optionee to his employer, either in the form of an employment agreement for a definite period on the part of the optionee or in the form of other assurance of the optionee's employment for a definite period by reason of the fact that the option is not exercisable in part or in whole until expiration of such period.

(10) The plan shall not permit the grant of an option to a director for his services as such.

(11) The plan shall specify the class of officers and employees who may receive options thereunder; it shall provide that not more than an aggregate of 25 percent of the shares covered by the plan can be optioned to persons who are officers of the issuer or of companies associated with the issuer; it shall specify the maximum number of shares which can be optioned to any one person during the five-year or shorter period of the plan, and in this connection the maximum number of shares which can be optioned to any one person during such period shall not exceed the number which, when multiplied by the option price, is equal to 150 percent of the regular annual cash compensation paid to him by companies in the holding company system at the time the first option is granted to him under the plan.

(12) The plan shall provide for its administration by a committee comprised of members of the board of directors who are ineligible to receive options under the plan; and, to the extent any such discretion is required to be exercised under the plan, such committee shall select optionees from the specified class or group of employees, determine the number of shares to be optioned to each, the date or dates upon which options shall be granted, and the option price or prices.

(13) The plan shall be approved by the vote of at least a majority of the outstanding voting shares (exclusive of any shares held by prospective optionees) of the issuer, or by the vote necessary to waive preemptive rights over the stock involved if preemptive rights exist, whichever is higher.

(14) The stockholders' vote on the plan shall be preceded by the solicitation of proxies in connection with which a proxy statement complying with the standards of Regulation X-14 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 shall be used. Such proxy statement shall state, among other things, whether it is the intent to option all of the shares covered by the plan at one time; if this is not the case, whether it is expected that a single employee may receive a second stock option at a time when he holds unexercised a stock option previously granted; and, if the grant of a second stock option is considered a possibility, the conditions which will be taken into consideration in deciding upon the grant of a second stock option. The proxy statement shall also describe the tax consequences of the plan to the issuer, its associate companies, and the optionee.

All interested persons are invited to submit views and comments on the proposed rule on or before March 29, 1954, addressed to the Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. A public hearing on the proposed rule will be held commencing at 9:30 a. m. on Thursday, April 8, 1954, and any views or comments received in writing prior to the hearing will be placed in the public record at the hearing unless in any case a person commenting requests that his comments be treated confidentially. The Commission desires views and comments, both in writing and orally at the hearing, not only on the merits of the proposed rule but also on the legal question which is mentioned above.

By the Commission.

[Case No. 173]

CUBRAL MILL PRODUCTS CORP.

ORDER REVOKING LICENSES AND DENYING EXPORT PRIVILEGES

In the matter of: Cubral Mill Products Corporation, 150 Nassau Street, New York 38, New York, respondent; Case No. 173.

Cubral Mill Products Corporation, the respondent herein, having been charged by the Director of the Investigation Staff, Office of International Trade, now the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, with having violated the Export Control Act of 1949, as amended, was duly served with a charging letter, submitted its answer thereto and demanded a hearing before a Compliance Commissioner. The hearing was duly held, respondent appeared thereat, was represented by counsel, and all the evidence in support of the charges and the defenses of the respondent in opposition thereto were fully heard and submitted.

The charges in this proceeding arise as a result of a system of licensing copper and brass scrap instituted prior to the fourth quarter 1952 whereby, for the purpose of providing a fair and equitable distribution of this commodity for export, the bulk of the supply of this commodity available for export was reserved for those persons or firms who had actually exported it during the years 1949 and 1950, which period was designated as the base period. Applicants for export licenses for this commodity who desired to be considered for allocations out of the portion so reserved were required to make a showing that they had actually exported it during the base period by filing a statement showing the total of such exports during each of the years 1949–1950: Provided, That such exports exceeded $5,000 in value in either year. They were known as historic exporters. A portion of the remainder of the available supply not so reserved for the historic exporters, was to be distributed to non-historic exporters at the rate of one carload per applicant on a first come, first served basis, until exhausted, in any one quarter. The system was so set up that, as long as it was in operation, the historic exporters would always participate on a proportional basis in the reserved portion while otherwise eligible non-historic exporters, according to the time of submission of their applications, would receive one carload either in the first quarter of operation or in subsequent quarters, with a second or more carloads being licensed in rotation in accordance with the supply. Respondent concededly was not an historic exporter within the regulation establishing this system. It applied for a modification of the regulation so that it might be so considered on the basis of its exports in 1951. The Director of Investigation alleged that the figures it submitted in support of this request as alleged quantities of exports of copper and brass scrap in 1951 were false. Respondent admitted that the figures so submitted were not figures of exports and alleged that they were figures of export licenses granted to it in 1951 on the basis of which it contended it should be considered an historic exporter and that it had been led to believe by officials of the Office of International Trade that such licenses were a relevant factor in the consideration of its request. It says that the word "exports" had been inadvertently and unintentionally used, that it was never its intention to use that word, it did not know it had been typewritten in the letter, it at all times prior to the erroneous use of the word being called to its attention believing that the words export licenses had been used.

The Compliance Commissioner has filed with me his Report and Recommendation, together with the transcript of testimony and exhibits submitted at the hearing and the entire record. I have carefully read and considered said report, recommendations, transcript of hearing, exhibits and record. Counsel for the respondent requested that he be granted the privilege of oral argument before me prior to my taking final action and I granted him this unusual privilege not provided by the rules. I have heard him fully.

Now, after such oral argument, and after careful consideration of the entire record herein including the transcript of hearing before the Compliance Commissioner, the exhibits and the report and recommendation, I make the following

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. That on or about September 13, 1951, the Office of International Trade, now the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, established a system of allocating copper and brass scrap for export whereby a person who had engaged in such exports during the years 1949 and 1950 was to be permitted to export that part of the available supply set aside for all such exporters as was equal to the fraction realized from dividing his average annual exports for those two years by the total of the average annual exports for those years. The available supply set apart for such exporters was most of the supply available for export.

2. Cubral Mill Products Corp. is a corporation engaged in the export business in New York City, N. Y.

3. The respondent had not exported copper or brass scrap in 1949 or 1950. Respondent appealed to the Office of International Trade for a modification of the system so established to the end that Cubral might be placed in the same category as those who had exported copper and brass scrap in those years.

4. In presenting this appeal, it stated and represented to the Office of International Trade that Cubral had exported 1,080,000 pounds of copper and brass scrap in 1951. The Office of International Trade accepted this statement and representation and, relying on the truth thereof, granted respondent's appeal and placed Cubral in the same category as those who had exported copper and brass scrap in 1949 and 1950. This was accomplished by artificially regarding Cubral's stated 1951 exports as having been made in the years 1949–1950.

5. This system for granting export licenses for copper and brass scrap did not become effective until the fourth quarter 1952. In that quarter, by reason of Cubral's having been placed in the category of exporters who had shipped in 1949–1950, the stated exportations of 1,080,000 pounds, when treated according to the established formula set forth in Finding 1 above, resulted in an allocation of two carloads or 112,000 pounds of scrap for Cubral and an export license for this amount was issued to it. Cubral utilized this license in full.

6. The statement and representation by respondent that Cubral had exported 1,080,000 pounds of copper and brass scrap in 1951 were false and known to be false by the respondent. Respondent made said statement and representation to the Office of International Trade for the purpose and with the intention that its appeal that Cubral be placed in the 1949–1950 category of exporters be granted and that it might thereby be granted export licenses for copper and brass scrap as a member of that category.

It is therefore my conclusion that respondent knowingly made a false representation and statement and falsified material facts to the Office of International Trade, now the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, in violation of § 381.1 (b) of the export control regulations. All issues raised by the charging letter and not specifically mentioned herein are hereby dismissed.

The Compliance Commissioner, in making his recommendation herein, has cited numerous factors accepted by him in mitigation of respondent's acts and has also set forth the respondent's arguments in support of lenient and merciful disposition of this case. He has also set forth other factors taken into consideration by him in arriving at the recommendation made by him. This recommendation includes not only the action hereinafter taken but also severe disciplinary action against respondent's representative who presented its request for special consideration as an historic exporter. In addition to my consideration of the recommendations thus made, I have carefully considered the oral plea made on behalf of the respondent by its attorney. It is my decision that the recommendations made are fair, reasonable and proper, and also necessary to achieve effective enforcement of the law, and they are accordingly adopted.

It is now therefore ordered, That:

(1) All outstanding validated export licenses held by or issued in the name of respondent Cubral Mill Products Corporation, or any person, firm, corporation, or other business organization with which it is now related by ownership, control, position of responsibility, or other connection, in the conduct of trade involving exports from the United States or services connected therewith, are revoked and shall be returned forthwith to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce for cancellation.

(2) The above named respondent is hereby denied and declared ineligible to exercise the privileges of participating directly or indirectly, in any manner or capacity, in the exportation of any commodity from the United States to any foreign destination for a period of thirty (30) days. Without limitation of the generality of the foregoing denial of export privileges, participation in an exportation is deemed to include and prohibit respondent's participation (a) as a party or as a representative of a party to any validated export license application, (b) in the preparing, obtaining, or using of any validated or general export license or other export control document, (c) in the receiving in any foreign country of any exportation of commodities from the United States, and (d) in the financing, forwarding, transporting, or other servicing of exports from the United States.

(3) Such denial of export privileges shall extend not only to the named respondent, but also to any person, firm, corporation, or other business organization with which it may be now or during the period of this order related by ownership, control, position of responsibility, or other connection in the conduct of trade involving exports from the United States or services connected therewith.

(4) No person, firm, corporation, or other business organization shall knowingly apply for, prepare, or obtain any export license, shipper's export declaration, bill of lading, or other export control document relating to any exportation or proposed exportation of commodities from the United States under validated or general export licenses, or finance, service, transport, forward, or receive any commodities thereunder, to or for the respondent or any persons or firms covered by paragraph (3) above, without prior disclosure of such facts to, and specific authorization from, the Bureau of Foreign Commerce.

Dated: February 19, 1954.

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATIONS FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re applications of KFAB Broadcasting Company, Omaha, Nebraska, Docket No. 9009, File No. BPCT-390; Herald Corporation, Omaha, Nebraska, Docket No. 10909, File No. BPCT-1663; for construction permits for new television stations.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 17th day of February 1954;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled applications, each requesting a construction permit for a new television broadcast station to operate on Channel 7 in Omaha, Nebraska; and

It appearing that the above-entitled applications are mutually exclusive in that operation by more than one applicant would result in mutually destructive interference; and

It further appearing that pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the above-named applicants were advised by letters of the fact that their applications were mutually exclusive, of the necessity for a hearing and of all objections to their applications; and were given an opportunity to reply; and

It further appearing that upon due consideration of the above-entitled applications, the amendments filed thereto, and the replies to the above letters, the Commission finds that under section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, a hearing is mandatory; and that each of the above-named applicants is legally, financially and technically qualified to construct, own and operate a television broadcast station;

It is ordered, That pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the above-entitled applications are designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding to commence at 10:00 a. m. on the 19th day of March 1954, in Washington, D. C., to determine on a comparative basis which of the operations proposed in the above-entitled applications would better serve the public interest, convenience and necessity in the light of the record made with respect to the significant differences between the applications as to:

(1) The background and experience of each of the above-named applicants having a bearing on its ability to own and operate the proposed television station.

(2) The proposals of each of the above-named applicants with respect to the management and operation of the proposed station.

(3) The programming service proposed in each of the above-entitled applications.

It is further ordered, That the issues in the above-entitled proceeding may be enlarged by the Examiner, on his own motion or on petition properly filed by a party to the proceeding and upon sufficient allegations of fact in support thereof, by the addition of the following issue: To determine whether the funds available to the applicant will give reasonable assurance that the proposals set forth in the application will be effectuated.

Released: February 18, 1954.

[Docket No. 10916]

FIXED AND COAST STATIONS IN ALASKA

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE WHY LICENSES SHOULD NOT BE MODIFIED

In the matter of modification of licenses of fixed and coast stations in Alaska licensed to operate on the frequency 2986 kc.; Docket No. 10916.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 17th day of February 1954;

The Commission, having under consideration the matter of bringing into force certain portions of the new International Frequency List for Region 2 with regard to the frequency band 2000–3500 kc; and

It appearing that the present use of 2986 kc by fixed and coast stations in Alaska is not in accordance with the new International Frequency List for Region 2; and

It further appearing that the frequency 2118 kc has been cleared as a replacement frequency for those operations now conducted on 2986 kc in accordance with the new International Frequency List;

It is ordered, That pursuant to section 316 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, those licensees listed in the Appendix set forth below are directed to show cause, on or before March 29, 1954, why their licenses should not be modified as of May 1, 1954, so as to delete the frequency 2986 kc and substitute the frequency 2118 kc in lieu thereof.

Released: February 18, 1954.

MEDICAL DIATHERMY EQUIPMENT

ENFORCEMENT OF COMMISSION'S RULES REGULATING OPERATION

FEBRUARY 19, 1954.

On June 30, 1953, Part 18 of the Commission's rules and regulations became applicable to the operation of all shortwave medical diathermy equipment. Since that date the operation of medical diathermy equipment which is not type approved, certified or licensed in accordance with the provisions of the Commission's rules has been illegal, and operators of such illegal equipment are subject to the penalties prescribed by the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

The Commission is aware that a considerable number of medical diathermy machines which do not comply with its rules are still being used. Most of them are operated by doctors, or other persons, who either are not aware that they are violating the law or do not appreciate the compelling reasons which forced the Commission to adopt its rules governing the use of medical diathermy and other types of industrial, scientific and medical equipment.

Consequently, the Commission is using this public notice to explain the necessity for strict compliance with these rules and why it is important that only approved medical diathermy equipment be used.

WHY IS IT NECESSARY TO COMPLY WITH THE COMMISSION'S RULES?

Radiation from medical diathermy equipment can cause harmful interference to the various radio communication services. A diathermy machine is, in effect, a radio transmitter. As shown in the attached map, interference may be caused hundreds of miles from the point where the diathermy equipment is being operated. Moreover, because of spurious radiations, interference can be caused on frequencies far removed from the one on which the diathermy equipment is operating.

Spurious radiation is not essential to the use of medical diathermy equipment from a therapeutic standpoint. Practically all spurious and harmonic radiation can be effectively suppressed while the fundamental frequency can be confined to allocated bands. The Commission's Rules are designed to accomplish those very purposes and so reduce to a minimum the probability of interference from the operation of diathermy equipment.

Some of the harmful effects which can result from diathermy machines that radiate excessively are indicated below:

1. National Defense. It has been conclusively demonstrated that both planes and missiles can be guided to their targets by following radio signals. Because of that fact, the United States has instituted a comprehensive program known as CONELRAD (CONtrol of ELectro-magnetic RADiation) which is designed to minimize the usefulness of radio signals originating in this country to an enemy. A CONELRAD program for the control of radio broadcast stations during possible air raids is already in effect. Such programs for other radio services are being instituted. Since planes can also utilize signals emanating from excessively radiating diathermy machines, it may be necessary to put such a program into effect with respect to such equipment, particularly if equipment of this type which radiates excessively remains in use.

2. Interference to Safety Radio Services. Radio is of vital importance to safety. One of the most important safety uses of radio is in connection with air travel. Not only is radio used for direct communication between planes and between air and ground, but it is important as a navigational aid, particularly when visibility is limited. Radiation from diathermy equipment on frequencies outside of the assigned bands is a potential hazard to both aeronautical communication circuits and to airplane landing systems. Such radiation can result in disastrous airplane accidents.

Among other important safety services are the Police Radio Service and the Fire Radio Service. The safety of life and property in every community in this country is highly dependent upon interference free, 24-hour per day police and fire radio communication. Excessive radiation from diathermy machines has been responsible for disruptive interference to these vital safety services.

In order to avoid serious accidents and the loss of life and property it is essential that radiation from diathermy machines be confined to assigned bands or be adequately suppressed. That means the use of equipment which complies with Part 18 of the Commission's rules.

3. Interference to Broadcast Reception. One common type of interference from medical diathermy equipment concerns the reception of aural and television broadcast programs. Some users of diathermy machines are already familiar with this type of interference. Unfortunately many doctors, as well as other users, apparently believe that this is the only interference which their diathermy equipment is capable of causing.

ANSWERS TO SPECIFIC QUESTIONS ABOUT DIATHERMY EQUIPMENT

For the benefit of operators of medical diathermy equipment, the Commission is answering the following specific questions:

"Why should I worry if I have received no complaints about my equipment?"

The fact that you have not received a complaint is not a guarantee that your diathermy machine is not causing objectionable interference, perhaps many miles away. The only practical way of knowing that diathermy equipment is not causing interference is through the use of type approval or certified equipment.

"If my equipment was legal before June 30, 1953, why is it dangerous now?"

Medical diathermy equipment which radiates excessively has been an interference problem for a long time. The Commission's rules initially became effective June 30, 1947. However, to enable the owners of existing equipment to amortize their investments, the Commission gave the owners and users of equipment manufactured and assembled before July 1, 1947 a total of six years, until June 30, 1953, within which to comply.

The use of radio as a navigational aid in air and marine travel has developed, and is still developing, at a tremendous rate. Hundreds of new television stations and millions of new television receivers are now in operation. The possibility of interference to both important safety services and to television broadcasting reception is therefore constantly increasing.

"What should the owners and operators of non-complying equipment do?"

The owner or operator of a medical diathermy machine which does not comply with the Commission's rules should do one of the following things:

(a) Obtain a machine which has been type-approved by the Commission and which bears a type approval number. A certificate of type approval means that the Commission's engineers have tested a prototype of the machine and have found that it complies with the requirements. Type approval is not an absolute guarantee that the machine will not cause interference, but it does indicate that, under normal conditions of installation and operation, the machine will not do so.

(b) Have a competent engineer certify that the machine is capable of operating in accordance with the Commission's rules. Such certification is accomplished in the manner specifically prescribed in Part 18 of the Commission's rules. However, the owners of older diathermy machines are cautioned that the certification of such machines will usually require extensive modification or shielding by a skilled engineer as well as the use of special field intensity equipment, and the rules also require that the certification must be renewed every three years. In many cases the certification process may prove more costly than the purchase of a new type-approved machine.

"How does the Commission propose to enforce its rules?"

It is hoped that this Public Notice will receive widespread circulation and that when these facts are brought home to the users of illegal equipment, particularly those which relate to the dangers which may result from the use of such machines, the Commission will receive a maximum degree of cooperation in the elimination of the illegal equipment.

However, because of the serious potential dangers involved in the continued use of illegal equipment, the Commission does not intend to rely solely on an educational campaign. It intends to use every means at its disposal to identify and eliminate the use of any equipment which does not comply with its rules.

The users of illegal equipment are warned that the Commission has available to it, and intends to follow, the following enforcement procedures wherever appropriate: (1) The issuance of cease and desist orders, enforceable in the courts, directed to the users of the illegal equipment; (2) application to the courts for injunctions against the use of illegal equipment; (3) the institution, in aggravated cases, of criminal proceedings against the operators of illegal equipment.

Adopted: February 17, 1954.

PANHANDLE EASTERN PIPE LINE CO. ET AL.

ORDER REOPENING PROCEEDINGS, FURTHER CONSOLIDATING PROCEEDINGS, AND FIXING DATE FOR HEARING

In the matters of Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company, Docket Nos. G-1116, G-1240, G-1317, G-1344, G-1417, G-1725, G-1754 and G-2101; City of Port Huron, City of Marysville, City of St. Clair, Michigan, Municipal corporations, Docket No. G-1152; Southeastern Michigan Gas Company, Docket No. G-1415; Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, Complainant, v. Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company, Defendant, Docket No. G-1379; Northern Indiana Fuel and Light Company, Docket Nos. G-1457 and G-2234; Missouri Central Natural Gas Company, Docket No. G-1509; the Central West Utility Company, Docket No. G-1616; Michigan Gas Utilities Company, Docket No. G-1625; City of Auburn, Illinois, Docket No. G-1659; Missouri Public Service Company, Docket No. G-2057.

The Commission, on August 31, 1951, issued its Opinion No. 218 and accompanying order[1] directing Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company (Panhandle) to take steps to eliminate certain discrimination which the Commission had in such order found to exist, and thereafter, by order issued March 5, 1952,[2] the Commission permitted to become effective or prescribed service agreements between Panhandle and its customers which, among other things, determined Panhandle's volumetric obligation to each of such customers.

Upon judicial review of the aforesaid opinion and orders in Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. v. F. P. C. (Cases No. 10,639 and No. 10,761), 204 F. 2d 675 (April 30, 1953) the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit set aside certain paragraphs of the orders issued August 31, 1951 and March 5, 1952, and in so doing decided, among other things, as follows:

> We conclude that it was beyond the power of the Commission by Paragraph (E) of its order issued August 31, 1951 accompanying Opinion No. 218 to order Panhandle within 45 days to take steps to eliminate discrimination in the service between the customers on its Liberty lateral and those on its other laterals by enlarging the facilities of the Liberty lateral. Paragraph (E) of the order of August 31, 1951 must accordingly be set aside. Likewise we conclude that the Commission was without power by Paragraph (E) of the order issued March 5, 1952 to permit the service agreements between Panhandle and its contracting customers calling for daily maximum deliveries of gas ultimately aggregating 811,634 Mcf to take effect and at the same time by Paragraph (F) of said order to direct Panhandle to provide its four noncontracting customers with maximum daily deliveries of gas aggregating 196,049 Mcf, the total of the two being in excess of the designed capacity of the pipeline system and the total maximum deliveries directed to be made from the Liberty lateral being in excess of the existing capacity of that lateral.
> Since the Commission has found that the failure of Panhandle to deliver this amount of gas to its four noncontracting customers would result in undue discrimination against them in favor of its contracting customers and since Panhandle did not in its brief or oral argument in this case ask us to pass upon this finding of discrimination we will set aside both Paragraphs (E) and (F) of the order issued March 5, 1952 in order that the Commission may, if it finds such action appropriate, direct the elimination of any such discrimination by the reduction of the maximum amounts of gas contracted for or claimed by Panhandle's customers to such amounts as will fairly distribute the existing capacity of Panhandle's system among its customers and the existing capacity of the Liberty lateral among the customers served from that lateral. (204 F. 2d 675, 680-681.)

The Court, on August 5, 1953, issued its mandate in Case No. 10,761, remanding the case to the Commission for further proceedings, and in so doing directed, as follows:

> • • • it is now here ordered and adjudged by this court that Paragraphs (E) and (F) of the order issued March 5, 1952 be and they are hereby set aside insofar as they require Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company to deliver from its transmission system more gas than the system has been designed and approved to deliver, or has actual capacity to deliver, whichever is greater, and the proceedings are hereby remanded to the Commission in order that the Commission may, by appropriate administrative action to be taken in conformity with the opinions of this court, reduce the maximum amounts of gas required to be delivered under the service agreements referred to in said Paragraphs (E) and (F) to such amounts as will eliminate any undue discrimination and fairly distribute the designed and approved capacity or the actual capacity, whichever is greater, of the system of Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company among its customers and the designed and approved capacity or the actual capacity, whichever is greater, of the Liberty lateral among the customers served from that lateral.

Simultaneously with the issuance of its decision in Cases No. 10,639 and No. 10,761 the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit in Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. v. F. P. C. (Case No. 10,897), 203 F. 2d 925 (April 30, 1953) vacated the Commissioner's orders issued June 20, 1952, and August 14, 1952, accompanying Opinions No. 229 and No. 229-A, respectively,[3] refusing Panhandle permission and approval to abandon partially service to Michigan Consolidated Gas Company by reducing deliveries at Detroit, Michigan, from 125,000 Mcf to 87,500 Mcf per day.

In its decision in Case No. 10,897 the Court stated, among other things, as follows:

> Inasmuch as the Orders accompanying Opinions 229 and 229-A are directly concerned by our disposition in Nos. 10,639 and 10,761, we will accordingly vacate such Orders so that the Commission may reconsider the application of Panhandle to reduce delivery to Michigan Consolidated in the light of existing circumstances. (203 F. 2d 925, 926)

The Court, on August 5, 1953, issued its mandate in Case No. 10,897 in which it directed as follows:

> • • • It is now here ordered and adjudged by this court that the orders issued on June 20, 1952, and August 14, 1952, by the Federal Power Commission be, and they are hereby vacated so that the Commission may reconsider the application of Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company to reduce delivery to Michigan Consolidated Gas Company in the light of existing circumstances.

[1] Docket Nos. G-1116, G-1240, G-1317, G-1344, G-1417, G-1152, G-1415, G-1379, G-1457, G-1509, G-1616, G-1625 and G-1659.

[2] Docket Nos. G-1116, G-1240, G-1317, G-1344, G-1417, G-1152, G-1415, G-1379, G-1457, G-1509, G-1616, G-1625 and G-1659.

[3] Docket No. G-1725.

In accordance with the Court's decision and mandate in Cases No. 10,639 and No. 10,761, and the decision and mandate in Case No. 10,897, the record in the proceedings in Docket No. G–1116 et al. and Docket No. G–1725 will be reopened and further hearings held in such proceedings as hereinafter ordered.

Panhandle on July 30, 1951, Docket No. G–1754, filed an application pursuant to section 7 (b) of the Natural Gas Act for an order permitting and approving abandonment of service to The Gas Service Company which it renders at various delivery points in the States of Kansas and Missouri. Hearings were held in such proceedings and briefs were filed by Panhandle and the Gas Service Company. The intermediate decision procedure having been waived by all parties, the proceeding has been pending before the Commission for determination.

Panhandle on December 12, 1952, Docket No. G–2101, filed an application pursuant to section 7 (b) of the Natural Gas Act for an order permitting and approving abandonment of the service which it renders to Texas Gas Transmission Corporation in the State of Indiana. Hearings were held upon such application during April 1953, and, thereafter, briefs were filed by the parties to the proceeding. Subject to review by the Commission, on appeal, or on its own motion, the Presiding Examiner on January 5, 1954, issued an initial decision in the proceeding, permitting and approving the abandonment, to be effective two months from the date upon which the decision should become final. Exceptions to the decision have been filed by several of the parties to the proceedings and the matter is now before the Commission.

At the time the hearings were held on the applications filed in Docket Nos. G–1754 and G–2101, it was represented by witnesses who testified that the designed peak-day capacity of the Panhandle system was 850,000 Mcf per day, and the actual sustained maximum capacity of such system would not be in excess of 890,000 Mcf per day. However, in its written response filed on December 24, 1953, to a questionnaire which had been transmitted to Panhandle on November 9, 1953, by the Commission, Panhandle represents as follows:

(b) The sustained deliverability of Panhandle's main line facilities for:
(1) 30 consecutive winter days is approximately 950,000 Mcf per day.
(2) 5 consecutive winter days is approximately 950,000 Mcf per day.
(3) 3 consecutive winter days is approximately 950,000 Mcf per day.

(d) The estimated volume of natural gas to be delivered on System Peak Days in the winters 1953–1954 and 1954–1955 is approximately 965,000 Mcf plus such volumes which may be available for sales of line pack.

In view of the present representations of Panhandle with respect to the actual sustained maximum capacity of its pipeline system it is necessary and desirable in the public interest to reopen the proceedings in Docket Nos. G–1754 and G–2101 for further hearing, as hereinafter ordered, so that the applications in such proceedings may be considered in the light of existing circumstances.

The City of Auburn, Illinois, filed on April 6, 1951, Docket No. G–1659, an application pursuant to section 7 (a) of the Natural Gas Act for an order directing Panhandle to deliver 1,000 Mcf of natural gas per day for resale to consumers in the City. By Opinion No. 218 and accompanying order issued August 31, 1951, the Commission denied without prejudice the City of Auburn's application, among others. On June 30, 1952, the City of Auburn, by petition, renewed its application for an order directing Panhandle to deliver to it 1,000 Mcf of natural gas per day.

Missouri Public Service Company (Public Service) on September 11, 1952, Docket No. G–2057, filed an application pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act and a supplement thereto on April 13, 1953, for (1) an order directing Panhandle to deliver approximately 16,000 Mcf to 20,000 Mcf of natural gas per day to Public Service for resale in certain communities in Missouri, and (2) a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the construction and operation of facilities by Public Service necessary to enable it to transport natural gas from Panhandle's facilities to the points of distribution. Due notice of the application has been given including publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER on September 26, 1952 (17 F. R. 8600).

In its answer filed October 10, 1952 to Public Service's application, Panhandle states, among other things, as follows:

In the Commission's order issued in such proceedings [G–1116, et al.] on March 5, 1952, the Commission found the daily demands of customers on Panhandle's system for the winter of 1951–1952 to be approximately 157,600 Mcf in excess of Panhandle's designed capacity as follows:

"The sum of the winter firm contract demands in the 47 service agreements totals is [sic] 811,634 Mcf and the volumes prescribed by Opinion No. 218 for the four customers without new service agreements amounts to 196,049 Mcf; * * * thus establishing Panhandle's sales for resale firm volumetric obligations at 1,007,683 Mcf, approximately 157,600 Mcf in excess of the 850,000 Mcf designed capacity."

Moreover, Panhandle avers that its designed system capacity has not been increased since the Commission's order of March 5, 1952, whereby gas could be made available to Applicant. It is crystal clear, therefore, that an order directing Panhandle to make physical connection with the system of Missouri Public Service and to supply to it peak day gas would violate the provisions of section 7 (a) of the Natural Gas Act and fly in the face of the Commission's findings in Opinion No. 218 set out above. Obviously therefore, the application herein should be dismissed or denied. (Answer of Panhandle, Docket No. G–2057, p. 4.)

Northern Indiana Fuel and Light Company (Northern Indiana) filed on August 27, 1953, Docket No. G–2234,* an application pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act for (1) an order directing Panhandle to deliver to Northern Indiana a maximum of 4,000 Mcf of natural gas per day for resale in certain communities in Indiana, and (2) a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the construction and operation of facilities by Northern Indiana to enable it to transport natural gas from Panhandle's facilities to the points of distribution. Due notice of the filing of such application has been given including publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER on September 11, 1953 (18 F. R. 5478).

In its answer filed September 21, 1953, to Northern Indiana's application, Panhandle states, among other things, as follows:

(1) On July 3, 1951, Panhandle entered into a service agreement with Northern Indiana (under the Small General Service Rate Schedule of the tariff prescribed for Panhandle by the Commission's Opinion No 214 and order issued June 13, 1951 in Docket Nos. G–1116, et al.) providing for a contract demand of 1,900 Mcf. Said agreement was introduced as an exhibit (part of Item Y) in consolidated Docket Nos. G–1317, G–1457, et al., involving a previous application by Northern Indiana under sections 7 (a) and 7 (c) of the Natural Gas Act to obtain gas service for Panhandle.

(2) As part of the order accompanying Opinion No. 218, issued by the Commission on August 31, 1951, in consolidated Docket Nos. G–1116, et al. (including Docket Nos. G–1317 and G–1457), the Commission denied the application of Northern Indiana in Docket No. G–1457, stating that the application was denied without prejudice, since Northern Indiana could not have its facilities in operation until 1952.

(3) Thereafter, under date of August 20, 1953, Panhandle entered into a new service agreement with Northern Indiana under the General Service Rate Schedule of its tariff on file with the Commission, providing for a contract demand of 4,000 Mcf during the five winter months and varying contract demands for the remaining seven months. Said new service agreement cancelled and terminated the service agreement dated July 3, 1951. Panhandle is prepared to render service thereunder upon issuance of an order by the Commission directing the same. (Answer of Panhandle, Docket No. G–2234, pp. 1–2.)

It is necessary and desirable in the public interest that the proceedings in Docket Nos. G–1659, G–2057 and G–2234 be consolidated for purposes of hearing with the other proceedings in the above-docketed matters, inasmuch as all of such proceedings involve related issues of law and fact pertaining to the authority of the Commission under the Natural Gas Act and to Panhandle's ability to make deliveries of natural gas to its present and prospective customers.

During the course of the hearings heretofore held in the several consolidated proceedings witnesses for Panhandle have testified that to operate the pipeline system of Panhandle in excess of its designated capacity would jeopardize the safety of the pipeline system. Further, Panhandle's counsel has represented that for the Commission to direct Panhandle to operate the pipeline system in excess of its designated capacity would constitute a violation of Panhandle's constitutional rights, and an exercise by the Commission of the discretion which rests solely in the management of Panhandle. As has hereinbefore been indicated, notwithstanding the earlier testimony and representations, Panhandle now represents that even though its maximum designed system capacity is 850,000 Mcf per day, the actual sustained maximum delivery capacity is 950,000 Mcf per day. However, Panhandle has not furnished to the Commission underlying data and information to support the actual sustained maximum delivery capacity of 950,000 Mcf per day which it represents its pipeline system is capable of delivering, nor has it presented data and information which would indicate that to operate at such sustained capacity would constitute a safe operating practice. Accordingly, at the hearing, hereinafter ordered, Panhandle will be required to furnish information and data which would support a determination that its actual sustained maximum capacity will be 950,000 Mcf per day, and to operate at such capacity would constitute safe operating practice.

The Commission finds:

(1) Good cause exists, and it is necessary and appropriate to consolidate for purposes of further hearing, or hearings, the proceedings in Docket Nos. G–1116, G–1240, G–1317, G–1344, G–1417, G–1725, G–1754, G–2101, G–1152, G–1415, G–1379, G–1457, G–2234, G–1509, G–1616, G–1659 and G–2057.

(2) The aforesaid proceedings may involve common issues of law and fact related to the elimination of undue discrimination and the fair distribution of the designed and approved capacity or the actual capacity, whichever is greater, of the system of Panhandle among its present and prospective customers and the designed and approved capacity or the actual capacity, whichever is greater, of the Liberty lateral among the customers served from that lateral when viewed in the light of existing circumstances.

(3) The aforesaid proceedings may present common issues of law and fact relating to the authority of the Commission under the Natural Gas Act.

The Commission orders:

(A) The proceedings in Docket Nos. G–1116, G–1240, G–1317, G–1344, G–1417, G–1725, G–1754, G–2101, G–1152, G–1415, G–1379, G–1457, G–2234, G–1509, G–1616, G–1659 and G–2057 be and the same hereby are consolidated for purposes of hearing.

(B) Pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by Sections 4, 5, 7, 10, 15 and 16 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, and in accordance with the procedure prescribed herein, a hearing be held on March 3, 1954, at 10:00 a. m., e. s. t., in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved and the issues presented in these consolidated proceedings. At such hearing the presentation of evidence shall be in the order as follows:

(1) Panhandle shall present evidence to show that the sustained deliverability of its main-line facilities for periods of 30 consecutive, 5 consecutive, or 3 consecutive winter days is approximately 950,000 Mcf per day.

(ii) (a) Panhandle shall present evidence to show that its main-line facilities are capable of delivering on system peak days in the winters of 1953–1954 and 1954–1955 approximately 965,000 Mcf.

(b) In addition, Panhandle shall present evidence as to the volumes which it contends will be available from line pack. This evidence shall include the maximum and minimum main line inlet and discharge pressures at each compressor station header and at each operated tie-over point between compressor stations as well as the pipe-line mileages and internal diameters of the main pipe lines used in estimating the available line pack.

(iii) In connection with the evidence specified in paragraphs (i) and (ii) hereof, Panhandle shall supply in exhibit form at the hearing, and furnish to the Commission and to the parties to the proceeding at least 5 days prior to the date herein fixed for hearing, a flow diagram reflecting the actual operating conditions which existed on the main pipe-line facilities on the system peak day experienced during the 1953–54 winter. This diagram shall include the following:

(a) Diameter (O. D.), wall thickness and lengths of each portion of the three main pipe lines between compressor stations, tie-overs and between all points of delivery, both resale and direct.

(b) Initial pressure of each pipe line at each compressor station discharge header, pressure at each point of delivery, at tie-overs and terminal pressures at suction header of the succeeding compressor station, all pressures to be stated in psig.

(c) Volumes of gas delivered to and from the main pipe lines at each point of such delivery (resale, direct and at tie-overs) in Mcf (14.73 psia and 60F). Indicate on the diagram whether the tie-over values are open or closed.

(d) Lost and unaccounted for gas between compressor station and the volumes of gas used as fuel at each compressor station.

(e) The size (horsepower) type and number of main line compressor units installed in each main line compressor station.

(f) A tabulation for each main line compressor station showing for each main line unit operated, the suction and discharge pressures (psig), volume of gas compressed per day (Mmcf at 14.73 psia), and horsepower required for such compression.

If the actual volume of natural gas delivered on the system peak day during the 1953–1954 winter was less than 950,000 Mcf, Panhandle shall furnish the flow diagram exhibit as specified above including Items (a) through (f) to support its representation of peak-day capacity in excess of 950,000 Mcf. In this latter case, Panhandle shall also furnish a statement of engineering design data including flow formulae, pipeline efficiency and the specific gravity, base temperature, base pressure and flowing temperature of the natural gas utilized in the study and the yield point, ultimate tensile strength and method of fabrication of each kind of pipe used in the main transmission pipelines.

(iv) Panhandle shall submit evidence, including a plan for reducing the maximum amounts of gas required to be delivered by Paragraphs (e) and (f) of the Commission's order issued March 5, 1952, to such amounts as will fairly distribute the designed and approved capacity and/or the actual capacity, of the system of Panhandle among its customers and the designed and approved capacity and/or the actual capacity of the Liberty lateral among customers served from that lateral. If the volumes proposed to be delivered are not the same as those shown on the flow diagram submitted in response to paragraph (iii), Panhandle shall submit a flow diagram including all information required by paragraph (iii) supporting its representation that the plan submitted can be physically accomplished.

(v) The customers of Panhandle shall present evidence in support of the responses they have submitted to the Commission concerning actual and estimated requirements for natural gas from the Panhandle system, and plans, if any, similar to those described in paragraph (iv) hereof required to be submitted by Panhandle.

(vi) The Commission's Staff shall present such evidence, if any, it may have with respect to the matters specified in paragraphs (i) through (v) hereof.

(vii) Testimony shall be presented in Docket Nos. G–1659, G–2057 and G–2234.

(viii) Testimony shall be presented in Docket Nos. G–1725, G–1754 and G–2101.

(C) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

Adopted: February 17, 1954.

Issued: February 18, 1954.

By the Commission.

[Docket No. E–6540]

PENNSYLVANIA WATER & POWER CO.

ORDER GRANTING INTERVENTION, DENYING CONSOLIDATION OF PROCEEDINGS, SETTING HEARING AND PREHEARING CONFERENCE, AND SPECIFYING DATA TO BE OFFICIALLY NOTICED

December 30, 1953, Pennsylvania Water & Power Company filed a petition under paragraph (A) (1) of F. P. C. Prescribed Rate Schedule A (8 F. P. C. 1193, 1220) seeking Commission approval of the inclusion of costs of a new 74,000 kw steam electric generating unit and a new coal dredging and processing plant in the formula provided in that schedule for computing its charges to Consolidated Gas Electric Light and Power Company of Baltimore, as of their "in service"

* Northern Indiana's present application, Docket No. G–2234, is, in effect, a renewal of an earlier application, Docket No. G–1457, which was denied without prejudice by the Commission by Opinion No. 218 and accompanying order issued August 31, 1951.

dates between December 31, 1953, and June 30, 1954.

January 25, 1954, Baltimore Company filed a petition to intervene and an answer, in which it requested consolidation of the proceeding with the Penn Water service and rate proceeding, Docket Nos. E–6350 and E–6445.

January 29, 1954, Penn Water filed an answer and sought to limit the intervention of Baltimore Company, opposed consolidation of the proceedings as requested by Baltimore Company and sought oral argument before the full Commission and an opportunity to file briefs.

Among the issues in this proceeding which would thus be consolidated with those in the service and rate case for hearing and Commission consideration may be the following:

I. Does the new coal recovery plant have such relationship to the service rendered Baltimore Company by means of electric facilities other than the new 74,000 kw steam generating unit as thereby to bring its costs within the scope of the costs property used in computing charges under Rate Schedule A prescribed by the Commission's order of October 27, 1949, in Docket No. IT–5915 (Pennsylvania Water & Power Company, 8 F. P. C. 1193)?

II. Does it have such relationship to the new 74,000 kw steam generating unit as to bring its costs within that scope if the costs of the 74,000 kw unit come within that scope?

III. Will Penn Water's services to Baltimore Company continue to be within and subject to the terms of Schedule A, upon the commencement of operation of the new 74,000 kw steam generating unit? In particular—

A. What, if any, will be the differences from services rendered prior to October 27, 1949? In particular—

1. What will be the effect of such new operation on Penn Water's power, energy and transmission services to Baltimore Company as rendered prior to October 27, 1949?

2. What will be its effect on Baltimore Company's "backfeed" services as rendered prior to October 27, 1949?

3. What will be its effect on Penn Water's services as heretofore rendered to its other customers?

4. What will be its effect on the amounts to be charged Baltimore Company to Penn Water?

5. What will be its effect on Baltimore Company's cost of service to its customers arising from the difference, if any, in its "backfeed" services?

B. Would the differences, if any, disclosed in answer to question A, above, fall within the scope of possible differences for which Schedule A provided automatically adjusted charges? In particular—

1. Notwithstanding any such differences, would the power and energy services rendered to Baltimore Company be the same as "the power and energy services heretofore rendered pursuant to Pennsylvania Water & Power Company Rate Schedule FPC No. 1, as supplemented, and for transmission services * * * pursuant to Article VII of Pennsylvania Water & Power Company FPC Rate Schedule 8" within the meaning of the first paragraph of Schedule A?

2. Is the inclusion of the costs of the new unit and plant subject to satisfaction of any condition precedent? In particular—

a. Was Baltimore Company's approval of the new unit and plant required for that purpose before Penn Water incurred any commitment for the investment, under Schedule A, and if so was such approval obtained?

b. In this connection what, if any, effect should be given to the terms of Article V of the June 1, 1931, Penn Water Rate Schedule FPC 1?

c. Similarly, what, if any, effect should be given to the terms of Article VIII of the same part of that schedule?

C. Would the previously referred to differences, if any, cause the new payments and services to constitute a "change" for which new schedules must be filed under the applicable provisions of the Federal Power Act and the rules of the Commission?

IV. If the answers to I, or II and III are in the affirmative, are these additions to plant investment of the kind which, not later than the end of the six months' period in which they are made, would automatically become part of the base upon which the return to Penn Water is computed under the provisions of Schedule A and hence are within the scope of the provision for Commission approval of interim addition to that base?

V. If IV is answered in the affirmative, should interim inclusion of these costs in the rate base used for computing charges under Schedule A be approved? In particular—

A. What criteria should guide Commission's grant or denial of the approval requested?

B. So guided, what action should the Commission take?

It does not appear that such issues in this proceeding, concerning as they do the basis for charges under the presently effective FPC Prescribed Rate Schedule A, are also issues in the proceedings in Docket Nos. E–6350 and E–6445 where the controverted issues concern principally a new and different kind of rate which would supersede Schedule A.

It does appear that the issues in this proceeding are issues concerning which Baltimore Company is informed and has pertinent data.

The Commission finds:

(1) Participation of Baltimore Company as an intervenor in accordance with the Commission's rules may be in the public interest.

(2) The procedures hereinafter provided for are appropriate to carry out the provisions of the act.

The Commission orders:

(A) Baltimore Company hereby is permitted to become an intervenor in this proceeding, subject to the rules and regulations of the Commission: Provided, however, That its admission as intervenor shall not be construed as recognition by the Commission that it might be aggrieved by any order or orders of the Commission entered in this proceeding.

(B) The Commission will take official notice of the following, for the purpose of disposing of this proceeding:

Item 1: Penn Water's Rate Schedule FPC No. 1 for service to Baltimore Company, being the same as Baltimore Company's Rate Schedule FPC No. 7 as supplemented;

Item 2: Penn Water's Rate Schedule FPC No. 10 for service to Pennsylvania Power & Light Company as supplemented;

Item 3: Penn Water's Rate Schedule FPC No. 11 for service to Philadelphia Electric Company as supplemented;

Item 4: Penn Water's Rate Schedule FPC No. 12 for service to Metropolitan Edison Company as supplemented;

Item 5: Safe Harbor Water Power Corporation's Rate Schedule FPC No. 1 for service to Penn Water and Baltimore Company as supplemented, being the same as Penn Water's Rate Schedule FPC No. 8 as supplemented;

PACIFIC POWER & LIGHT CO. AND MOUNTAIN STATES POWER CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

FEBRUARY 17, 1954.

Take notice that on February 15, 1954, a joint application was filed with the Federal Power Commission pursuant to sections 203 and 204 of the Federal Power Act, by Pacific Power & Light Company (hereinafter called Pacific) and Mountain States Power Company (hereinafter called Mountain States), seeking an order authorizing the merger of Mountain States into and with Pacific, Pacific to be the surviving corporation, and authorizing the issuance and assumption by Pacific, as the surviving corporation, of the securities which will be issued and assumed by it as a result of the proposed merger. Pacific is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Maine and doing business in the States of Oregon, Washington and Idaho with its principal business office at Portland, Oregon. Mountain States is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware and doing business in the States of Oregon, Wyoming, Montana and Idaho, with its principal business office at Albany, Oregon. Pacific, as the surviving Corporation, proposes to amend its Certificate of Organization so that the authorized capital stock of the Surviving Corporation will consist of 126,533 shares of 5 percent Preferred Stock (cumulative), par value $100 per share, and 3,800,000 shares of Common Stock, par value $6.50 per share, in lieu of Pacific's presently authorized 114,815 shares of 5 percent Preferred Stock (cumulative), par value of $100 per share and 2,625,000 shares of Common Stock without par value. Pacific's 5 percent Preferred Stock is being increased by that number of shares which will become issuable upon conversion of shares of the 5 percent Cumulative Preferred Stock of Mountain States in the manner described below; the increase in the authorized number of shares of Common Stock is for the purpose of providing additional authorized shares of said Common Stock for issuance upon conversion of the Common Stock of Mountain States in the manner described below, and for future issuance of said shares of Common Stock. Pacific also proposes that the Common Stock of the Surviving Corporation will be changed from Common Stock without par value to Common Stock of the par value of $6.50 per share. As a result of the merger:

(1) The shares of 5 percent Preferred Stock (cumulative, par value $100 per share) of Pacific outstanding on the effective date of the merger, will continue to be one share of the 5 percent Preferred Stock of the Surviving Corporation;

(2) Each share of the Common Stock without par value of Pacific, outstanding on the effective date of the merger, will be converted on such date into one share of the Common Stock of the par value of $6.50 per share of the Surviving Corporation;

(3) Each share of the 5 percent Cumulative Preferred Stock, par value of $50 per share of Mountain States, outstanding on the effective date of the merger, will be converted on such date into one-half share of the 5 percent Preferred Stock (cumulative), par value of $100 per share of the Surviving Corporation;

(4) Each share of the Common Stock, par value of $7.25 per share of Mountain States, outstanding on the effective date of the merger, will be converted on such date into nine-tenths of a share of the Common Stock of the par value of $6.50 per share of the Surviving Corporation.

The application further states that upon consummation of the proposed merger Pacific, as the surviving corporation, proposes to use the facilities presently owned by the respective constituent corporations for the same purposes for which they are presently being used; all as more fully appears in the application on file with the Commission.

Any person desiring to be heard, or to make any protest with reference to said application, should on or before the 10th day of March 1954, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., a petition or protest in accordance with the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 70-2172]

MIDDLE WEST CORP. ET AL.

ORDER PERMITTING POST-EFFECTIVE AMENDMENT TO DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE AND GRANTING REQUEST FOR MODIFICATION OF CONDITION IN ORDER OF NOVEMBER 1, 1949

FEBRUARY 17, 1954.

In the matter of The Middle West Corporation, Middle West Service Company, Illinois Stock Transfer Company, Bureau of Safety, Insurance Trust Fund, File No. 70-2172.

The Commission, by order dated November 1, 1949 (Holding Company Act Release No. 9472), in the above-captioned proceeding, permitted to become effective a declaration regarding the transfer, without consideration, by The Middle West Corporation ("Middle West"), a registered holding company, of the capital stocks of Middle West Service Company ("Service Company"), Illinois Stock Transfer Company ("Stock Transfer"), and Bureau of Safety ("Bureau"), subsidiary service companies, to seven individuals, who were officers and employees of such companies, and in connection therewith providing for a profit-sharing arrangement for employees who did not become stockholders, and disposition by Middle West of its interest in Insurance Trust Fund ("Trust Fund"), a mutual insurance fund, as steps in its dissolution.

Said declaration as permitted by said order to become effective contained certain restrictions to the effect that no service may be rendered by Service Company to former subsidiaries of Middle West except upon specific request therefor and upon a work order basis; that no term contracts may be entered into by Service Company with former subsidiaries of Middle West; and that services rendered by Stock Transfer and Bureau to former subsidiaries of Middle West shall be rendered at cost.

Said order of November 1, 1949, contained, among others, the following condition:

1. That Middle West Service Company, Illinois Stock Transfer Company, Bureau of Safety and Insurance Trust Fund shall keep their accounts in accordance with the Uniform System of Accounts for Service Companies prescribed by this Commission and shall file annual reports on Form U-13-60 and quarterly reports showing the extent and nature of the services which these companies have rendered to each of its former affiliates, the amounts charged, reasonably detailed description of services rendered together with copies of representative work orders and such additional information as the Commission may from time to time request.

Service Company, Stock Transfer, Bureau and Trust Fund, having filed a Post-Effective Amendment for the purposes of removing the aforesaid restrictions contained in said declaration with respect to Service Company, Stock Transfer and Bureau and, by such removal, to permit each of such companies to render services to former subsidiaries of Middle West in the same manner and on the same basis as they do to other companies;

Declarants having requested that the Commission modify its order of November 1, 1949, so as to relieve Declarants of the requirement of such order to file annual and quarterly reports for the reason, among others, that such reports would largely become inapplicable if the Post-Effective Amendment is permitted to become effective;

Declarants having represented that no officer, director, trustee, or stockholder of any of the declarants is an officer or director of any former subsidiary of Middle West, except that one of the trustees of Trust Fund is president and a director of Central and South West Corporation, a registered holding company and a former subsidiary of Middle West;

Declarants having requested that the Post-Effective Amendment be permitted to become effective as of December 31, 1953;

The Commission deeming it appropriate under the circumstances to permit said Post-Effective Amendment to become effective as requested and to grant Declarants' request for modification of its order of November 1, 1949:

It is hereby ordered, That the Post-Effective Amendment of Declarants be, and the same hereby is, permitted to become effective.

It is further ordered, That the effective date of said Post-Effective Amendment shall be December 31, 1953.

It is further ordered, That the condition set forth hereinabove and contained in the Commission's order of November 1, 1949, insofar as it relates to the filing of annual and quarterly reports with respect to any period subsequent to December 31, 1953, be, and the same hereby is, rescinded as of the date of this order, which shall become effective forthwith; and that in all other respects said order of November 1, 1949 and the conditions contained therein shall remain in full force and effect.

By the Commission.

NEW ENGLAND GAS AND ELECTRIC ASSN.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER REINSTATING APPLICATION-DECLARATION FOR EXCEPTION FROM RULE U-45; NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

FEBRUARY 17, 1954.

Notice is hereby given that on November 19, 1951, New England Gas and Electric Association ("NEGAS"), a registered holding company, filed an application-declaration under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") requesting an exception from the provisions of Rule U-45 promulgated under the act. From time to time, NEGAS filed various amendments to said application-declaration and requested that action thereon be deferred. On March 26, 1952, the Commission granted the request of NEGAS for permission to withdraw the amended application-declaration without prejudice. On January 22, 1954, NEGAS filed a further amendment to the application-declaration and requested that it be reinstated as thus further amended.

The Commission having considered the request of NEGAS and deeming it appropriate to grant such request that the aforesaid application-declaration, as further amended, be reinstated:

It is ordered, Pursuant to section 20 (a) of the act, that the request of NEGAS for reinstatement of said application-declaration, as amended, be, and it is hereby granted, and said application-declaration, as amended, be, and it is hereby reinstated.

All interested parties are referred to the application-declaration, as amended, on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which are summarized as follows:

NEGAS proposes to allocate Federal income and excess profits taxes, among it and such of its subsidiaries as join in the filing of a consolidated Federal tax return, upon a basis different from that expressly authorized by Rule U-45 (b) (6). In lieu of such authorized method of allocation, NEGAS proposes, in computing the base for determining the allocation of the consolidated tax, (a) to exclude all intercompany dividends from the computation of the allocable tax; (b) to make such adjustments in respect of losses as to ensure that companies which do not contribute to the losses do not receive any benefit resulting from the inclusion of such losses in calculating the consolidated tax; and (c) to treat the interest cost to it of carrying an investment having no relation to the subsidiary companies included in the consolidation so that no such subsidiary shall receive any benefit resulting from the inclusion of the interest cost as a deduction in calculating the consolidated tax.

The Commission deeming it appropriate in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held on said amended application-declaration and that the amended application-declaration should not be granted or permitted to become effective until further order of the Commission:

It is hereby ordered, That a public hearing on said application-declaration, as amended, be held at 10:00 a. m., e. s. t., on March 31, 1954, at the office of the Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. On that date the hearing room clerk in Room 193 will advise as to the room in which the hearing will be held. In the event any further amendments to said application-declaration are filed during the course of the proceeding, no notice of the filing thereof will be given unless specifically ordered by the Commission. Any person desiring to be heard in connection with said application-declaration, as amended, or proposing to intervene herein shall file with the Secretary of the Commission on or before March 15, 1954, his written request or application therefor as provided in Rule XVII of the rules of practice of the Commission.

It is further ordered, That William W. Swift or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearing. The officer so designated to preside at the hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the act, and to a Hearing Officer under the Commission's rules of practice.

The Division of Corporate Regulation of the Commission having advised the Commission that it has made a preliminary examination of the application-declaration, as amended, and that, on the basis thereof, the following matters and questions are presented for consideration by the Commission, without prejudice to the presentation of additional matters and questions upon further examination:

1. Whether the proposed method of allocating taxes meets the applicable standards of the act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, specifically those contained in section 12 (b) and Rule U-45;

2. Whether the proposed method of allocating taxes would be detrimental to the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers;

3. Whether it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers to require NEGAS to allocate taxes among it and its subsidiaries in the manner prescribed by Rule U-45 (b) (6);

It is further ordered, That particular attention be directed at said hearing to the foregoing issues and to such other matters and questions as may be presented by said application-declaration, as amended.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall give notice of the aforesaid hearing by mailing copies of this notice and order by registered mail to NEGAS and the Department of Public Utilities of Massachusetts; that notice to all other persons shall be given by publication of this notice and order in the FEDERAL REGISTER; and that a general release of this Commission with respect to this notice and order be distributed to the press and mailed to persons on the Commission's mailing list for releases under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

The New Bonds will be issued under the Mortgage and Deed of Trust, dated as of January 1, 1942, between Penelec and Bankers Trust Company, as Trustee, as heretofore amended and supplemented and as to be amended and supplemented by a further supplemental indenture to be dated March 1, 1954.

The net proceeds of the New Bonds will be used to retire $10,000,000 of notes heretofore issued under a credit agreement to finance construction, and the balance, together with other corporate funds, will be used to finance further construction. The $10,000,000 so paid on outstanding notes out of the proceeds of the New Bonds will be reborrowed under said credit agreement on or before September 30, 1954, to mature on December 31, 1957. It is stated that Penelac's 1954–1956 construction program contemplates cash expenditures of $78,000,000.

The applicant further states that the New Bonds are subject to the authorization of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than March 3, 1954, at 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request, the nature of his interest and the issues of fact or law raised by said application which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after March 3, 1954, said application, as filed or as amended, may be granted as provided in Rules U-23 and U-50 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof.

By the Commission.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

PART 928—MILK IN THE NEOSHO VALLEY MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING HANDLING

§ 928.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Neosho Valley marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity, specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making effective not later than March 1, 1954, this order amending the said order, as amended. This action is necessary in the public interest in order to reflect current marketing conditions and to facilitate the orderly marketing of milk produced for the Neosho Valley marketing area. Any further delay in the effective date of this order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, will seriously impair orderly marketing of milk in the Neosho Valley marketing area. The provisions of the said amendatory order are well known to handlers, the public hearing having been held September 1–4, 1953, the recommended decision having been issued on January 11, 1954, and the final decision having been issued by the Assistant Secretary on February 12, 1954. Reasonable time under the circumstances has been afforded persons affected to prepare for its effective date. Therefore, it would be impracticable and contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this amendatory order for 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (see section 4 (c) Administrative Procedure Act, Pub. Law 404, 79th Cong., 60 Stat. 237).

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping the milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended) of more than 50 percent of the volume of milk covered by the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, which is marketed within the Neosho Valley marketing area, refused or failed to sign the marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area; and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order, amending the said order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of the producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who, during the determined representative period (December 1953) were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Neosho Valley marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. In § 928.7 delete the parenthetical phrase "(including plant stores)" and substitute therefor the parenthetical phrase "(including routes operated by vendors and disposition at plant stores)".

2. In § 928.8 delete the parenthetical phrase "(including plant stores)" and substitute therefor the parenthetical phrase "(including routes operated by vendors and disposition at plant stores)".

3. Delete § 928.10 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 928.10 Producer-handler. "Producer-handler" means any person who, with the approval of any health authority having jurisdiction in the marketing area, processes milk from his own farm production and disposes of all or a portion of such milk as Class I milk within the marketing area, but who receives no milk from producers.

4. In § 928.22 (h) delete the words "within 10 days".

5. In § 928.22 (i) delete "11th day" and substitute therefor "12th day".

7. Delete § 928.61 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 928.61 Handlers subject to other orders. In the case of any handler (as defined in this section) who the Secretary determines disposed of a greater portion of his milk as Class I milk in another marketing area regulated by another milk marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act, or who otherwise is determined pursuant to the provisions of another milk marketing agreement or order to be subject to the pricing and payment provisions of such agreement or order, the provisions of the order shall not apply except as follows:

(a) The handler shall, with respect to his total receipts and utilization of skim milk and butterfat, make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may require and shall allow verification of such reports by the market administrator pursuant to § 928.33.

(b) If the value of skim milk and butterfat disposed of as Class I milk on routes in the marketing area, as determined under the other order to which such handler is subject, is less than its value as computed pursuant to this subpart, such handler shall pay the difference to the market administrator. The amount of the payment so computed shall be reduced by the amount of any contra differences in the values of Class I milk so disposed of in the immediately preceding eleven delivery periods which have not served to reduce the payment for any intervening delivery period.

(c) On or before the 14th day after the end of the delivery period payment of the net amount computed pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section shall be made to the market administrator who shall:

(1) Transfer the amount of such payment to the market administrator of the order to which the handler is subject, if such order provides for receipt of such funds and their distribution to producers whose milk is priced under such order; or

(2) Otherwise deposit such amount in the producer-settlement fund.

PART 961—MILK IN THE PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA, MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING HANDLING

§ 961.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on March 23, 1953, and January 21, 1954, upon proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is hereby found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all the terms and conditions of said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk produced, for sale in said marketing area as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for such milk and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making effective not later than March 1, 1954, this order amending the order, as amended. This action is necessary in the public interest to reflect current marketing conditions. Accordingly, any delay in the effective date of this order beyond the aforesaid date, will seriously impair orderly marketing of milk in the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania marketing area. The provisions of the said amendatory order are well known to handlers, the public hearing having been held on dates set forth under paragraph (a) of this section, and a decision having been issued on February 11, 1954. Reasonable time under the circumstances has been afforded persons affected to prepare for its effective date. Therefore, it would be impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this amendatory order 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (See section 4 (c) Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.).

(c) Determination. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping the milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended, which is marketed within the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, marketing area) of more than 50 percent of the milk which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said proposed marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means pursuant to the declared policy of the act of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who during the determined representative period (December 1953) were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. In § 961.40 (b) (2) change the period at the end of the sentence to a comma, and add the words "except in the computation of the price for March 1954, subtract 54 cents."

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 14 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c)

SUBPART A—GENERAL INFORMATION

§ 81.101 Purpose. The purpose of the Uniformed Services Contingency Option Act of 1953 is to permit each member of the uniformed services to elect to receive a reduced amount of any retired pay which may be awarded him as a result of service in his uniformed service in order to provide one or more of the annuities specified in section 4 of the act, payable after his death in a retired status to his widow, child, or children, subject to certain limitations specified in the act and elaborated in this part.

§ 81.102 Definitions. (a) The term "uniformed services" means the Army of the United States, Navy, United States Air Force, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, Coast and Geodetic Survey, and Public Health Service, including all components and members thereof.

(b) The term "member" means a commissioned officer, commissioned warrant officer, warrant officer, nurse, flight officer, or a person in an enlisted grade (including an aviation cadet), of any of the uniformed services and a person entitled to retainer pay in the Fleet Reserve or Fleet Marine Corps Reserve with credit for sixteen or more years of naval service.

(c) The term "active member" means a member on the active list of a regular or reserve component of a uniformed service, or a member of a reserve component of a uniformed service who has completed 20 or more years of satisfactory Federal service, as defined in section 302 of the Army & Air Force Vitalization and Retirement Equalization Act of 1948.

(4) A child, as defined in subparagraphs (1), (2) and (3) of this paragraph, who is over 18 years of age and unmarried, and who is incapable of self-support because of being mentally defective or physically incapacitated if that condition existed prior to reaching age eighteen.

(5) In all cases, the term "child" refers only to an active member's child, as heretofore defined, who was born and is living and meets the requirements of this paragraph at the date of retirement of the active member, or to a retired member's child who was born and is living and meets the requirements of this paragraph on November 1, 1953.

(g) The term "stepchild" means a child of a spouse by a former marriage. The stepchild relationship will terminate upon the divorce of the parent spouse but not upon the death of the parent spouse.

(h) The term "in fact dependent" means that the stepchild must be dependent on the member for over half of his or her support.

(i) The term "retired pay" includes retirement pay, equivalent pay, and retainer pay.

(k) The term "dependents" as used in this part means the prospective annuitants described in paragraphs (e) and (f) of this section.

SUBPART B—ELECTION OF OPTIONS

§ 81.201 Options. (a) As provided in § 81.203, an active member, former member, or a retired member may elect any one or more of the following annuities in amounts equal to one-half, one-quarter, or one-eighth of the reduced amount of his retired pay. Such amounts must be specified at the time of election.

(1) An annuity payable to or on behalf of his widow, the annuity to terminate upon her death or remarriage, whichever first occurs.

(2) An annuity payable to or on behalf of his surviving child or children, the annuity to terminate when there ceases to be at least one such surviving child, unmarried and under eighteen years of age, except that if there is a child unmarried and over eighteen years of age incapable of self-support because of being mentally defective or physically incapacitated and that condition existed prior to his reaching eighteen years of age, the annuity to terminate upon his marriage, death, or recovery from the disability, whichever first occurs. Each payment under such annuity shall be paid in equal shares to or on behalf of the surviving children remaining eligible at the time the payment is due.

(3) An annuity payable to or on behalf of his widow and surviving child or children, the annuity to terminate upon: The death or remarriage of the widow; or, if later, the first day of the month in which there is no surviving child of the member who is under eighteen years of age and unmarried, except that if there is a child, unmarried and over eighteen years of age incapable of self-support because of being mentally defective or physically incapacitated and that condition existed prior to his reaching eighteen years of age, the annuity to terminate upon his marriage, death or recovery from the disability, whichever first occurs. Such annuity shall be paid to the widow until death or remarriage, and thereafter each payment under such annuity shall be paid in equal shares to or on behalf of the surviving children remaining eligible at the time the payment is due.

(4) An annuity payable under the same terms and conditions as specified in subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3) of this paragraph, with the additional provision that no further deductions shall be made from the retired pay of the member commencing with the first day of the month following that in which there was no beneficiary who would have been eligible to receive, upon the death of the member, an annuity payable under the election made by him.

§ 81.202 Limitation on number of annuities. Where an active or retired member desires to provide more than one annuity, he may elect § 81.201 (a) (1) and (2), with or without the provisions of subparagraph (4) thereof, but in no case may the combined amounts of the annuities exceed 50 per centum of the amount of his reduced retired pay. It is pointed out that in the case of families in which the dependent widow and dependent child or children are living in separate households the options under § 81.201 (a) (1) and (2) might prove more desirable.

§ 81.203 Election of options. An active member who on November 1, 1953, has completed over eighteen years service which is creditable in the computation of basic pay may elect to receive a reduced amount of any retired pay which may be awarded him as the result of service in his uniformed service in order to provide one or more of the annuities as specified in §§ 81.201 and 81.202 payable after his death in a retired status to or on behalf of his surviving widow, child, or children. To be effective the election by such member on active duty must be signed and witnessed not later than April 30, 1954, and for such members not on active duty the election must be signed and postmarked not later than April 30, 1954.

(b) An active member who on November 1, 1953, has not completed over eighteen years service which is creditable in the computation of basic pay may elect to receive a reduced amount of any retired pay which may be awarded him as the result of service in his uniformed service in order to provide one or more of the annuities as specified in §§ 81.201 and 81.202 payable after his death in a retired status to or on behalf of his surviving widow, child, or children. The election by such member on active duty must be signed and witnessed not later than the day preceding the date of completion of eighteen years service or April 30, 1954, whichever is later. For such members not on active duty the election must be signed and postmarked not later than the day preceding the date of completion of eighteen years service or April 30, 1954, whichever is later. A member who fails to make an election prior to the completion of eighteen years service or April 30, 1954, whichever is later may not thereafter be covered by any provision of the act.

(c) An active member retired for physical disability who is awarded retired pay after November 1, 1953, and prior to the completion of eighteen years service may make an election to receive a reduced amount of any retired pay which may be awarded him by his uniformed service in order to provide one or more of the annuities as specified in §§ 81.201 and 81.202 payable after his death in a retired status to or on behalf of his surviving widow, child, or children. The election of contingency options by such member shall be submitted not later than the time he selects the method of computation of retired pay.
of the annuities as specified in §§ 81.201

(d) Missing member: An active member who, as a result of or in connection with military or naval operations, is in a status of missing, missing in action, interned in a neutral country, captured by a hostile force, or beleaguered or besieged, and because of that status is unable to make the election prior to the completion of the eighteen years of service, or an active member who is in that status on November 1, 1953, and has theretofore completed the eighteen years of service, may make the election. In order to be effective, the election must be made within six months of his return to the jurisdiction of his uniformed service.

(e) A person who is a former member on November 1, 1953, and who is thereafter awarded retired pay by a uniformed service may make such election. In order to be effective, the election must be made at the time he is awarded retired pay. Any former member who is thereafter reenlisted or reappointed is governed by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

(f) A retired member including those retired members serving on active duty are governed by paragraph (a) of this section. Notwithstanding any other provision of this subpart, a member, including those with less than eighteen years service, retired during the period November 1, 1953, and April 30, 1954, shall have until April 30, 1954, to make such election.

(g) Incompetent member: Whenever an active member, former member, or retired member is determined to be mentally incompetent by medical officers of the service concerned or of the Veterans' Administration, or is adjudged mentally incompetent by a court of competent jurisdiction, and because of such mental incompetency is incapable of making any election within the time limitations prescribed by the act, the head of the department concerned may make the appropriate election on behalf of such member if so requested by the spouse or if there be no spouse by or on behalf of the child or children of such member. If such member is subsequently determined to be mentally competent by medical officers of the Veterans' Administration, or where appropriate is subsequently adjudged mentally competent by a court of competent jurisdiction, he may within one hundred and eighty (180) days of such determination or judgment, modify, or terminate the election made on his behalf. In such a case, the modification or revocation will be effective the date of the member's request for such modification or revocation. Deductions theretofore made shall not be refunded.

(h) Any election made and not cancelled prior to November 1, 1953, will be considered as having been made on November 1, 1953.

(i) A member who declines or fails to make an election within the time limits specified in this section may not thereafter be covered by any provision of the act. A member who has declined to select any option may thereafter elect the option or options provided each election is made within the time prescribed in this section.

§ 81.204 Modification or revocation of election. (a) A modification of election is a change in the percentage of the reduced amount of retired pay under any option or a change in any option or options selected. A revocation is a cancellation of a previous election and constitutes a withdrawal from coverage under the act.

(b) An active member may modify the terms of his election as often as he may desire prior to his retirement. Such modification shall become effective five years after the date of execution unless the member is retired in the interim period. If the member is retired prior to a date five years from the date of modification the terms of the original election as modified over five years prior to the date of retirement will be effective.

(c) Any active member may revoke an election at any time but he shall not thereafter be permitted to withdraw or modify his revocation and after it becomes effective he shall not be permitted to be covered in any way by this act. If the member retires within five years after a revocation, such revocation shall have no effect.

(d) A retired member may not modify or revoke his election.

(e) In cases where an election has been made by the head of the department concerned on behalf of an incompetent member and the member is subsequently adjudged competent and desires to modify or revoke the election, such modification or revocation is effective the date of the request notwithstanding paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, provided such modification or revocation is made within one-hundred and eighty days following determination that member is competent.

(f) Notification of a change of dependent is not a modification of election.

§ 81.205 Requirement for statement from member who does not desire coverage. It is desirable that all members make a positive statement of desire to be covered by the act or not to be covered. For active duty members this may consist of return of the form stating that no election is desired, or a statement forwarded by the Commanding Office during the individual's 18th year of service for basic pay purposes or at the completion of the six months period as the case may be, stating that the benefits of the act have been explained to the individual concerned. For retired members and inactive reserve members a return of a post card acknowledging receipt of a letter of information will suffice. A member who has declined to select any option may thereafter elect an option or options provided such election is made within the time prescribed under the act.

§ 81.206 Election form. The form for making elections will be submitted as indicated by the department concerned. All copies forwarded will be signed and any signed copy may be used to substantiate the fact of election.

§ 81.207 Information regarding elections. (a) All retired members and members of the reserve components on inactive duty who have completed seventeen years service for basic pay purposes will be provided an individual letter of instructions and an option election form.

(b) It is the responsibility of the command or unit to which the member is assigned to promulgate information concerning the benefits of the act to all members on active duty. Such commands or units will also provide election forms to the members assigned.

(c) Former members and active members retired for physical disability prior to the completion of eighteen years service will be provided the forms for submission at the time of retirement.

SUBPART C—DESIGNATION OF DEPENDENTS

§ 81.301 Designation. (a) An active member without dependents may make an election. If a member has dependents they should be named at the time of election or when they are acquired. The named dependents within an elected option may be changed until the date of retirement provided such changes are limited to the same option. In any case such spouse and all children must be named at the date of retirement.

(b) It is emphasized that if a member without dependents does not make an election at the appropriate time, he may not thereafter be covered by the act regardless of whether he subsequently acquires dependents.

(c) On the date of retirement the names of eligible dependents under the elected option(s) and the date of birth of each will be indicated to the agency responsible for paying retired pay and to the member concerned. If the widow, child, or children therein named are not eligible dependents under the elected option(s), it is the responsibility of the member concerned to establish eligible dependents under the elected option(s).

§ 81.302 Substantiating evidence regarding dependency and age of dependents. At the time of submitting election or at the time of retirement as the case may be, the member must indicate the date and place of his marriage, the full name of his wife, prior to their marriage, and if requested by the Department concerned submit proof of dissolution of prior marriages, if any, of either spouse. The age of the dependent will be indicated by date of birth and must be substantiated by a birth certificate or other corroborative evidence. The birthdate of the member must be shown for verification with information in the service record.

§ 81.303 Condition affecting entitlement of widow or widower. A member may have a different lawful spouse at time of retirement than the lawful spouse he had at the time of election. Consequently, once an election is made for a widow, the eligible widow will be the spouse to whom the member was lawfully married at the time of retirement.

SUBPART D—REDUCTION OF RETIRED PAY

§ 81.401 Computation of reduction. (a) The reduction to be made in the retired pay of an active or retired member who has made an election shall be computed by the uniformed service concerned in each individual case based upon tables showing percentage reduction in retired pay. These tables[1] showing the percentage reduction of retired pay are set forth in Appendix I. The computation of reduction shall be made based upon the tables in effect on the date of retirement in the case of an active member and the date of election in the case of a retired member.

(b) If the active member has no dependents on the effective date of retirement no reduction in retired pay shall be made.

(c) An adjustment may be made in the reduction of retired pay upon the finding of an administrative error or a mistake of fact.

§ 81.402 Effective date of deduction. (a) The effective date of deduction in retired pay will be the effective date of retirement in the case of an active member and the first day of the month in which election is effective in the case of a retired member. The deduction in retired pay will be terminated on the effective date of termination of retired pay of the member.

(b) In the event the member has elected the option under § 81.201 (a) (4), the reduction in retired pay shall be terminated the first day of the month following that in which there was no dependent who would have been eligible to receive, upon the death of the member, an annuity payable under the election made by him.

§ 81.403 Payment of non-withheld reduction of retired pay. (a) A retired member of a uniformed service who has made an election shall, during any period including periods on active duty in which he is not receiving retired pay, deposit the amount which would have been withheld from his retired pay had he been receiving that pay.

(b) Such deposit will be payable to the Treasurer of the United States and shall be forwarded monthly to the agency which would normally pay the member concerned retired pay.

(c) The aforementioned agency will in all cases inform the members concerned of the amount to be deposited and when such deposits are to be made.

[1] These tables have been filed with Federal Register Division as part of the original document. Copies are available for reference through administrative channels of each of the uniformed services.

(d) The aforementioned agency will, after thirty days has elapsed since due date of a deposit, inform the member concerned that he is delinquent from such due date and thereafter his widow, child, or children will not be eligible for the annuity provided under the act until the arrears with compound interest have been paid. The interest rate will be that in effect at the time the reduction in retired pay commenced or should have commenced. If such member becomes in receipt of retired pay any arrears with compound interest will be withheld from the retired pay.

§ 81.404 Age to be used. Ages to be used for calculating reduction of retired pay will be the ages of the member and his named dependents on their nearest birthday as of the date of retirement in the case of an active member and as of the date of election in the case of a retired member.

§ 81.405 Refund of reduction. (a) Any member or former member on the temporary disability retired list established pursuant to Title IV of the Career Compensation Act of 1949, Public Law 351, 81st Congress who has elected to receive reduced retired pay in order to provide one or more of the annuities specified in the act, and who is subsequently removed from the list due to any reason other than permanent retirement shall have refunded to him a sum which represents the difference between the amount by which his retired pay has been reduced and the cost of an amount of term insurance which is equal to the protection provided his dependents during the period he was on the temporary disability retired list.

(b) If the member concerned is returned to active duty, he may continue the election as previously made or he may modify or revoke the election as provided in § 81.204.

SUBPART E—ANNUITY

§ 81.501 General information. No annuity payable under the act shall be assignable, either in law or equity, or be subject to execution, levy, or attachment, garnishment, or other legal process. Annuities payable under this act shall be in addition to any pensions or other payments to which the beneficiaries may now or hereafter be entitled under other provisions of law and shall not be considered income under any law administered by the Veterans Administration.

§ 81.502 Effective date of annuity. All annuities payable under this act shall accrue from the first day of the month in which the retired member dies and shall be due and payable not later than the fifteenth day of each month following that month and in equal monthly installments thereafter, except that no annuity shall accrue or be paid for the month in which entitlement to that annuity terminates.

§ 81.503 Claims for annuity payments. Upon official notification of death of a retired member who has elected to receive reduced retired pay, the Department concerned shall forward to the eligible surviving dependents necessary information and forms for making application for annuity payments, such information shall include the place to which the application should be forwarded and to which questions regarding annuity payments should be addressed.

§ 81.504 Payment to children. Annuities for child or children will be paid to the child or guardian, or will be payable on behalf of the child to the person who has care, custody, and control of the child.

§ 81.505 Establishing eligibility of annuitants. Eligibility for the annuity will be established by such supporting evidence as may be required by the Department concerned.

§ 81.506 Determination that designated annuitant is ineligible. (a) The Head of the Department concerned is empowered to use any means provided by law to recover amounts of annuities erroneously paid to any individual under this act. The Head of the Department concerned may authorize such recovery by adjustments in subsequent payments to which the individual is entitled.

(b) There need be no recovery as provided in paragraph (a) of this section when, in the judgment of the Head of the Department concerned, and the Comptroller General of the United States, the individual to whom the erroneous payment has been made is without fault and recovery would be contrary to the purpose of the act or would be against equity and good conscience.

§ 81.507 Reconsideration of determination of eligibility for the benefits of the act. Determinations regarding eligibility to the benefits of the act may be reconsidered by the Head of the Department concerned or his designee upon application of the applicant.

SUBPART F—MISCELLANEOUS

§ 81.601 Annual report. A report will be prepared annually by the Department concerned. Such report will be submitted to the Joint Committee for the preparation of the consolidated report required of the Secretary of Defense. The information required is shown in Appendix II. The format will be as directed by the Board of Actuaries.

§ 81.602 Organizations. (a) A joint committee composed of representatives of the Departments concerned will meet annually or as often as required prior to the time of meeting of the Board of Actuaries.

(1) Prepare the joint report required in § 81.601.

(c) The position of Chairman of the joint committee will be rotated annually on a fiscal year basis between the Military Departments.

(d) The coordinating and executive agency of the Committee shall be the Department which the Chairman is representing.

§ 905.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supples of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

(a) The total pounds of milk received from each producer and cooperative association, the total pounds of butterfat contained in such milk and the number of days on which milk was received from such producer, including for the months of February through July such producer's deliveries of base milk and excess milk;

(b) The amount of payment to each producer and cooperative association; and

(c) The nature and amount of any authorized deductions or charges involved in such payments.

§ 905.32 Other reports. (a) Each producer-handler shall make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may prescribe.

(b) Each handler who causes milk to be diverted to an unapproved plant shall, prior to such diversion, report to the market administrator and to the cooperative association of which such producer is a member, of his intention to divert such milk, the proposed date or dates of such diversion and the plant to which such milk is to be diverted.

§ 905.33 Records and facilities. Each handler shall maintain and make available to the market administrator or to his representative during the usual hours of business such accounts and records of his operations and such facilities as are necessary for the market administrator to verify or establish the correct data with respect to:

(a) The receipts and utilization of all receipts of producer milk and other source milk;

(b) The weights and tests for butterfat and other content of all milk, skim milk, cream and milk products handled;

(c) Payments to producers and cooperative associations; and

§ 905.34 Retention of records. All books and records required under this subpart to be made available to the market administrator shall be retained by the handler for a period of three years to begin at the end of the calendar month to which such books and records pertain: Provided, That if, within such three year period, the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that the retention of such books and records, or of specified books and records, is necessary in connection with a proceeding under section 8c (15) (A) of the act or a court action specified in such notice, the handler shall retain such books and records, or specified books and records until further written notification from the market administrator. In either case the market administrator shall give further written notification to the handler promptly, upon the termination of the litigation or when the records are no longer necessary in connection therewith.

CLASSIFICATION

§ 905.40 Skim milk and butterfat to be classified. All skim milk and butterfat received within the month by a handler and which is required to be reported pursuant to § 905.30 shall be classified by the market administrator pursuant to the provisions of §§ 905.41 to 905.46.

§ 905.41 Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in §§ 905.43 and 905.44, the classes of utilization shall be as follows:

(a) Class I milk shall be all skim milk (including reconstituted skim milk) and butterfat (1) disposed of in the form of milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, flavored milk drinks, yogurt, cream, cultured sour cream, any mixture (except bulk ice cream mix) of cream and milk of skim milk, (2) used to produce concentrated (including frozen) milk, flavored milk or flavored milk drinks disposed of for fluid consumption neither sterilized nor in hermetically sealed cans, and (3) all other skim milk and butterfat not specifically accounted for as Class II milk.

(b) Class II milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat, (1) used to produce any product other than those specified in paragraph (a) of this section; (2) disposed of for livestock feed; (3) in frozen cream placed in storage; (4) in skim milk dumped, after prior notification to and opportunity for verification by the market administrator; (5) in shrinkage up to 2 percent of receipts from producers; (6) in shrinkage of other source milk; and (7) in inventory at the end of the month in the forms specified in paragraph (a) (1) and (2) of this section.

§ 905.42 Shrinkage. The market administrator shall allocate shrinkage over a handler's receipts as follows:

(a) Compute the total shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat for each handler; and

(b) Prorate the resulting amounts between the receipts of skim milk and butterfat in producer milk and in other source milk that is not to be allocated pursuant to § 905.46 (a) (2).

§ 905.43 Responsibility of handlers and reclassification of milk. (a) All skim milk and butterfat shall be Class I milk unless the handler who first receives such skim milk or butterfat can prove to the market administrator that such skim milk or butterfat should be classified otherwise.

(b) Any skim milk or butterfat classified as Class II milk shall be reclassified if such skim milk or butterfat is later disposed of by such handler or another handler (whether in original or other form) as Class I milk. Any skim milk or butterfat which was classified as Class II milk in the previous month pursuant to § 905.41 (b) (7) shall be reclassified as Class I milk if it is subtracted in the current month from Class I pursuant to § 905.46 (a) (4).

§ 905.44 Transfers. Skim milk or butterfat disposed of by a handler either by transfer or diversion shall be classified:

(a) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted in the form of milk, skim milk, or cream, to the approved plant of another handler (except a producer-handler) unless utilization in Class II is mutually indicated in writing to the market administrator by both handlers on or before the 7th day after the end of the month within which such transaction occurred: Provided, That the skim milk or butterfat so assigned to Class II shall be limited to the amount thereof remaining in Class II in the plant of the transferee-handler after the subtraction of other source milk pursuant to § 905.46, and any additional amounts of such skim milk or butterfat shall be assigned to Class I: And provided further, That if either or both handlers have received other source milk, the skim milk or butterfat so transferred or diverted shall be classified at both plants so as to allocate the greatest possible Class I utilization to producer milk.

(b) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted to a producer-handler in the form of milk, skim milk or cream.

(c) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted in the form of milk or skim milk to an unapproved plant located more than 200 miles from the approved plant by the shortest highway distance as determined by the market administrator.

(d) As Class I milk if transferred in the form of cream to an unapproved plant, unless the handler (1) claims classification as Class II milk, (2) establishes that such cream was transferred without Grade A certification, and (3) labels or tags each container "for manufacturing use only" and so invoices the shipment.

(e) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted in the form of bulk milk or bulk skim milk to an unapproved plant located not more than 200 miles from the approved plant unless the following conditions are met:

(1) The handler claims classification as Class II milk;

(2) The operator of the unapproved plant maintains books and records, showing the receipts and utilization of all skim milk and butterfat at such plant, which are made available if requested by the market administrator for the purpose of verification;

(3) If the above conditions are met, the classification reported by the handler shall be subject to verification by the market administrator as follows:

(i) Determine the use of all skim milk and butterfat at such unapproved plant, and

(ii) Allocate the skim milk and butterfat so transferred or diverted to the highest use classification remaining after subtracting, in series beginning with Class I milk, the skim milk and butterfat in milk received at the unapproved plant from dairy farmers who the market administrator determines constitute the regular source of supply for fluid usage of such unapproved plant.

(iii) If the unapproved plant makes bulk shipments of milk or cream and the skim milk and butterfat transferred to such plant exceeds the amounts remaining in the transferee plant after subtracting receipts from dairy farmers pursuant to subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph, the excess shall be classified according to its utilization determined at the second unapproved plant pursuant to subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph.

§ 905.45 Computation of the skim milk and butterfat in each class. For each month, the market administrator shall correct for mathematical and for other obvious errors the report of receipts and utilization submitted by each handler and shall compute the pounds of skim milk and butterfat in Class I milk and Class II milk for such handler.

§ 905.46 Allocation of skim milk and butterfat classified. After making the computations pursuant to § 905.45 the market administrator shall determine the classification of milk received from producers as follows:

(a) Skim milk shall be allocated in the following manner:

(1) Subtract from the total pounds of skim milk in Class II the pounds of skim milk determined pursuant to § 905.41 (b) (3);

(2) Subtract from the total pounds of skim milk in Class I the pounds of skim milk in other source milk received in bottles or other consumer-type packages from the approved plant of a producer-handler which is located in the marketing area and disposed of as Class I milk in the same package and under the label of such producer-handler without further processing or packaging;

(3) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class, in series beginning with Class II, the remaining pounds of skim milk in other source milk;

(4) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class in series beginning with Class II, the pounds of skim milk in inventory specified in § 905.41 (b) (7) at the beginning of the month;

(5) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class the skim milk received from other handlers according to its classification as determined pursuant to § 905.44 (a);

(6) Add to the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class II the pounds of skim milk subtracted pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph; and

(7) If the remaining pounds of skim milk in both classes exceed the pounds of skim milk received from producers, an amount equal to the difference shall be subtracted from the pounds of skim milk remaining in each class in series beginning with Class II. Any amount so subtracted shall be called "overage".

(b) Butterfat shall be allocated in accordance with the same procedure outlined for skim milk in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Determine the weighted average butterfat content of the Class I and Class II milk computed pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

MINIMUM PRICES

§ 905.50 Basic formula price to be used in determining Class I prices. The basic formula price to be used in determining the price per hundredweight of Class I milk shall be the highest of the prices computed pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section and § 905.51 (b) for the preceding month.

(a) The average of the basic or field prices per hundredweight reported to have been paid or to be paid for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the month at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or to the Department divided by 3.5 and multiplied by 4.0:

Present Operator and Location

Borden Co., Mount Pleasant, Mich.
Carnation Co., Sparta, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Hudson, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Wayland, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Coopersville, Mich.
Borden Co., Orfordville, Wis.
Borden Co., New London, Wis.
Carnation Co., Chilton, Wis.
Carnation Co., Berlin, Wis.
Carnation Co., Richland Center, Wis.
Carnation Co., Oconomowoc, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., New Glarus, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., Belleville, Wis.
White House Milk Co., Manitowoc, Wis.
White House Milk Co., West Bend, Wis.

(b) The price per hundredweight computed by adding together the plus values pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph;

(1) From the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago as reported by the Department during the month subtract 3 cents, add 20 percent thereof and multiply by 4.0.

(2) From the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the weighted averages of carlot prices per pound for nonfat dry milk solids, spray, and roller process, respectively, for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area, as published for the period from the 26th day of the immediately preceding month through the 25th day of the current month by the Department, deduct 5.5 cents, multiply by 8.5, and then multiply by 0.96.

§ 905.51 Class prices. Subject to the provisions of § 905.52, the minimum prices per hundredweight to be paid by each handler for milk received at his plant from producers during the month shall be as follows:

(a) Class I milk. The basic formula price plus $1.70 during the months of April, May, and June and plus $1.90 during all other months: Provided, That for each of the months of September, October, November, and December, such price shall not be less than that for the preceding month, and that for each of the months of April, May, and June such price shall be not more than that for the preceding month. To this price add or subtract a "supply-demand adjustment" computed as follows:

(1) Divide the total receipts of producer milk in the first and second months preceding by the total gross volume of Class I milk (excluding interhandler transfers and sales by producer-handlers and handlers partially exempt from this subpart pursuant to § 905.61) for the same months, multiply the result by 100, and round to the nearest whole number. The result shall be known as the Class I utilization percentage;

Month for which price applies	Months used in computation	Standard utilization percentage
January	November-December	113
February	December-January	117
March	January-February	121
April	February-March	124
May	March-April	127
June	April-May	130
July	May-June	135
August	June-July	141
September	July-August	150
October	August-September	152
November	September-October	111
December	October-November	100

(3) For each minus percentage point in excess of 2 in the "net utilization percentage" the Class I price shall be increased 2 cents in January, February, March, July, and August; 3 cents in April, May, and June; 4 cents in September, October, November, and December; and for each plus percentage point in excess of 2 in the "net utilization percentage" the Class I price shall be decreased 2 cents in January, February, March, July, and August; 4 cents in April, May, and June; and 2 cents in September, October, November, and December: Provided, That in no event shall an adjustment made pursuant to this subparagraph exceed 50 cents per hundredweight.

(b) Class II milk. The average of the basic or field prices reported to have been paid or to be paid for ungraded milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the month at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or to the Department:

Present Operator and Location

American Foods Company, Miami, Okla.
Gilt Edge Dairy, Norman, Okla.
Pet Milk Company, Siloam Springs, Ark.

§ 905.52 Butterfat differentials to handlers. If the average butterfat content of the milk of any handler allocated to any class pursuant to § 905.46 is more or less than 4.0 percent, there shall be added to the respective class price computed pursuant to § 905.51 for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such milk is above 4.0 percent, or subtracted for each one-tenth of 1 percent that such average butterfat content is below 4.0 percent an amount equal to the applicable butterfat differential computed as follows:

(a) Class I milk. Multiply by 1.25 the simple average, as computed by the market administrator of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago as reported by the Department during the preceding month and divide the result by 10.

(b) Class II milk. Multiply by 1.15 the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago as reported by the Department during the month and divide the result by 10.

APPLICATION OF PROVISIONS

§ 905.60 Producer-handlers. Sections 905.40 to 905.46, 905.50 to 905.52, 905.70 to 905.71, 905.80 to 905.87 shall not apply to a producer-handler.

§ 905.61 Handlers subject to other orders. In the case of any handler who the Secretary determines disposes of a greater portion of his milk as Class I milk in another marketing area regulated by another milk marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act, the provisions of this subpart shall not apply except as follows:

(a) The handler shall, with respect to his total receipts of skim milk and butterfat, make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may require and allow verification of such reports by the market administrator.

(b) If the price which such handler is required to pay under the other Federal order to which he is subject, for skim milk and butterfat which would be classified as Class I milk under this subpart is less than the price provided by this subpart, such handler shall pay to the market administrator for deposit into the producer-settlement fund (with respect to all skim milk and butterfat disposed of as Class I milk within the marketing area) an amount equal to the difference between the value of such skim milk or butterfat as computed pursuant to this subpart and its value as determined pursuant to the other order to which he is subject.

DETERMINATION OF BASE

§ 905.65 Computation of daily average base for each producer. For the months of February through July of each year the market administrator shall compute a daily average base for each producer as follows, subject to the rules set forth in § 905.66:

(a) Divide the total pounds of milk received by a handler(s) from such producer during the months of September through December by the number of days, not to be less than ninety, during the period(s) within which such producer made deliveries of milk in such months.

§ 905.66 Base rules. The following rules shall apply in connection with the establishment of bases:

(a) A base shall apply to deliveries of milk by the producer for whose account that milk was delivered during the base forming period;

(b) Bases may be transferred only during the period of February through July by notifying the market administrator in writing before the last day of any month that such base is to be transferred to the person named in such notice only as follows:

(1) In the event of the death, retirement, or entry into military service of a producer, the entire base may be transferred to a member(s) of such producer's immediate family who carries on the dairy operations.

(ii) If a base is held jointly and such joint holding is terminated, the entire base may be transferred to one of the joint holders.

(c) A producer who ceases to deliver milk to a handler for more than 45 consecutive days shall forfeit his base.

DETERMINATION OF UNIFORM PRICE

§ 905.70 Computation of value of milk. The value of milk received during each month from each handler from producers shall be a sum of money computed by the market administrator as follows:

(a) Multiply the pounds of such milk in each class by the applicable respective class prices and add together the resulting amounts;

(b) Add an amount computed by multiplying the pounds of any overage deducted from each class by the applicable class prices; and

(c) Add a reclassification charge computed at a rate equal to the difference between the Class I and Class II prices for the current month for skim milk and butterfat in inventory which is subtracted from Class I pursuant to § 905.46 (a) (4) and the corresponding step of § 905.46 (b) which is not in excess of the skim milk and butterfat, respectively, remaining in Class II milk in the previous month pursuant to § 905.46 (a) (5).

§ 905.71 Computation of uniform price. For each of the months of August through January, the market administrator shall compute the uniform price per hundredweight for milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from producers as follows:

(a) Combine into one total the values computed pursuant to § 905.70 for all handlers who made the reports prescribed in § 905.30 and who made the payments pursuant to §§ 905.80 and 905.83 for the preceding month.

(b) Add not less than one-half of the cash balance on hand in the producer-settlement fund less the total amount of the contingent obligations to handlers pursuant to § 905.85;

(c) Subtract if the average butterfat content of the milk included in these computations is greater than 4.0 percent, or add if such average butterfat content is less than 4.0 percent an amount computed by multiplying the amount by which the average butterfat content of such milk varies from 4.0 percent by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 905.81 and multiplying the resulting figure by the total hundredweight of such milk;

(d) Divide the resulting amount by the total hundredweight of milk included in these computations; and

(e) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents from the amount computed pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section. The resulting figure shall be the uniform price for milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from producers.

§ 905.72 Computation of uniform prices for base milk and excess milk. For each of the months of February through July the market administrator shall compute the uniform prices per hundredweight for base milk and for excess milk, each of 4.0 percent butterfat content, as follows:

(a) Combine into one total the values computed pursuant to § 905.70 for all handlers who made the reports prescribed in § 905.30 and who made the payments pursuant to §§ 905.80 and 905.83 for the preceding month;

(b) Add not less than one-half of the cash balance in the producer-settlement fund less the total amount of the contingent obligations to handlers pursuant to § 905.85;

(c) Subtract if the average butterfat content of the milk included in these computations is greater than 4.0 percent, or add if such average butterfat content is less than 4.0 percent, an amount computed by multiplying the amount by which the average butterfat content of such milk varies from 4.0 percent by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 905.81 and multiplying the resulting figure by the total hundredweight of such milk;

(d) Compute the total value on a 4.0 percent butterfat basis of the excess milk included in these computations by multiplying the hundredweight of such milk not in excess of the total quantity of Class II milk included in these computations by the price for Class II milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content, multiplying the hundredweight of such milk in excess of the total hundredweight of such Class II milk by the price for Class I milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content, and adding together the resulting amounts;

(e) Divide the total value of excess milk obtained in paragraph (d) of this section by the total hundredweight of such milk, and adjust to the nearest cent. The resulting figure shall be the uniform price for excess milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from producers.

(f) Subtract the value of excess milk obtained in paragraph (d) of this section from the value of all milk obtained in paragraph (c) of this section and adjust by any amount involved in adjusting the uniform price for excess milk to the nearest cent;

(g) Divide the amount obtained in paragraph (f) of this section by the total hundredweight of base milk included in these computations;

(h) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents from the amount computed pursuant to paragraph (g) of this section. The resulting figure shall be the uniform price for base milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from producers.

PAYMENTS

§ 905.80 Time and method of payment. Each handler shall make payment as follows:

(a) On or before the 15th day after the end of the month during which the milk was received, to each producer for whom payment is not made pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section, at not less than the applicable uniform price(s) pursuant to § 905.71 or § 905.72, adjusted by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 905.81, less the amount of the payment made pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section and deductions authorized by the producer.

(b) On or before the last day of each month, to each producer (1) for whom payment is not made pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section and (2) who has not discontinued delivery of milk to such handler, an advance payment with respect to milk received from such producer during the first 15 days of such month computed at not less than the Class II price for 4 percent milk for the preceding month, without deduction for hauling;

(c) On or before the 13th and 27th days of each month, in lieu of payments pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) respectively, of this section, to a cooperative association which so requests, with respect to producers whose milk was caused to be delivered to such handler by such cooperative association and for whose milk such cooperative associations is authorized to collect payments, an amount equal to the sum of the individual payments otherwise payable to such producers.

§ 905.81 Producer butterfat differential. In making payments pursuant to § 905.80 (a) there shall be added to or subtracted from the uniform price for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of the milk received from the producer is above or below 4.0 percent, an amount computed by multiplying by 1.2 the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the mispoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago as reported by the Department during the month, dividing the resulting sum by 10, and rounding to the nearest one-tenth of a cent.

§ 905.82 Producer-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as the "producer-settlement fund", into which he shall deposit payments made by handlers pursuant to §§ 905.83, 905.61 (b) and 905.85 and out of which he shall make payments to handlers pursuant to §§ 905.84 and 905.85.

§ 905.83 Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 13th day after the end of the month during which the milk was received, each handler, including a cooperative association which is a handler, shall pay to the market administrator the amount, if any, by which the value of the milk received by such handler from producers as determined pursuant to § 905.70 is greater than the amount required to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to § 905.80.

§ 905.84 Payment out of the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 14th day after the end of the month during which the milk was received, the market administrator shall pay to each handler, including a cooperative association which is a handler, the amount, if any, by which the value of the milk received by such handler from producers during the month as determined pursuant to § 905.70 is less than the amount required to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to § 905.80: Provided, That if the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payment pursuant to this paragraph, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available. No handler who has not received the balance of such payment from the market administrator shall be considered in violation of § 905.80 if he reduces his payments to producers by not more than the amount of the reduction in payment from the producer-settlement fund. The handler shall complete such payments to producers not later than the date for making such payments, next following after the receipt of the balance from the market administrator.

§ 905.85 Adjustment of accounts. Whenever audit by the market administrator of any handler's reports, books, records, or accounts discloses errors resulting in moneys due (a) the market administrator from such handler, (b) such handler from the market administrator, or (c) any producer or cooperative association from such handler, the market administrator shall promptly notify such handler of any amount so due and payment thereof shall be made on or before the next date for making payments set forth in the provisions under which such error occurred.

§ 905.86 Marketing services—(a) Deductions. Except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, each handler, in making payments to producers (other than himself) pursuant to § 905.80 shall deduct 5 cents per hundredweight or such lesser amount as may be prescribed by the Secretary and shall pay such deductions to the market administrator on or before the 15th day after the end of such month. Such moneys shall be used by the market administrator to sample, test, and check the weights of milk received from producers and to provide producers with market information.

(b) Deductions with respect to members of a cooperative association. In the case of producers for whom a cooperative association is actually performing the services set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, each handler shall make, in lieu of the deduction specified in paragraph (a) of this section, such deductions from the payments to be made to such producers as may be authorized by the membership agreement or marketing contract between such cooperative association and such producers and on or before the 15th day after the end of such month pay such deduction to the cooperative association rendering such

§ 905.87 Expense of administration. As his pro rata share of the expense of administration of this subpart, each handler shall pay to the market administrator on or before the 15th day after the end of the month, 4 cents per hundredweight or such lesser amount as the Secretary may prescribe with respect to all receipts within the month of (a) other source milk which is classified as Class I, and (b) milk from producers including such handler's own production.

§ 905.88 Termination of obligation. The provisions of this section shall apply to any obligation under this subpart for the payment of money.

(a) The obligation of any handler to pay money required to be paid under the terms of this subpart shall, except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, terminate two years after the last day of the calendar month during which the market administrator receives the handler's utilization report on the milk involved in such obligation, unless within such two year period the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that such money is due and payable. Service of such notice shall be complete upon mailing to the handler's last known address, and it shall contain but need not be limited to, the following information:

(1) The amount of the obligation;

(2) The month(s) during which the milk, with respect to which the obligation exists, was received or handled; and

(3) If the obligation is payable to one or more producers or to an association of producers, the name of such producer(s) or association of producers, or if the obligation is payable to the market administrator, the account for which it is to be paid.

(b) If a handler fails or refuses, with respect to any obligation under this subpart, to make available to the market administrator or his representative all books and records required by this subpart to be made available, the market administrator may within the two year period provided for in paragraph (a) of this section notify the handler in writing of such failure or refusal. If the market administrator so notifies a handler, the said two year period with respect to such obligation shall not begin to run until the first day of the calendar month following the month during which all such books and records pertaining to such obligation are made available to the market administrator or his representatives.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, a handler's obligation under this subpart to pay money shall not be terminated with respect to any transaction involving fraud or willful concealment of a fact, material to the obligation, on the part of the handler against whom the obligation is sought to be imposed.

(d) Any obligation on the part of the market administrator to pay a handler any money which such handler claims to be due him under the terms of this subpart shall terminate two years after the end of the calendar month during which the milk involved in the claim was received if an underpayment is claimed, or two years after the end of the calendar month during which the payment (including deduction or set-off by the market administrator) was made by the handler if a refund on such payment is claimed, unless such handler, within the applicable period of time, files, pursuant to section 8 (c) (15) (A) of the act, a petition claiming such money.

EFFECTIVE TIME, SUSPENSION OR TERMINATION

§ 905.90 Effective time. The provisions of this subpart or any amendment hereto shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated pursuant to § 905.91.

§ 905.91 Suspension or termination. The Secretary may suspend or terminate this subpart or any provision hereof whenever he finds this subpart or any provision hereof obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. This subpart shall terminate in any event whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

§ 905.92 Continuing obligations. If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions of this subpart, there are any obligations hereunder the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any person (including the market administrator), such further acts shall be performed notwithstanding such suspension or termination.

§ 905.93 Liquidation. Upon the suspension or termination of the provisions of this subpart, except this section, the market administrator, or such other liquidating agent as the Secretary may designate, shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office, dispose of all property in his possession or control, including accounts receivable, and execute and deliver all assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to effectuate any such disposition. If a liquidating agent is so designated, all assets, books, and records of the market administrator shall be transferred promptly to such liquidating agent. If, upon such liquidation, the funds on hand exceed the amounts required to pay outstanding obligations of the office of the market administrator and to pay necessary expenses of liquidation and distribution, such excess shall be distributed to contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

§ 905.100 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions of this subpart.

§ 905.101 Separability of provisions. If any provision of this subpart, or its application to any person or circumstances, is held invalid, the application of such provision and of the remaining provisions of this subpart to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

[Docket No. AO-166-A18-RO1]

HANDLING OF MILK IN CINCINNATI, OHIO, MARKETING AREA

DECISION WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND PROPOSED ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was conducted at Cincinnati, Ohio, pursuant to notice thereof issued on January 20, 1954 (19 F. R. 414).

The material issues of record related to several aspects of the regulation in effect. This decision covers only the questions of (1) revision of the definition of "producer", (2) the seasonal application of the Class III price formula, and (3) the application of the Class IV price formula to milk used for butter manufacture during the months of March through July, inclusive. It is determined that emergency action is required on these issues. It is concluded that the remaining issues should not be decided under emergency procedure and should not delay action on the issues dealt with herein. Decision on such remaining issues therefore is reserved to a later date.

Rulings on proposed findings and conclusions. Briefs on the record were filed on behalf of producers and handlers. Such briefs contained proposed findings and conclusions with respect to the issues under consideration herein. To the extent that the findings and conclusions of this decision are at variance with such proposed findings and conclusions, the request to make such findings and conclusions is hereby denied.

Findings and conclusions. The following findings and conclusions on the issues decided herein are hereby made upon the basis of the record of the hearing:

(1) The definition of "producer" should be modified.

Producer associations proposed that the definition of producer be rewritten to prohibit the participation in the pool of milk produced primarily for other fluid milk markets not included in the Cincinnati marketing area but transferred by its regular receivers for temporary periods during the flush production season to plants regulated under the order. Proponents stated that such provision was proposed for the purpose of preventing "dilution" of the Cincinnati producers' uniform price during the months of seasonally heavy production with milk which must be utilized in the lowest-valued classification in the same manner as milk customarily delivered to regulated plants in excess of the uses requiring inspected milk but which is not a dependable supply for the marketing area requirements.

The Cincinnati marketing area is bounded both on the north and across the Ohio River to the south by urban communities not included in the defined marketing area. In such communities there are a number of plants from which milk is distributed in fluid form locally. Although some handlers regulated by the order distribute fluid milk in such communities, there are local distributors who do not operate routes within the Cincinnati marketing area and therefore are not regulated by the order. The local communities outside the marketing area have their separate health requirements and frequently dairy farmers are qualified under such health requirements to deliver their milk to both regulated and unregulated plants. Because of the proximity of such sizable urban centers to the Cincinnati marketing area and the existence of a number of unregulated plants engaged in the distribution of milk in fluid form, it is a relatively simple matter to shift the delivery of milk eligible for sale in fluid form within the marketing area between unregulated plants and plants covered by the order.

The existence of a classified price plan and pooling arrangement such as is provided in the Cincinnati order is an attraction for any plant operator not regulated by the order who has reserve milk not needed for his fluid milk outlets since any such milk, bought in competition with handlers paying the Cincinnati uniform price, would be more costly to the local operator than if transferred to a pool plant for disposition in a Class III or Class IV milk product at the appropriate classification price. Milk shifted in this manner does not necessarily represent an additional year-around source of supply for the Cincinnati market since such milk may be easily removed from the market for local use in the fall months when production is lowest. If the Cincinnati pool is required to support extra reserves of milk which are not genuinely a part of the Cincinnati supply and are not available in the months when supplies normally are lowest, monies which would assist regular producers in the maintenance of adequate supplies for the marketing area are lost to them. It has been considered necessary, heretofore, to adopt certain delivery standards which individual plants outside the Cincinnati marketing area must meet to qualify for participation in the Cincinnati pool during all months of the year. Such a plant may become eligible only through demonstration that it will serve the Cincinnati marketing area in the periods when milk production is seasonally low. It is equally important that milk received from individual producers as well as milk received from individual plants be included in the pool only if such milk is a part of the normal and regular supply of the market. To accept in the pool any milk having primary affiliation with another market tends to defeat the purposes of the order as a means of establishing minimum producer prices, maintaining orderly marketing conditions, and assuring a sufficient supply of milk to satisfy market needs.

The record indicates a seasonal fluctuation of producers (farms) greater than might be expected from the normal turnover in producer numbers and from the addition of new producers as the result of market growth. In December 1952, a low production month seasonally, there were 5,049 farms serving the Cincinnati market. In May 1953, a month of seasonally high production, there were 5,289 listed farms. By December 1953 the comparative figure was 5,120, indicating that some 98 producers who had entered the market between December 1952 and December 1953 had shipped for a temporary period only. Similar fluctuations between fall and winter and spring and summer months can be demonstrated for previous years also.

In order to prevent the addition of individual producers for temporary periods for the reasons stated, it is concluded that the definition of "producer" should be revised to exclude therefrom for the months of March through July 1954 dairy farmer who has shipped more than 15 days during February 1954 to an unregulated plant engaged in the distribution of milk in fluid form. Although the modified definition will not exclude from the Cincinnati market milk delivered by such dairy farmers, it should prevent temporary shifts of milk in the manner described at the expense of regular producers. Likewise it will not exclude new producers who may desire, upon meeting the health requirements, to enter the market with milk previously shipped to a manufacturing plant or produced on a newly established dairy farm. It is concluded that the definition should be amended for the March–July 1954 period only. There should be ample opportunity to review in hearing prior to the flush production season of 1955 the necessity of continuing this provision or the adoption of other measures to accomplish a similar objective.

(2) The application of the price formulas for Class III and Class IV milk should be modified.

The price for Class III milk currently is computed as the higher of two formula prices during the months of March through September and as the higher of the two formula prices plus 30 cents in other months. One of the formulas is based upon the market prices of butter and nonfat dry milk solids while the other is based upon the prices paid to dairy farmers for ungraded milk by five milk manufacturing plants in or close to the Cincinnati milk supply area. For a substantial period the butter-nonfat dry milk solids formula has produced significantly higher prices. The price of Class IV milk (milk for butter manufacture) is computed each month by deducting 17.5 cents from the Class III price determined for the month in the above manner.

It was proposed that the lower of the two formula prices referred to be used as the Class III price during the March–July period, the higher of such two formula prices be effective for the month of August, and that for each remaining month of the year the Class III price be computed by adding 30 cents to the higher of the two formula prices.

In support of a Class III price formula to more closely align the Class III price to producers with prevailing prices for manufacturing, or ungraded, milk in the milk shed, proponents pointed to the increased production in the milkshed during the flush production season of 1953 and the necessity for disposing of much of the excess supply at that time of the year in competition with lower-priced manufacturing milk supplies in the manufacture of milk products which do not require inspected milk. It was contended that in these circumstances Grade A milk does not command a substantial premium over uninspected milk available locally.

Record data indicate that in May 1953 producer milk supplies were nearly 10 percent greater than in May 1952. Approximately 52 percent of the total supply of producer milk for May 1953 was utilized in milk products covered by Class III and Class IV milk and 62 percent of the quantities utilized in such classes necessarily was disposed of in the manufacture of milk products which need not be produced from inspected milk. Except during a brief period of drought in the fall months of last year, production has continued at a high level in relation to the corresponding month of the preceding year. In December 1953 producer milk deliveries exceeded the December 1952 level by 15.7 percent. It seems probable that a relatively large volume of producer milk will be disposed in Class III milk outlets in the coming flush production months of this year.

It is concluded that in the interest of orderly marketing the pricing of the reserve supply of producer milk in the months of seasonally heavy production in 1954 should be reduced in relation to both the prices which resulted from the Class III price formula during the recent fall and winter months and those in effect during the flush production months last year. It should be noted, however, from the above that Class III milk under the Cincinnati order consists of milk utilized for some products which do not require inspected milk and for certain other products which do require such milk. Ice cream manufacture is among the most important outlets for milk in the class and is included in the category of uses requiring inspected milk. Thus, a reduction in price to the level of prices paid by local manufacturing plants for uninspected milk for all Class III milk during the March-July period, as proposed, would tend to underprice milk needed for ice cream and other products requiring inspected milk which represent important dispositions of reserve milk in the spring and summer months. A reduction in the Class III price to the price level of Class IV milk in such months should provide reasonable price relief in the circumstances, particularly in view of the end uses to which the bulk of the milk in the class is put. During the March–July period in 1953 the Class IV price averaged approximately 14 cents per hundredweight above the average price for ungraded milk at the 15 midwestern condenseries as computed pursuant to § 965.50 (a). Such price level for milk is reasonably related also to outlets made possible by the dairy price support program.

As producer milk supplies decrease seasonally in the late summer and fall months, a larger proportion is needed for those uses which require inspected milk, including certain uses covered by Class III milk. The proportion of Class III milk disposed of to outlets which do not require inspected milk accordingly decreases during these months. In November 1953 the latter outlets accounted for 36 percent of the total of Class III milk utilization as compared with 62 percent in May. In order to encourage the maximum utilization of producer milk in products which require inspected milk as the year advances to the months when milk production normally is lowest, it is concluded that Class III milk should continue to be priced at the higher of the stated formula prices during August of each year, and at a level 30 cents above the higher of such formula prices during the September–February period.

The reduction in the Class III price adopted should be limited to the March–July period of 1954. Because of the particular combination of products covered by such class and the likelihood that an improved pricing and classification plan, including review and possible modification of the supply-demand utilization percentages in relation to the various requirements of inspected milk as presently covered by Class III milk as well as Class I and Class II milk, might be evolved from more detailed consideration of such provisions, any further revision of reserve milk pricing should be based upon the results of a later hearing. There should be ample time for such review prior to the flush production months of 1955.

(3) The due and timely execution of the function of the Secretary under the act imperatively and unavoidably requires the omission of a recommended decision by the Deputy Administrator, Agricultural Marketing Service, and the opportunity for exceptions thereto, on the above issues.

The conditions complained of are such that it is urgent that remedial action be taken as soon as possible. Delay beyond the minimum time required to make the attached order effective would defeat the purpose of such amendments. Accordingly, the time necessarily involved in the preparation, filing, and publication of a recommended decision, and exceptions thereto, would make such relief ineffective and therefore should be eliminated in this instance. The notice of hearing stated that consideration would be given to the question of whether economic and marketing conditions require emergency action with respect to any or all amendments deemed necessary as the result of the hearing. Action under the procedure described above was requested at the hearing. No opposition was registered at the hearing to either the objectives of the proposals involved or the use of such emergency promulgation procedure.

General findings. (a) The proposed marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreement and in the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(c) The proposed marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and are applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in, the said marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Determination of representative period. The month of December 1953 is hereby determined to be the representative period for the purpose of ascertaining whether the issuance of the order amending the order, now in effect, regulating the handling of milk in the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area, in the manner set forth in the attached amending order is approved or favored by producers who, during such period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the marketing area specified in such marketing order.

Annexed hereto and made a part hereof are two documents entitled, respectively, "Marketing Agreement Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Cincinnati, Ohio, Marketing Area," and "Order Amending the Order, as Amended, Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Cincinnati, Ohio, Marketing Area," which have been decided upon as the detailed and appropriate means of effectuating the foregoing conclusions. These documents shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and orders have been met.

It is hereby ordered, That all of this decision, except the attached marketing agreement, be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The regulatory provisions of said marketing agreement are identical with those contained in the order as hereby proposed to be amended by the attached order which will be published with this decision.

This decision filed at Washington, D. C., this 19th day of February 1954.

[SEAL] ROSS RIZLEY,
Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

Order[1] Amending the Order, as Amended, Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Cincinnati, Ohio, Marketing Area

§ 965.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order, and of the previously issued amendments thereto and all said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, That on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended as follows:

1. Replace the period at the end of § 965.8 with a colon and add the following proviso to such section: "Provided further, That this definition shall not be deemed to include for the months of March, April, May, June and July 1954 any such person with respect to milk produced on a farm from which milk was delivered on 15 or more days during February 1954 to a milk processing plant which is not a pool plant but from which milk is disposed of in fluid form on routes wholly outside the marketing area."

2. Delete that portion of § 965.51 (c) which precedes subparagraph (1) thereof any substitute therefor the following:

(c) The price for Class III milk during each of the months of March through August, inclusive, shall be the higher of the prices per hundredweight computed pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph; and the price of Class III milk during each of the months of September through February, inclusive, shall be the higher of such computed prices plus 30 cents: Provided, That the price for Class III milk during each of the months of March through July 1954, inclusive, shall be the higher of the prices per hundredweight computed pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph less 17.5 cents.

3. Delete § 965.51 (d) and substitute therefor the following:

(d) The price for Class IV milk shall be the price of Class III milk less 17.5 cents: Provided, That for each of the months of March through July 1954, inclusive, the price of Class IV milk shall be the same as the price of Class III milk.

[F. R. Doc. 54–1314; Filed, Feb. 25, 1954; 8:50 a. m.]

[1] This order shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.4 of the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and orders have been met.

RINDERPEST AND FOOT-AND-MOUTH DISEASE

NOTICE OF PROPOSED DETERMINATION OF NONEXISTENCE IN CHANNEL ISLANDS AND OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT OF REGULATIONS IMPOSING PROHIBITIONS AND RESTRICTIONS ON IMPORTATION OF SPECIFIED ANIMALS AND ANIMAL PRODUCTS ON ACCOUNT OF CERTAIN DISEASES

Notice is hereby given in accordance with section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003 (a)), that pursuant to the provisions of section 306 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U. S. C. 1306) and section 2 of the act of February 2, 1903, as amended (21 U. S. C. 111), it is proposed to determine, and to give notice of such determination, that neither rinderpest nor foot-and-mouth disease now exists in the Channel Islands, and to amend the regulations in 9 CFR Part 94, as amended (formerly B. A. I. Order 373), imposing prohibitions and restrictions on the importation of specified animals and animal products on account of rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease and certain other diseases, by inserting the words "the Channel Islands" after the words "Northern Ireland" in § 94.1 of the regulations.

The proposed determination, notification, and amendment would remove the present prohibition under section 306 of the Tariff Act upon importation into the United States of cattle, sheep, other domestic ruminants, and swine, and of fresh, chilled, or frozen beef, veal, mutton, lamb, and pork from the Channel Islands and render the commodities specified in §§ 94.2 to 94.5 of 9 CFR Part 94, as amended, and originating in said country, no longer subject to the provisions of that part.

Any person who wishes to submit written data, views, or arguments concerning the proposed determination and amendment may do so by filing them with the Chief, Animal Quarantine Branch, Agricultural Research Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., within 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

At that time the said lots shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to application under the Small Tract Act, as follows:

(a) Ninety-one day period for preference-right filing. For a period of 91 days, commencing at the hour and on the day specified above, the public lands affected by this order shall be subject only to application under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, 52 Stat. 609 (43 U. All applications filed under this paragraph either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at that time. In the event the number of applications filed during this period exceeds the number of lots available, a drawing will be held to determine the successful applicants. If a drawing is necessary, it will be held at 10:00 a. m. on April 6, 1954, at the Bureau of Land Management Land and Survey Office for Colorado, 437 Post Office Building, Denver, Colorado, and anyone interested may attend. (b) Date for non-preference-right filings. Commencing at 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this order, any lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to disposal under the Small Tract Act only. All such applications filed either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this order shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at the hour specified on such 126th day. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims shall accompany their application by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

5. Each lot will be leased as a home or cabin site at an annual rental of $15 and each lease will contain an option to purchase at $300 a lot when the lessee has complied with the requirements imposed by law. Leases will be issued for a period of 3 years and applications to purchase may be filed after the first year of the life of the lease, provided the lessee has constructed a habitable house with a minimum floor space of 500 square feet. It is not contemplated that any structure which might be considered an eyesore will fulfill the requirements as to home construction, and all buildings must be substantially constructed. Uncompleted houses not suitable for habitation will not be approved as meeting the requirements for purchase. Local, county, and State building and sanitation regulations must be observed. Failure to do so will result in cancellation of the lease.

6. Lots 25, 27, and 29 are subject to reservation for a road right-of-way 50 feet wide for the established secondary road with the center line corresponding to the center line of the road. Further reservation is made for a 50-foot right-of-way between lots 19 and 25 and between lots 18 and 19, with the boundaries between these lots corresponding to the center line of the road. In addition, a 50-foot right-of-way for road and public utilities is reserved along the east boundary of lots 18, 26, and 27. Such rights-of-way may be utilized by the Federal Government, or the State, county, or municipality in which the tract is situated, or by any agency thereof. REDELEGATION OF AUTHORITY TO ENTER INTO LEASES FOR ACQUISITION OF SPACE IN BUILDINGS

Pursuant to the authority granted to heads of bureaus by the Secretary of the Interior in section 52 of Order 2509, as amended July 18, 1952 (17 F. R. 6793) Regional Directors I to VIII, inclusive may, within the continental limits of the United States and outside the District of Columbia, acquire by lease space in buildings (1) that is to be used wholly or predominantly for the special purposes of the Bureau of Mines and will not be generally suitable for the use of other agencies, or (2) that is required for use incidental to and in conjunction with space that will be used for such special purposes, or (3) that is to be acquired under a lease involving no rental or a nominal consideration of $1 per annum. (See General Services Administration, Title 2, Real Property Management, section 2–III–102.00, December 1953.)

The person who exercises this delegation of authority may, in the territories and possessions of the United States, acquire by lease space in buildings either for the general purposes or for the special purposes of the Bureau of Mines.

With respect to any such lease, including a lease approved by the Secretary, the person who exercises this delegation of authority may modify or renew the lease if such action is legally permissible, and may terminate the lease if such action is legally authorized.

This delegation of authority shall be exercised in compliance with applicable regulations and statutory requirements and shall be subject to the availability of appropriations.

Two copies of U. S. Standard Form 81, Revised, "Request for Space", for each lease and each modification or renewal of a lease shall be transmitted to the Property-Management Branch of the Bureau. Such action will be taken with respect to all leasing transactions, including those in which the General Services Administration does not require the filing of Standard Form 81, Revised (General Services Administration, Title 2, Real Property Management, section 2–II–301.00, December 1953.)

Dated: February 15, 1954.

THOS. H. MILLER,
Acting Director,
Bureau of Mines.

HANDLING OF MILK IN NEW YORK METROPOLITAN MILK MARKETING AREA

DETERMINATION THAT HEARING SHOULD NOT BE HELD

Pursuant to provisions of the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the New York metropolitan milk marketing area (7 CFR Part 927, and hereinafter referred to as "the order"), it is hereby determined that a public hearing should not be held at this time to consider economic conditions relating to the pricing of Class I–A milk under the provisions of the order.

This determination is occasioned by a provision of the order which requires that whenever there is a difference, for each of 3 consecutive months, of more than 15 points between the index of cost of production and the index of the Class I–A price, a public hearing be called to consider those and other economic conditions, or announcement of a determination that such a hearing should not be held together with reasons for such a determination. The index of the cost of production has now exceeded the index of the Class I–A price by more than 15 points for each of 3 consecutive months.

Such a public hearing would serve no useful or desirable purpose. Prices for Class I–A milk currently prevailing and in prospect for the next several months under the pricing formula now contained in the order are prices which properly reflect the economic conditions affecting the supply of and demand for milk in the New York metropolitan milk marketing area in accordance with the standards of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act.

The index of the Class I–A price and the index of cost of production each indicates the percentage change from the level prevailing in 1948. For the most recent month for which both are available (December 1953), the Class I–A price index is 95 and the index of cost of production is 112, thus resulting in a difference of more than 15 points. A similar divergence exists for the months of October and November 1953. While a cost of production index is not yet available for January and February 1954, the Class I–A price index for those months declined to 92 and 90, respectively.

Such lower level of the Class I–A price (in relation to 1948) is the direct result of existence in the market of a substantially larger (than in 1948) supply of milk in relation to sales of fluid milk. Reserve supplies of pool milk have been running relatively large particularly since October 1952. The average of the monthly percentages of pool milk used for fluid milk was about 51 for the year 1953 compared to 63.6 for 1948. The current (November and December) relationship of supply to sales, as used in computation of the Class I–A price for February, is equivalent to an estimated fluid utilization on an annual basis of slightly more than 49 percent. This change in the supply-demand relationship is being properly reflected in the Class I–A prices currently established through operation of the pricing formula now in effect.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 19th day of February 1954.

[SEAL] ROSS RIZLEY,
Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

GENERAL PUBLIC UTILITIES CORP.

ORDER PERMITTING DECLARATION REGARDING CAPITAL CONTRIBUTIONS BY REGISTERED HOLDING COMPANY TO SUBSIDIARIES TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

FEBRUARY 19, 1954.

General Public Utilities Corporation ("GPU"), a registered holding company, having filed a declaration, with an amendment thereto, with the Commission pursuant to section 12 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") and Rule U-45 promulgated thereunder, with respect to the following transactions:

GPU proposes to make cash capital contributions in the aggregate amount of $200,000 to its subsidiary, Associated Electric Company ("Aelec"), a registered holding company, and in the aggregate amount of $175,000 to its subsidiary, New Jersey Power & Light Company ("NJP&L"), a public utility company. Each such contribution will be initially credited by the recipient thereof to its capital surplus account and, in the case of NJP&L, an amount equal to such contribution will promptly thereafter be transferred from capital surplus to the stated capital applicable to its no par value common stock. The amounts to be thus invested by GPU in Aelec and NJP&L include amounts equal to GPU's prior receipts of $321,535.96 and undetermined prospective receipts from the sale (pursuant to prior orders of the Commission as being necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act) of (1) shares of common stock of South Carolina Electric & Gas Company (a former subsidiary of GPU) received by GPU as a result of the termination of exchanges under the Plan of Reorganization of Associated Gas and Electric Company ("Ageco") and Associated Gas and Electric Corporation ("Agecorp"), predecessors of GPU, and (2) shares of 5 percent preferred stock of South Carolina Electric & Gas Company and shares of common stock of Florida Power Corporation received by GPU as a result of the termination of exchanges under the Plan of Divestment of General Gas & Electric Corporation, a former registered holding company and subsidiary of Agecorp.

GPU represents that no State or Federal Commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions and that the estimated expenses in connection with the proposed transactions will not exceed $300.

GPU having requested that the order of the Commission permitting the declaration to become effective recite, in accordance with the requirements of Supplement R of the Internal Revenue Code, that the investment by GPU in Aelec and in NJP&L, is necessary or appropriate to the integration or simplification of the GPU holding company system, to the extent that such investment represents the proceeds received or to be received from the sale as aforesaid of the shares of preferred and common stock of South Carolina Electric & Gas Company and the shares of common stock of Florida Power Corporation made pursuant to divestiture orders of this Commission; and

GPU having requested the Commission's order herein issue pursuant to Rule U-23 and that said order become effective upon issuance; and

Notice of the filing of the declaration having been duly given in the manner and form prescribed by Rule U-23 under said act; and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect to said declaration within the period specified in such notice, or otherwise, and the Commission not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission having considered said declaration, as amended, and finding that the applicable provisions of the act are satisfied; and the Commission deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that said declaration, as amended, be permitted to become effective and that the request of GPU that appropriate recitals, in accordance with Supplement R of the Internal Revenue Code, be set forth in the Commission's order and that said order become effective upon issuance, be granted:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 that the declaration, as amended, filed pursuant to section 12 of the act be, and hereby is, permitted to become effective, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

It is further ordered and recited, That:

(1) The expenditure and investment by GPU as contributions to the capital of Aelec in the aggregate amount of $200,000 and as contributions to the capital of NJP&L in the aggregate amount of $175,000, limited, however, to the amount of the proceeds of the sales by GPU of (a) common stock of South Carolina Electric & Gas Company received and which may hereafter be received by GPU from the Exchange Agent under the Ageco-Agecorp Plan of Reorganization, pursuant to the orders of this Commission dated September 26, 1946 (Holding Company Act Release No. 6915) and January 5, 1952 (Holding Company Act Release No. 10995), such proceeds having amounted to $157,789.96 at the date of the Declaration, and (b) the 5 percent Preferred stock of South Carolina Electric & Gas Company and the Common stock of Florida Power Corporation received and which may hereafter be received by GPU from the Distribution Agent under the Plan of Divestment of General Gas & Electric Corporation, pursuant to orders of this Commission dated July 25, 1945, August 23, 1945, and February 8, 1952 (Holding Company Act Release Nos. 5950, 6001 and 11047 respectively), such proceeds having amounted to $163,745.98 at the date of the Declaration; and

GENERAL PUBLIC UTILITIES CORP.

ORDER REGARDING CAPITAL CONTRIBUTION BY PARENT TO SUBSIDIARY

FEBRUARY 19, 1954.

General Public Utilities Corporation ("GPU"), a registered holding company, having filed with this Commission a declaration pursuant to section 12 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), and Rule U-45 thereunder with respect to proposed transactions, which are summarized as follows:

GPU proposes to make cash capital contributions in the aggregate amount of $350,000 to its public utility subsidiary, Northern Pennsylvania Power Company ("North Penn"). Each such contribution will, upon receipt by North Penn, be credited to the stated capital applicable to its Common Stock. Such capital contributions will be made by GPU from time to time, but not later than September 30, 1954, as North Penn requires funds for construction purposes or to reimburse its treasury for expenditures therefrom for construction purposes or to repay bank loans utilized for that purpose. Thus GPU will, by these cash capital contributions, assist North Penn with its construction program which is designed to insure that North Penn will continue to be in a position to meet the demands of its consuming public.

It is requested that the Commission's order be expedited and made effective forthwith upon issuance and it is stated that no state or Federal Commission other than this Commission has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions. It is estimated that expenses in connection with the transactions will not exceed $300.

Due notice having been given of the filing of said declaration, and a hearing not having been requested of or ordered by the Commission; and the Commission finding that the applicable provisions of the act and rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied and that no adverse findings are necessary, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that said declaration as amended be permitted to become effective forthwith:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, that said declaration as amended be, and it hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

GENERAL PUBLIC UTILITIES CORP. ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING REGARDING PROPOSED BANK BORROWINGS BY HOLDING COMPANY; ISSUANCE AND SALE OF COMMON STOCK BY PUBLIC UTILITY COMPANY TO PARENT; AND AMENDMENT OF CHARTER BY PUBLIC UTILITY COMPANY

FEBRUARY 19, 1954.

In the matter of General Public Utilities Corporation, Associated Electric Company, Pennsylvania Electric Company; File No. 70-3196.

Notice is hereby given that General Public Utilities Corporation ("GPU"), a registered holding company, Associated Electric Company ("Aelec"), a registered holding company and a subsidiary of GPU, and Pennsylvania Electric Company ("Penelec"), a public-utility company and a subsidiary of Aelec, have filed a joint application-declaration with this Commission under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), regarding proposed bank borrowings by GPU, capital contributions by GPU to Aelec, the issuance and sale of additional common stock by Penelec and the purchase thereof by Aelec, and certain proposed amendments to the charter of Penelec. Applicants-declarants have designated sections 6 (a), 6 (b), 7, 9 (a), 10 and 12 of the act and Rules U-45 and U-50 (a) (3) thereunder as applicable to said proposed transactions.

All interested persons are referred to said joint application-declaration which is on file in the offices of the Commission for a statement of the proposed transactions and the facts set forth therein, which are summarized as follows:

GPU proposes to make borrowings and re-borrowings from one or more commercial banks from time to time but not later than December 31, 1954, provided, however, that no such borrowings or re-borrowings will be made after GPU shall have completed its 1954 common stock financing program. The aggregate amount of such borrowings to be outstanding at any one time will not exceed $7,500,000. Each borrowing will bear interest at the then prime interest rate for commercial loans (such rate now being 3¼ percent) but not in excess of 3¾ percent per annum. Each borrowing will mature 10 months from the date it is effected, but will be prepayable without premium. GPU states that it will utilize the proceeds from such borrowings to make additional investments in the common stock of its subsidiaries and represents that it will sell additional shares of its own common stock, from time to time during 1954, in order to obtain the funds necessary to repay such borrowings.

GPU proposes to make cash capital contributions to Aelec from time to time (but not later than June 30, 1954) in an aggregate amount not to exceed $6,235,000. Aelec proposes to use such funds to purchase from Penelec, and Penelec proposes to issue and sell to Aelec, a total of 311,750 additional shares of Penelec's common stock, par value $20 per share, at the aggregate par value thereof of $6,235,000. Penelec represents that the funds received by it from the sale of the additional shares of its common stock will constitute the common stock component of its 1954 financing program. Penelec states that the proceeds from the sale of its additional common stock will be applied by it toward the cost of its 1954 construction program, or to reimburse its treasury for expenditures theretofore made for construction.

Penelec also proposes, subject to the obtaining of the consent of the holders of its common stock, to amend its charter so as (1) to increase from $150,000,000 to $250,000,000 the amount of its indebtedness authorized by such charter to be outstanding at any one time and (2) to increase its authorized common stock from 3,000,000 shares, par value $20 per share, to 3,100,000 shares, par value $20 per share.

Applicants-declarants represent that no Federal or State regulatory agency, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over any of the proposed transactions except the sale by Penelec of additional shares of its common stock as to which the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission has jurisdiction. Penelec states that it anticipates that the proposed sale of additional shares of its common stock will be expressly approved by the Pennsylvania Commission.

The filing states that the expenses to be incurred in connection with the proposed transactions, other than the Federal issue taxes amounting to $6,858.50 and Pennsylvania excise tax amounting to $28,000 on the sale of Penelec's common stock, are estimated to be not in excess of $500 for each company.

Applicants-declarants request that the Commission's order herein be issued as soon as practicable pursuant to Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, waive the 30-day waiting period and request that the Commission's order become effective upon issuance.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than March 5, 1954, at 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law raised by said joint application-declaration which he proposes to controvert, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission shall order a hearing thereon. Any such request shall be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date, said joint application-declaration, as filed or as hereafter amended, may be granted and permitted to become effective pursuant to Rule U-23 promulgated under the act or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 and U-100 thereof.

By the Commission.

(b) The percentage of dockage shall be determined in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States for Flaxseed, and the weight of said dockage shall be deducted from the gross weight of the flaxseed in determining the net quantity for purchase.

§ 421.686 Liens. The flaxseed must be free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, or, if liens and encumbrances exist on the flaxseed, proper waivers must be presented to the county committees at the time of application for delivery instructions.

§ 421.687 Service charge. A service charge of one-half cent per bushel or a minimum of $1.50, whichever is greater, shall be charged the producer on each purchase of flaxseed made by CCC under this program. The amount of the service charge shall be deducted from the purchase price at the time of settlement.

§ 421.688 Set-offs. If the producer is indebted to CCC on any accrued obligation, or if any installment or installments on any loan made available by CCC on farm-storage facilities or any mobile drying equipment loan, whether the note evidencing such loan is held by CCC or a lending agency, are past due or are payable or prepayable under the provisions of the farm-storage facility loan note or mobile drying equipment loan note out of the proceeds of the price support purchase, he must designate CCC or such lending agency as the payee of the proceeds of the purchase to the extent of such indebtedness or installments, but not to exceed that portion of the proceeds remaining after deduction of service charges and amounts due prior lienholders. If the producer is indebted to any other agency of the United States and such indebtedness is listed on the county debt register, he must designate such agency as the payee of the proceeds as provided above. Indebtedness owing to CCC or to a lending agency as provided above shall be given first consideration after claims of prior lienholders. Compliance with the provisions of this section shall not constitute a waiver of any right of the producer to contest the justness of the indebtedness involved either by administrative appeal or by legal action.

§ 421.689 Payment. Payment to the producer for flaxseed delivered under this program shall be made by the ASC county office by means of sight draft drawn on CCC, and on the basis of the purchase documents indicated in § 421.684, subject to the provisions of set-offs and service charge.

Issued this 24th day of February 1954.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

[Navel Orange Reg. 20]

PART 914—NAVEL ORANGES GROWN IN ARIZONA AND DESIGNATED PART OF CALIFORNIA

LIMITATION OF HANDLING

§ 914.320 Navel Orange Regulation 20—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement and Order No. 14 (18 F. R. 5638), regulating the handling of navel oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California, effective September 22, 1953, under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Navel Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of handling of such navel oranges, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions of this section effective as hereinafter set forth. The Navel Orange Administrative Committee held an open meeting on February 25, 1954, after giving due notice thereof, to consider supply and market conditions for navel oranges and the need for regulation; interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit information and views at this meeting; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after such meeting was held; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such navel oranges; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period herein specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed on or before the effective date of this section.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of navel oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., February 28, 1954, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., March 7, 1954, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: 161,700 boxes;
(ii) District 2: 323,400 boxes;
(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement;
(iv) District 4: Unlimited movement.

(2) The prorate base of each handler who has made application therefor, as provided in the said marketing agreement and order, is hereby fixed in accordance with the prorate base schedule which is set forth below and made a part hereof by this reference.

(3) Navel oranges handled pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be subject to any size restrictions applicable thereto which have heretofore been issued on the handling of such oranges and which are effective during the period specified herein.

(4) As used in this section, "handled," "handler," "boxes," "prorate base," "District 1," "District 2," "District 3," and "District 4" shall have the same meaning as when used in said marketing agreement and order.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 26th day of February 1954.

PART 924—MILK IN THE DETROIT, MICHIGAN, MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING HANDLING

§ 924.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Detroit, Michigan, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making this amendatory order effective on March 1, 1954. Such action is necessary in the public interest in order to reflect current marketing conditions and to facilitate the orderly marketing of milk produced for the Detroit, Michigan, marketing area. Accordingly, any further delay in the effective date of this order will seriously threaten the orderly marketing of milk in the marketing area. The provisions of this amendatory order are well known to handlers and producers, the public hearing having been held on July 27-28, 1953, a recommended decision having been issued on November 20, 1953 for the purpose of inviting exceptions, and a decision containing the terms and provisions of the order having been issued on January 29, 1954. Reasonable time under the circumstances has been afforded persons affected to prepare for its effective date. Therefore, it would be contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this amendment for 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. (See section 4 (c) Administrative Procedure Act, Pub. Law 404, 79th Congress, 60 Stat. 237.)

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations or producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this order, amending the order, as amended), or more than 50 percent of the volume of the milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended, which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who, during the determined representative period (November, 1953) were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, that on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the Detroit, Michigan, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended; and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. In § 924.6 (b) delete the phrase "or of Wayne County".

2. Add a paragraph "(c)" to § 924.6 as follows:

(c) A cooperative association with respect to milk customarily received by a handler, as described under paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section, which is diverted to a person not a handler for the account of the association.

3. In § 924.41 (a) insert following the phrase "all skim milk" the following: "(including the skim milk equivalent of concentrated products)".

4. Amend § 924.41 (b) to read as follows:

(b) Class II utilization shall be all skim milk and butterfat (1) disposed of for fluid consumption as sweet or sour cream or any mixture of cream and milk or skim milk containing 10 percent or more of butterfat; (2) used to produce sterilized flavored milk drinks, ice cream or ice cream mix, cheese (including cottage cheese), dried whole milk, nonfat dry milk solids, evaporated or condensed whole or skim milk, sweetened or unsweetened, disposed of in bulk or in hermetically sealed cans, eggnog, butter; (3) disposed of as livestock feed or skim milk dumped subject to prior notification to and inspection (at his discretion within 18 hours) by the market administrator; (4) in shrinkage of producer milk up to 2 percent of receipts from producers; or (5) in shrinkage of other source milk.

5. Change § 924.43 (c) to read as follows:

(c) Producer milk transferred in bulk by a cooperative association to a plant as described in § 924.6 (a), except a plant as described in § 924.101, shall be deducted before classification of producer milk at the transferor's plant and shall be included in producer milk classified at the plant of the transferee handler.

6. In § 924.46 (a) change the reference to "§ 924.41 (c) (3)" to read "§ 924.41 (b) (4)".

7. In § 924.60 (a) change the phrase "Subject to paragraph (c)" to read "Subject to paragraphs (b) and (c)" and change the reference to "§ 924.46 (c)" to read "§ 924.46 (e)".

8. Amend § 924.60 (c) to read as follows:

(c) A handler who operates a plant as described in § 924.6 (b) (or § 924.6 (a) and located more than 34 miles by shortest highway distance from the boundary of the market area) and who disposes of, from such plant for Class I utilization (other than to a handler), milk received from producers, and a handler who receives at a plant described in § 924.6 (a) producer milk moved in bulk from a plant described in § 924.6 (b) (or § 924.6 (a) and located more than 34 miles by shortest highway distance from the boundary of the marketing area), which milk is utilized as Class I (prorating to such milk the utilization of all producer milk received at the plant) shall receive a credit with respect to milk so disposed of or so received and utilized at a rate determined by the market administrator as follows:

Shortest road distance from Detroit City Hall:	Rate per hundredweight
More than 34 miles but not more than 50 miles	$0.14
More than 50 miles but not more than 60 miles	.15

Add 1 cent for each 10 miles or fraction thereof over 60 miles.

9. Amend § 924.62 (b) to read as follows:

(b) Subtracting not less than 6 cents nor more than 7 cents.

10. In § 924.64 (e) delete the first sentence and substitute therefor the following: "(e) Subtract not less than 6 cents nor more than 7 cents."

11. Add a paragraph (e) to § 924.70 as follows:

(e) A producer who does not forfeit his base pursuant to § 924.71 (c) but who fails to deliver milk on at least 122 days of the August 1 through December 31 period shall have his base for the 12 months beginning the following February 1 computed by dividing the total pounds shipped during the period by 122.

12. Amend § 924.71 (b) (2) to read as follows:

(2) Bases may be held jointly and if such joint holding is terminated the base may be transferred as specified in writing to the market administrator.

13. Add a subparagraph (3) to § 924.71 (b) as follows:

(3) Two or more producers with bases may combine those bases upon the formation of a bona fide partnership.

14. Amend § 924.71 (c) to read as follows:

(c) A producer who does not deliver milk to any handler for 45 consecutive days shall forfeit his base except that a producer who suffers the complete loss of his barn as a result of fire or windstorm may retain his base without loss for six months.

15. In § 924.72 insert after the phrase "first day of the month" the phrase "specified but not earlier than the first day of the month".

16. Delete the period at the end of § 924.10, and add the following: "and shall include the skim milk equivalent of concentrated products classified as Class I pursuant to § 924.41 (a)."

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 25th day of February 1954, to be effective on and after the 1st day of March 1954.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture.

[Orange Reg. 252]

PART 933—ORANGES, GRAPEFRUIT, AND TANGERINES GROWN IN FLORIDA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 933.670 Orange Regulation 252—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 33, as amended (7 CFR Part 933), regulating the handling of oranges, grapefruit, and tangerines grown in the State of Florida, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, and upon the basis of the recommendations of the committees established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of all oranges, except Temple oranges, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions of this section effective not later than March 1, 1954. 2. The notice and public procedure described in sections 4 (a) and 4 (b) of the Administrative Procedure Act and the prior publication described in section 4 (c) of such act are impracticable, unnecessary and contrary to the public interest in connection with this action for the reasons and good cause found as stated in § 262.2 (e) of the Board's Rules of Procedure, and especially because such notice, procedure and prior publication would serve no useful purpose.

309.14 Reservation as to terms of this part.

AUTHORITY: §§ 309.1 to 309.14 issued under R. S. 161, sec. 5, 40 Stat. 290, as amended, sec. 8 (a)-(d), 50 Stat. 481, as amended; 5 U. S. C. 22, 31 U. S. C. 738a, 754.

§ 309.1 Authority for issue and sale. The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized by the Second Liberty Bond Act, as amended, to issue Treasury bills of the United States on an interest-bearing basis, on a discount basis, or on a combination interest-bearing and discount basis, at such price or prices and with interest computed in such manner and payable at such time or times as he may prescribe; and to fix the form, terms, and conditions thereof, and to offer them for sale on a competitive or other basis, under such regulations and upon such terms and conditions as he may prescribe. Pursuant to said authorization, the Secretary of the Treasury may, from time to time, by public notice, offer Treasury bills for sale, and invite tenders therefor, through the Federal Reserve Banks. The Treasury bills so offered, and the tenders made, will be subject to the terms and conditions and to the general rules and regulations set forth in this part, except as they may be modified in the public notices issued by the Secretary of the Treasury in connection with particular offerings.[1]

§ 309.2 Description of Treasury bills (General). Treasury bills are bearer obligations of the United States promising to pay a specified amount on a specified date. They will be payable at maturity upon presentation to the Treasurer of the United States, in Washington, or to any Federal Reserve Bank. Treasury bills are issued only by Federal Reserve Banks pursuant to tenders accepted by the Secretary of the Treasury, and shall not be valid unless the issue date and the maturity date are entered thereon. Treasury bills bearing the same issue date and the same maturity date shall constitute a series.

§ 309.3 Denominations and exchange. Treasury bills will be issued in denominations (maturity value) of $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $100,000, $500,000 and $1,000,000. Exchanges from higher to lower denominations of the same series (bearing the same issue and maturity dates) will be permitted at Federal Reserve Banks. Insofar as applicable, the general regulations of the Treasury Department governing transactions in bonds and notes will govern transactions in Treasury bills.

[1] Accordingly, the regulations in this part do not constitute a specific offering of Treasury bills.

§ 309.4 Taxation. The income derived from Treasury bills, whether interest or gain from the sale or other disposition of the bills, shall not have any exemption, as such, and loss from the sale or other disposition of Treasury bills shall not have any special treatment, as such, under the Internal Revenue Code, or laws amendatory or supplementary thereto. The bills shall be subject to estate, inheritance, gift or other excise taxes, whether Federal or State, but shall be exempt from all taxation now or hereafter imposed on the principal or interest thereof by any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority. For purposes of taxation the amount of discount at which Treasury bills are originally sold by the United States shall be considered to be interest.

§ 309.5 Acceptance as security for public deposits and in payment of taxes (when specifically provided for by the Secretary of the Treasury). Treasury bills will be acceptable at maturity value to secure deposits of public moneys; they will not bear the circulation privilege. The Secretary of the Treasury, in his discretion, when inviting tenders for Treasury bills, may provide that Treasury bills of any series will be acceptable at maturity value, whether at or before maturity, under such rules and regulations as he shall prescribe or approve, in payment of income and profits taxes payable under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code. Any Treasury bills which by the terms of their issue may be accepted in payment of income and profits taxes may be surrendered to any Federal Reserve Bank or Branch, acting as fiscal agent of the United States, fifteen days or less before the date on which the taxes become due. The Federal Reserve Bank or Branch will issue receipts to the owners showing the face amount of the bills so surrendered. These receipts may be submitted in lieu of the bills on or before the specified tax payment dates to the District Director of Internal Revenue, with the owners' tax returns. Notes secured by Treasury bills are eligible for discount or rediscount at Federal Reserve Banks by member banks, as are notes secured by bonds and notes of the United States, under the provisions of section 13 of the Federal Reserve Act. They will be acceptable at maturity, but not before, in payment of interest or of principal on account of obligations of foreign governments held by the United States.

§ 309.6 Public notice of offering. When Treasury bills are to be offered, tenders therefor will be invited through public notice given by the Secretary of the Treasury. Such public notices may be issued by the Secretary of the Treasury in the name of "the Treasury Department" with the same force and effect as if issued in the name of the Secretary of the Treasury. In such notice there will be set forth the amount of Treasury bills for which tenders are then invited, the date of issue, the date or dates when such bills will become due and payable, the date and closing hour for the receipt of tenders at the Federal Reserve Banks and Branches, and the date on which payment for accepted tenders must be made or completed.

§ 309.7 Tenders; submission through Federal Reserve Banks. Tenders in response to any such public notice will be received only at the Federal Reserve Banks, or Branches thereof, and unless received before the time fixed for closing will be disregarded. Tenders will not be received at the Treasury Department. Each tender must be for an amount in an even multiple of $1,000 (maturity value). In the case of competitive tenders the price or prices offered by the bidder for the amount or amounts (at maturity value) applied for must be stated, and must be expressed on the basis of 100, with not more than three decimals, e. g., 99.925. Fractions may not be used.

§ 309.8 Tenders; when cash deposit required. Tenders should be submitted on the printed forms and forwarded in the special envelopes which will be supplied on application to any Federal Reserve Bank, or Branch. If a special envelope is not available, the inscription "Tender for Treasury Bills" should be placed on the envelope used. The instructions of the Federal Reserve Banks with respect to the submission of tenders should be observed. Others than banking institutions will not be permitted to submit tenders except for their own account. Tenders from incorporated banks and trust companies, and from responsible and recognized dealers in investment securities will be received without deposit. Tenders from all others must be accompanied by a payment of such percent of the face amount of the Treasury bills applied for as the Secretary of the Treasury may from time to time prescribe: Provided, however, That such deposit will not be required if the tender is accompanied by an express guaranty of payment in full by an incorporated bank or trust company. Forfeiture of the prescribed payment may be declared by the Secretary of the Treasury, if payment is not completed, in the case of accepted tenders, on the prescribed date.

§ 309.9 Tenders; acceptance by the Secretary of the Treasury. At the time fixed for closing, as specified in the public notice, all tenders received by the Federal Reserve Banks, or Branches, will be opened. The Secretary of the Treasury will determine the acceptable prices offered and will make public announcement thereof. Those submitting tenders will be advised by the Federal Reserve Banks of the acceptance or rejection thereof, and payment on accepted tenders must be made or completed on the date specified in the public notice.

§ 309.10 Tenders; reservation of right to reject. In considering the acceptance of tenders, the highest prices offered will be accepted in full down to the amount required, and if the same price appears in two or more tenders and it is necessary to accept only a part of the amount offered at such price, the amount accepted at such price will be prorated in accordance with the respective amounts applied for. However, the Secretary of the Treasury expressly reserves the right on any occasion to accept non-competitive tenders entered in accordance with specific offerings, to reject any or all tenders or parts of tenders, and to award less than the amount applied for; and any action he may take in any such respect or respects shall be final.

§ 309.11 Tenders; payment of accepted tenders. Settlement for accepted tenders in accordance with the bids must be made or completed at the appropriate Federal Reserve Bank in cash or other immediately available funds on or before the date specified, except that the Secretary of the Treasury, in his discretion, when inviting tenders for Treasury bills, may provide: (a) That any qualified depositary may make such settlement by credit, on behalf of itself and its customers, up to any amount for which it shall be qualified in excess of existing deposits, when so notified by the Federal Reserve Bank of its District or (b) that such settlement may be made in maturing Treasury bills accepted in exchange. Whenever the Secretary provides for settlement in maturing Treasury bills, cash adjustments will be made for differences between the par value of the maturing bills and the issue price of the new bills.

§ 309.12 Relief on account of loss, theft or destruction, etc. (a) Relief on account of the loss, theft, destruction, mutilation or defacement of Treasury bills may be given only under the authority of, and subject to the conditions set forth in section 8 of the act of July 8, 1937 (50 Stat. 481), as amended (31 U. S. C. 738a) and the regulations pursuant thereto in Part 306 of this subchapter (Treasury Department Circular No. 300) insofar as applicable.

(b) In case of the loss, theft, destruction, mutilation or defacement of Treasury bills, immediate advice, with a full description of the bill or bills involved, should be sent to the Division of Loans and Currency, Treasury Department, Washington 25, D. C., either direct or through any Federal Reserve Bank, and, if relief under the statutes may be given, instructions and necessary blank forms will be furnished.

§ 309.13 Functions of Federal Reserve Banks. Federal Reserve Banks, as fiscal agents of the United States, are authorized to perform all such acts as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this part and of any public notice or notices issued in connection with any offering of Treasury bills.

§ 309.14 Reservation as to terms of this part. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right further to amend, supplement, revise or withdraw all or any of the provisions of this part at any time, or from time to time.

Compliance with the notice, public procedure, and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (Pub. Law 404, 79th Cong.; 60 Stat. 237) is found to be unnecessary with respect to this document. It merely incorporates into the regulations proper the text of published amendments thereto and does not involve any further substantial change in such regulations.

PART 315—UNITED STATES SAVINGS BONDS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

FEBRUARY 23, 1954.

Sections 315.3, 315.4 (a), 315.8 (a), 315.10, 315.32 (d), and 315.50 (a) of Department Circular No. 530, Seventh Revision, dated May 21, 1952 (31 CFR, 1952 Supp., Part 315), as amended, are hereby amended, effective as of January 1, 1954, to read as follows:

§ 315.3 Restrictions. Only residents (whether individuals or others) of the United States (which for the purposes of this section shall include the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the territories, insular possessions and the Canal Zone), citizens of the United States temporarily residing abroad and nonresident aliens employed in the United States by the Federal Government or an agency thereof may be named as owners, coowners or designated beneficiaries of savings bonds, whether on original issue or authorized reissue, except that such persons may name as coowners or beneficiaries of their bonds citizens of the United States permanently residing abroad or nonresident aliens who are not residents of areas with respect to which the Treasury Department has restricted or regulated the delivery of checks drawn against funds of the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof.[1] Citizens of the United States permanently residing abroad and nonresident aliens who become entitled to bonds under the regulations in this part, by right of survivorship or otherwise, will not have the right to reissue but will have the right (a) to retain the bonds without change of registration, (b) to receive interest on current income bonds, and (c) to redeem any bonds in accordance with their terms.[2]

§ 315.4 Authorized forms of registration, Series E and H, and general provisions relating to their use—(a) Forms of registration. Except as provided in subparagraphs (4) and (5) of this paragraph, bonds of Series E and H may be registered only in the names of individuals (natural persons), whether adults or minors, in their own right in one of the following forms:

(1) One person. In the name of one person, for example:

John A. Jones.

(2) Two persons; coownership form. In the names of two (but not more than two) persons in the alternative as coowners, for example:

John A. Jones or Mrs. Ella S. Jones.

No other form of registration establishing coownership is authorized.

(3) Two persons; beneficiary form. In the name of one (but not more than one) person, payable on death to one (but not more than one) other person, for example:

John A. Jones, payable on death to Miss Mary E. Jones.

"Payable on death to" may be abbreviated "p. o. d." The first person named is hereinafter referred to as the owner or registered owner, and the second person named as the beneficiary or designated beneficiary.

(4) Treasurer of the United States as coowner or beneficiary. In the name of the owner with the Treasurer of the United States as coowner or as beneficiary. A bond so registered may not be reissued to eliminate or change the coowner or the beneficiary, and upon the death of the owner will become the property of the United States.

(5) Trustees of an employees' savings plan. In the name and title of the trustee or trustees of an employees' savings plan or any similar trust for the accumulation of employees' savings (see § 316.6a of this subchapter), substantially in accordance with the provisions of § 315.5 (b).

§ 315.8 Amount which may be held. The limits on the amounts of savings bonds of Series E, F, G, H, J and K issued during any one calendar year that may be held by any one person at any one time follow:

(a) Series E. For individuals in their own right, $5,000 (maturity value) each year up to and including the year 1947, $10,000 (maturity value) for each year from 1948 to 1951, inclusive, and $20,000 (maturity value) for the year 1952 and each year thereafter; for trustees of an employees' savings plan (see § 315.4 (a) (5)), $2,000 (maturity value) multiplied by the highest number of employees participating in the plan at any time during the calendar year in which the bonds are issued.

* * * * *

§ 315.10 Disposition of excess. If any person at any time acquires savings bonds issued during any one calendar year in excess of the prescribed amount, the excess must be surrendered for refund of the purchase price, less (in the case of current income bonds) any interest which may have been paid thereon, or for such adjustment as may be possible, except that for good cause found the Secretary of the Treasury may permit excess holdings to stand in any particular case or class of cases.

§ 315.32 General reissue provisions. Reissue of a savings bond will be restricted to a form of registration permitted by the regulations in effect on the date of original issue of the bond and will be made only upon surrender of the bond and only in accordance with the provisions of those regulations. Reissue of a savings bond is authorized only as follows: * * *

(d) As otherwise specifically provided in the regulations in this part; except that in any case (1) a request for reissue received after the maturity date of a bond will not be recognized or given any effect whatever, and (2) actual reissue will not be made if the request therefor is received less than one full calendar month before the maturity date of a bond, but a request for reissue so received will otherwise be treated as effective. The term "maturity date" as used in this part, as applied to bonds of Series E, means the date on which the authorized extension period expires.[3]

§ 315.50 Reissue or payment to person entitled—(a) Distribution of trust estate in kind. A savings bond to which a beneficiary of a trust estate has become lawfully entitled in his own right or in a fiduciary capacity, in whole or in part, under the terms of the trust instrument, will be reissued in his name to the extent of his interest as a distribution in kind upon the request of the trustee or trustees and their certification that such person is entitled and has agreed to reissue in his name. The trustee or trustees of an employees' savings plan, when requesting reissue in the name of a distributee, may request reissue in beneficiary or coownership form, in accordance with instructions received from the distributee, and will be recognized as his representative for that purpose.

(Sec. 22, 49 Stat. 41, as amended; 31 U. S. C. 757c)

Compliance with the notice, public procedure, and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (Pub. Law 404, 79th Cong.; 60 Stat. 237) is found to be impracticable and unnecessary with respect to this amendment. It does not abridge or curtail rights acquired under the regulations heretofore in force; but is issued primarily to conform the regulations to an amendment to the circular offering savings bonds of Series E for sale, which extends the sale of such bonds to trustees of employees' savings plans under a special limitation on holdings.

Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

PART 316—OFFERING OF UNITED STATES SAVINGS BONDS, SERIES E

FEBRUARY 23, 1954.

Department Circular No. 653, Third Revision (31 CFR, 1952 Supp., Part 316), is amended, effective as of January 1, 1954, to revise §§ 316.6, 316.7, 316.10 (a) and 316.18 and to add § 316.6a to read as follows:

[1] See Department Circular No. 655, as amended (Part 211 of this chapter).

[2] Payment of bonds to nationals of blocked countries will in all cases be subject to the terms of any law, executive order or regulations issued pursuant to such law or order.

[3] Owners have the option of retaining bonds of Series E for a further period of not more than 10 years after maturity and earning interest upon the maturity values thereof.

§ 316.6 Registration—(a) Authorized forms. Bonds of Series E may be registered only in the names of natural persons (that is, individuals), whether adults or minors, in their own right, as follows: (1) In the name of one person; (2) in the names of two (but not more than two) persons as coowners; and (3) in the name of one person payable on death to one (but not more than one) other designated person, except that the Treasurer of the United States may be designated as coowner or beneficiary, and except further that such bonds may be registered in the name and title of the trustee or trustees of an employees' savings plan as provided in § 316.6a. Sections 316.2 and 316.9 of this part are hereby amended to authorize the issuance of Series E bonds in the denomination of $100,000 (maturity value) at the issue price of $75,000. Full information regarding authorized forms of registration and rights thereunder will be found in the regulations currently in force governing United States Savings Bonds.

(b) Restrictions. Only residents of the United States (which for the purposes of this section shall include the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the territories, insular possession and the Canal Zone), citizens of the United States temporarily residing abroad, and nonresident aliens employed in the United States by the Federal Government or an agency thereof may be named as owners, coowners or designated beneficiaries of bonds of Series E issued pursuant to this circular, or of authorized reissues thereof, except that such persons may name as coowners or beneficiaries of their bonds American citizens permanently residing abroad or nonresident aliens who are not residents of areas with respect to which the Treasury Department has restricted or regulated the delivery of checks drawn against funds of the United States, or any agency or instrumentality thereof.[1] American citizens permanently residing abroad and nonresident aliens who become entitled to bonds under the regulations governing United States Savings Bonds,[2] by right of survivorship or otherwise, will not have the right to reissue but may hold the bonds without change of registration with the right to redeem them at any time in accordance with their terms.

§ 316.6a Registration in name and title of the trustee or trustees of an employees' savings plan—(a) Definition of plan and conditions of eligibility. Bonds of Series E may be registered in the name and title of the trustee or trustees of an employees' savings plan or any similar trust for the accumulation of employees' savings established by the employer for the exclusive and irrevocable benefit of his employees or their beneficiaries which affords employees the means of making regular savings from their wages through payroll deductions, provides for employer contributions to be added to such savings, and provides in effect that:

(1) The entire assets thereof must be credited to the individual accounts of participating employees and assets credited to the account of an employee may be distributed only to him or his beneficiary, except as otherwise provided herein.

(2) Bonds of Series E may be purchased only with assets credited to the accounts of participating employees and only if the amount taken from any account at any time for that purpose is equal to the purchase price of a bond or bonds in an authorized denomination or denominations, and shares therein are credited to the accounts of the individuals from which the purchase price thereof was derived, in amounts corresponding with their shares. For example, if $37.50 credited to the account of John Jones is commingled with funds credited to the accounts of other employees to make a total of $7,500, with which a bond of Series E in the denomination of $10,000 (maturity value) is purchased in June 1954 and registered in the name and title of the trustee or trustees, the plan must provide, in effect, that John Jones' account shall be credited to show that he is the owner of a bond of Series E in the denomination of $50 (maturity value) bearing issue date of June 1, 1954.

(3) Each participating employee shall have an irrevocable right at any time to demand and receive from the trustee or trustees all assets credited to his account, or the value thereof, if he so prefers, without regard to any condition other than the loss or suspension of the privilege of participating further in the plan, except that a plan will not be deemed to be inconsistent herewith, if it limits or modifies the exercise of any such right by providing that the employer's contribution does not vest absolutely until the employee shall have made contributions under the plan in each of not more than sixty calendar months succeeding the month for which the employer's contribution is made: Provided, however, That in any such exceptional case the employee shall have the right to demand and receive cash in an amount equal to the redemption value of all bonds of Series E credited to his account (see subparagraph (2) of this paragraph) less the amount of the employer's unvested contribution to the purchase price thereof.

(4) Upon the death of an employee, his beneficiary shall have the absolute and unconditional right to demand and receive from the trustee or trustees all assets credited to the account of the employee, or the value thereof, if he so prefers.

(5) When settlement is made with an employee or his beneficiary with respect to any bond of Series E registered in the name and title of the trustee or trustees in which the employee has a share (see subparagraph (2) of this paragraph), the bond must be submitted for redemption or reissue to the extent of such share; if an employee, or his beneficiary, elects to receive distribution in kind, bonds bearing the same issue dates as those credited to the employee's account will be reissued in the name of the distributee, to the extent to which he is entitled, in authorized denominations, in any authorized form of registration, upon the request and certification of the trustee or trustees in accordance with the provisions of the regulations governing United States Savings Bonds.[3]

(b) Definitions of terms used in this section and related provisions. (1) The term "savings plan" includes any regulations issued under the plan with regard to bonds of Series E; a copy of the plan and any such regulations, together with a copy of the trust agreement certified by a trustee to be true copies, must be submitted to the Federal Reserve Bank of the District in order to establish the eligibility of the trustee or trustees to purchase such bonds under this section.

(2) The term "assets" means all funds, including the employees' contributions and the employer's contributions and assets purchased therewith as well as accretions thereto, such as dividends on stock, the increment in value on bonds and all other income; but, notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the right to demand and receive "all assets' credited to the account of an employee shall not be construed to require the distribution of assets in kind when it would not be possible or practicable to make such distribution; for example, bonds of Series E may not be reissued in unauthorized denominations, and fractional shares of stock are not readily distributable in kind.

(3) The term "beneficiary" means the person or persons, if any, designated by the employee in accordance with the terms of the plan to receive the benefits of the trust upon his death or the estate of the employee, and the term "distributee" means the employee or his beneficiary.

§ 316.7 Limitations on holdings—(a) General limitation. The amount of bonds of Series E originally issued during the calendar year 1952 (and each calendar year thereafter) that may be held by any one person at any one time is $20,000 (maturity value), except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Special limitation applicable to trustees of employees' savings plans. The amount of bonds of Series E originally issued during each calendar year that may be held by the trustee or trustees of an employees' savings plan (as described in § 316.6a) is $2,000 (maturity value) multiplied by the highest number of employees participating in such plan at any time during the year in which the bonds are issued.

(c) Regulations. For full information concerning the limitations on and methods of computing holdings, see the regulations currently in force governing United States Savings Bonds.

§ 316.10 Purchase of bonds. * * *

(a) Over-the-counter for cash. (1) For individuals (natural persons) only (i) at such incorporated banks, trust companies and other agencies as have been duly qualified as issuing agents, and

[1] See Department Circular No. 655, as revision (Part 315 of this chapter).

[2] See Department Circular No. 530, current amended (Part 211 of this chapter).

[3] See Department Circular No. 530, current revision, § 315.50 (a) of this subchapter.

(ii) at selected United States post offices; and (2) for individuals (natural persons) or trustees of employees' savings plans (see § 316.6a) at Federal Reserve Banks and Branches and at the Treasury Department, Washington 25, D. C.

* * * * *

§ 316.18 Payment or redemption (in general). A bond of Series E may be redeemed at the option of the owner at any time after two months from the issue date at the appropriate redemption value as shown in the tables of redemption values in § 316.21, Table A for bonds (other than the $100,000 denomination) dated on and after May 1, 1952, Table B for those dated May 1, 1941, through April 1, 1942, and Table C for those dated May 1, 1942, through April 1, 1952. The redemption values of bonds in the denomination of $100,000 (maturity value) dated on and after January 1, 1954, will be equal to the total redemption values of ten $10,000 bonds bearing the same issue dates (see Table A).* A bond of Series E in a denomination higher than $25 (maturity value) may be redeemed in part but only in the amount of an authorized denomination or multiple thereof. Payment of a bond of Series E will be made upon presentation and surrender of the bond by the owner to authorized paying agencies as follows:

(a) Federal Reserve Banks and Branches and Treasurer of the United States. Owners of bonds of Series E may obtain payment upon presentation of the bonds to a Federal Reserve Bank or Branch or to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington 25, D. C., with the requests for payment on the bonds duly executed and certified in accordance with the provisions of the regulations governing savings bonds.

(b) Incorporated banks, trust companies and other financial institutions. An individual (natural person) whose name is inscribed on the face of a bond of Series E either as owner or coowner in his own right may also present such bond (unless marked "Duplicate") to any incorporated bank or trust company or other financial institution which is qualified as a paying agent under the provisions of Part 321 of this chapter, (Department Circular No. 750) or any revision of or amendment thereto. If such bond is in order for payment by the paying agent, the owner or coowner, upon establishing his identity to the satisfaction of the paying agent and upon signing the request for payment and adding his home or business address, may receive immediate payment of the current redemption value.

(Sec. 22, 49 Stat. 41, as amended; 31 U. S. C. 757c)

Compliance with the notice, public procedure, and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (Pub. Law 404, 79th Cong.; 60 Stat. 237) is found to be impracticable and unnecessary with respect to this amendment, which involves, primarily, a matter of fiscal policy. It extends the sale of savings bonds of Series E to trustees of employees' savings plans under a special limitation on holdings.

[SEAL] A. N. OVERBY,
Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

[F. R. Doc. 54-1419; Filed, Feb. 26, 1954; 8:50 a. m.]

* Bonds of Series E in the denomination of $100,000 (maturity value) are available for purchase only by trustees of employees' savings plans.

Chapter I—Office of Defense Mobilization

[Defense Mobilization Order I-9]

1. The Secretary of Agriculture will be responsible for the development and administration of preparedness measures relating to food and the domestic distribution of farm equipment and commercial fertilizer. Such preparedness measures should be undertaken within a work program which is consistent with the defense mobilization assumptions and objectives for the Government as a whole. It should also take account of the delegation of authority and responsibility from Federal Civil Defense Administration. To assure consistency with the mobilization program as a whole, the proposed work program will be submitted to the Director of the Office of Defense Mobilization for review.

2. The measures for which the Secretary of Agriculture is responsible are as follows:

a. Periodic evaluation of the estimated requirements (including military, export and civilian) and supplies of food (including probable imports), as defined by Executive Order 10480, together with related non-food materials and facilities for the current period and for full mobilization, so as to permit the best use of resources and the identification of any deficiencies in the mobilization base;

b. Current activities relating to the expansion of productive capacity and supply; recommendations for the establishment or modification of expansion goals and the programs needed to meet those goals in order to overcome deficiencies in the mobilization base; screening and making recommendations on requests for rapid tax amortization and for loans and procurement contracts under the Defense Production Act and maintaining the records required to measure progress in achieving expansion goals.

c. Cooperation with other departments and agencies in correcting apparent deficiencies in food processing or distribution capacity or the capacity of supporting industries such as fertilizer, farm machinery, chemicals and containers; consideration of mobilization requirements in planning and carrying out regular programs of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

d. Development of stand-by controls relating to food allocation and distribution, and the domestic distribution of farm equipment and commercial fertilizer designed to insure rapid and orderly conversion to meet needs arising from full mobilization, or full mobilization with atomic attack; cooperation with the Office of Defense Mobilization and other appropriate agencies in planning other distribution controls applicable to food requisites.

e. Cooperation with the Office of Defense Mobilization in developing stabilization measures for food which would be suitable in the event of full mobilization, or full mobilization with atomic attack.

f. Cooperation with the Department of Labor and other agencies to insure the availability of manpower needed to carry out the food program currently and in full mobilization, including full mobilization with atomic attack.

g. Assistance to the Office of Defense Mobilization in formulating plans for the stockpiling of critical and strategic materials, and to the extent necessary, in the acquisition of such materials and the expansion of domestic sources of supply.

h. Guidance and leadership in the development of plans and programs to insure continuity of operation of vital food facilities in event of attack.

[Docket No. AO 72-A-19]

HANDLING OF MILK IN THE TOLEDO, OHIO, MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT, AND TO ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held at the Hillcrest Hotel, Madison and 16th Streets, Toledo, Ohio, beginning at 10:00 a. m., e. s. t., March 15, 1954, for the purpose of receiving evidence with respect to emergency and other economic conditions which relate to the proposed amendments hereinafter set forth or appropriate modification thereof, to the tentative marketing agreement as heretofore approved by the Secretary of Agriculture and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Toledo, Ohio, marketing area (7 CFR 930.0 et seq.). The amendments proposed have not received the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture.

Amendments to the order, as amended, for the Toledo, Ohio, marketing area have been proposed as follows:

By The Page Dairy Company:

1. It is proposed to amend § 930.5 of Federal Milk Marketing Order No. 30 to read as follows:

"Toledo, Ohio, Marketing Area," called the "Marketing Area" in this subpart means the territory within the corporate limits of the cities of Toledo, Ohio, Monroe and Adrian, Michigan, and the towns and villages of Ottawa Hills, Maumee, Sylvania, Harbor View and Trilby in Lucas County, Ohio, the village of Rossford in Wood County, Ohio, the towns of Hillsdale in Hillsdale County, Michigan, and Tecumseh in Lenawee County, Michigan, and the territory within the boundaries of the townships of Monclova, Springfield, Adams, Sylvania, Washington, Jerusalem and Oregon in Lucas County, Ohio and Perrysburg, Ross and Lake in Wood County, Ohio and all the townships lying within the boundaries of Hillsdale, Lenawee and Monroe Counties in Michigan with the exception of the townships of Exeter, Ash and Berlin in Monroe County, Michigan.

By The Northwestern Cooperative Sales Association, Inc.:

2. In § 930.5 extend the present marketing area to include "the municipalities of Pemberville in Wood county, and Gibsonburg and Woodville in Sandusky county, and Elmore in Ottawa county; the counties of Monroe (all territory not included in the present marketing area of order No. 30 or order No. 24) and Lenawee in the State of Michigan and all municipalities within the boundaries of those counties.

By The Toledo Market Milk Handlers:

(Proposals submitted under the foregoing proponent are presented for The Babcock Dairy Co., The Kroger Company, The Cherry Grove Dairy Co., The Degner Dairy, The Driggs Dairy Farms, Inc., The Riverside Dairy, The Ohio Cloverleaf Dairy Co., Trilby Farm Dairy and Village Farm Dairy and (excepting proposal No. 3) The Page Dairy Company.)

3. Amend § 930.5 in such a manner as to enlarge the Marketing Area to include all of Lucas County, Fulton County and Wood County in the State of Ohio, and to include the townships of Allen and Clay in Ottawa County, Ohio, and the townships of Madison and Woodville in Sandusky County, Ohio.

4. Amend § 930.6 by re-writing the section to read:

§ 930.6 Fluid milk plant. "Fluid milk plant" means a plant or other facility used in the preparation or processing of milk for sale or disposition in the Marketing Area as Class I milk, all or a portion of which is so sold or disposed of on the premises or from such plant or facilities to a wholesale or retail stop(s) or to a handler:

(a) Except where such sale or disposition is to the plant of a handler who receives more than 50 percent of his Class I needs in the month involved from producers, or

(b) Except where such sale or disposition is to a non-handler.

Note of explanation. It is the purpose of this proposal to include any plant as a fluid milk plant and hence make such plant a handler if its milk is to be sold or disposed of in the Marketing Area by another handler who receives less than 60 percent of his Class I needs from producers in the month involved.

5. Amend § 930.11 Other source milk to read:

§ 930.11 Other source milk. "Other source milk" means all skim milk and butterfat in any form received from a source other than a producer or handler (who is not a producer-handler), except any non-fluid milk product so received which is disposed of in the same form: Provided, however, That no milk shall be classified as "other source milk" by any handler who receives during the month involved less than 50 percent of his Class I needs from producers. In this event, the milk shall be classified as producer milk and the supplier thereof shall be classified as a handler for the month involved, and both the milk and the handlers thereof shall be subject to the provisions of Order No. 30 as amended.

By the Northwestern Cooperative Sales Association, Inc.

6. Provide additional terms in the order for equalization of the cost of milk in Class I among handlers. In the case of receipts of other source milk by a handler which results in more than 10 percent being classified in Class I, provide for a payment to producers of such handler of the difference between Class II and Class I price on the volume of other source milk received. In any case wherein a handler receives more than 50 percent of his supply from other sources, provide that the supplying plant of such a handler shall in turn become a handler under the order. Continue this process until all milk received and sold in the marketing area is priced under the classified pricing provisions of the order.

By The Toledo Market Milk Handlers:

7. Amend the order by adding to the definitions a new section which will define "Out-of-Area Sales" as being any sales of a handler made outside of the marketing area.

8. a. Amend § 930.41 (a) by eliminating skim milk and butterfat disposed of as sweet or sour cream and any cream product in fluid form which contains less than the minimum butterfat required for fluid cream and eggnog from Class I, and establishing the following:

(b) Class II milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat disposed of as sweet or sour cream; any cream product in fluid form which contains less than the minimum butterfat required for fluid cream; or eggnog;

b. Amend the section further by redesignating what presently appears in Order No. 30 as Class II as Class III; and

c. Amend the section still further by establishing a sub-classification for the disposal of distress milk.

By The Toledo Market Milk Handlers and The Northwestern Cooperative Sales Association, Inc.:

9. Amend § 930.42 (b) and (c) as follows:

a. Delete from paragraph (b) the following language:

(b) * * * located less than 100 miles from the City Hall at Toledo, Ohio, by the shortest highway distance as determined by the market administrator * * *.

This language appears after the word "plant" and before the word "administrator". The paragraph should then read as follows:

(b) Skim milk and butterfat disposed of in the form of milk, skim milk, or cream by a handler to a non-handler's plant shall be Class I milk, unless (1) utilization in Class II is mutually indicated in writing to the market administrator by both the handler and nonhandler on or before the 5th day after the end of the month within which such transfer was made, and (2) the nonhandler maintains books and records showing the utilization of all skim milk and butterfat at his plant which are made available if requested by the market administrator for the verification of such mutually indicated utilization, and

b. Delete paragraph (c) entirely.

By the Northwestern Cooperative Sales Association, Inc.:

10. In the supply-demand pricing provisions of § 930.50 (a) recompute the standard utilization percentage using the figures which have been obtained since the original base period. Reduce the supply-demand adjustment to a limit of 25 cents per hundredweight. Consider the insertion of contra-seasonal factors in the adjustment.

11. Suspend all supply-demand pricing provisions until results of this hearing are made effective.

By The Toledo Market Milk Handlers:

12. a. Amend § 930.50 (a) (1) by adding to the basic formula price the following amount for the delivery periods indicated:

Delivery period:	Amount
April, May and June	$0.75
January, February, March, and July	.90
All others	1.10

The above amounts should be 40 cents per hundredweight less for all milk sold or disposed of by a handler to wholesale or retail stop(s) outside of the marketing area;

b. Establish a Class II price 30 cents per hundredweight below the applicable Class I prices; and

c. Amend the section further by fixing the price for distress milk at 50 cents per hundredweight below the Class III price.

13. Amend § 930.51 by eliminating paragraph (b) entirely and redesignating what is presently designated paragraph (c) (1) and (2) as (b) (1) and (2).

14. Amend § 930.52 by deleting paragraphs (a) and (b) and substituting therefor the following:

(a) Class I milk. Multiply by 1.3 the average daily wholesale price per pound of 92-score butter in the Chicago market, as reported by the Department of Agriculture during the month, and divide the result by 10;

(b) Class II milk. Multiply by 1.25 the average daily wholesale price per pound of 92-score butter in the Chicago market, as reported by the Department of Agriculture during the month, and divide the result by 10, and

(c) Class III milk. Multiply by 1.2 the average daily wholesale price per pound of 92-score butter in the Chicago market, as reported by the Department of Agriculture during the month, and divide the result by 10.

By The Northwestern Cooperative Sales Association, Inc.:

15. Consider any other changes in the pricing provisions of the order for the purpose of fixing minimum prices at a level which will reflect the economic and emergency conditions existing in the market.

16. In § 930.75 (a) delete the last four words of the paragraph as follows "authorizing the claimed deduction".

By the Toledo Market Milk Handlers:

17. Amend § 930.80 in such a manner as to require handlers selling or disposing of milk in the marketing area, who may be deemed by the Secretary to be subject to another Federal order, to pay a price to their producers from whom they buy milk at least equal to the prices established by Order No. 30, for such milk as is sold in the marketing area.

By The Northwestern Cooperative Sales Association, Inc.:

18. Make such other changes as are necessary to make the order conform with any amendments thereto that may result from the hearing.

Copies of this notice of hearing and of the order as now in effect may be obtained from the Market Administrator, Davis Building, 147 Michigan Street, Toledo 2, Ohio, or from the Hearing Clerk, Room 1353, South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., or may be there inspected.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 24th day of February 1954.

Deputy Administrator.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[47 CFR Part 12]

[Docket No. 10927]

AMATEUR RADIO SERVICE

FREQUENCIES AND TYPES OF EMISSION; MODULATION OF CARRIER WAVE

In the matter of petitions of the American Radio Relay League for amendment of Part 12, Amateur Radio Service; Docket No. 10927.

1. Notice is hereby given of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter.

2. The Commission has before it for consideration two petitions for rule making, filed by the American Radio Relay League. The petitions both relate to the same subject and, hence, are here considered together.

3. The first petition requests that the Commission amend § 12.111 of Part 12, Amateur Radio Service, which allocates frequencies for amateur operation and specifies the types of emission in each frequency band by subdividing the frequency band 3500–4000 kc so that 25 kilocycles in that band (3775 to 3800 kc) would be available only to amateur mobile stations for use with radiotelephony. The petitioner states that interest in amateur mobile operation is growing and that there has been a shift of interest from the other bands to the 3800–4000 kc band. Deteriorating propagation conditions in the 28 Mc band is cited as a reason for the shift of mobile operation to 3800–4000 kc. Petitioner also alleges that the limited antenna efficiency and the limited transmitter power imposed by mobile operation indicate the desirability of a mobile band separate from the interference from fixed stations using higher power and more efficient antennas.

4. The petition requests, further, that the Commission enlarge the frequency space in the band 14,000–14,350 kc available for use of radiotelephony by providing for use of A3 and narrow band frequency or phase modulation for radiotelephony in the frequency band 14,300–14,350 kc. Existing rules provide for such emissions only on the frequencies 14,200–14,300 kc. Petitioner states that of all amateur frequency bands, where radiotelephony is permitted, the voice segment of the 14 megacycle band is the most congested, indicating a need for increasing the voice space in that band. Petitioner also points out that since 1945 the Commission has increased the voice space available in comparable amateur frequency bands without making similar changes in the 14 megacycle band.

5. The petition also requests that the Commission provide additional space for voice emissions in the frequency band 28.0–29.7 Mc. The requested expansion would add 250 kc; that is, 28,250–28,500 kc to the 28,500–29,700 kc space presently available for telephony. Petitioner states that its investigation of amateur activity in this band in 1946 and again in 1952 showed a definite increase of interest in respect to use of voice emissions and that radiotelegraph activity in this band has decreased.

6. The second petition is addressed exclusively to the amateur frequency band 50.0–54.0 Mc. Petitioner asks that the Commission amend § 12.23 (e), which designates the frequencies available for Novice Class operators and specifies the emissions they may use in each frequency band, be amended by the addition of the frequency band 51.0–53.0 Mc, and that this band be available for novice use with both A1 and A3 emissions for a trial period of one year, in the interest of increasing the occupancy of this band.

7. The second petition also requests that § 12.111 of Part 12 be amended to permit use of Aψ emission in the amateur frequency band 51.0–54.0 Mc. It is stated that few amateurs now operate in this band, but, if permitted to use Aψ emission, many would be attracted thereto by the prospect of duplex telephone operation. With the migration of more amateurs to this band, there would be less congestion on the lower frequency amateur telephony bands.

8. Relative to the request that space be made available in the frequency band 3500–4000 kc for exclusive use of mobile amateur radio stations using telephony, the Commission has from time to time considered the feasibility of subdividing the amateur frequency bands for purposes of providing frequencies for the exclusive use of different amateur groups interested in certain phases of amateur radio. In considering a somewhat similar request from the Chicagoland Mobile Radio Club, Inc., the Commission (Docket No. 10237) held that the setting aside of portions of the amateur frequency bands for the exclusive use of special groups would not permit the fullest and most diversified use of all frequencies available for amateur radio operation. The information supplied in the League's petition concerning the growth of amateur interest in mobile operation does not seem to warrant reversal of that decision. Further, the petition would encourage the construction of mobile equipment in a portion of the amateur band which may not be available in time of war. All indications are that there will be a large demand for mobile stations in time of war as there is in normal times when disaster strikes. However, studies made at the time of establishment of the RACES indicated that, from the point of view of civil defense, the whole RACES band should be available to all types of amateur activities as the proportion of space required for each activity might well vary from locality to locality. For these reasons the Commission is not proposing the requested modification but is inviting comment as to the propriety of subdividing not only this but also other amateur bands and of subdividing the amateur bands for other purposes as well as for mobile radiotelephone.

9. Relative to the request that additional voice space be provided in the frequency bands 14,000–14,350 kc and 28.0–29.7 Mc, petitioner's statement concerning congestion in the voice portion of the 14,000–14,350 kc band is confirmed by Commission investigation of this matter. Aware of the fact that proportionately less voice space is provided in this band than in comparable amateur frequency bands, the Commission proposes to institute rule-making proceedings looking toward sub-allocation of that band as requested. While the occupancy conditions set forth by the petitioner as reasons for requesting additional space for telephony in the 28.0–29.7 Mc band have not existed in the recent past, the Commission recognizes that improved propagation conditions probably will, in the near future, bring about a recurrence of a heavy occupancy of this band, and, therefore, proposes rule-making proceedings looking toward the sub-allocation of that band as requested.

10. In considering the request that rule-making procedures be instituted for the purpose of providing, on a temporary or trial basis, additional frequency space in the band 50.0–54.0 Mc for use of novice operators with both A1 and A3 emissions, the Commission believes that, because of the adjacency of this band to television channels, serious problems of interference to television reception are likely to result from operations in the band. Because the novice, in general, cannot be expected to have the experience and technique to successfully cope with such problems, the Commission believes it to be unwise to permit novice operation in this band and, therefore, is not proposing rule changes which would provide for such use at this time.

11. Encouragement and improvement of the amateur radio service would seem to result from the use of A9 emission in the 50.0–54.0 Mc band, and rule-making procedures looking toward the provision for the use of such emission in this band are being undertaken at this time.

12. Authority for issuance of the amendments set forth below is vested in the Commission by virtue of sections 4 (i) and 303 (f) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

13. Any interested party may file with the Commission on or before May 17, 1954, a written statement or brief setting forth comment in favor or opposed to the proposed amendments. Comments or briefs in reply to the original comments or briefs may be filed within fifteen (15) days from the last day for filing the said original comments or briefs. The Commission will consider all such comments, briefs, and statements before taking final action. If any comments are received which appear to warrant the Commission in holding oral argument before final action is taken, notice of the time and place of such oral argument will be given interested parties.

14. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.764 of the Commission's rules, an original and four copies of all statements, briefs, or comments shall be furnished the Commission.

Adopted: February 17, 1954.

Released: February 23, 1954.

[SEAL] MARY JANE MORRIS,
Secretary.

1. Amend § 12.111 (d) to read as follows:

(d) 14,000 to 14,350 kc, using type A1 emission, 14,000 to 14,200 kc, using type F1 emission, and on frequencies 14,200 to 14,350 kc, type A3 emission or narrow band frequency or phase modulation for radiotelephony.

2. Amend § 12.111 (g) to read as follows:

EL PASO NATURAL GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

FEBRUARY 23, 1954.

Take notice that El Paso Natural Gas Company, Applicant, a Delaware corporation having its principal place of business at El Paso, Texas, on February 9, 1954, filed an application, (1) for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing the construction and operation of certain natural-gas pipeline facilities, and (2), for an order, pursuant to section 7 of the act, authorizing the abandonment of certain pipeline facilities, all as hereinafter described.

The application recites that: The project or facilities for which a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity is sought consist of the retirement of the pipeline and the re-arrangement and tieing-in of the facilities all as described below:

(1) Retire approximately 7.56 miles of 4½-inch O. D. pipeline presently providing service for the Trico Electric Cooperative at its existing Marana Power Plant in Pima County, Arizona. This pipeline, originally authorized in Docket No. G-1051 as amended, extends from a point on Applicant's existing 26-inch O. D. California transmission pipeline, at approximately mile post 519, said point being on the immediate suction side of Applicant's existing Tucson Compressor Station in Section 30, Township 12 South, Range 10 East, Pima County, Arizona, in a northeastwardly direction to a point of termination in Section 26, Township 11 South, Range 10 East, Pima County, Arizona.

(2) Remove and re-establish the present orifice meter station now located at the upstream side of the pipeline described in item (1) above, and relocate the meter station at the point of termination of the pipeline now proposed to be abandoned, said point of relocation being in Section 26, Township 11 South, Range 10 East, Pima County, Arizona.

(3) Make the necessary tie-in between the orifice metering station described under item (2) above, and Applicant's proposed 12¾-inch pipeline which will serve the Saguaro power plant, said tie-in being approximately 50 feet of 4½-inch O. D. pipe. The tie-in and relocated orifice meter station will be used to continue the existing natural gas service to the Trico Electric Cooperative.

The cost of the line to be retired including right-of-way, etc., is approximately $68,581 and the cost of the pipe alone which is to be salvaged is $26,250; cost of the freight on the salvaged pipe is $5,229 and the estimated cost of removal is $5,940. It is estimated that the cost of reconditioning the salvaged pipe will be $16,238 and the estimated cost of removing and relocating the existing meter stations is $350 and the estimated cost to tie-in the meter station at the new location is $400. The cost of Applicant's project will be financed out of funds on hand.

The Applicant requests that its application be heard under the shortened procedure pursuant to § 1.32 (b) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 15th day of March 1954. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

TRANSCONTINENTAL GAS PIPE LINE CORP.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

FEBRUARY 23, 1954.

Take notice that Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation (Applicant), a Delaware corporation, having its principal place of business in Houston, Texas, filed, on February 10, 1954, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing the construction and operation of the following natural gas facilities, as more fully described in the application:

Five loop lines totaling approximately 10.37 miles of 30-inch pipe and 46.68 miles of 36-inch pipe along Applicant's existing pipeline system in the States of Louisiana, Mississippi, and Alabama.

The estimated over-all cost of the proposed facilities is $6,533,000, which Applicant proposes to finance through a temporary bank loan, which will be refinanced as a part of its next major expansion program through the issuance of additional securities.

The facilities are proposed to be used to transport 10,000 Mcf of natural gas per day on a firm basis for Sun Oil Company from Starr County, Texas, to Applicant's Marcus Hook Meter and Regulator Station in Delaware County, Pennsylvania, and incidentally to increase Applicant's sustained delivery capacity for firm service to its utility customers by 10,000 Mcf per day.

Protests or petitions to intervene in the above matter may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25,

D. C., in accordance with the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 15th day of March 1954.

IROQUOIS GAS CORP.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

FEBRUARY 23, 1954.

Take notice that Iroquois Gas Corporation (Applicant), a New York corporation, having its principal place of business in Buffalo, New York, filed, on February 12, 1954, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing the construction and operation of facilities subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, consisting of 24.5 miles of 20-inch transmission pipeline from Applicant's Porterville Station near the Town of Elma, Erie County, New York, to its Vicksburg Station in the Town of Tonawanda, Erie County, New York.

Applicant proposes to construct and operate the facilities so as to give greater capacity, stability and flexibility to the Applicant's distribution system by providing a direct supply of natural gas at the Vicksburg Station for use both by Applicant and by its wholesale customer at that point, Republic Light, Heat and Power Company, Inc. Each company will have metering facilities and will own and operate separate mixing facilities at the Vicksburg Station to make 900 B. t. u. mixed gas for its retail customers. Applicant states that the 20-inch natural gas line to which this application relates is required to bring from the area south of Buffalo, where Iroquois' connections with its pipeline suppliers and its underground storage fields are located, the natural gas which at the Vicksburg Station will be mixed with coke oven gas by both Iroquois and Republic.

The estimated capital cost of the facilities is $1,540,000 and will be defrayed by funds realized from the issuance of common stock to the National Fuel Gas Company, the parent company of Applicant.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 15th day of March 1954.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter VII—Commodity Stabilization Service (Farm Marketing Quotas), Department of Agriculture

[Amdt. 2]

PART 722—COTTON

MARKETING QUOTA REGULATIONS RELATING TO APPORTIONMENT OF NATIONAL ACREAGE ALLOTMENT FOR 1954 CROP OF EXTRA LONG STAPLE COTTON TO STATES, COUNTIES AND FARMS

Basis and purpose. This amendment is made to give effect to the provisions of Public Law 290, 83d Congress, approved January 30, 1954, as it relates to extra long staple cotton. Section 1 of the said Public law adds a new subsection (m) to section 344 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended. Paragraph (2) of the new subsection applies to the 1954 and 1955 crops of extra long staple cotton. This amendment also provides that a county acreage allotment for extra long staple cotton is to be determined for Sumter County, Florida.

Farmers in Puerto Rico have begun planting their 1954 crop of extra long staple cotton and farmers in the continental United States are making plans and purchasing seed, fertilizer and other supplies and equipment for the planting and production of extra long staple cotton this year. In order that the new provisions of the said Public Law which are applicable to extra long staple cotton may be carried out promptly by the State and county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committees it is essential that the amendments set forth herein be made effective as soon as possible. Accordingly, it is hereby determined and found that compliance with the notice, public procedure, and effective date requirements of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003) is impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and the amendments contained herein shall be effective upon filing of this document with the Director, Division of Federal Register.

The Marketing Quota Regulations Relating to Apportionment of the National Acreage Allotment for the 1954 Crop of Extra Long Staple Cotton to States, Counties, and Farms (18 F. R. 7883), as amended are amended as follows:

1. Section 722.1116 (b) is amended by inserting after the word "Seminole", the word "Sumter".

2. Section 722.1116 is amended by adding thereto the following paragraph (g):

(g) Apportionment of excess released acreage to counties. The acreage allotment surrendered to the State committee pursuant to § 722.1117 (j) shall be apportioned by the State committee among the counties in the State which are designated in paragraph (b) of this section on the basis of trends in acreage, abnormal conditions adversely affecting plantings, or for small or new farms.

3. Section 722.1117 is amended by adding thereto the following paragraphs (j) and (k):

(j) Release and reapportionment of farm acreage allotments for extra long staple cotton. Any part of any 1954 farm acreage allotment for extra long staple cotton on which such cotton will not be planted in 1954 and which is voluntarily released to the county committee by the applicable closing date shall be deducted from the farm acreage allotment for extra long staple cotton and may be reapportioned by the county committee not later than the applicable closing date to other farms receiving farm acreage allotments for extra long staple cotton in the same county in amounts determined by the county committee to be fair and reasonable on the basis of past acreages of extra long staple cotton, land, labor and equipment available for the production of extra long staple cotton, crop-rotation practices and soil and other physical facilities affecting the production of extra long staple cotton. The State committee shall establish closing dates for purposes of the foregoing provisions for the entire State or for areas in the State if there is a substantial difference in planting dates for different areas in the State. The closing date so established for releasing farm acreage allotments shall be the date on which the planting of extra long staple cotton normally becomes general on farms in the State or area, and the closing date so established for reapportionment of such released acreage to other farms in the same county shall be the latest date on which extra long staple cotton can normally be planted on farms in the State or area with reasonable expectations of producing an average crop. If all of the allotted acreage voluntarily released is not needed in the county, the county committee may surrender the excess acreage to the State committee for reapportionment to counties as provided in § 722.1116 (g). Any farm acreage allotment released for 1954 only shall, in determining future acreage allotments for extra long staple cotton, be regarded as having been planted on the farm releasing such allotment if extra long staple cotton was planted on such farm in at least one of the years in the 3-year farm base period. Any part of any farm acreage allotment may be permanently released in writing to the county committee by the owner and operator of the farm and reapportioned as provided in this paragraph. In determining future farm acreage allotments for extra long staple cotton the planting in 1954 of reapportioned acreage allotment shall not be considered. For purposes of determining future State and county acreage allotments, reapportioned acreage will be credited to the State and to the county in which such acreage was planted.

(k) Apportionment of excess released acreage to farms. The acreage apportioned to the county pursuant to § 722.1118 (g) may be used for establishing and adjusting farm acreage allotments for new farms or small farms in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs (e) (3) and (f) of this section.

4. Section 722.1118 is amended by adding a new sentence at the end thereof reading as follows: "Immediately after acreage allotments for farms in a county or other local administrative area are established pursuant to § 722.1117 (j) and approved by the State committee as provided in § 722.1127 (a), the county committee shall mail to the operator of each farm for which some or all of the acreage allotment is released and to the operator of each farm to which released acreage is reapportioned a written notice of the farm acreage allotment and marketing quota for the farm.

(Sec. 375, 52 Stat. 66, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 1375. Interpret or apply secs. 301, 344–348, 361–368, 373–374, 383, 52 Stat. 38, as amended, Pub. Law 290, 83d Cong.; 7 U. S. C. 1301, 1344–1348, 1361–1368, 1373–1374, 1388)

[Lemon Reg. 525, Amdt. 1]

PART 953—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

Findings. 1. Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953; 18 F. R. 6767), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such lemons which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

2. It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice and engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this regulation until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this amendment is based became available and the time when this amendment must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, is insufficient, and this amendment relieves restriction on the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona.

Order, as amended. The provisions in paragraph (b) (1) (ii) of § 953.632 (Lemon Regulation 525, 19 F. R. 997) are hereby amended to read as follows:

(ii) District 2, 230 carloads.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 25th day of February 1954.

[SEAL] S. R. SMITH,
Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service.

The first sentence of paragraph (b) of § 239.2 Landing requirements is amended to read as follows:

PART 245—ADJUSTMENT OF STATUS OF NONIMMIGRANT TO THAT OF A PERSON ADMITTED FOR PERMANENT RESIDENCE

1. Part 245 is amended by adding § 245.2 to read as follows:

§ 245.2 Documentary requirements. The provisions of § 211.1 of this chapter relating to the documentary requirements for immigrants shall not apply to an applicant for adjustment of status under this part.

2. Section 245.14 is amended to read as follows:

§ 245.14 Procedure upon acceptance of application. Upon acceptance of an application, the applicant shall be requested to submit to an examination by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, whose report setting forth the findings of the mental and physical condition of the applicant shall be incorporated into the record. The applicant shall be given timely notice of the date and place of the examination provided for in § 245.16, and the case shall be assigned to an immigration officer for the purpose of conducting such examination.

PART 264—REGISTRATION OF ALIENS IN THE UNITED STATES: FORMS AND PROCEDURE

1. Subparagraph (1) of paragraph (c) Forms constituting alien-registration receipt cards under the Immigration and Nationality Act, of § 264.1 Alien-registration receipt card is amended to read as follows:

(1) Form I–151 or I–151A. When an alien with an unexpired immigrant visa is lawfully admitted to the United States as an immigrant for permanent residence, he shall be issued Form I–151 as an alien-registration receipt card and as evidence of such immigration status. Any alien who in any manner becomes a lawful permanent resident of the United States and who is registered in the United States shall also be furnished such Form I–151. An alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence who re-registers in the United States within 30 days after attaining his fourteenth birthday anniversary shall be entitled to and shall be issued a new Form I–151A bearing his photograph if the Form I–151 originally issued to him was without such photograph.

2. Paragraph (b) of § 264.51 Replacement of alien-registration receipt cards; procedure is amended to read as follows:

(b) Disposition of application. An application for a new alien-registration receipt card shall be submitted to the district director or officer in charge of the office of the Service having administrative jurisdiction over the applicant's place of residence. The application shall be accompanied by two photographs of the alien as described in Part 10 of this chapter and by a fee of $5.00 and, if the application is for the issuance of a new receipt card in a changed name, by appropriate documentary evidence of such change, including any court order effecting such change. If the applicant is in possession of an immigration identification card, a mutilated receipt card, a Form AR–3 or AR–103 receipt card, or any other alien-registration receipt card, such card must be surrendered before a new receipt card may be issued to him. The district director or officer in charge receiving an application shall cause such investigation and inquiry to be conducted as he deems necessary to determine whether the application should be granted. If after consideration of the application and the record, the district director or officer in charge is satisfied that the applicant was lawfully admitted for permanent residence and that the original receipt card has been lost, mutilated, or destroyed, he shall issue a new receipt card on Form I–151A. If after such consideration he is satisfied that the applicant was so admitted and that (1) the applicant's name has been changed after registration by order of court or by marriage, or that (2) the applicant's original receipt card is not prima-facie evidence of his lawful admisssion for permanent residence (such as Form AR–3 or AR–103), the district director or officer in charge may issue a new receipt card on Form I–151A. The new card shall bear the alien's registration number, the alien's photograph and notation that it is a replacement of a prior receipt card. The new receipt card Form I–151A shall be mailed directly to the alien or, if the alien is less than fourteen years of age, to his parent or legal guardian. If the district director or officer in charge is not satisfied that the application should be granted, he shall deny the application and take whatever action he deems appropriate in the case. No appeal may be taken from the decision of the district director or officer in charge.

PART 450—FORMS

The reference to Form I–151 in § 450.1, Prescribed forms, is amended to read as follows:

I-151 / I-151A — Alien Registration Receipt and Border Crossing Card.

(Sec. 103, 66 Stat. 173; 8 U. S. C. 1103)

NOTE: The record-keeping and reporting requirements of these regulations have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order shall become effective on the date of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Compliance with the provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 238; 5 U. S. C. 1003) as to notice of proposed rule making and delayed effective date is unnecessary in this instance because the rules prescribed by the order, insofar as they do not relate to interpretative rules or to matters of agency procedure relieve restrictions and are clearly advantageous to persons affected thereby.

Dated: February 18, 1954.

HERBERT BROWNELL, Jr.,
Attorney General.

Effective date. The foregoing amendment shall become effective upon issuance.

Section 76.27 of Subpart B, as amended, Part 76, Title 9, Code of Federal Regulations (18 F. R. 3637), quarantines the areas so designated.

The amendment designates the following as areas in which swine are affected with vesicular exanthema in addition to the areas heretofore designated:

New Haven County in Connecticut;
Bristol and Kent Counties in Rhode Island.

Hereafter, the restrictions pertaining to the interstate movement of swine and carcasses, parts and offal of swine from or through quarantined areas contained in 9 CFR Part 76, Subpart B, as amended (18 F. R. 3636, as amended), apply to these areas.

The amendment excludes certain areas from the areas heretofore designated as areas in which swine are affected with vesicular exanthema. The Administrator of the Agricultural Research Service has determined that swine in such areas are not now affected with the disease, and that the quarantine of such areas is no longer required to prevent the dissemination thereof. Accordingly, such areas are no longer quarantined under said § 76.27, and the restrictions pertaining to the interstate movement of swine and carcasses, parts and offal of swine from or through quarantined areas contained in 9 CFR Part 76, Subpart B, as amended (18 F. R. 3636, as amended), no longer apply to such areas. However, the restrictions pertaining to such movement from non-quarantined areas contained in said Subpart B, as amended, apply thereto.

The effect of the amendment is to impose certain further restrictions necessary to prevent the spread of vesicular exanthema, a contagious, infectious, and communicable disease of swine, and to relieve certain restrictions presently imposed. The amendment must be made effective immediately to accomplish its purpose in the public interest and to be of maximum benefit to persons subject to the restrictions which are relieved. Accordingly, under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003), it is found upon good cause that notice and other public procedure with respect to the amendment are impracticable and contrary to the public interest and good cause is found for making it effective less than 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

[Reg. No. SR-401]

PART 4b—AIRPLANE AIRWORTHINESS; TRANSPORT CATEGORIES

PART 41—CERTIFICATION AND OPERATION RULES FOR SCHEDULED AIR CARRIER OPERATIONS OUTSIDE THE CONTINENTAL LIMITS OF THE UNITED STATES

PART 42—IRREGULAR AIR CARRIER AND OFF-ROUTE RULES

SPECIAL CIVIL AIR REGULATION; SMOKE AND FIRE DETECTORS

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 24th day of February 1954.

Special Civil Air Regulation SR-329 currently provides that no air carrier shall be required to install or maintain smoke or fire detectors, other than heat detectors, unless otherwise directed by the Administrator. SR-329 also refers to § 61.30 and to the dates by which compliance with the requirements of that section must be accomplished. On April 1, 1954, Part 61 of the Civil Air Regulations will be rescinded and revised Part 40 will become effective, thus making any references to Part 61 obsolete.

In view of this, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on September 9, 1953 (18 F. R. 5435), in which it was proposed that the current provisions of SR-329 be extended and that certain provisions no longer appropriate be removed. It was also proposed that these provisions be extended only for a period of one year, and not indefinitely as SR-329 provided. As a result of this proposal, several comments were received questioning the necessity for smoke and fire detector requirements and questioning the availability within one year of satisfactory equipment. Other comment was received indicating that the exemption contained in SR-329 should be ended as soon as practicable.

As a result of our review of the above comments, the Board has decided that a re-evaluation of these requirements should be made at an early date. However, the Board is of the opinion that the continuation of a special regulation setting aside requirements of the Civil Air Regulations for an indefinite period in the future is improper. Should it be determined that there exists no justification for continuation of requirements for smoke detectors in baggage compartments, these requirements should be rescinded. On the other hand, until and unless such a determination is in fact made, it is considered that the termination of this exemption within a reasonable period of time is the only proper course before the Board.

The Board is of the opinion that a period of two years will provide sufficient time to permit evaluation of proposals which have been made for the elimination from the Civil Air Regulations of requirements for smoke detectors in baggage compartments and thereafter, if necessary, to permit compliance with those requirements.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of this regulation, and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented.

In consideration of the foregoing, the Civil Aeronautics Board hereby makes and promulgates the following Special Civil Air Regulation, to become effective April 1, 1954.

Notwithstanding the provisions of Parts 4b, 40, 41, and 42, no person shall be required to install or maintain smoke or fire detectors, other than heat detectors, in aircraft unless otherwise directed by the Administrator.

This regulation supersedes Special Civil Air Regulation Serial Number SR-329 and will terminate on March 31, 1956, unless sooner superseded or rescinded.

PART 170—ENFORCEMENT OF THE TEA IMPORTATION ACT

TEA STANDARDS

Pursuant to the authority of the Tea Importation Act (secs. 2, 10, 29 Stat. 607, 41 Stat. 712, 57 Stat. 500; 21 U. S. C. 42, 50; 67 Stat. 18), the regulations for the enforcement of this act (21 CFR 170, as amended 21 CFR, 1952 Supp. 170; 18 F. R. 1848) are amended by changing § 170.19 (a) to read as follows:

§ 170.19 Tea standards. (a) Samples for standards of the following teas, prepared, identified, and submitted by the Board of Tea Experts on February 10, 1954, are hereby fixed and established as the standards of purity, quality, and fitness for consumption under the Tea Importation Act for the year beginning May 1, 1954, and ending April 30, 1955:

(1) Formosa Oolong.
(2) Java (for all black teas except as listed below).
(3) Formosa Black (Formosa Black and Congou type).
(4) Japan Black.
(5) Japan Green.
(6) Gunpowder type (except Japan).
(7) Scented Canton type.
(8) Canton Oolong type.

These standards apply to tea shipped from abroad on or after May 1, 1954. Tea shipped prior to May 1, 1954, will be governed by the standards which became effective May 1, 1953 (18 F. R. 1848).

Notice and public procedure are not necessary prerequisites to the promulgation of this order, and I so find, since the amendment is based upon the recommendation of the Board of Tea Experts, which is comprised of experts in teas drawn from the Food and Drug Administration and the tea trade, so as to be representative of the tea trade as a whole.

TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

PART 1—PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE

CITY PRIORITY LIST FOR MUTUALLY EXCLUSIVE TELEVISION BROADCAST APPLICATIONS

FEBRUARY 24, 1954.

In a report and order issued on July 17, 1953, the Commission revised its procedure for processing and designating for hearing mutually exclusive applications for new television stations (FCC 53-889), and provided for the bi-monthly publication of a list of cities reflecting the revised priorities on which said list would be based in accordance with the amended rules. Such lists have been issued at regular intervals as provided for in the rules, the last one on December 23, 1953 (FCC 53-1706).

As of January 28, 1954, pre-hearing letters pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, had been transmitted to all mutually exclusive applicants. Hearings are being scheduled as quickly as the respective applications in a particular city are in a position to be designated for hearing. Accordingly, since the processing of noncompetitive applications has proceeded on a current basis since March 1953, and inasmuch as the issuance of pre-hearing letters is presently on a current basis, the need for the publication of a priority list has been eliminated. Consequently, no further lists will be published and § 1.371, footnote 10 will be amended accordingly. Applications received after this date will be considered chronologically.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

CALIFORNIA INLAND BROADCASTING CO. AND KARM, THE GEORGE HARM STATION

ORDER DELETING ISSUE

In re applications of California Inland Broadcasting Co., Fresno, California, Docket No. 9050, File No. BPCT-413; KARM, the George Harm Station, Fresno, California, Docket No. 10650, File No. BPCT-1061; for television construction permits.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 24th day of February 1954;

The Commission having under consideration a number of pleadings[1] concerning (1) a request by KARM, the George Harm Station that the Commission delete Issue No. 1, concerning the financial qualifications of the petitioner, from its Order of August 20, 1953, released August 25, 1953, designating the above-entitled applications for hearing; and (2) a request to enlarge the issues to include an issue as to the financial qualifications of both applicants to construct, own and operate a proposed television station, and to permit a comparison to be made between the applicants upon their respective financial qualifications;

It appearing, that the Commission, in its order of August 20, 1953, designating the above-entitled applications for hearing, included an issue concerning the financial qualifications of KARM, the George Harm Station to construct, own and operate its proposed television station; and

It further appearing, that the questions raised in the Commission's prehearing letter dated August 12, 1953, and with which the financial issue in this proceeding is concerned, have been resolved by petitioner's amendment filed on August 20, 1953, the same date when the Commission issued its hearing order in this proceeding, which disclosed the following changes: (1) included original and signed copies of a letter of credit dated August 10, 1953 from the Bank of America agreeing to extend KARM a loan of $750,000; (2) an amended balance sheet to specify cash in lieu of notes receivable; and (3) a letter from General Electric Company, dated August 18, 1953, expressing a willingness to sell KARM $500,000 worth of equipment on deferred payment terms; and that the Commission is now satisfied that KARM is financially qualified; and

It further appearing, that petitioner requests that the issues in the Commission's order of August 20, 1953, designating the above-entitled applications for hearing, be enlarged to include issues to determine the financial qualifications of the applicants, and to permit a comparison to be made between the applicants upon their respective financial qualifications; and

It further appearing, that the Commission has made an initial determination that California Inland Broadcasting Company is financially qualified to construct, own and operate a television station; that no convincing showing has been made by the petitioner to question the financial qualifications of California; that the petitioner has furnished no impelling reason for the departure by the Commission from its policy against permitting financial qualifications to be considered as a basis of comparison; and

It further appearing, that the Commission has permitted the Hearing Examiner, upon a reasonable showing, to enlarge the issues, on his own motion or on petition of a party to the proceeding, and upon sufficient allegations of facts in support thereof, so as to determine whether funds available to an applicant will be sufficient to effectuate its proposals in accordance with the procedure outlined in the Commission's memorandum opinion and order, In re South Central Broadcasting Company, 9 RR 1035;

It is ordered, That the request by KARM, the George Harm Station for deletion of Issue No. 1 is granted, and that the Commission's order of August 20, 1953, designating for hearing the above-entitled applications is modified by deletion of Issue No. 1; and

It is further ordered, That the request of KARM, the George Harm Station to enlarge the issues is denied; and

It is further ordered, That the issues in the above-entitled proceeding may be enlarged by the Examiner, on his own motion or on petition properly filed by a party to the proceeding and upon sufficient allegations of fact in support thereof, by the addition of the following issue: To determine whether the funds available to the applicants will give reasonable assurance that the proposals set forth in the applications will be effectuated.

Released: February 25, 1954.

SOUTHERN TIER RADIO SERVICE, INC., AND OTTAWAY STATIONS, INC.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER ENLARGING ISSUES

In re application of Southern Tier Radio Service, Inc., Binghamton, New York, Docket No. 10681, File No. BPCT-892; Ottaway Stations, Inc., Endicott, New York, Docket No. 10682, File No. BPCT-1097; for construction permits for new television stations.

1. The Commission has under consideration (1) a petition filed on December 17, 1953, by Ottaway Stations, Inc., seeking clarification of the issues or, in the alternative, enlargement of the issues with respect to section 307 (b) of the Communication's Act of 1934, as amended, (2) an opposition thereto filed by Southern Tier Radio Service, Inc., on December 28, 1953, and (3) a reply filed on January 7, 1954, by Ottaway Stations, Inc.

2. The Commission in its order of September 9, 1953, designated applicants herein for hearing on the standard comparative issues[1] and an additional issue under which Southern Tier Radio Service, Inc., is required to establish its financial qualifications. This case has proceeded through hearing conferences on October 9, November 16 and 24, 1953, for the purpose of exchanging information, agreeing to points of reliance, clarification of issues, and related matters At the conference of November 23, 1953, one of the points of reliance advanced by Ottaway Stations contemplated a showing concerning the need for television service in the Binghamton-Endicott, New York, area. Ottaway Stations submitted to the Examiner that it expected to establish facts showing that on a comparative basis the greater need in the area is for the establishment of a first transmission facility in Endicott rather than a second such facility in Binghamton. The Examiner, agreeing to permit Ottaway to introduce evidence with respect to the need for television service in the Binghamton-Endicott area, advised, however, that section 307 (b)[2] of the Communications Act is not an issue in the instant proceeding, and will not be considered unless the issues are enlarged by the Commission. Thus, the Examiner ruled that legal argument by Ottaway Stations on this point will not be entertained.

3. In the instant proceeding Ottaway Stations has requested the Commission to clarify the issues with respect to the section 307 (b) problem by issuing an appropriate order instructing the Examiner that a section 307 (b) issue is within the scope of the comparative issues here. Their argument in support of this request is based upon the reasoning that section 307 (b) of the Communications Act is a statutory obligation on the Commission and, as such, impliedly a determinative factor in every case wherein a grant to an applicant could conceivably be based thereon. If this be not so, Ottaway submits, the Commission should enlarge the issues in the present proceeding to permit Ottaway to show that a grant of its application should be preferred in view of 307 (b) considerations. In support of this alternative request, Ottaway contends that Binghamton, New York already has a television station, while the greater Endicott area is without an outlet for local expression. Furthermore, Ottaway urges, our rules permit determination of the instant proceedings on 307 (b) considerations because Endicott is a separate and distinct community within fifteen miles[3] of Binghamton to which the television channel in contest here has been allocated.

4. Southern Tier disputes the Ottaway Stations' contention that a 307 (b) issue is implicit in the comparative issues upon which the applicants herein will go to hearing. It is urged that the Commission's adoption of a table of television assignments in the Sixth Report and Order reflects a resolution of the section 307 (b) problem. Southern Tier argues that before the issues may be enlarged in the instant proceeding Ottaway Stations must show it filed a timely petition seeking enlargement. Here, it is submitted, the petition requesting enlargement of the issues comes three months after the applications had been designated for hearing and has not been supported by a showing of "good cause" for such delay.[4]

5. With respect to the problem of "good cause", the record reflects that Ottaway Stations' proposal contemplated an Endicott operation while Southern Tier proposed to operate from Binghamton, New York. Still unclear, however, is the question of whether the communities involved are in a real sense separate and distinct. Endicott lies within a radius of 15 miles of Binghamton. Station WNBF-TV, operating on Channel 12 from Binghamton is the only local television facility in the Binghamton-Endicott area. Ottaway Stations has argued in the instant pleading that from the inception of these proceedings it expected to rely upon the provisions of section 307 (b) and that it was not until the ruling by the Hearing Examiner, referred to above, that the questions with respect to clarification or enlargement of the issues arose. For this reason, it is urged, "good cause" has been demonstrated for enlargement of the issues at this time. Under the facts and circumstances here, we believe Ottaway Stations has demonstrated "good cause" for its late filing for enlargement. Moreover, we are of a mind that the recurrence of the problem presented in the instant petition requires clarification by us in order to guide applicants in future cases involving the same circumstances.

6. With respect to the merits of the pleading before us, we are in agreement with Southern Tier's contention that a 307 (b) issue is not implicit in every television proceeding where conceivably a grant of an application could be premised thereon. Our general considerations in adopting an over-all system of television channel assignments, as set forth in our Sixth Report and Order,[5] make it abundantly clear that our table of assignments was designed to provide a "fair, efficient and equitable distribution" of television service between the various states and communities. Thus, where the problem involves a question of distribution of television channel assignments, except for example, under our 15 mile rule, considerations with respect to section 307 (b) of the act become unnecessary since they have already been resolved. Except for cases which would involve rule making, it would be useless therefore, in every new competitive proceeding to insert an issue concerning the applicability of 307 (b) considerations to the proposals involved. In the present proceeding, however, we are confronted with our rule involving communities located within 15 miles of the community to which the television channel in our tables of assignments has been allocated. In such a situation we would be remiss in our duties under the act were we to fail to consider the applicability of 307 (b) considerations to the proposals involved. We do not hold, however, that where enlargement of the issues is requested on the basis of our 15 mile rule we are compelled automatically to grant enlargement without a showing having been made that 307 (b) considerations would be pertinent in the particular case. Nor do we mean to rule that once we permit enlargement of issues, that section 307 (b) of the act is to be considered the determinative issue in the proceeding. We believe the better course to follow is one which requires a preliminary and prerequisite showing that 307 (b) considerations would be pertinent in deciding the particular case.

7. In the instant case, in view of the probability that both applicants herein will provide equally acceptable service over the area encompassing both Endicott and Binghamton and the probability that a transmission facility located in either city will be available to the residents of both communities, we believe that a specific determination should be made as to whether considerations with respect to section 307 (b) of the act are applicable and, if so, whether a choice between the applications herein can be reasonably based thereon, and, if so, whether a grant to one or the other applicant would provide the more fair, efficient and equitable distribution of television service to the communities involved.

8. Accordingly, it is ordered, This 24th day of February 1954, that the above-entitled petition filed on December 17, 1953 by Ottaway Stations, Inc., is granted to the extent that the issues are enlarged to read as follows: To determine whether considerations with respect to section 307 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, are applicable in the above-entitled proceeding, and, if so, whether a choice between the applications herein can be reasonably based thereon and, if so, whether a grant to one or the other applicant would provide the more fair, efficient and equitable distribution of television service to the communities involved.

SUBPART—1954–55 MARKETING YEAR

Basis and purpose. The purpose of this document is to proclaim that a substantial difference exists in the usage and marketing outlets for Class II Durum Wheat from those for other classes of wheat; that the supply of Class II Durum Wheat for the 1953–54 and 1954–55 marketing years with respect to the 1954 crop will be substantially short of indicated market demands and carryover requirements for such wheat for such marketing years; and to establish that an increase in farm acreage allotments for the 1954 crop of wheat is required to make available a supply of Class II Durum Wheat adequate to meet such indicated market demands and carry-over requirements. These determinations are made pursuant to section 334 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended by section 4 of Public Law 290, 83d Congress, 2d Session, approved January 30, 1954, which added the following paragraph:

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of this act, if after investigation the Secretary determines with respect to any class or sub-class of wheat that a substantial difference exists in the usage or marketing outlets therefor and that the supply of such wheat for the 1953–54 and 1954–55 marketing years with respect to the 1954 crop, and for the 1954–55 and 1955–56 marketing years with respect to the 1955 crop, will be substantially short of indicated market demands and carryover requirements for such wheat for such marketing years, the Secretary shall increase the marketing quotas and acreage allotments for such crop of wheat for farms which produced such wheat in one or more of the preceding three years to the extent necessary to make available a supply of such wheat adequate to meet such demands and carryover requirements. The increases in farm marketing quotas and acreage allotments shall be made on the basis of the acreage seeded to such class or subclass of wheat during the period of years considered in establishing farm marketing quotas and acreage allotments for wheat. The additional acreage required by this subsection shall be in addition to the national acreage allotment, and shall not be used to increase the acreage allotment applicable to other wheat produced on farms for which such additional acreage has been allotted, nor shall such acreage be considered in establishing future State, county, and farm acreage allotments.

The findings and determinations by the Secretary in §§ 728.404a to 728.404d have been made after investigation and upon the basis of the latest available statistics of the Federal Government.

Since growers of Class II Durum Wheat are now planning their farming operations for 1954, and in order that the State and county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committees may establish farm acreage allotments to include increases in such allotments provided for herein for the production of Class II Durum Wheat, it is essential that this proclamation be made effective as soon as possible. Therefore, it is hereby determined that compliance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act with respect to notice, procedure, and effective date is impracticable and contrary to the public interest and this proclamation shall be effective upon filing of the document with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

Sec.
728.404a Definition of Class II Durum Wheat.
728.404b Differences in usage, marketing outlets, and supply and carry-over requirements.
728.404c Determination of increased wheat acreage allotments.
728.404d Applicability to future acreage allotments.

AUTHORITY: §§ 728.404a to 728.404d issued under sec. 375, 52 Stat. 66, as amended, 7 U. S. C. 1375. Interpret or apply sec. 334, 52 Stat. 53, sec. 4, Pub. Law 290, 83d Cong.; 7 U. S. C. 1334.

§ 728.404a Definition of Class II Durum Wheat. Class II Durum Wheat means the three sub-classes of Durum Wheat (Class II) specified in the "Handbook of Official Grain Standards of the United States," which are: Sub-class (A) Hard Amber Durum, Sub-class (B) Amber Durum, and Sub-class (C) Durum.

§ 728.404b Differences in usage, marketing outlets, and supply and carry-over requirements. Class II Durum Wheat is a particular class of wheat used exclusively in producing semolina from which are derived the products macaroni, spaghetti, and other alimentary paste products. No other class of wheat is suitable for producing high quality alimentary paste products. The principal marketing outlet for Class II Durum Wheat is the industry manufacturing such products, while other classes of wheat are not normally acceptable by the industry. The total supply of Class II Durum Wheat for the 1953–54 marketing year is estimated to be 19,885,000 bushels. This supply is 14,058,000 bushels smaller than the supply which was available for the 1952–53 marketing year, and 30,648,000 bushels smaller than the average supply for the five marketing years 1948–49 through 1952–53. As the result of declining production of Class II Durum Wheat during recent years, it is estimated that carry-over stocks of such wheat at the beginning of the 1954–55 marketing year will be negligible. In contrast to the declining production of Class II Durum Wheat, market demands for such wheat have been steadily increasing during the past several years. Unless the production of Class II Durum Wheat is increased in 1954, the supply of such wheat for the 1953–54 and 1954–55 marketing years will be substantially short of indicated market demands and carry-over requirements.

§ 728.404c Determination of increased wheat acreage allotments. It is hereby determined that the marketing quotas and acreage allotments for the 1954 crop of wheat for farms which produced Class II Durum Wheat in one or more of the years 1951, 1952, and 1953 shall be increased to the extent necessary to make available a supply of such wheat adequate to meet market demands and carry-over requirements for the 1953–54 and 1954–55 marketing years.

§ 728.404d Applicability to future acreage allotments. The increase in marketing quotas and acreage allotments provided for in this subpart shall be in addition to the national acreage allotment for the 1954 crop of wheat, and shall not be used to increase the acreage allotment applicable to other wheat produced on farms for which such additional acreage has been allotted, nor shall such acreage be considered in establishing future State, county, and farm acreage allotments.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 26th day of February 1954. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

[SEAL] EZRA TAFT BENSON,
Secretary of Agriculture.

AUTHORITY: §§ 905.0 to 905.101 issued under sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c.

§ 905.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is necessary in the public interest to make this order amending the order, as amended, effective not later than March 1, 1954. Any delay beyond March 1, 1954, in the effective date of this order amending the order, as amended, will tend to disrupt the orderly marketing of milk for the Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, marketing area. The changes effected by this order amending the order, as amended, do not require of persons affected, substantial or extensive preparation prior to the effective date. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby found that good cause exists for making this order effective March 1, 1954 (see sec. 4 (c) Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U. S. C. 1003 (c)).

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended, which is marketed within the Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, marketing area) of more than 50 percent of the milk which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said proposed marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who, during the determined representative period (December 1953), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

(b) The amount of payment to each producer and cooperative association; and

(c) The nature and amount of any authorized deductions or charges involved in such payments.

§ 905.33 Records and facilities. Each handler shall maintain and make available to the market administrator or to his representative during the usual hours of business such accounts and records of his operations and such facilities as are necessary for the market administrator to verify or establish the correct data with respect to:

(a) The receipts and utilization of all receipts of producer milk and other source milk;

(b) The weights and tests for butterfat and other content of all milk, skim milk, cream and milk products handled;

(c) Payments to producers and cooperative associations; and

§ 905.34 Retention of records. All books and records required under this subpart to be made available to the market administrator shall be retained by the handler for a period of three years to begin at the end of the calendar month to which such books and records pertain: Provided, That if, within such three year period, the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that the retention of such books and records, or of specified books and records, is necessary in connection with a proceeding under section 8c (15) (A) of the act or a court action specified in such notice, the handler shall retain such books and records, or specified books and records until further written notification from the market administrator. In either case the market administrator shall give further written notification to the handler promptly, upon the termination of the litigation or when the records are no longer necessary in connection therewith.

CLASSIFICATION

§ 905.40 Skim milk and butterfat to be classified. All skim milk and butterfat received within the month by a handler and which is required to be reported pursuant to § 905.30 shall be classified by the market administrator pursuant to the provisions of §§ 905.41 to 905.46.

§ 905.41 Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in §§ 905.43 and 905.44, the classes of utilization shall be as follows:

(a) Class I milk shall be all skim milk (including reconstituted skim milk) and butterfat (1) disposed of in the form of milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, flavored milk drinks, yogurt, cream, cultured sour cream, any mixture (except bulk ice cream mix) of cream and milk of skim milk, (2) used to produce concentrated (including frozen) milk, flavored milk or flavored milk drinks disposed of for fluid consumption neither sterilized nor in hermetically sealed cans, and (3) all other skim milk and butterfat not specifically accounted for as Class II milk.

(b) Class II milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat, (1) used to produce any product other than those specified in paragraph (a) of this section; (2) disposed of for livestock feed; (3) in frozen cream placed in storage; (4) in skim milk dumped, after prior notification to and opportunity for verification by the market administrator; (5) in shrinkage up to 2 percent of receipts from producers; (6) in shrinkage of other source milk; and (7) in inventory at the end of the month in the forms specified in paragraph (a) (1) and (2) of this section.

§ 905.42 Shrinkage. The market administrator shall allocate shrinkage over a handler's receipts as follows:

(a) Compute the total shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat for each handler; and

(b) Prorate the resulting amounts between the receipts of skim milk and butterfat in producer milk and in other source milk that is not to be allocated pursuant to § 905.46 (a) (2).

§ 905.43 Responsibility of handlers and reclassification of milk. (a) All skim milk and butterfat shall be Class I milk unless the handler who first receives such skim milk or butterfat can prove to the market administrator that such skim milk or butterfat should be classified otherwise.

(b) Any skim milk or butterfat classified as Class II milk shall be reclassified if such skim milk or butterfat is later disposed of by such handler or another handler (whether in original or other form) as Class I milk. Any skim milk or butterfat which was classified as Class II milk in the previous month pursuant to § 905.41 (b) (7) shall be reclassified as Class I milk if it is subtracted in the current month from Class I pursuant to § 905.46 (a) (4).

§ 905.44 Transfers. Skim milk or butterfat disposed of by a handler either by transfer or diversion shall be classified:

(a) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted in the form of milk, skim milk, or cream, to the approved plant of another handler (except a producer-handler) unless utilization in Class II is mutually indicated in writing to the market administrator by both handlers on or before the 7th day after the end of the month within which such transaction occurred: Provided, That the skim milk or butterfat so assigned to Class II shall be limited to the amount thereof remaining in Class II in the plant of the transferee-handler after the subtraction of other source milk pursuant to § 905.46, and any additional amounts of such skim milk or butterfat shall be assigned to Class I: And provided further, That if either or both handlers have received other source milk, the skim milk or butterfat so transferred or diverted shall be classified at both plants so as to allocate the greatest possible Class I utilization to producer milk.

(b) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted to a producer-handler in the form of milk, skim milk or cream.

(c) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted in the form of milk or skim milk to an unapproved plant located more than 200 miles from the approved plant by the shortest highway distance as determined by the market administrator.

(d) As Class I milk if transferred in the form of cream to an unapproved plant, unless the handler (1) claims classification as Class II milk, (2) establishes that such cream was transferred without Grade A certification, and (3) labels or tags each container "for manufacturing use only" and so invoices the shipment.

(e) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted in the form of bulk milk or bulk skim milk to an unapproved plant located not more than 200 miles from the approved plant unless the following conditions are met:

(1) The handler claims classification as Class II milk;

(2) The operator of the unapproved plant maintains books and records, showing the receipts and utilization of all skim milk and butterfat at such plant, which are made available if requested by the market administrator for the purpose of verification;

(3) If the above conditions are met, the classification reported by the handler shall be subject to verification by the market administrator as follows:

(i) Determine the use of all skim milk and butterfat at such unapproved plant, and

(ii) Allocate the skim milk and butterfat so transferred or diverted to the highest use classification remaining after subtracting, in series beginning with Class I milk, the skim milk and butterfat in milk received at the unapproved plant from dairy farmers who the market administrator determines constitute the regular source of supply for fluid usage of such unapproved plant.

(iii) If the unapproved plant makes bulk shipments of milk or cream and the skim milk and butterfat transferred to such plant exceeds the amounts remaining in the transferee plant after subtracting receipts from dairy farmers pursuant to subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph, the excess shall be classified according to its utilization determined at the second unapproved plant pursuant to subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph.

§ 905.45 Computation of the skim milk and butterfat in each class. For each month, the market administrator shall correct for mathematical and for other obvious errors the report of receipts and utilization submitted by each handler and shall compute the pounds of skim milk and butterfat in Class I milk and Class II milk for such handler.

§ 905.46 Allocation of skim milk and butterfat classified. After making the computations pursuant to § 905.45 the market administrator shall determine the classification of milk received from producers as follows:

(a) Skim milk shall be allocated in the following manner:

(1) Subtract from the total pounds of skim milk in Class II the pounds of skim milk determined pursuant to § 905.41 (b) (5);

(2) Subtract from the total pounds of skim milk in Class I the pounds of skim milk in other source milk received in bottles or other consumer-type packages from the approved plant of a producer-handler which is located in the marketing area and disposed of as Class I milk in the same package and under the label of such producer-handler without further processing or packaging;

(3) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class, in series beginning with Class II, the remaining pounds of skim milk in other source milk;

(4) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class in series beginning with Class II, the pounds of skim milk in inventory specified in § 905.41 (b) (7) at the beginning of the month;

(5) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class the skim milk received from other handlers according to its classification as determined pursuant to § 905.44 (a);

(6) Add to the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class II the pounds of skim milk subtracted pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph; and

(7) If the remaining pounds of skim milk in both classes exceed the pounds of skim milk received from producers, an amount equal to the difference shall be subtracted from the pounds of skim milk remaining in each class in series beginning with Class II. Any amount so subtracted shall be called "overage".

(b) Butterfat shall be allocated in accordance with the same procedure outlined for skim milk in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Determine the weighted average butterfat content of the Class I and Class II milk computed pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

MINIMUM PRICES

§ 905.50 Basic formula price to be used in determining Class I prices. The basic formula price to be used in determining the price per hundredweight of Class I milk shall be the highest of the prices computed pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section and § 905.51 (b) for the preceding month.

(a) The average of the basic or field prices per hundredweight reported to have been paid or to be paid for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the month at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or to the Department divided by 3.5 and multiplied by 4.0:

(b) The price per hundredweight computed by adding together the plus values pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph;

(1) From the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago as reported by the Department during the month subtract 3 cents, add 20 percent thereof and multiply by 4.0.

(2) From the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the weighted averages of carlot prices per pound for nonfat dry milk solids, spray, and roller process, respectively, for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area, as published for the period from the 26th day of the immediately preceding month through the 25th day of the current month by the Department, deduct 5.5 cents, multiply by 8.5, and then multiply by 0.96.

§ 905.51 Class prices. Subject to the provisions of § 905.52, the minimum prices per hundredweight to be paid by each handler for milk received at his plant from producers during the month shall be as follows:

(a) Class I milk. The basic formula price plus $1.70 during the months of April, May, and June and plus $1.90 during all other months: Provided, That for each of the months of September, October, November, and December, such price shall not be less than that for the preceding month, and that for each of the months of April, May, and June such price shall be not more than that for the preceding month. To this price add or subtract a "supply-demand adjustment" computed as follows:

(1) Divide the total receipts of producer milk in the first and second months preceding by the total gross volume of Class I milk (excluding interhandler transfers and sales by producer-handlers and handlers partially exempt from this subpart pursuant to § 905.61) for the same months, multiply the result by 100, and round to the nearest whole number. The result shall be known as the Class I utilization percentage;

Month for which price applies	Months used in computation	Standard utilization percentage
January	November-December	113
February	December-January	117
March	January-February	121
April	February-March	123
May	March-April	127
June	April May	130
July	May-June	135
August	June July	134
September	July-August	130
October	August-September	119
November	September-October	111
December	October-November	110

(3) For each minus percentage point in excess of 2 in the "net utilization percentage" the Class I price shall be increased 3 cents in January, February, March, July, and August; 2 cents in April, May, and June; 4 cents in September, October, November, and December; and for each plus percentage point in excess of 2 in the "net utilization percentage" the Class I price shall be decreased 3 cents in January, February, March, July, and August; 4 cents in April, May, and June; and 2 cents in September, October, November, and December: Provided, That in no event shall an adjustment made pursuant to this subparagraph exceed 50 cents per hundredweight.

(b) Class II milk. The average of the basic or field prices reported to have been paid or to be paid for ungraded milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the month at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or to the Department:

Present Operator and Location
American Foods Company, Miami, Okla.
Gilt Edge Dairy, Norman, Okla.
Pet Milk Company, Siloam Springs, Ark.

§ 905.52 Butterfat differentials to handlers. If the average butterfat content of the milk of any handler allocated to any class pursuant to § 905.46 is more or less than 4.0 percent, there shall be added to the respective class price computed pursuant to § 905.51 for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such milk is above 4.0 percent, or subtracted for each one-tenth of 1 percent that such average butterfat content is below 4.0 percent an amount equal to the applicable butterfat differential computed as follows:

(a) Class I milk. Multiply by 1.25 the simple average, as computed by the market administrator of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago as reported by the Department during the preceding month and divide the result by 10.

(b) Class II milk. Multiply by 1.15 the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago as reported by the Department during the month and divide the result by 10.

APPLICATION OF PROVISIONS

§ 905.60 Producer-handlers. Sections 905.40 to 905.46, 905.50 to 905.52, 905.70 to 905.71, 905.80 to 905.87 shall not apply to a producer-handler.

§ 905.61 Handlers subject to other orders. In the case of any handler who the Secretary determines disposes of a greater portion of his milk as Class I milk in another marketing area regulated by another milk marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act, the provisions of this subpart shall not apply except as follows:

(a) The handler shall, with respect to his total receipts of skim milk and butterfat, make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may require and allow verification of such reports by the market administrator.

(b) If the price which such handler is required to pay under the other Federal order to which he is subject, for skim milk and butterfat which would be classified as Class I milk under this subpart is less than the price provided by this subpart, such handler shall pay to the market administrator for deposit into the producer-settlement fund (with respect to all skim milk and butterfat disposed of as Class I milk within the marketing area) an amount equal to the difference between the value of such skim milk or butterfat as computed pursuant to this subpart and its value as determined pursuant to the other order to which he is subject.

DETERMINATION OF BASE

§ 905.65 Computation of daily average base for each producer. For the months of February through July of each year the market administrator shall compute a daily average base for each producer as follows, subject to the rules set forth in § 905.66:

(a) Divide the total pounds of milk received by a handler(s) from such producer during the months of September through December by the number of days, not to be less than ninety, during the period(s) within which such producer made deliveries of milk in such months.

§ 905.66 Base rules. The following rules shall apply in connection with the establishment of bases:

(a) A base shall apply to deliveries of milk by the producer for whose account that milk was delivered during the base forming period;

(b) Bases may be transferred only during the period of February through July by notifying the market administrator in writing before the last day of any month that such base is to be transferred to the person named in such notice only as follows:

(1) In the event of the death, retirement, or entry into military service of a producer, the entire base may be transferred to a member(s) of such producer's immediate family who carries on the dairy operations.

(ii) If a base is held jointly and such joint holding is terminated, the entire base may be transferred to one of the joint holders.

(c) A producer who ceases to deliver milk to a handler for more than 45 consecutive days shall forfeit his base.

DETERMINATION OF UNIFORM PRICE

§ 905.70 Computation of value of milk. The value of milk received during each month from each handler from producers shall be a sum of money computed by the market administrator as follows:

(a) Multiply the pounds of such milk in each class by the applicable respective class prices and add together the resulting amounts;

(b) Add an amount computed by multiplying the pounds of any overage deducted from each class by the applicable class prices; and

(c) Add a reclassification charge computed at a rate equal to the difference between the Class I and Class II prices for the current month for skim milk and butterfat in inventory which is subtracted from Class I pursuant to § 905.46 (a) (4) and the corresponding step of § 905.46 (b) which is not in excess of the skim milk and butterfat, respectively, remaining in Class II milk in the previous month pursuant to § 905.46 (a) (5).

§ 905.71 Computation of uniform price. For each of the months of August through January, the market administrator shall compute the uniform price per hundredweight for milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from producers as follows:

(a) Combine into one total the values computed pursuant to § 905.70 for all handlers who made the reports prescribed in § 905.30 and who made the payments pursuant to §§ 905.80 and 905.83 for the preceding month.

(b) Add not less than one-half of the cash balance on hand in the producer-settlement fund less the total amount of the contingent obligations to handlers pursuant to § 905.85;

(c) Subtract if the average butterfat content of the milk included in these computations is greater than 4.0 percent, or add if such average butterfat content is less than 4.0 percent an amount computed by multiplying the amount by which the average butterfat content of such milk varies from 4.0 percent by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 905.81 and multiplying the resulting figure by the total hundredweight of such milk;

(d) Divide the resulting amount by the total hundredweight of milk included in these computations; and

(e) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents from the amount computed pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section. The resulting figure shall be the uniform price for milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from producers.

§ 905.72 Computation of uniform prices for base milk and excess milk. For each of the months of February through July the market administrator shall compute the uniform prices per hundredweight for base milk and for excess milk, each of 4.0 percent butterfat content, as follows:

(a) Combine into one total the values computed pursuant to § 905.70 for all handlers who made the reports prescribed in § 905.30 and who made the payments pursuant to §§ 905.80 and 905.83 for the preceding month;

(b) Add not less than one-half of the cash balance in the producer-settlement fund less the total amount of the contingent obligations to handlers pursuant to § 905.85;

(c) Subtract if the average butterfat content of the milk included in these computations is greater than 4.0 percent, or add if such average butterfat content is less than 4.0 percent, an amount computed by multiplying the amount by which the average butterfat content of such milk varies from 4.0 percent by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 905.81 and multiplying the resulting figure by the total hundredweight of such milk;

(d) Compute the total value on a 4.0 percent butterfat basis of the excess milk included in these computations by multiplying the hundredweight of such milk not in excess of the total quantity of Class II milk included in these computations by the price for Class II milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content, multiplying the hundredweight of such milk in excess of the total hundredweight of such Class II milk by the price for Class I milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content, and adding together the resulting amounts;

(e) Divide the total value of excess milk obtained in paragraph (d) of this section by the total hundredweight of such milk, and adjust to the nearest cent. The resulting figure shall be the uniform price for excess milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from producers.

(f) Subtract the value of excess milk obtained in paragraph (d) of this section from the value of all milk obtained in paragraph (c) of this section and adjust by any amount involved in adjusting the uniform price for excess milk to the nearest cent;

(g) Divide the amount obtained in paragraph (f) of this section by the total hundredweight of base milk included in these computations;

(h) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents from the amount computed pursuant to paragraph (g) of this section. The resulting figure shall be the uniform price for base milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from producers.

PAYMENTS

§ 905.80 Time and method of payment. Each handler shall make payment as follows:

(a) On or before the 15th day after the end of the month during which the milk was received, to each producer for whom payment is not made pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section, at not less than the applicable uniform price(s) pursuant to § 905.71 or § 905.72, adjusted by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 905.81, less the amount of the payment made pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section and deductions authorized by the producer.

(b) On or before the last day of each month, to each producer (1) for whom payment is not made pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section and (2) who has not discontinued delivery of milk to such handler, an advance payment with respect to milk received from such producer during the first 15 days of such month computed at not less than the Class II price for 4 percent milk for the preceding month, without deduction for hauling;

(c) On or before the 13th and 27th days of each month, in lieu of payments pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) respectively, of this section, to a cooperative association which so requests, with respect to producers whose milk was caused to be delivered to such handler by such cooperative association and for whose milk such cooperative associations is authorized to collect payments, an amount equal to the sum of the individual payments otherwise payable to such producers.

§ 905.81 Producer butterfat differential. In making payments pursuant to § 905.80 (a) there shall be added to or subtracted from the uniform price for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of the milk received from the producer is above or below 4.0 percent, an amount computed by multiplying by 1.2 the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the mispoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago as reported by the Department during the month, dividing the resulting sum by 10, and rounding to the nearest one-tenth of a cent.

§ 905.82 Producer-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as the "producer-settlement fund", into which he shall deposit payments made by handlers pursuant to §§ 905.83, 905.61 (b) and 905.85 and out of which he shall make payments to handlers pursuant to §§ 905.84 and 905.85.

§ 905.83 Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 13th day after the end of the month during which the milk was received, each handler, including a cooperative association which is a handler, shall pay to the market administrator the amount, if any, by which the value of the milk received by such handler from producers as determined pursuant to § 905.70 is greater than the amount required to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to § 905.80.

§ 905.84 Payment out of the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 14th day after the end of the month during which the milk was received, the market administrator shall pay to each handler, including a cooperative association which is a handler, the amount, if any, by which the value of the milk received by such handler from producers during the month as determined pursuant to § 905.70 is less than the amount required to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to § 905.80: Provided, That if the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payment pursuant to this paragraph, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available. No handler who has not received the balance of such payment from the market administrator shall be considered in violation of § 905.80 if he reduces his payments to producers by not more than the amount of the reduction in payment from the producer-settlement fund. The handler shall complete such payments to producers not later than the date for making such payments, next following after the receipt of the balance from the market administrator.

§ 905.85 Adjustment of accounts. Whenever audit by the market administrator of any handler's reports, books, records, or accounts discloses errors resulting in moneys due (a) the market administrator from such handler, (b) such handler from the market administrator, or (c) any producer or cooperative association from such handler, the market administrator shall promptly notify such handler of any amount so due and payment thereof shall be made on or before the next date for making payments set forth in the provisions under which such error occurred.

§ 905.86 Marketing services—(a) Deductions. Except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, each handler, in making payments to producers (other than himself) pursuant to § 905.80 shall deduct 5 cents per hundredweight or such lesser amount as may be prescribed by the Secretary and shall pay such deductions to the market administrator on or before the 15th day after the end of such month. Such moneys shall be used by the market administrator to sample, test, and check the weights of milk received from producers and to provide producers with market information.

(b) Deductions with respect to members of a cooperative association. In the case of producers for whom a cooperative association is actually performing the services set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, each handler shall make, in lieu of the deduction specified in paragraph (a) of this section, such deductions from the payments to be made to such producers as may be authorized by the membership agreement or marketing contract between such cooperative association and such producers and on or before the 15th day after the end of such month pay such deduction to the cooperative association rendering such services.

§ 905.87 Expense of administration. As his pro rata share of the expense of administration of this subpart, each handler shall pay to the market administrator on or before the 15th day after the end of the month, 4 cents per hundredweight or such lesser amount as the Secretary may prescribe with respect to all receipts within the month of (a) other source milk which is classified as Class I, and (b) milk from producers including such handler's own production.

§ 905.88 Termination of obligation. The provisions of this section shall apply to any obligation under this subpart for the payment of money.

(a) The obligation of any handler to pay money required to be paid under the terms of this subpart shall, except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, terminate two years after the last day of the calendar month during which the market administrator receives the handler's utilization report on the milk involved in such obligation, unless within such two year period the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that such money is due and payable. Service of such notice shall be complete upon mailing to the handler's last known address, and it shall contain but need not be limited to, the following information:

(1) The amount of the obligation;

(2) The month(s) during which the milk, with respect to which the obligation exists, was received or handled; and

(3) If the obligation is payable to one or more producers or to an association of producers, the name of such producer(s) or association of producers, or if the obligation is payable to the market administrator, the account for which it is to be paid.

(b) If a handler fails or refuses, with respect to any obligation under this subpart, to make available to the market administrator or his representative all books and records required by this subpart to be made available, the market administrator may within the two year period provided for in paragraph (a) of this section notify the handler in writing of such failure or refusal. If the market administrator so notifies a handler, the said two year period with respect to such obligation shall not begin to run until the first day of the calendar month following the month during which all such books and records pertaining to such obligation are made available to the market administrator or his representatives.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, a handler's obligation under this subpart to pay money shall not be terminated with respect to any transaction involving fraud or willful concealment of a fact, material to the obligation, on the part of the handler against whom the obligation is sought to be imposed.

(d) Any obligation on the part of the market administrator to pay a handler any money which such handler claims to be due him under the terms of this subpart shall terminate two years after the end of the calendar month during which the milk involved in the claim was received if an underpayment is claimed, or two years after the end of the calendar month during which the payment (including deduction or set-off by the market administrator) was made by the handler if a refund on such payment is claimed, unless such handler, within the applicable period of time, files, pursuant to section 8 (c) (15) (A) of the act, a petition claiming such money.

EFFECTIVE TIME, SUSPENSION OR TERMINATION

§ 905.90 Effective time. The provisions of this subpart or any amendment hereto shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated pursuant to § 905.91.

§ 905.91 Suspension or termination. The Secretary may suspend or terminate this subpart or any provision hereof whenever he finds this subpart or any provision hereof obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. This subpart shall terminate in any event whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

§ 905.92 Continuing obligations. If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions of this subpart, there are any obligations hereunder the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any person (including the market administrator), such further acts shall be performed notwithstanding such suspension or termination.

§ 905.93 Liquidation. Upon the suspension or termination of the provisions of this subpart, except this section, the market administrator, or such other liquidating agent as the Secretary may designate, shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office, dispose of all property in his possession or control, including accounts receivable, and execute and deliver all assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to effectuate any such disposition. If a liquidating agent is so designated, all assets, books, and records of the market administrator shall be transferred promptly to such liquidating agent. If, upon such liquidation, the funds on hand exceed the amounts required to pay outstanding obligations of the office of the market administrator and to pay necessary expenses of liquidation and distribution, such excess shall be distributed to contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

§ 905.100 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions of this subpart.

§ 905.101 Separability of provisions. If any provision of this subpart, or its application to any person or circumstances, is held invalid, the application of such provision and of the remaining provisions of this subpart to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

PART 907—MILK IN THE MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN, MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING HANDLING

§ 907.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, on February 9, 1954, upon proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is hereby found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all the terms and conditions of said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk produced for sale in the said marketing area as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for such milk and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making effective not later than March 1, 1954, this order amending the order, as amended. This action is necessary in the public interest to reflect the current marketing conditions. Accordingly, any delay in the effective date of this order beyond the aforesaid date, will seriously impair orderly marketing of milk in the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, marketing area. The provisions of the said amendatory order are well known to handlers, the public hearing having been held on February 9, 1954, and a decision having been issued on February 18, 1954. Reasonable time under the circumstances has been afforded persons affected to prepare for its effective date. Therefore, it would be impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this amendatory order 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (see section 4 (c) Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.).

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping the milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended, which is marketed within the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, marketing area) of more than 50 percent of the milk which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said proposed marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means pursuant to the declared policy of the act of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who during the determined representative period (December 1953) were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. In § 907.51 (a) change the period at the end of the sentence to a comma and add the following: "but such decrease based on the supply-demand ratio shall not exceed 24 cents for the months of March through August 1954."

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

PART 941—MILK IN THE CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING HANDLING

§ 941.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held at Chicago, Illinois, on February 8, 1954, upon proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is hereby found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions of said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk produced for sale in said marketing area as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for such milk and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making effective not later than March 1, 1954, this order amending the order, as amended. This action is necessary in the public interest to reflect current marketing conditions. Accordingly, any delay in the effective date of this order beyond the aforesaid date, will seriously impair orderly marketing of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area. The provisions of the said amendatory order are well known to handlers, the public hearing having been held on February 8, 1954, and a decision having been issued on February 18, 1954. Reasonable time under the circumstances has been accorded persons affected to prepare for its effective date. Therefore, it would be impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this amendatory order 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (see section 4 (c), Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.).

(c) Determination. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping the milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended, which is marketed within the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area) of more than 50 percent of the milk which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said proposed marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means pursuant to the declared policy of the act of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who during the determined representative period (December 1953) were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. In § 941.52 (a) (1) change the period at the end of the sentence to a comma and add the following: "but such decrease based on the supply-demand ratio shall not be more than 24 cents for the months of March through August 1954."

PART 942—MILK IN THE NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA, MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING HANDLING

§ 942.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the New Orleans, Louisiana, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions of said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk produced for sale in the said marketing area as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for such milk, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is necessary, in the public interest, to make this order, amending the order, as amended, effective not later than March 1, 1954. Any delay beyond that date in the effective date of this order would unnecessarily postpone needed changes in the provisions of the order.

The provisions of the said order are well known to handlers. The recommended decision containing all amendment provisions of this order was issued February 9, 1954 (19 F. R. 823). The decision of the Secretary concerning the proposed amendments was issued February 18, 1954. The changes affected by this order will not require extensive preparation or substantial alteration in method of operation for handlers. It is hereby found, therefore, that good cause exists for making this order effective March 1, 1954. (Sec. 4 (c), Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.)

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended, which is marketed within the New Orleans, Louisiana, marketing area) of more than 50 percent of the milk which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said proposed marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means pursuant to the declared policy of the act of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is necessary, in the public interest, to make this order, amending the order, as amended, effective not later than March 1, 1954. Any delay beyond that date in the effective date of this order would unnecessarily postpone needed changes in the provisions of the order.

The provisions of the said order are well known to handlers. The recommended decision containing all amendment provisions of this order was issued February 9, 1954 (19 F. R. 823). The decision of the Secretary concerning the proposed amendments was issued February 18, 1954. The changes affected by this order will not require extensive preparation or substantial alteration in method of operation for handlers. It is hereby found, therefore, that good cause exists for making this order effective March 1, 1954. (Sec. 4 (c), Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.)

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended, which is marketed within the New Orleans, Louisiana, marketing area) of more than 50 percent of the milk which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said proposed marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means pursuant to the declared policy of the act of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum and who, during the determined representative period (December 1953), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, that on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the New Orleans, Louisiana, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended as follows:

1. Delete the proviso in § 942.9 and substitute therefor the following: "Provided, That any such transferring plant shall not be included in this definition during any month in which there is shipped from such plant only Class II milk as defined in § 942.41 (b), or during any of the months of September, October, November, and December, in which shipments of fluid whole milk or fluid skim milk from such plant are made to a plant described in paragraph (a) of this section on less than 20 days or during any other month in which such shipments are made on less than 5 days."

2. Delete that portion of § 942.22 (1) (1) and substitute therefor the following:

(1) On or before the 6th day after the end of each delivery period the Class II price of skim milk and butterfat for such delivery period;

* * * * *

3. In the proviso of that portion of § 942.41 which precedes paragraph (a), delete the words "or Class III milk."

4. Delete § 942.41 (a) (3) and substitute therefor the following:

(3) Not specifically accounted for as Class II milk.

5. Delete § 942.41 (b), (c) and (d) and substitute therefor a new paragraph as follows:

(b) Class II milk shall be (1) all skim milk and butterfat used to produce any item other than those classified as Class I milk; (2) skim milk and butterfat disposed of for livestock feed; (3) skim milk dumped; and (4) skim milk and butterfat accounted for as shrinkage but not in excess of 2 percent of receipts of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, from producers.

6. In § 942.42 (a) delete the words "or Class III milk."

7. Delete § 942.43 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 942.43 Transfers. Skim milk or butterfat disposed of by a handler during any delivery period in fluid form as milk, skim milk or cream by transfer to another plant shall be classified as follows:

(a) As Class I milk if transferred to the fluid milk plant of another handler (except a producer-handler), unless utilization in a product specified in § 942.41 (b) is mutually indicated in writing to the market administrator by both handlers on or before the 5th day after the end of the delivery period in which such transfer occurred: Provided, That the amount of skim milk or butterfat shall not exceed the total skim milk or butterfat so used during the delivery period by the transferee-handler: And provided further, That if either or both handlers have received other source milk, skim milk and butterfat so transferred shall be classified at both plants so as to return the highest available utilization to milk received from producers;

(b) As Class I milk if transferred to a producer-handler;

(c) As Class I milk if transferred to any plant other than a fluid milk plant unless:

(1) The handler claims utilization in a product specified in § 942.41 (b);

(2) The operator of such nonfluid milk plant maintains books and records showing the receipts and utilization of all skim milk and butterfat at such plant which are available if requested by the market administrator for the purpose of verification; and

(3) The utilization of skim milk and butterfat at such nonfluid milk plant in Class I milk, as defined in § 942.41 (a), is less than the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, received from the transferor-handler(s) and from dairy farmers whom the market administrator determines constitute the regular source of supply for fluid usage in such plant, in which case the skim milk and butterfat transferred shall be assigned to the remaining uses of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, during such delivery period, for which producers receive the highest rate of return after the similar assignment of the receipts of skim milk and butterfat from such dairy farmers.

8. In § 942.44 delete the words "Class II milk, and Class III" and substitute therefor the following: "and Class II."

9. Delete that portion of § 942.45 (a) (1) and substitute therefor the following:

(1) Subtract from the total pounds of skim milk in Class II milk the pounds of shrinkage in producer milk classified as Class II pursuant to § 942.41 (b);

* * * * *

10. In § 942.45 (a) (4) change the term "Class III" wherever it appears to "Class II."

11. Delete §§ 942.51, 942.52 and 942.53 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 942.51 Class II prices. Each handler shall pay producers, in the manner set forth in § 942.80, for skim milk and butterfat in milk received from them during each delivery period and classified as Class II skim milk and Class II butterfat, not less than the following prices per hundredweight:

(a) The price per hundredweight of butterfat shall be computed by multiplying by 105 from the effective date hereof through August 1954, and thereafter by 110, the simple average as computed by the market administrator of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of 92-score bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago as reported by the Department of Agriculture during the delivery period;

(b) The price per hundredweight of skim milk shall be any plus amount resulting from the following calculation:

(1) Multiply the price computed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section by 0.04;

(2) Subtract the amount computed pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph from the average of the basic or field prices reported to the market administrator to have been paid or to be paid for ungraded milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the delivery period at plants at the following locations:

PART 946—MILK IN THE LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY, MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED

§ 946.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Louisville, Kentucky, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions of said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk produced for sale in the said marketing area as determined pursuant to Section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for such milk, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is necessary, in the public interest, to make this order amending the order, as amended, effective not later than March 1, 1954. Any delay beyond that date in the effective date of this order would result in disorder in the marketing of milk. Outlets for milk for manufacturing purposes and for manufactured dairy products in the Louisville area are overburdened at the present time and are causing significant financial losses to Louisville handlers. Unless some relief is granted under the Class II pricing provisions of the order, handlers may be forced to refuse to accept milk from producers beyond their needs to maintain fluid operations. In order to provide an outlet for this milk and stabilize the market, it is necessary to make this amendment effective promptly.

The provisions of the said order are known to handlers, having been contained in a decision issued February 19, 1954. The changes effected by this order will not require extensive preparation or substantial alteration in method of operation for handlers. It is hereby found, therefore, that good cause exists for making this order effective March 1, 1954. (Sec. 4 (c); Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.)

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this order, amending the order, as amended, which is marketed within the Louisville, Kentucky, marketing area) of more than 50 percent of the milk which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said proposed marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of the order amending the order, as amended, as the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who, during the determined representative period (December 1953), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, that on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the Louisville, Kentucky, marketing area, shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, as follows:

1. Delete that portion of § 946.51 (b) which precedes subparagraph (1) thereof and substitute therefor the following:

(b) Class II milk. From the effective date hereof through July 1954, the price of Class II milk shall be the higher of the prices computed pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph.

2. Delete § 946.70 (e) and substitute therefor the following:

(e) From the effective date of this subpart through July 1954, deduct for each pound of butterfat in producer milk which was allocated to Class II pursuant to § 946.46 and which was either used in the production of butter or American type cheeses or assigned to such products pursuant to § 946.44, six cents or an amount obtained by dividing by 3.8 the difference between the Class II price and the price calculated pursuant to § 946.51 (b) (1), whichever is less.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 26th day of February 1954, to be effective on and after March 1, 1954.

PART 957—IRISH POTATOES GROWN IN CERTAIN DESIGNATED COUNTIES IN IDAHO, AND MALHEUR COUNTY, OREGON

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 957.311 Limitation of shipments—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 98 and Order No. 57, as amended (§§ 957.1 to 957.92), regulating the handling of Irish potatoes grown in certain designated counties in Idaho and Malheur County, Oregon, effective under the applicable provision of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Idaho-Eastern Oregon Potato Committee, established pursuant to said marketing agreement and order, as amended, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) in that (i) the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, (ii) more orderly marketing in the public interest, than would otherwise prevail, will be promoted by regulating the shipment of potatoes, in the manner set forth below, on and after the effective date of this section, and (iii) this section relieves restrictions on the handling of Irish potatoes grown in the aforesaid production area.

(b) Order. (1) During the period beginning at the effective time of this section, and ending on May 31, 1954, both dates inclusive, no handler shall ship (i) potatoes of the Russet Burbank or Netted Gem varieties unless such potatoes meet the requirements of the U. S. No. 1, or better grade, size A, 2 inch or 4 ounce minimum, (ii) any other grades of Russet Burbank or Netted Gem varieties of potatoes, up to but not including U. S. No. 1 grade, unless such potatoes meet the requirements of the U. S. No. 2, or better grade, 6 ounce minimum weight, (iii) potatoes of any other varieties unless such potatoes meet the requirements of the U. S. No. 2, or better grade, 2 inch minimum diameter or 4 ounce minimum weight, as such terms, grades, and sizes are defined in the U. S. Standards for Potatoes (§§ 51.1540 to 51.1559 of this title) including the tolerances set forth therein: Provided, That potatoes meeting the aforesaid grade and size requirements which are shipped for potato chip manufacture may be commingled in the handling thereof.

(2) Pursuant to § 957.55, each handler may ship not in excess of five hundredweight per week without regard to the limitations set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph and §§ 957.42 and 957.65.

(3) The limitations set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall not be applicable to shipments of potatoes for the following purposes: (i) Seed, (ii) export, (iii) canning, dehydration, or manufacture or conversion into starch, flour, meal, and alcohol, and (iv) charity.

(4) Each handler making shipments of potatoes for manufacture into potato chips pursuant to the proviso in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph and shipments of potatoes pursuant to subparagraph (3) of this paragraph (i) shall first obtain, in accordance with §§ 957.130 to 957.133, inclusive, from the committee a Certificate of Privilege for such handling, (ii) shall have each of such shipments (except shipments for seed) inspected pursuant to § 957.65, (iii) shall pay assessments on such shipments pursuant to § 957.42, (iv) shall, with respect to each shipment made pursuant to subdivision (ii), (iii), or (iv) of subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, furnish a copy of the bill of lading applicable thereto to the committee, (v) shall, with respect to each shipment made pursuant to subdivision (ii) of subparagraph (3) of this paragraph include in his application for the Certificate of Privilege therefor, the export license number and shall enter such number on the Federal-State inspection certificate and bill of lading applicable to such shipment or, in the event no export license is required on such shipment, the handler shall furnish the committee with a copy of the Department of Commerce Shippers Export Declaration Form No. 7525-V applicable to such shipment, and (vi) shall, with respect to each application for a Certificate of Privilege to ship potatoes (a) for manufacture into potato chips pursuant to the proviso in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph or (b) pursuant to subdivision (iii) or (iv) of subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, submit the applicant-handler's certification and the buyer's certification that the potatoes to be so shipped are to be used for the purposes stated in the application.

(5) Terms used in this section shall have the same meaning as when used in the marketing agreement and Order No. 57, as amended (§§ 957.1 to 957.92); and the aforementioned grades and sizes shall have the same meanings assigned these terms in the U. S. Standards for Potatoes (§§ 51.1540 to 51.1559 of this title), including the tolerances set forth therein.

(6) The provisions of § 957.310, effective June 22, 1953 (18 F. R. 3380), as from time to time amended, are hereby terminated as of the effective date of this section.

The regulation limiting shipments of potatoes, pursuant to the amended marketing agreement and order, that was issued on June 10, 1953 (18 F. R. 3380), effective on June 22, 1953, has since had four amendments. In order to facilitate references to the respective amendments and to prescribe a modification of the terms thereof, § 957.310 is being terminated and superseded by this section.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 and Sup. 608c)

PART 965—MILK IN THE CINCINNATI, OHIO, MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED

§ 965.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity, specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making this order amending the order, as amended, effective not later than March 1, 1954. Such action is necessary in the public interest in order to reflect current marketing conditions and to insure the orderly marketing of available milk supplies. Accordingly, any further delay in the effective date of this order amending the order, as amended, will seriously impair the orderly marketing of milk produced for the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area. The regulatory provisions of this order amending the order, as amended, are such that little or no preparation prior to its effective date will be required of handlers regulated thereunder. Under these circumstances the handlers will be afforded reasonable time for any such preparations as may be necessary. Therefore, it is impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this order amending the order, as amended, until at least 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, and good cause exists, pursuant to section 4 (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1000) for making this order amending the order, as amended, effective March 1, 1954.

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, which is marketed within the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area) of more than 50 percent of the milk which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said proposed marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who, during the determined representative period (December 1953), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. Replace the period at the end of § 965.8 with a colon and add the following proviso to such section: "Provided further, That this definition shall not be deemed to include for the months of March, April, May, June and July 1954 any such person with respect to milk produced on a farm from which milk was delivered on 15 or more days during February 1954 to a milk processing plant which is not a pool plant but from which milk is disposed of in fluid form on routes wholly outside the marketing area."

2. Delete that portion of § 965.51 (c) which precedes subparagraph (1) thereof and substitute therefor the following:

(c) The price for Class III milk during each of the months of March through August, inclusive, shall be the higher of the prices per hundredweight computed pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph; and the price of Class III milk during each of the months of September through February, inclusive, shall be the higher of such computed prices plus 30 cents: Provided, That the price for Class III milk during each of the months of March through July 1954, inclusive, shall be the higher of the prices per hundredweight computed pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph less 17.5 cents.

3. Delete § 965.51 (d) and substitute therefor the following:

(d) The price for Class IV milk shall be the price of Class III milk less 17.5 cents: Provided, That for each of the months of March through July 1954, inclusive, the price of Class IV milk shall be the same as the price of Class III milk.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 26th day of February 1954 to be effective on and after March 1, 1954.

PART 967—MILK IN THE SOUTH BEND-LA PORTE, INDIANA, MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING HANDLING

§ 967.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of the previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held at Chicago, Illinois, on February 8, 1954 upon proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the South Bend-La Porte, Indiana, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record theerof, it is hereby found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all the terms and conditions of said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk produced for sale in the said marketing area as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for such milk and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making effective not later than March 1, 1954, this order amending the order, as amended. This action is necessary in the public interest to reflect current marketing conditions. Accordingly, any delay in the effective date of this order beyond the aforesaid date will seriously impair orderly marketing of milk in the South Bend-La Porte, Indiana, marketing area. The provisions of the said amendatory order are well known to handlers, the public hearing having been held on February 8, 1954, and a decision having been issued on February 18, 1954. Reasonable time under the circumstances has been afforded persons affected to prepare for its effective date. Therefore, it would be impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this amendatory order 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (see sec. 4 (c) Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.).

(c) Determination. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping the milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended, which is marketed within the South Bend-La Porte, Indiana, marketing area) of more than 50 percent of the milk which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said proposed marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means pursuant to the declared policy of the act of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who during the determined representative period (December 1953) were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the South Bend-La Porte, Indiana, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. In § 967.51 (a) change the period at the end of the sentence to a comma and add the following: "but such decrease based on the supply-demand ratio shall not be more than 24 cents for the months of March through August 1954."

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 26th day of February 1954, to be effective on and after the 1st day of March 1954.

[SEAL] JOHN H. DAVIS,
Assistant Secretary of Agriculture.

[F. R. Doc. 54-1492; Filed, Mar. 2, 1954; 8:54 a. m.]

AUTHORITY: §§ 997.1 through 997.102 issued under § 5, 48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c.

§ 997.0 Findings and determinations—(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. (1) The findings hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations (14 F. R. 5667 and 5694) which were made in connection with the original issuance of this marketing order, and all of such previous findings and determinations, other than the finding as to the base period for the parity computation, are hereby ratified and confirmed, except insofar as such previous findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings set forth herein:

(2) The amended order, as hereinafter set forth, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(3) Said amended order will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activities specified, or necessarily included, in the proposals upon which the amendment hearing was held;

(4) There are no differences in the production and marketing of filberts in the production area to be covered by said amended order which make necessary different terms or provisions applicable to different parts of said area.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby further found that is is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to postpone this order 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. (See 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.). The amended order establishes eligibility requirements with respect to members and alternate members of the Filbert Control Board representing growers who do not market their filberts through cooperative handlers (i. e. independent growers) and adopts a new procedure for the nomination of such representatives. The amended order also provides that nominations for member and alternate member positions on the board shall be reported to the Secretary on or before March 20 of each fiscal year. This means that the nomination elections held to obtain the names of nominess to be submitted must be held prior to March 20. It is desirable that the board have as much time as practicable prior to March 20 to prepare for and conduct the nomination elections for independent grower representatives in accordance with the provisions of the amended order. The provisions of the amended order are well known to the growers and handlers of filberts and all known interested parties have been furnished copies of this amended regulation. Compliance with the provisions of the amended order will not require any advance preparation by any interested persons.

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that: (1) The marketing agreement, as amended, regulating the handling of filberts grown in Oregon and Washington, which included the amendments upon which the aforesaid public hearing also was held has been executed by handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers which are not engaged in processing, distributing, or shipping filberts covered by this amended order) who handled not less than 50 percent of the volume of such filberts covered by this amended order;

(2) The issuance of this amended order is favored or approved by at least two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum on the question of its approval and who, during the determined representative period (August 1, 1953 through December 31, 1953), were engaged within the States of Oregon and Washington in the production for markets of filberts; and

(3) The issuance of this amended order is favored or approved by producers who participated in a referendum on the question of its approval and who, during the aforesaid representative period, produced for market at least two-thirds of the volume of filberts represented in such referendum and produced within the States of Oregon and Washington.

Order relative to handling. It is, therefore, ordered, that the handling of filberts grown in Oregon and Washington shall, from the effective time of this amended order, be in conformity to, and in compliance with the terms and conditions of this amended order:

FILBERT CONTOL BOARD

§ 997.30 Establishment and membership. A control board consisting of seven members, with an alternate member for each such member, is hereby established.

§ 997.31 Selection and term of office. (a) Members and their respective alternates shall be selected annually by the Secretary for a term of one year beginning with the first Tuesday after the first Monday in April, and shall serve until their respective successors shall be selected and shall qualify. One member and one alternate member shall be selected from nominees submitted by each of the following groups, which nominees shall be eligible members of the respective groups which nominate them, or from among other eligible members of the respective groups:

(1) The cooperative handlers;

(2) All handlers, other than the cooperative handlers;

(3) The group of cooperative handlers or the group of other than cooperative handlers, whichever during the preceding fiscal year handled more than 50 percent of the merchantable filberts handled by all handlers;

(4) Those growers of filberts who market their filberts through cooperative handlers;

(5) All other growers of filberts;

(6) Those growers whose filberts were marketed during the preceding fiscal year through the handler group specified in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(b) The following additional restrictions shall apply to the growers who do not market their filberts through cooperative handlers: (1) Such a grower may not vote in a nomination election for a representative of his group if, during that portion of the fiscal year up to the time of such election, he handled any filberts which were produced by another grower, and such a grower shall not be selected to serve as a representative of that group, if, during the fiscal year in which the nomination election is held, he handled any filberts which were produced by another grower; and (2) such a grower who, at any time during the fiscal year in which the nomination election is held, was employed by a filbert handler shall not be selected to serve as such a representative, but he shall be entitled to vote in the nomination election.

(c) The seventh member and his alternate shall be selected after the selection of the first six members as provided for in this section, and after opportunity for such six members to nominate a seventh member and his alternate, who shall not be members of any of the six groups described in this section.

§ 997.32 Nominations for members and alternates. (a) Each of the six groups specified in § 997.31 may nominate one person as member and one person as alternate; and the six members first selected by the Secretary may nominate, by majority vote, one person as member and one person as alternate for that member. Nominations for each handler group shall be submitted on the basis of ballots to be mailed by the control board to all handlers in such group whose pack for the preceding fiscal year is on record with the control board. Nominations on behalf of growers who market their filberts through cooperative handlers shall be submitted on the basis of ballot cast by each cooperative handler for its grower patrons.

(b) Nominations on behalf of growers who market their filberts through other than cooperative handlers shall be submitted after balloting by such growers conducted as follows: Names of the grower candidates to accompany the ballot shall be submitted to the control board prior to February 10 of each fiscal year on petitions signed by not less than 10 growers who market their filberts through other than cooperative handlers and who are of record with the control board; each grower may sign only as many petitions as there are persons to be nominated; ballots accompanied by the list of candidates submitted by petitions, together with instructions, shall be mailed to all growers who market their filberts through other than cooperative handlers and who are of record with the control board; each ballot shall contain appropriate blank spaces for the voter to indicate his choice for each member position and for each alternate member position which is to be filled; the qualified person receiving the highest number of votes for a particular position shall be the nominee for that position, except that, in case of a tie, the names of the tied candidates shall be submitted. If the Secretary determines that this procedure is unsatisfactory to the growers who market their filberts through other than cooperative handlers because it is too difficult or costly to administer, it does not result in the names of a sufficient number of qualified candidates being submitted with the ballots, or it should be changed for other reasons, he may change this procedure through the formulation and issuance of superseding regulations.

(c) All votes cast by cooperative handlers, handlers other than cooperative handlers, or for cooperative growers, shall be weighted according to the tonnage of merchantable filberts (computed to the nearest whole ton in case of fractions) recorded by the control board as certified for handling by the handler or for the cooperative grower group during the preceding fiscal year, and if less than one ton is recorded for any such handler or grower group, its vote shall be weighted as one vote. All votes cast by individual growers shall be given equal weight. Nominations received in the foregoing manner by the control board shall be reported to the Secretary on or before March 20 of each fiscal year, together with a certificate of all necessary data and other information deemed by the board to be pertinent or requested by the Secretary. If such nominations of any group are not submitted as hereinbefore provided to the Secretary on or before that date, the Secretary may select the representatives of that group without nomination. If nominations for the seventh member or his alternate are not submitted on or before April 15 of any year, the Secretary may select such member or alternate without nomination.

§ 997.33 Qualification. Any person selected as a member or alternate of the control board shall qualify by filing a written acceptance of his appointment with the Secretary or his designated representative. Any member or alternate, who at the time of his selection, was a member of, or employed by a member of the group which nominated him and who thereafter ceases to be such a member or employee shall thereupon become disqualified to serve further and his position on the control board shall be deemed vacant. In the event any member or alternate member of the control board qualified and selected, in accordance with the provisions of §§ 997.31 and 997.32, to represent growers who market their filberts through other than cooperative handlers should, during his term of office, handle filberts produced by other growers, or become an employee of a handler, his position on the control board shall thereupon be deemed to be vacant: Provided, That these disqualification provisions shall not apply to any initial representative of such growers for the term which began in April 1953 in connection with the continuance, for the balance of such term, of either such prohibited handling or employment situation which existed when he was selected and qualified.

§ 997.34 Alternates. An alternate for a member of the control board shall act in the place and stead of such member (a) in his absence, or (b) in the event of his death, removal, resignation, or disqualification, until a successor for his unexpired term has been selected and has qualified.

§ 997.35 Temporary substitutes. In the event any member of the control board and his alternate are both unable to attend a meeting of the control board, any alternate for any other member nominated by the same group that nominated the absent member may serve in the place and stead of the absent member and his alternate, or in the event such other alternate cannot attend, or there is no such other alternate, such member or, in the event of his disability or a vacancy, his alternate may designate, subject to the disapproval of the Secretary, a temporary substitute to attend such meeting. At such meeting such temporary substitute may act in the place and stead of such member.

For the purposes of this section a cooperative handler group and a cooperative grower group shall be considered the same group.

§ 997.36 Vacancy. To fill any vacancy occasioned by the death, removal, resignation, or disqualification of any member or alternate of the control board, a successor for his unexpired term shall be selected in the manner provided in § 997.32, so far as applicable, within 30 days after such vacancy occurs.

§ 997.37 Expenses. The members of the control board shall serve without compensation, but shall be allowed their necessary expenses.

§ 997.38 Powers. The control board shall have the following powers:

(a) To administer the provisions of this subpart in accordance with its terms;

(b) To make rules and regulations to effectuate the terms and provisions of this subpart;

(c) To receive, investigate, and report to the Secretary complaints of violations of this subpart;

(d) To recommend to the Secretary amendments to this subpart.

§ 997.39 Duties. The duties of the control board shall be among other things as follows:

(a) To act as intermediary between the Secretary and any handler or grower;

(b) To keep minute books and records which will clearly reflect all of its acts and transactions, and such minute books and records shall at any time be subject to the examination of the Secretary;

(c) To furnish to the Secretary such available information as he may request;

(d) To appoint such employees as it may deem necessary and to determine the salaries, define the duties and fix the bonds of such employees;

(e) To cause the books of the control board to be audited by one or more competent public accountants at least once for each fiscal year and at such other times as the control board deems necessary or as the Secretary may request, and to file with the Secretary three copies of all audit reports made; and

(f) To investigate the growing, shipping, and marketing conditions with respect to filberts and to assemble data in connection therewith.

§ 997.40 Procedure—(a) Organization and rules. The members of the control board shall select a chairman from their membership and all communications from the Secretary may be addressed to the chairman at such address as may from time to time be filed with the Secretary. The board shall select such other officers and adopt such rules for the conduct of its business as it may deem advisable. The board shall give to the Secretary or his designated agent and representatives the same notice of meetings of the control board as is given to members of the board.

(b) Quorum. All decisions of the control board, except where otherwise specifically provided, shall be by a majority vote of the members present. The presence of five members shall be required to constitute a quorum.

(c) Permissive method of voting. The control board may vote by mail or telegram upon due notice to all members: Provided, That voting by mail or telegram shall not be permitted at any assembled meeting of the board. When any proposition is submitted for voting by such method, one dissenting vote shall prevent its adoption by that method.

(d) Right of the Secretary. The members of the control board (including successors, alternates, or other persons selected by the Secretary), and any agent or employee appointed or employed by the control board, shall be subject to removal or suspension by the Secretary, in his discretion, at any time. Each and every order, regulation, decision, determination, or other act of the control board shall be subject to the continuing right of the Secretary to disapprove of the same at any time, and, upon such disapproval, shall be deemed null and void except as to acts done in reliance thereon or in compliance therewith.

CONTROL OF DISTRIBUTION

§ 997.50 Pack specifications and minimum standards—(a) General restrictions as to handling. In order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, and except as otherwise provided in §§ 997.53 and 997.76, no handler shall handle any unshelled filberts except those which have been certified by the control board as merchantable filberts.

(b) Merchantable filberts. Unless and until modified by the Secretary, after consideration of the control board's recommendations and other available pertinent data, unshelled filberts shall be deemed to be merchantable if they meet the following requirements:

(1) As to pack specifications, such filberts shall be "U. S. No. 1, Jumbo," "U. S. No. 1, Large," or "U. S. No. 1, Medium," as now defined in the United States Standards for filberts in the shell (13 F. R. 4623), except that the portion of the tolerance provision in the U. S. No. 1 grade, for grade requirements, other than for type and size, reading "not more than five percent shall be allowed for blanks" shall not be applicable; and

(2) As to minimum standards of quality, shall be U. S. No. 1 grade as defined in the aforementioned standards, with the aforesaid modified tolerance as to blanks, and the lower limit of medium size as defined in such United States Standards for filberts in the shell.

(c) Small size filberts for export. Unless and until modified by the Secretary, after consideration of the control board's recommendations and other available pertinent data, unshelled filberts which are below the minimum requirements for merchantable filberts, as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, only with respect to size may be exported pursuant to the provisions of § 997.76 if they meet the following size requirements: Round type filberts which will not pass through a round opening $^{49}/_{64}$ of an inch in diameter but will pass through a round opening $^{45}/_{64}$ of an inch in diameter, and long type filberts which will not pass through a round opening $^{35}/_{64}$ of an inch in diameter but will pass through a round opening $^{35}/_{64}$ of an inch in diameter: Provided, That 12 percent, by count, shall be allowed for those filberts which fail to meet these size requirements but not more than $^{5}/_{8}$ of this amount, or 10 percent, shall be allowed for filberts which pass through the smallest opening specified for the respective type.

(d) Modifications. The aforementioned pack specifications and minimum standards for unshelled filberts as prescribed in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section may be modified, at any time that it appears that such action would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, in which event unshelled filberts desired to be certified must meet the applicable modified pack specifications and minimum standards in order to be considered as merchantable filberts or as small size filberts for export, as the case may be.

(e) Above parity situations. The provisions of this section relating to minimum standards of quality for merchantable unshelled filberts or small size filberts for export, as the case may be, and the applicable grading and inspection requirements pertaining thereto, within the meaning of section 2 (3) of the act, and any other provisions relating to the administration and enforcement thereof, shall continue in effect irrespective of whether the estimated season average price for filberts is in excess of the parity level specified in section 2 (1) of the act.

§ 997.51 Certification of merchantable filberts and small size filberts for export. Each handler, at his own expense, shall obtain a certificate for each lot of merchantable filberts handled or to be handled by him, and for each lot of surplus merchantable filberts, and also for each lot of small size filberts for export disposed, or to be disposed, of by him as agent for the control board. Said certificates shall be obtained from the Federal-State Inspection Service. All such certificates shall show, in addition to such other information as the control board may specify, the identity of the handler, if for export, the country of destination, the quantity and pack of filberts in such lot, markings (if any) on the containers, including brands or labels, and that the filberts covered by such certificates conform to the pack specifications and minimum standards of quality prescribed pursuant to § 997.50 for merchantable filberts or for small size filberts for export, as the case may be. All lots so inspected and certified shall be identified by appropriate seals, stamps, or tags to be affixed to the containers by the handler under the direction and supervision of the control board, or of the Federal-State Inspection Service.

§ 997.52 Copies of certificates. The inspector shall furnish to the control board as many copies of each such certificate as it may request.

§ 997.53 Filberts for packing or shelling. Nothing contained in this part shall be construed to prevent any person from selling or delivering, within the area of production, unshelled filberts, other than merchantable filberts, to any packer for packing or sheller for shelling.

MERCHANTABLE SURPLUS CONTROL

§ 997.60 Salable and surplus percentages for merchantable filberts. The salable and surplus percentages for merchantable filberts for each fiscal year shall be fixed by the Secretary at such amounts as in his judgment will most effectively tend to accomplish the purposes of the act. In fixing such salable and surplus percentages, the Secretary shall give consideration to the ratio of the estimated trade demand to the sum of the estimated production of merchantable filberts and the handler carryover (with appropriate adjustment for such handler carryover as may have theretofore contributed to merchantable surplus), the recommendation submitted to him by the control board, and such other pertinent data as he deems appropriate. The total of the salable and surplus percentages as fixed each fiscal year shall equal 100 percent.

§ 997.61 Increase of salable percentage. At any time prior to February 15 of any fiscal year, the Secretary may, on request of the control board (or if the control board shall fail so to request, on request of two or more packers who have handled during the immediately preceding fiscal year at least ten percent of the total tonnage handled by all packers during such fiscal year) and after a finding of fact, based on such revised and current information as may be pertinent, that the merchantable filberts available for handling will not be sufficient to supply the trade demand, increase the salable percentage to conform to such new relation as may be found to exist between trade demand and available supply.

§ 997.62 Estimated carryover, trade demand, and production. (a) To aid the Secretary in fixing the salable and surplus percentages for merchantable filberts, the board shall furnish to the Secretary, not later than August 20 of each fiscal year, the following estimates and recommendation, each of which shall be adopted by at least a majority vote of the entire control board:

(1) Its estimate of the quantity of merchantable filberts to be produced and packed during such year;

(2) Its estimate of handler carryover as of August 1;

(3) Its estimate of trade carryover as of August 1;

(4) Its estimate of the total trade demand (on the basis of prices not exceeding the maximum prices contemplated in section 2 of the act); in determining such trade demand consideration shall be given to the estimated trade carryover at the beginning and end of the fiscal year; and

(5) Its recommendation as to the salable and surplus percentages to be fixed for merchantable filberts.

(b) The board shall also furnish to the Secretary a complete report of the proceedings of the board meeting at which these recommended salable and surplus percentages to be fixed by the Secretary were adopted.

§ 997.63 Withholding percentage. The withholding percentage shall be the ratio (measured as a percentage) of the surplus percentage to the salable percentage for merchantable filberts. Such percentage shall be announced by the Secretary and, in its computation, may be adjusted by the Secretary to the nearest whole number.

§ 997.64 Withholding of merchantable surplus filberts. No handler shall handle merchantable unshelled filberts unless prior to or upon the shipment thereof (except as otherwise provided in § 997.65) he shall have withheld from handling a quantity of merchantable filberts equal to the withholding percentage, by weight of such quantity handled or certified for handling by him: Provided, That this requirement shall not apply to any lot of filberts for which the merchantable surplus obligation has been met by a previous holder. The quantity of filberts hereby required to be withheld shall constitute, and may be referred to as, the "merchantable surplus" or "surplus obligation" of a handler. The merchantable filberts handled by any handler in accordance with the provisions of this subpart shall be deemed to be that handler's quota fixed by the Secretary within the meaning of Section 8a (5) of the act.

§ 997.65 Postponement of withholding merchantable surplus upon filing bond—(a) Privilege. Compliance by any packer with the requirements of § 997.64 as to the time when merchantable surplus filberts shall be withheld shall be deferred to any date desired by the packer, but not later than December 31 of the fiscal year, upon the voluntary execution and delivery by such packer to the control board, before he handles any merchantable filberts of such fiscal year, of a written undertaking that on or prior to such date he will have fully satisfied his merchantable surplus obligation required by § 997.64.

(b) Bonding requirement. Such undertaking shall be secured by a bond or bonds to be filed with and acceptable to the control board, and with a surety or sureties acceptable to the control board, in the amount or amounts stated below conditioned upon full compliance with such undertaking. Such bond or bonds shall, at all times during their effective period, be in such amounts that the aggregate thereof shall be no less than the total bonding value of the packer's deferred merchantable surplus obligation. The bonding value shall be the deferred merchantable surplus obligation poundage bearing the lowest bonding rate or rates, which could have been selected from the packs handled or certified for handling, multiplied by the applicable bonding rate. The cost of such bond or bonds shall be borne by the packer filing same.

(c) Bonding rate. Said bonding rate for each pack shall be an amount per pound representing the season's domestic price for such pack net to packer f. o. b. shipping point which shall be computed at 95 percent of the opening price for such pack announced by the packer or packers who during the preceding fiscal year handled more than 50 percent of the merchantable filberts handled by all packers. Such packer or packers shall be selected in order of volume handled in the preceding fiscal year, using the minimum number of packers to represent a volume of more than 50 percent of the total volume handled. If such opening prices involve different prices announced by two or more packers for respective packs, the prices so announced shall be averaged on the basis of the quantity of such packs handled during the preceding fiscal year by each such packer.

§ 997.66 Disposition of sums collected through default on bonds—(a) Filbert purchases. Any sums collected through default of a packer on his bond shall be used by the control board to purchase, from packers, as provided in this paragraph, a quantity of merchantable filberts not to exceed the total quantity represented by the sums collected. Purchases shall be made from the salable percentages with respect to which the merchantable surplus obligation has been met and at the bonding rate for each pack. The control board shall at all times purchase the lowest priced packs offered and the purchases shall be made from the various packers as nearly as practicable in proportion to the quantity of their respective offerings of the pack or packs to be purchased.

(b) Unexpended sums. Any unexpended sums, which have been collected by the control board through default of a packer on his bond, remaining in the possession of the control board at the end of a fiscal year shall be used to reimburse the board for its expenses, including administrative and other costs incurred in the collection of such sums, and in the purchase of merchantable filberts as provided in paragraph (a) of this section. Any balance remaining after reimbursement of such expenses shall be distributed among all handlers in proportion to the quantity of merchantable filberts handled or certified for handling by them during the fiscal year in which the default occurred.

(c) Transfer of filbert purchases. Filberts purchased as provided in this paragraph shall be turned over to those packers, who have defaulted on their bonds, for disposal by them as merchantable surplus. The quantity delivered to each packer shall be that quantity represented by the sums collected through default, and the different grades, if any, shall be apportioned among the various packers on the basis of the quantity of filberts to be delivered to each packer to the total quantity purchased by the control board with bonding funds.

§ 997.67 Collection upon bonds. Collection upon any bond or bonds filed pursuant to the provisions of § 997.65 shall be deemed a satisfaction of the merchantable surplus obligation represented by such collection: Provided, That the filberts purchased by the control board with funds collected under bonds and subsequently turned over to such packers are used only for the purposes provided in §§ 997.74 and 997.75.

§ 997.68 Interhandler transfers for merchantable surplus. For the purpose of meeting his merchantable surplus obligation, any handler may, upon notice to and under the supervision and direction of the control board, acquire from another handler merchantable filberts with respect to which the merchantable surplus has not been withheld and any merchantable surplus obligation with respect to any filberts so transferred shall be waived. If any such sales are made from filberts on which the merchantable surplus obligation has been met, the seller's merchantable surplus obligation shall be reduced accordingly upon proof satisfactory to the control board that the purchaser is withholding such filberts as merchantable surplus.

§ 997.69 Assistance of control board in accounting for merchantable surplus. The control board, on written request, may assist handlers in accounting for their merchantable surplus obligation and may aid any handler in acquiring merchantable filberts to meet any deficiency in a handler's merchantable surplus, or in accounting for and disposing of merchantable surplus filberts.

§ 997.70 Application of merchantable salable, surplus, and withholding percentages, and bonding rates, after end of fiscal year. (a) The merchantable salable, surplus, and withholding percentages established for any fiscal year shall continue in effect with respect to all merchantable filberts, for which the merchantable surplus obligation has not been previously met, which are handled or certified for handling as merchantable filberts by any handler after the end of such fiscal year and before merchantable salable, surplus, and withholding percentages are established for the succeeding fiscal year. After such percentages are established for the new fiscal year, the withholding requirements for all such filberts theretofore handled or certified for handling as merchantable filberts during that fiscal year shall be adjusted to the newly established percentages.

(b) The bonding rates established for any fiscal year shall continue in effect with respect to any bond or bonds executed and delivered pursuant to § 997.65 before the bonding rates for the new fiscal year are established. After such bonding rates are established for the new fiscal year, the new rates shall be applicable and any bond or bonds theretofore given for that fiscal year shall be adjusted to the new rates.

§ 997.71 Exchange of merchantable surplus filberts. Any handler who has withheld merchantable surplus filberts pursuant to the requirements of § 997.64 and has had the same certified as merchantable surplus filberts may exchange therefor an equal quantity, by weight, of other merchantable filberts. Any such exchange shall be made under the supervision and direction of the control board with appropriate inspection and certification of the filberts involved.

§ 997.72 Adjustment upon increase of merchantable salable percentage. Upon any increase in the merchantable salable percentage and corresponding decrease in the merchantable surplus and withholding percentages, the merchantable surplus obligation of each handler with respect to the filberts handled by him for the entire fiscal year shall be recomputed in accordance with such revised merchantable salable, surplus, and withholding percentages. From the merchantable surplus filberts still held by a handler and from such merchantable surplus filberts that may have been delivered by him to the control board pursuant to § 997.74, and still held by the control board, the handler shall be permitted to select, under the supervision and direction of the control board, the particular merchantable surplus filberts to be restored to his salable percentage.

§ 997.73 Prohibition against handling of merchantable surplus. Except as provided in §§ 997.74 and 997.75, or for any use other than for distribution as unshelled filberts in established trade channels, merchantable surplus filberts withheld pursuant to the requirements of § 997.64 shall not be handled by any person as unshelled filberts.

§ 997.74 Disposition of merchantable surplus by export. Sales of merchantable surplus filberts for shipment or export to destinations outside the Continental United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Canal Zone shall be made only by the control board. Any handler desiring to export any part or all of his merchantable surplus filberts shall deliver to the control board his merchantable surplus to be exported, but the control board shall be obligated to sell in export only such quantities for which it may be able to find satisfactory export outlets. Any filberts so delivered for export which the control board is unable to export shall be returned to the handler delivering them. Sales for export shall be made by the control board only on execution of an agreement to prevent reimportation into the United States; and in case of export to Canada or Mexico, such filberts shall be sold only on the basis of a delivered price, duty paid. A handler may be permitted to act as agent of the control board, upon such terms and conditions as the control board may specify, in negotiating export sales; and when so acting shall be entitled to receive a selling commission of five percent of the export sales price, f. o. b. area of production. The proceeds of all export sales, after deducting all expenses actually and necessarily incurred, shall be paid to the handler whose merchantable surplus filberts are so sold by the board.

§ 997.75 Disposal of merchantable surplus for shelling. (a) Any handler may shell his merchantable surplus filberts or deliver them for shelling to an authorized sheller. Any person who desires to become an authorized sheller in any fiscal year may submit an application to the control board. Such application shall be granted only upon condition that the applicant agrees:

(1) To use such merchantable surplus filberts as he may receive for no purpose other than shelling;

(2) To dispose of or deliver such merchantable surplus filberts, as unshelled filberts, to no one other than another authorized sheller;

(3) To comply fully with all laws and regulations applicable to the shelling of filberts;

(4) To report to the control board, immediately upon receipt of any lot of merchantable surplus filberts, the quantity and pack of the filberts so received and the identity of the person from whom received, and within 15 days after the disposition of such filberts, to report their disposition to the control board. All such reports shall be certified to the control board and to the Secretary as to their correctness and accuracy.

(b) The board, if it finds that such an application is made in good faith and if the applicant may be reasonably relied upon to fulfill and observe the conditions to which it has agreed, shall issue a letter of authority to such applicant to serve as an authorized sheller. Such letter of authority shall expire with the end of the fiscal year during which it is issued by the Board.

CONTROL OF SMALL SIZE FILBERTS FOR EXPORT

§ 997.76 Disposition of small size filberts by export. Sales of small size filberts meeting the pack specifications and minimum standards prescribed in § 997.50 (c) for shipment or export to destinations outside the Continental United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Canal Zone shall be made only by the control board. Any handler desiring to export any part, or all, of his small size filberts meeting these specifications shall deliver them to the control board to be exported, but the control board shall be obligated to sell in export only such quantities for which it may be able to find satisfactory export outlets. Any small size filberts so delivered for export which the control board is unable to export shall be returned to the handler delivering them. Sales for export shall be made by the control board only on execution of an agreement to prevent reimportation into the United States; and in case of export to Canada or Mexico, such small size filberts shall be sold only on the basis of a delivered price, duty paid. A handler may be permitted to act as agent of the control board, upon such terms and conditions as the control board may specify, in negotiating these export sales; and, when so acting, shall be entitled to receive a selling commission of five percent of the export sales price, f. o. b. area of production. The proceeds of all such export sales, after deducting all expenses actually and necessarily incurred, shall be paid to the handler whose small size filberts are so sold by the board.

REPORTS

§ 997.80 Reports of handler carryover of merchantable filberts. Each handler, on or before August 5 and January 15 of each fiscal year, shall file with the control board a written report, under oath, of all merchantable filberts (except filberts held as merchantable surplus) including the estimated quantity of merchantable filberts in ungraded lots intended for packing as merchantable filberts, by him held on the first day of August and the first day of January, respectively, showing the pack (if merchantable), and location thereof and the quantities;

(a) Which theretofore have been certified for handling, and on which the merchantable surplus obligation has previously been met;

(b) Which have been packed as merchantable filberts, but have not been certified; and

(c) Which are estimated as merchantable but have not been packed as merchantable filberts and are intended for packing as merchantable filberts.

§ 997.81 Reports of disposition of merchantable surplus. (a) Each handler, before he disposes of any quantity of merchantable surplus filberts held by him, shall file with the control board a report of his intention to dispose of such quantity of merchantable surplus filberts. This report shall be filed not less than five days prior to the date on which the merchantable surplus filberts are disposed of unless the five-day period is expressly waived by the control board.

(b) Each handler, within 15 days after the disposition of any quantity of merchantable surplus filberts, shall file with the control board a report of the actual disposition of such quantity of merchantable surplus filberts. Such reports shall be certified to the control board and to the Secretary as to their correctness and accuracy.

(c) Each handler, from time to time, on demand of the control board, shall file with the board a report of his holdings of merchantable surplus filberts as of any date specified by the board. Such report, at the request of the control board, may be in the form of a confirmation of the records of the control board of such handler's holdings. Such report shall be certified to the control board and to the Secretary as to its correctness and accuracy.

(d) All reports required by this section shall show the quantity, pack, and location of the filberts covered by such reports and in the case of reports required by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, the applicable handler's storage lot and inspection certificate numbers, and the disposition of the merchantable surplus which is intended or which has been accomplished.

§ 997.82 Other reports. Upon request of the control board, made with the approval of the Secretary, every handler shall furnish to the board, in such manner and at such times as it prescribes (in addition to such other reports as are specifically provided for in this subpart), such other information as will enable the control board to perform its duties and to exercise its powers under this subpart.

§ 997.83 Verification of reports. For the purpose of checking and verifying reports made by handlers to it, the control board through its duly authorized agents, shall have access to the handler's premises wherever filberts may be held by such handler and, at any time during reasonable business hours, shall be permitted to inspect any filberts so held by such handler and any and all records of the handler with respect to the holding or disposition of all filberts which may be held or which may have been disposed of by such handler. Every handler shall furnish all labor necessary to facilitate such inspections as the control board may make of such handler's holdings of any filberts. Every handler shall store merchantable surplus filberts in such manner as to facilitate inspection and shall maintain adequate storage records which will permit accurate identification with respect to control board certificates of respective lots of all such filberts held or theretofore disposed of.

§ 997.84 Confidential information. All reports and records furnished or submitted by handlers to the board which include data or information constituting a trade secret or disclosing of the trade position, financial condition, or business operations of the particular handler from whom received shall be received by and at all times kept in the custody and under the control of one or more employees of the board, who shall disclose such information to no person except the Secretary. Notwithstanding the above provisions of this section, information may be disclosed to the board when reasonably necessary to enable the board to carry out its functions under this part.

EXPENSES AND ASSESSMENTS

§ 997.90 Expenses. The control board is authorized to incur such expenses as the Secretary may find are reasonable and likely to be incurred by it during each fiscal year, for the maintenance and functioning of the control board and for such purposes as the Secretary may, pursuant to the provisions of this subpart, determine to be appropriate. The recommendation of the control board as to the expenses for each such fiscal year, together with all data supporting such recommendations, shall be submitted to the Secretary on or before August 20 of the fiscal year in connection with which such recommendation is made. The funds to cover such expenses shall be acquired by levying assessments as provided in § 997.91.

§ 997.91 Assessments. (a) Each handler shall pay to the control board on demand by the control board, from time to time, the sum of two-tenths of a cent for each pound of filberts certified for him, including those certified as merchantable filberts (including both salable and surplus) and those certified as small size filberts for export. At any time during or after a fiscal year, the Secretary may increase the rate of assessment to apply to all filberts so certified during such fiscal year, including those certified in said fiscal year prior to the date of such increase, to secure sufficient funds to cover the expenses authorized by § 997.90, or by any later finding by the Secretary relative to the expenses of the control board, and such additional assessments shall be paid by the handler on demand. At the end of any fiscal year for which the assessment rate may be increased by the Secretary, the rate shall revert to two-tenths of a cent a pound.

(b) Any money collected as assessments during any fiscal year and not expended in connection with the respective fiscal year's operations hereunder may be used and shall be refunded by the control board in accordance with the provisions of this subpart. Such excess funds may be used by the control board during the period of four months subsequent to such fiscal year in paying the expenses of the control board incurred in connection with the new fiscal year. The control board shall, however, from funds on hand, including assessments collected during the new fiscal year, distribute or make available, within five months after the beginning of the new fiscal year, the aforesaid excess to each handler from whom an assessment was collected, as aforesaid, in the proportion that the amount of the assessment paid by the respective handler bears to the total amount of the assessments paid by all handlers during said fiscal year.

(c) Any money collected from assessments under this subpart and remaining unexpended in the possession of the control board upon the termination of this subpart shall be distributed in such manner as the Secretary may direct.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

§ 997.95 Personal liability. No member or alternate member of the control board, or any employee or agent thereof, shall be held personally responsible, either individually or jointly with others, in any way whatsoever, to any handler or any other person for errors in judgment, mistakes, or other acts either of commission or omission, as such member, alternate member, agent or employee, except for acts of dishonesty.

§ 997.96 Separability. If any provision of this subpart is declared invalid, or the applicability thereof to any person, circumstance, or thing is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this subpart or the applicability thereof to any other person, circumstance, or thing shall not be affected thereby.

§ 997.97 Derogation. Nothing contained in this subpart is, or shall be construed to be, in derogation or in modification of the rights of the Secretary or of the United States to exercise any powers granted by the act or otherwise, or, in accordance with such powers, to act in the premises whenever such action is deemed advisable.

§ 997.98 Duration of immunities. The benefits, privileges, and immunities conferred upon any person by virtue of this subpart shall cease upon the termination of this subpart, except with respect to acts done under and during the existence of this subpart.

§ 997.99 Agents. The Secretary may, by a designation in writing, name any person, including any officer or employee of the United States Government, or name any bureau or division in the United States Department of Agriculture, to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions of this subpart.

§ 997.100 Effective time, termination or suspension—(a) Effective time. The provisions of this subpart, as well as any amendments to this subpart, shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare, and shall continue in force until terminated or suspended in one of the ways specified in this section.

(b) Suspension or termination. (1) The Secretary may, at any time, terminate the provisions of this subpart by giving at least one day's notice by means of a press release or in any other manner which he may determine.

(2) The Secretary shall terminate or suspend the operation of any or all of the provisions of this subpart whenever he finds that such provisions do not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(3) The Secretary shall terminate the provisions of this subpart at the end of any fiscal year whenever he finds that such termination is favored by a majority of the producers of filberts who during the preceding fiscal year have been engaged in the production for market of filberts in the States of Oregon and Washington: Provided, That such majority have during such period produced for market more than 50 percent of the volume of such filberts produced for market within said States; but such termination shall be effected only if announced on or before July 1 of the then current fiscal year.

(4) The provisions of this subpart shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act authorizing them ceases to be in effect.

(c) Proceedings after termination. (1) Upon the termination of the provisions of this subpart, the members of the control board then functioning shall continue as joint trustees for the purpose of liquidating the affairs of the control board, of all funds and property then in the possession or under the control of the board, including claims for any funds unpaid or property not delivered at the time of such termination. Action by said trusteeship shall require the concurrence of a majority of the said trustees.

(2) Said trustees shall continue in such capacity until discharged by the Secretary; shall, from time to time, account for all receipts and disbursements and deliver all property on hand, together with all books and records of the control board and the joint trustees, to such person as the Secretary may direct; and shall, upon the request of the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title and right to all of the funds, property, and claims vested in the control board or the joint trustees pursuant to this subpart.

(3) Any person to whom funds, property, or claims have been transferred or delivered by the control board or its members, pursuant to this section, shall be subject to the same obligations imposed upon the members of the said board and upon said joint trustees.

§ 997.101 Effect of termination or amendment. Unless otherwise expressly provided by the Secretary, the termination of this subpart or of any regulation issued pursuant to this subpart, or the issuance of any amendment to either thereof, shall not (a) affect or waive any right, duty, obligation, or liability which shall have arisen or which may thereafter arise in connection with any provision of this subpart or any regulation issued under this subpart, or (b) release or extinguish any violation of this subpart or of any regulation issued under this subpart, or (c) affect or impair any right or remedies of the Secretary or of any other person, with respect to any such violation.

§ 997.102 Amendments. Amendments to this subpart may be proposed, from time to time, by any person or by the control board.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 25th day of February 1954, to be, and become, effective upon the date of publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Assistant Secretary.

PART 997—FILBERTS GROWN IN OREGON AND WASHINGTON

BUDGET OF EXPENSES OF FILBERT BOARD AND RATE OF ASSESSMENT FOR FISCAL YEAR BEGINNING AUGUST 1, 1953

Pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 115 and Order No. 97 (7 CFR, 1952 Rev., Part 997) regulating the handling of filberts grown in Oregon and Washington, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of information submitted by the Filbert Control Board, the administrative agency established under the order, and other available information, it is hereby found that to amend the budget of expenses and rate of assessment herein provided will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

The Department on September 2, 1953, approved a budget of expenses of $25,614.60 for the fiscal year beginning August 1, 1953. At that time, it was estimated that the assessment rate of two-tenths of a cent per pound of merchantable filberts specified in § 997.91 (a) of the aforesaid agreement and order would provide sufficient revenue to cover these expenses. However, it now appears that this will not be the case.

The actual quantity of assessable filberts for the fiscal year (merchantable filberts from carryover and 1953 crop certified for handling during the fiscal year) is now expected to approximate 8,400,000 pounds, or about two-thirds of the estimated quantity upon which the initial budget of expenses was based.

The Board has reduced expenses, both actual and projected, to the maximum practical extent in order to adjust to the reduced filbert supply situation. However, the indicated slight increase in the assessment rate over that specified in § 997.91 (a) is found to be necessary to cover the budget of expenses provided herein. Authority to increase the assessment rate for a fiscal year is contained in that section.

The administrative rule is as follows:

§ 997.301 Budget of expenses of the Filbert Control Board and rate of assessment for the fiscal year beginning August 1, 1953—(a) Budget of expenses. Expenses in the amount of $17,845.77 are reasonable and likely to be incurred during the fiscal year beginning August 1, 1953, for the maintenance and functioning of the Filbert Control Board and for such other purposes as the Secretary may determine to be appropriate;

(b) Rate of assessment. Each handler shall pay to the Filbert Control Board, in lieu of the rate specified in § 997.91 (a) of the agreement and order, the sum of 0.2125 cent for each pound of merchantable filberts certified for him, including those certified for handling and those certified for surplus.

It is hereby found and determined that it is unnecessary and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, or postpone the effective date of this order later than the date of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, for the reasons that (1) the Board is in immediate need of the funds which this order authorizes it to collect; (2) the Board, which represents all segments of the industry, has unanimously recommended the budget of expenses and rate of assessment provided herein, and handlers have been informed of such recommendation; (3) the budget of expenses approved herein represents the minimum level to which it is practicable to reduce expenditures for the fiscal year; (4) no advance, or special, preparation for operations hereunder will be needed.

(Sec. 5, 48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 26th day of February 1954, to become effective upon publication of this document in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

[SEAL] ROY W. LENNARTSON,
Deputy Administrator.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

[Civil Air Regs., Amdt. 190-2]

PART 190—AUTHORIZATION OF NAVIGATION OF FOREIGN CIVIL AIRCRAFT WITHIN THE UNITED STATES

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of February 1954.

On August 19, 1953, the Board adopted Part 190 of the Civil Air Regulations under the authority of Public Law 225 of the 83d Congress. This law transferred to the Board the power to issue flight authorizations under the Air Commerce Act of 1926 for the navigation of foreign civil aircraft within the United States. Part 190 as then promulgated was intended as an interim regulation pending the adoption of permanent regulations after notice and public rule-making, and in the preamble to that part comment of interested persons was invited. Considerable comment has been received and considered by the Board, and in addition, several months of operations under the interim regulation have given the Board a background of experience upon which to base its rules.

The following points should be noted:

1. Holders of permits under section 402 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 will require no further authorization under the Air Commerce Act to navigate in the United States in respect of operations specifically authorized by the foreign air carrier permit, and such operations are in no way governed by this regulation.

2. Existing permits, whether issued by the Civil Aeronautics Administration or the Board, will continue in effect in accordance with their terms and conditions, since the Board finds that it is in the public interest to continue existing U. S. commitments to operators of foreign civil aircraft until their stated expiration.

3. Agricultural, industrial, and commercial transport operations not in air transportation continue to require specific Board approval. Commercial transport requests should, in the usual case, be submitted to the Board at least two weeks in advance of the date operations are proposed to commence, although this may be waived upon good cause shown. It should be noted that notice will be published in the Board's Weekly List of Applications Filed of all applications for authority involving 10 or more flights in a 90-day period, and that all applications together with the supporting documents will be available for public inspection, unless the Board otherwise specifically orders.

4. In several of the comments received the suggestion was made that the regulations contained in this part be divided and that the economic provisions thereof be transferred to the Board's Economic Regulations. While the Board considers that there is considerable merit to this proposal, it has decided to retain the original treatment of the regulations in this respect for the following reasons. Unlike other regulations of the Board the authority for these rules stems from the Air Commerce Act of 1926. Each of the rules, whether safety or economic in nature, is a condition or limitation on the right of operators of foreign civil aircraft to enter the United States. Failure to observe the rules is punishable primarily by a civil penalty enforced by the Administrator as a violation of Title V of the Civil Aeronautics Act. In addition to this consideration, the Board believes it desirable to have in one place all the regulations relating to the operation of foreign civil aircraft pursuant to the Air Commerce Act of 1926. On balance, therefore, the Board has continued to adhere to the principle that these rules should all appear in the same part of its regulations. In this connection it should be noted that Part 190 is the only regulation in the 190–199 series—while the Board's safety regulations, adopted pursuant to the Civil Aeronautics Act, are contained in the 1–99 series.

The interim Part 190 now in effect will expire on March 1, 1954. In order to provide an adequate opportunity for those persons who are governed by these regulations to acquaint themselves with the amendments which are hereby being made to the part, the Board will continue the present regulation in effect until April 30, 1954, at which time the part as amended will become fully effective.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of these amendments and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented.

In consideration of the foregoing, the Civil Aeronautics Board finds that the republication and amendment of Part 190 in the form set forth below, to the extent therein provided, is in the interest of the public and consistent with treaties, conventions and agreements which are in force between the United States and foreign countries.

Accordingly, the Civil Aeronautics Board hereby amends Part 190 of the Civil Air Regulations (14 CFR Part 190) as follows:

(1) Effective immediately, by striking the date March 1, 1954, in § 190.4 and inserting in lieu thereof April 30, 1954;

(2) Effective April 30, 1954, by amending Part 190 of the Civil Air Regulations (14 CFR Part 190) to read as follows:

SUBPART A—GENERAL

§ 190.1 Applicability. The regulations prescribed in this part authorize, to the extent that authorization is required pursuant to section 6 (b) of the Air Commerce Act of 1926, as amended, the navigation of foreign civil aircraft within the United States and specify the extent to and the terms and conditions under which various classes of flight operations by such foreign aircraft may be conducted in the United States. The regulations in this part do not apply to operations in foreign air transportation conducted under the authority of a foreign air carrier permit issued pursuant to section 402 of the Civil Aeronautics Act.

§ 190.2 Definitions. As used in this part:

(a) "Administrator" means the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics.

(b) "Air commerce" means transportation in whole or in part by aircraft of persons or property for hire, navigation of aircraft in furtherance of a business, or navigation of aircraft from one place to another for operation in the conduct of a business.

(c) "Air transportation" means air transportation as defined in the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended.

(d) "Board" means the Civil Aeronautics Board.

(e) "Scheduled international air service" means scheduled international air service as defined by the Council of the International Civil Aviation Organization in ICAO Document 7278–C 841 of May 10, 1952, adopted March 28, 1952.

(f) "United States" means the territory comprising the several States, Territories, possessions, and the District of Columbia (including the territorial waters thereof), any part thereof, and the overlying airspace; but shall not include the Canal Zone.

§ 190.3 Existing permits. (a) Foreign Flight Permits issued prior to August 11, 1953, by the Administrator are hereby ratified and confirmed and shall continue in effect in accordance with their terms until the expiration date stated in each such permit, unless sooner specifically terminated or revoked by the Board. Navigation of foreign aircraft in the United States by holders of such permits shall be conducted pursuant to the terms, conditions, and limitations therein contained, and the provisions of this part (except Subpart A) shall not apply to such operations during the life of such permits.

(b) Permits issued by the Board under the provisions of this part prior to April 30, 1954, shall continue in effect in accordance with their terms until the expiration date stated in each such permit, unless sooner specifically terminated or revoked by the Board. Navigation of foreign aircraft in the United States by holders of such permits shall be conducted pursuant to the terms, conditions, and limitations therein contained, and the provisions of this part.

SUBPART B—AUTHORIZATION

§ 190.10 Civil aircraft registered in ICAO member states. Subject to the observance of the applicable rules, conditions, and limitations set forth in this part, foreign civil aircraft registered in any foreign country which at the time is a member of the International Civil Aviation Organization created by the Chicago Convention may be navigated in the United States.

§ 190.11 Civil aircraft registered in non-ICAO member states. Aircraft registered under the laws of foreign countries, not members of the International Civil Aviation Organization created by the Chicago Convention, which the Board has found grant reciprocal treatment to U. S. aircraft and airmen, may be navigated in the U. S. subject to the observance of the same rules, conditions, and limitations applicable in the case of aircraft of ICAO member states.

NOTE: At the time of publication of this part it has been determined that the following countries, not member states of ICAO, afford reciprocity to U. S. aircraft and airmen: Costa Rica, Ecuador, Morocco, New Hebrides, Panama, Portuguese Colonies, Saudi Arabia and Uruguay.

SUBPART C—RULES GENERALLY APPLICABLE TO THE NAVIGATION OF FOREIGN CIVIL AIRCRAFT WITHIN THE UNITED STATES

§ 190.20 Airworthiness and registration certificates. Foreign aircraft shall carry aboard currently effective certificates of registration and airworthiness issued or rendered valid by the country of registry and shall display the nationality and registration markings of that country.

§ 190.21 Airmen. Each member of the flight crew of a foreign aircraft shall have in his personal possession a valid airman certificate or license authorizing him to perform his assigned functions in the aircraft and for the operation involved issued or rendered valid by the country of registry of the aircraft or by the United States. No such flight crew member shall perform any flight duty within the United States which he is not currently authorized to perform in the country issuing or validating the certificate.

§ 190.22 Flight operations. Flight of foreign aircraft in the United States shall be conducted in accordance with the current applicable Civil Air Regulations and with regulations of the Administrator under Title XII of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the following conditions are specified with respect to the following operations:

(a) VFR operations. Flight shall be conducted in accordance with the visual flight rules of Part 60, Air Traffic Rules, and the applicable sections of Part 43, General Operation Rules, of this chapter, except that a VFR Flight Plan shall be filed with the nearest appropriate CAA Communications station prior to each such flight.

(b) IFR operations. Flight shall be conducted in aircraft equipped with (1) radio equipment which will permit two-way radio-telephone communication with Civil Aeronautics Administration air traffic control while the aircraft is in a control zone or control area, and (2) a radio navigational device suitable for use with the type of ground aids upon which navigation is to be predicated. No such instrument flight shall be conducted unless every pilot operating the aircraft in the United States possesses a United States instrument rating or is authorized by his foreign airman certificate to engage in instrument flight and has thoroughly familiarized[1] himself with the United States en route, holding and let-down procedures. At least one member of the crew must be able to conduct two-way radio-telephone communication in the English language between the aircraft and ground communication stations and must be on duty while approaching, within and leaving the United States. Instrument flight shall be performed in accordance with the instrument flight rules of Part 60 and the applicable sections of Part 43 of this chapter. Entry into and exit from the United States under instrument conditions shall be in accordance with instructions issued by the appropriate area airway traffic control center. Instrument operations into all airports shall be conducted in accordance with the instrument approach procedures and weather minimums in Part 609 of Chapter II of this title, and published in the Flight Information Manual of the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

(c) Overwater operations. A flight notification or flight plan will be required for all flights conducted offshore (overwater) in accordance with the Supplementary Procedures for the pertinent ICAO regions.

NOTE: Information describing such requirements is found in separate publications for each ICAO region and may be obtained through the Civil Aeronautics Administration regional offices whose addresses are set forth in section 42 of the statement of the Civil Aeronautics Administration organization and functions.

§ 190.23 Maximum allowable weights. Foreign aircraft shall not be operated within the United States at weights in excess of the maximum weights authorized by the country of manufacture of the aircraft type and model involved.

§ 190.24 Entry and clearance regulations. All applicable entry and clearance requirements for aircraft, passengers, crews, baggage and cargo shall be followed.

SUBPART D—UNAUTHORIZED OPERATIONS

§ 190.30 Air transportation. Nothing in this part shall authorize any foreign aircraft to engage in air transportation.

§ 190.31 Unauthorized aircraft. Aircraft which are not authorized to be navigated pursuant to Subpart B of this part shall not be navigated in the United States.

SUBPART E—ADDITIONAL LIMITATIONS APPLICABLE TO PARTICULAR CLASSES OF OPERATIONS

§ 190.40 Operations not for remuneration or hire. Foreign civil aircraft which are not at the time engaged in the carriage of passengers, cargo or mail for remuneration or hire may be navigated into, out of, and within the United States, and may discharge, take on or carry between points in the U. S. any non-revenue traffic. The use of foreign civil aircraft in demonstration flights, agricultural and industrial operations and flight instruction shall be governed as hereinafter set forth in this subpart.

§ 190.41 Demonstration flights of foreign aircraft. Flight of foreign civil aircraft within the United States may be made for the purpose of demonstration for sale of the aircraft or any component thereof, provided no persons, cargo or mail are carried for remuneration or hire.

§ 190.42 Agricultural and industrial operations within the United States. Foreign civil aircraft shall not be used for crop-dusting, pest control, pipeline patrol, banner towing, sky-writing or similar uses within the United States unless special authorization is obtained from the Board and the operation is conducted in accordance with all applicable state and local laws and regulations as well as the applicable provisions of this part. Applications for such authorization shall be submitted at least five days in advance of the date of the commencement of the proposed operation and shall contain a general statement of the facts and the authority desired. The application shall be accompanied by such documentation as may be necessary to establish that reciprocity for similar operations exists in the country of registry of the aircraft. Such additional information as may specifically be requested by the Board shall also be furnished.

§ 190.43 Flights incidental to agricultural and industrial operations outside the United States. Foreign civil aircraft which are engaged in agricultural or industrial operations to be performed wholly without the United States may be navigated into, out of, and within the United States in connection therewith provided they are not at the time engaged in the carriage of passengers, cargo or mail for remuneration or hire.

§ 190.44 Flight instruction. Foreign civil aircraft shall not be used within the United States for the purpose of flight instruction for remuneration or hire: Provided, That this restriction shall not prevent the giving of indoctrination training in the operation of the aircraft concerned to a buyer or his employees.

§ 190.45 Transit flights, irregular operations. Foreign civil aircraft carrying persons, property, or mail for remuneration or hire but not engaged in scheduled international air services are authorized to navigate non-stop across the territory of the United States and to make stops for non-traffic purposes. Such aircraft shall not make stops for the purpose of taking on or discharging passengers, cargo or mail, or for other than strictly operational purposes.

§ 190.46 Transit flights; scheduled international air service operations. An operator of foreign civil aircraft desiring to conduct a scheduled international air service in transit across the United States pursuant to the International Air Services Transit Agreement shall, before commencing operations, obtain the approval of the Administrator for the route or routes proposed to be followed pursuant to Part 44 of this chapter and thereafter shall conduct such operations in accordance with the provisions of that part. Stopovers for the convenience or pleasure of the passengers are not authorized under this section, and stops other than for strictly operational reasons shall not be made. Operators of aircraft registered in countries not parties to the International Air Services Transit Agreement shall make special application to the Board under § 190.70. The consolidation on the same aircraft of an operation under this section with a service authorized under section 402 of the Civil Aeronautics Act is not authorized by this section.

§ 190.47 Commercial transport operations not in air transportation. Except for aircraft being operated under a permit issued by the Board pursuant to section 402 of the Civil Aeronautics Act, foreign aircraft engaged in flights for remuneration or hire for the purpose of discharging or taking on passengers or cargo at one or more points in the United States may be navigated in the United States only if there is carried on board the aircraft a permit issued by the Board in accordance with this section authorizing the operation involved. Carriage of cargo for the operator's own account is governed by these provisions if the cargo is to be resold or otherwise used in the furtherance of a business.

(a) Application for permit: Application for the permit specified in this section shall be submitted on CAB Form 272 to the Civil Aeronautics Board, addressed to the attention of the Director, Bureau of Air Operations. There shall be enclosed with the application a copy of each contract between the operator and each person for whose account the flight or flights is or are to be performed. If any flight is to be performed in whole or in part for the account of the operator personally, there shall also be enclosed a full and complete description of the operation and copies of all contracts relating to the acquisition and disposition of the cargo. In any case, the beneficial owner of the cargo shall be disclosed. Copies of contracts covering proposed operations which have previously been filed with either the Civil Aeronautics Administration or the Board in connection with a prior application need not be filed again. Applications shall be filed with the Board, at least 14 days in advance of the date of the commencement of the proposed operation: Provided, That, for good cause shown and upon a finding by the Board that the waiver of this requirement is in the interest of the public, an application filed less than 14 days in advance of the date of the commencement of the proposed operation will be considered by the Board.[2]

(b) Except to the extent that the Board directs that such information be withheld from public disclosure for reasons of national defense or as hereinafter specified in this paragraph, every application and its supporting documents filed pursuant to this section shall be open to public inspection, and notice thereof, in the case of applications for 10 or more flights in any 90-day period, shall be published in the Board's Weekly List of Applications Filed. Any person may make written objection to the Board to the public disclosure of such information or any part thereof, stating the grounds for such objection. If the Board finds that a disclosure of such information or part thereof would adversely affect the interests of such person and is not required in the interest of the public, it will order that such information or part to be so withheld.

(c) Issuance of permit: If upon examination of the application, all supporting documents and other information available to it, the Board is of the opinion that the application is in order and that the proposed operation either by itself or in conjunction with other operations of the operator to or from the United States is in the interest of the public and does not disclose any apparent violation of section 402 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 (52 Stat. 991, 49 U. S. C. 482), or any other applicable provision of law, it will issue a permit for a period not in excess of 90 days, to the applicant authorizing the conduct of the flights set forth in the application.

(d) Nature of privilege conferred by permit: The provisions of this section and of any permit issued hereunder, together with section 6 (b) of the Air Commerce Act of 1926, as amended, are designed, among other purposes, to carry out the international undertakings of the United States in the Chicago Convention, in particular Article 5 thereof. That Article accords to foreign aircraft the privilege of "taking on or discharging passengers, cargo, or mail" subject to the right of the State where such embarkation or discharge takes place to impose such regulations, conditions or limitations as it may consider desirable. The Congress by the Amendment to section 6 o fthe Air Commerce Act of 1926 approved by the President, has authorized the Board to permit such operations only where conditions of reciprocity and the interest of the public of the United States are met. It is incompatible with the intent of this legislation and the nature of the function involved to regard the operator of any foreign registered aircraft as entitled as a matter of right to the issuance, renewal, or freedom from modification or change in a permit issuable pursuant to this authority. Accordingly, any permit issued under this part may be withheld, revoked, amended, modified, restricted, suspended, withdrawn, or cancelled by the Board in the interest of the public of the United States, without notice or hearing and without the right in the holder to challenge the Board's discretion.

§ 190.48 Reports to be filed. Holders of permits issued under § 190.47 shall submit to the Board a report of flights conducted pursuant thereto. The initial report shall be submitted not later than the 30th day following commencement of operations and shall report on all flights conducted during such period. Like reports shall be filed for each succeeding 30-day period. Failure to submit a report on time shall constitute grounds for revocation, refusal to renew the permit, or denial of the issuance of a new permit.

§ 190.49 Contents of reports. The report of flights shall give a brief summary of each of the flights performed, setting forth the quantity and type of traffic carried and the names and addresses of the persons for whose account the transportation was furnished. In the case of cargo transportation, such reports shall in addition specifically set forth (a) the consignor; (b) the consignee; (c) the identity of the person or persons paying for the transportation (whether consignor, consignee or other); and (d) the principal business of each of the foregoing.

§ 190.50 Keeping of records. Failure to comply with the requirements of this section shall be cause for the suspension, revocation or refusal to renew a permit or the denial of the issuance of a new permit issuable under this part.

(a) Each holder of a permit issued under § 190.47 shall keep true copies of all manifests, air waybills, invoices and other traffic documents covering flights originating or terminating in the United States and for flights originating in the United States under permits authorizing 10 or more flights in a 90 day period shall maintain a place in the United States where such documents may be inspected at any time by authorized representatives of the Board or the Civil Aeronautics Administration. Records of

[1] The highly developed system of air navigation aids, detailed traffic control procedures, and heavy instrument traffic in the United States require the most meticulous observance of air traffic control instructions. Any failure to observe such instructions can imperil not only the offending pilot and those aboard his aircraft, but other aircraft in the vicinity and persons and property on the ground as well. Operation of aircraft under instrument conditions by pilots who are not thoroughly familiar with the workings of the air navigation aids being used or who cannot understand or are unable to follow traffic control instructions exactly presents such a hazard to life that it is considered gross negligence. Accordingly, any pilot who flies under instrument conditions in the United States without the required degree of familiarity will be considered in violation of § 60.12 of this chapter and subject to a civil penalty of up to $1,000. Foreign pilots are advised that agents of the Civil Aeronautics Administration in the United States and at many points abroad are available to help foreign pilots in this respect, and if such an agent is satisfied that the pilot concerned possesses the required degree of familiarity he will issue a letter so stating. Possession of such a letter addressed to the pilot concerned is considered to satisfy this requirement. A flight demonstration will not be required to satisfy the agent of the required degree of familiarity.

[2] Application may be filed directly with the Board and need not be filed via diplomatic channels.

flights terminating in the United States and flights conducted pursuant to a permit authorizing less than 10 flights in any 90 day period need not be maintained in the United States, but shall be made available to the Board upon demand.

(b) Records documenting each particular flight, demonstrating compliance with §§ 190.23 and 190.24 shall be made available to the Board or the Civil Aeronautics Administration upon demand.

SUBPART F—PENALTIES

§ 190.60 Penalties. The operation of a foreign aircraft within the United States in violation of the provisions of this part constitutes a violation of section 501 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, (52 Stat. 1005, 49 U. S. C. 521), and may, in addition, constitute a violation of the Civil Air Regulations. Such operation makes the person or persons responsible for the violation or violations subject to a civil penalty as provided in section 901 of the Civil Aeronautics Act (52 Stat. 1015, 49 U. S. C. 621), and to the alteration, amendment, modification, suspension or revocation of any permit issued under this part and of any United States certificate involved as provided in section 609 of the Civil Aeronautics Act (52 Stat. 1011, 49 U. S. C. 559). Engaging in air transportation as defined in the aforesaid Civil Aeronautics Act by a foreign aircraft without a foreign air carrier permit issued pursuant to section 402 of that act (52 Stat. 991, 49 U. S. C. 482) or in violation of the terms of such a permit constitutes not only a violation of this regulation but of the Civil Aeronautics Act as well, which entails a criminal penalty as set forth in section 902 (52 Stat. 1015, 49 U. S. C. 622) of that act.

SUBPART G—SPECIAL AUTHORIZATION

§ 190.70 Special authorization. Any person desiring to navigate a foreign civil aircraft within the United States otherwise than as specifically provided in this part may petition the Board for an order authorizing the particular flight or series of flights. Such an order may be issued only if the Board finds that the proposed operation is fully consistent with applicable law and is in the interest of the public of the United States.

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The Commission has considered all comments and suggestions received and has determined to adopt the amendment to Rule X-16B-6 in the form set forth below.

The amendment exempts as not comprehended within the purposes of section 16 (b) the transactions involved in the exercise of an option or similar right which was acquired more than six months before its exercise, and the disposition of the security so acquired pursuant to a plan or agreement for a statutory merger or consolidation or reclassification of securities, or a proposal for the transfer of assets from one corporation to another in consideration for the issuance of securities. The effect will be to relieve from liability under section 16 (b), the profits, if any, realized from such transactions. This amendment is covered by paragraph (c) of the text of the section below.

Statutory basis. The amended rule is adopted pursuant to the authority vested in the Commission by the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, particularly sections 3 (a) (12), 3 (b), 16 (b) and 23 (a).

The text of the section, as amended, is as follows:

§ 240.16b-6 Exemption of long term profits incident to sales within six months of the exercise of an option. (a) To the extent specified in paragraph (b) of this section the Commission hereby exempts as not comprehended within the purposes of section 16 (b) of the act any transaction or transactions involving the purchase and sale or sale and purchase of any equity security where such purchase is pursuant to the exercise of an option or similar right either (1) acquired more than six months before its exercise, or (2) acquired pursuant to the terms of an employment contract entered into more than six months before its exercise.

(b) In respect of transactions specified in paragraph (a) of this section the profits inuring to the issuer shall not exceed the difference between the proceeds of sale and the lowest market price of any security of the same class within six months before or after the date of sale. Nothing in this section shall be deemed to enlarge the amount of profit which would inure to the issuer in the absence of this section.

(c) The Commission also hereby exempts, as not comprehended within the purposes of section 16 (b) of the act, the disposition of a security, purchased in a transaction specified in paragraph (a) of this section, pursuant to a plan or agreement for merger or consolidation, or reclassification of the issuers' securities, or for the exchange of its securities for the securities of another person which has acquired its assets, where the terms of such plan or agreement are binding upon all stockholders of the issuer except to the extent that dissenting stockholders may be entitled, under statutory provisions or provisions contained in the certificate of incorporation, to receive the appraised or fair value of their holdings.

(d) The exemptions provided by this section shall not apply to any transaction made unlawful by section 16 (c) of the act or by any rules and regulations thereunder.

(e) The burden of establishing market price of a security for the purpose of this section shall rest upon the person claiming the exemption.

(f) The exemption granted pursuant to this section shall apply to any liability under section 16 (b) existing at or after the effective date of this section, but shall not be deemed to affect judgments rendered prior to that date.

(Sec. 23, 48 Stat. 901, as amended, 15 U. S. C. 78w. Interprets or applies secs. 3, 16, 48 Stat. 882, 896, 15 U. S. C. 78c, 78p)

The foregoing section shall become effective February 25, 1954.

By the Commission.

TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

PART 3—RADIO BROADCAST SERVICES

STANDARD BROADCAST STATIONS IN GUAM

In the matter of amendment of § 3.34 of Part 3 (Radio Broadcast Services) to establish a license period for standard broadcast stations located in Guam.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 24th day of February 1954.

The Commission has under consideration the desirability of making certain changes in Part 3 of its rules and regulations to include Guam in the schedule setting forth the expiration date for licenses of standard broadcast stations.

Section 3.34 sets forth the expiration dates for licenses of standard broadcast stations located in the United States, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Alaska and Hawaii. The list was so arranged that licenses of stations in the same general geographical area would expire at the same time.

The Commission on August 26, 1953 authorized the construction of a standard broadcast station on the Island of Guam, and it is necessary to establish a license period for this station in order that a license may be issued. Guam, a western U. S. possession, is being included in the paragraph of § 3.34 that contains the other western U. S. possessions.

The amendment adopted herein is procedural in nature, and, therefore, prior publication of notice of proposed rule making under the provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act is unnecessary, and the amendment may become effective immediately.

The amendment adopted herein is issued pursuant to authority contained in sections 4 (i), 303 (r) and 307 (d) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

It is ordered, That, effective immediately, § 3.34 (a) (16) of the Commission's rules and regulations is amended to read as follows:

(16) For stations located in Washington, Oregon, Alaska, Guam and Hawaii, February 1, 1954.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066 as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interprets or applies secs. 303, 307, 48 Stat. 1082, as amended, 1084; 47 U. S. C. 303, 307)

PART 5—EXPERIMENTAL RADIO SERVICES

LICENSE PERIOD

In the matter of the amendment of § 5.63 of the Commission's rules.

At a session of the Federal Communications held in its offices in Washington, D. C. on the 24th day of February 1954;

The Commission having under consideration § 5.63 of its rules providing for the renewal of all Experimental (Research) licenses on the first day of October of each year and for the renewal of all Experimental (Developmental) licenses on the first day of November of each year, and

It appearing, that, in the interest of promoting administrative efficiency, the staggering of these renewal dates throughout a 12-month period would better equalize the workload within the Commission, and

It further appearing, that a staggering of these renewal dates can be accomplished by the renewal, on October 1 and November 1, 1954, of licenses for periods varying from 12 months to 24 months, and

It further appearing, that such an amendment to § 5.63 of the Commission's rules is authorized by sections 4 (i), 303 (r), 312 and 409 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and

It further appearing, that since such an amendment is procedural in nature, notice of proposed rule making under the provisions of section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act, is not required, and the amendment may be made effective immediately,

It is hereby ordered, That § 5.63 (b) of the Commission's rules be and the same is hereby deleted, and that § 5.63 (a) of the Commission's rules be and the same is hereby amended, effective immediately, to read as follows:

§ 5.63 License period. (a) Licenses for radio stations in the Experimental Radio Services will be issued normally for a period of one year unless otherwise stated in the instrument of authorization and shall expire at 3:00 a. m. EST one year from date of issuance.[1]

[Docket No. 10217]

PART 13—COMMERCIAL RADIO OPERATORS

RESTRICTED RADIOTELEPHONE OPERATOR

In the matter of amendment of Part 13 — Commercial Radio Operators; Docket No. 10217.

[1] In order to convert existing license periods so that all such licenses will no longer expire on the same date, the Commission will, during the year following the effective date of the change in rules, issue licenses for periods up to a maximum of 24 months. However, all such longer term licenses shall, upon their expiration, be renewed for the usual one-year period.

1. On June 11, 1952, the Commission adopted a notice of proposed rule making in this matter[1] proposing to authorize persons holding restricted radiotelephone operator permits to engage in the normal operation of certain coast stations employing radiotelephony on frequencies above 30 Mc. Heretofore a radiotelephone third-class operator permit has been required as a minimum for such operation.

2. There were no adverse comments on the proposal as far as it went; however, the proposed operating authority under the restricted radiotelephone operator permit was to be limited in the case of public stations to those stations not licensed to operate on any frequency designated by the Commission "primarily for distress, safety or calling purposes" and there were objections to the effect that the proposed relaxation did not go far enough and that the restricted permittees should be authorized to operate public VHF coast stations not only on "working" frequencies but also on frequencies designated primarily for these special purposes.

3. In support of further relaxation there were assertions by a number of respondents who are licensees of VHF coast stations that their trained and experienced operators (who do not hold any higher grade of operator license than a restricted radiotelephone operator permit) can be depended upon to handle safety and distress communications in an efficient and satisfactory manner and to respect the requirements of other users of such frequencies. It was also shown by Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, as a result of experience gained under a temporary waiver authorizing it to utilize restricted permittees, that two VHF coast stations had been operated satisfactorily over a period of several months while employing that grade of licensed operator. No opposition was expressed to this request for further relaxation of § 13.61 (h).

4. The American Telephone & Telegraph Company, in commenting, also requested that § 13.61 (h) be further amended so as to authorize holders of restricted radiotelephone operator permits to operate video transmitting equipment of TV pickup and TV STL broadcast stations; however, that Company presented no information with respect to the frequency stability thereof or to any adjustments that might be required during normal operation of such equipment. It is also noted that these proposed changes would raise issues beyond the scope of these proceedings. Accordingly, no action is being taken with respect to this request.

5. During the time this matter was being considered § 4.565 of the Commission's rules was amended so that FM inter-city relay stations may be operated in normal service by holders of restricted radiotelephone operator permits, hence it appears that § 13.61 (h) should be amended to reflect this change.

6. In view of the foregoing, It is ordered, That, effective April 15, 1954, § 13.61 (h) of the Commission's rules is amended so as to authorize normal operation of coast stations employing telephony on frequencies above 30 Mc without distinction based upon frequency use, and so as to conform to the operator requirements of § 4.565, in accordance with the conditions and limitations set forth below.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interprets or applies sec. 303, 48 Stat. 1082, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 303)

Adopted: February 24, 1954.

Released: February 26, 1954.

[SEAL] MARY JANE MORRIS,
Secretary.

Section 13.61 (h) of the rules governing commercial radio operators is amended to read as follows:

(h) Restricted radiotelephone operator permit. Any station except:

(1) Stations transmitting television, or

(2) Stations transmitting telegraphy by any type of the Morse Code, or

(3) Any of the various classes of broadcast stations other than remote pickup, broadcast STL, and FM intercity relay stations, or

(4) Ship stations licensed to use telephony for communication with Class I coast stations on frequencies between 4000 kc and 30 Mc, or

(5) Coast stations other than in the territory of Alaska while employing a frequency below 30 Mc, or

(6) Coast stations at which the power in the antenna of the unmodulated carrier wave is authorized to exceed 250 watts;

(7) At a ship radar station the holder of this class of license may not supervise or be responsible for the performance of any adjustments or tests during or coincident with the installation, servicing or maintenance of the radar equipment while it is radiating energy: Provided, That nothing in this subparagraph shall be construed to prevent any person holding such a license from making replacements of fuses or of receiving type tubes.

Provided, That, with respect to any station which the holder of this class of license may operate, (1) Such operator is prohibited from making any adjustments that may result in improper transmitter operation, and (2) the equipment is so designed that the stability of the frequencies of the transmitter is maintained by the transmitter itself within the limits of tolerance specified by the station license, and none of the operations necessary to be performed during the course of normal rendition of the service of the station may cause off-frequency operation or result in any unauthorized radiation, and (3) any needed adjustments of the transmitter that may affect the proper operation of the station are regularly made by or under the immediate supervision and responsibility of a person holding a first- or second-class commercial radio operator license, either radiotelephone or radiotelegraph, who shall be responsible for the proper functioning of the station equipment.

AUTHORITY: §§ 922.0 to 922.90 issued under 48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.

§ 922.0 Findings and determinations—(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, effective thereunder (7 CFR Part 900; 19 F. R. 57), a public hearing was held at Los Angeles, California, from December 7 to December 10, 1953, both dates inclusive, upon a proposed marketing agreement and a proposed marketing order regulating the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing, and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The said order regulates the handling of Valencia oranges grown in the designated production area in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity, specified in the proposed marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held;

(3) The said order is limited in its application to the smallest regional production area that is practicable, consistently with carrying out the declared policy of the act; and the issuance of several orders applicable to subdivisions of such production area would not effectively carry out the declared policy of the act;

(4) The said order prescribes such different terms, applicable to different parts of the production area, as are necessary to give due recognition to differences in the production and marketing of Valencia oranges covered thereby; and

(5) All handling of Valencia oranges, as defined herein, is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce or directly burdens, obstructs, or affects such commerce.

It is, therefore, ordered, That, on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California shall be in conformity to, and in compliance with, the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order; and the terms and conditions of said order are as follows:

§ 922.31 Expenses and compensation. The members of the committee, and their respective alternates when acting as members, shall be reimbursed for reasonable expenses necessarily incurred by them in the performance of their duties under this part and shall receive compensation at a rate to be determined by the committee, which rate shall not exceed $10 per day or portion thereof spent in performing such duties.

§ 922.32 Annual review and meeting. The committee shall, prior to December 15 of each marketing year, prepare and mail an annual report to the Secretary and to each handler and grower of record. This annual report shall contain at least: (a) A complete review, by prorate districts, of the regulatory operations during the marketing year, as conducted under the marketing policy established pursuant to § 922.50 (a); (b) an appraisal of the effect of such regulatory operations upon the competitive status of the Valencia orange industry; (c) recommendations for changes in the program; and (d) notice of the time and place of an open meeting, to be held prior to January 31, to review the whole record of the operations of this part.

EXPENSES AND ASSESSMENTS

§ 922.40 Expenses. The committee is authorized to incur such expenses as the Secretary finds may be necessary to enable the committee to exercise its powers and perform its duties in accordance with the provisions of this part during each fiscal year.

§ 922.41 Assessments. (a) Each person who first handles oranges shall, with respect to the oranges so handled by him, pay to the committee, upon demand, such person's pro rata share of the expenses which the Secretary finds are necessary during each fiscal year. Each such person's share of such expenses shall be equal to the ratio between the total quantity of such oranges handled by him as the first handler thereof during the applicable fiscal year, and the total quantity of such oranges so handled by all persons during the same fiscal year. The payment of assessments for the maintenance and functioning of the committee may be required under this part throughout the period it is in effect irrespective of whether particular provisions thereof are suspended or become inoperative.

(b) The Secretary shall fix the rate of assessment to be paid by each such person. At any time during or after the fiscal year, the Secretary may increase the rate of assessment in order to secure sufficient funds to cover any later finding by the Secretary relative to the expense which may be incurred. Such increase shall be applied to all oranges handled during the applicable fiscal year. In order to provide funds for the administration of the provisions of this part, the committee may accept the payment of assessments in advance, and may borrow money in any amount not to exceed 10 percent of the estimated expenses set forth in its budget for the then current fiscal year.

(c) The committee may, with the approval of the Secretary, maintain a suit in its own name, or in the names of its members, to enforce the payment of assessments levied under this section.

§ 922.42 Accounting. (a) If, at the end of a fiscal year, the assessments collected are in excess of the expenses incurred, each person entitled to a proportionate refund of the excess assessments shall be credited with such refund against the operations of the following fiscal year. Any handler may demand payment of such a refund, and the refund shall be paid to him: Provided, That any sum paid by a person in excess of his pro rata share of the expenses during any fiscal year may be applied by the committee at the end of such fiscal year to any outstanding obligations due the committee from such person.

(b) All funds received by the committee pursuant to the provisions of this part shall be used solely for the purposes specified in this part, and shall be accounted for in the manner provided in this part. The Secretary may, at any time, require the committee and its members to account for all receipts and disbursements.

REGULATION

§ 922.50 Marketing policy. (a) Prior to the recommendation for regulation for each prorate district, the committee shall submit to the Secretary its marketing policy for the ensuing season. Such marketing policy shall contain the following information: (1) The available crop of oranges in the prorate district, including estimated quality and composition of sizes; (2) the estimated utilization of the crop, showing the quantity and percentages of the crop that will be marketed in domestic, export, and by-product channels, together with quantities otherwise to be disposed of; (3) a schedule of estimated weekly shipments to be recommended to the Secretary during the ensuing season; (4) available supplies of competitive oranges in all producing areas of the United States; (5) level and trend of consumer income; (6) estimated supplies of competitive citrus commodities; and (7) any other pertinent factors bearing on the marketing of oranges. In the event that it becomes advisable substantially to modify such marketing policy, the committee shall submit to the Secretary a revised marketing policy setting forth the information as required in this paragraph.

(b) All meetings of the committee held for the purpose of formulating such marketing policies shall be open to growers and handlers. The committee shall give notice to growers by publication of notice of such meetings in such newspapers as they deem appropriate and shall advise all handlers by mail of such meetings.

(c) The committee shall transmit a copy of each marketing policy report or revision thereof to the Secretary and to each grower and handler who files a request therefor. Copies of all such reports shall be maintained in the office of the committee where they shall be available for examination by growers and handlers.

§ 922.51 Recommendations for volume regulation. (a) The committee may recommend to the Secretary the total quantity of oranges which it deems advisable to be handled during the next succeeding week in each prorate district. If, for any reason, the committee recommends the issuance of volume regulation but fails to recommend to the Secretary the total quantity of oranges which it deems advisable to be handled during the next succeeding week in each prorate district, reports representing the respective views of the committee members with respect to its failure to act shall be submitted to the Secretary.

(b) In making its recommendations, the committee shall give due consideration to the following factors: (1) Market prices for oranges, including market prices by grades and sizes; (2) supply of oranges on track at, and en route to, the principal markets; (3) supply, maturity, and condition of oranges in the area of production, including the grade and size composition thereof; (4) market prices and supplies of citrus fruits from California, Arizona, and competitive producing areas, and supplies of other competitive fruits; (5) trend and level in consumer income; and (6) other relevant factors.

(c) At any time during a week for which the Secretary, pursuant to § 922.52, has fixed the quantity of oranges which may be handled, the committee may recommend to the Secretary that such quantity be increased for such week. Each such recommendation, together with the committee's reasons for such recommendation, shall be submitted promptly to the Secretary.

§ 922.52 Issuance of volume regulation. Whenever the Secretary shall find, from the recommendations and information submitted by the committee, or from other available information, that to limit the quantity of oranges which may be handled in each prorate district during a specified week will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, he shall fix such quantity. The quantity so fixed may be increased by the Secretary at any time during such week.

§ 922.53 Prorate bases. (a) Each person who has oranges available for current shipment and who desires to handle such oranges, shall submit to the committee, at such time and in such manner as may be designated by the committee, and upon forms made available by it, a written application for a prorate base and for allotments as provided in this part.

(b) Such application shall be substantiated in such manner and shall be supported by such evidence as the committee may require, and shall include at least (1) the name and address of the producer or duly authorized agent, if any, for each grove or portion thereof, the fruit of which is included in the quantity of oranges available for current shipment by the applicant; (2) an accurate description of the location of each such grove or portion thereof, including the number of acres contained therein; and (3) an estimate of the total quantity of oranges available for current shipment by the applicant in terms of the unit of measure designated by the committee.

(c) Such application shall include only such oranges available for current shipment which the applicant controls (1) by a bona fide written contract giving the applicant authority to handle such oranges, or (2) by having legal title or possession thereof, or (3) by having executed a bona fide written agreement to purchase such oranges. If an applicant controls oranges pursuant to subparagraphs (1) or (3) of this paragraph, he shall submit a copy of each type of such contract or agreement to the committee, together with a statement that no other types of contracts or agreements are used, and shall maintain a file of all original contracts evidencing such control which shall be subject to examination by the committee.

(d) If the quantity of oranges available for current shipment by any person is increased or decreased by the acquisition or loss of the control required by paragraph (c) of this section, such person shall submit promptly a report thereon to the committee upon forms made available by it, which report shall be verified in such manner as the committee may require.

(e) If any person gains or loses the control of oranges required by paragraph (c) of this section, there shall be a corresponding increase or decrease in the quantity of oranges available for current shipment by such person. If it is determined by the committee that any person who has lost the control of oranges required by paragraph (c) of this section has handled a quantity of such oranges less than the quantity that could have been handled under the allotments issued thereon, the quantity of oranges available for current shipment by such person shall be adjusted by deducting therefrom, over such period as may be determined by the committee, a quantity of oranges equivalent to the quantity upon which allotments were issued but which were not utilized thereon.

(f) The committee shall determine the accuracy of the information submitted pursuant to this section. Whenever the committee finds that there is an error, omission, or inaccuracy in any such information, it shall correct the same and shall give the person who submitted the information a reasonable opportunity to discuss with the committee the factors considered in making the correction. If it is determined that an error, omission, or inaccuracy has resulted in the establishment of a smaller or a larger quantity of oranges available for current shipment than that to which a person was entitled under this part, such quantity shall be increased or decreased, over such period as may be determined by the committee, by an amount necessary to correct the error, omission, or inaccuracy.

(g) Each week during the marketing season when volume regulation is likely to be recommended the committee shall compute, with respect to each prorate district, the total quantity of oranges available for current shipment by each person who has applied for a prorate base and for allotments. On the basis of such computation, the committee shall fix a prorate base for each person who is entitled thereto. Such prorate base shall represent the ratio between the total quantity of oranges available for current shipment in the particular prorate district by such applicant and the total quantity of oranges available for current shipment in such district by all such applicants. The committee shall notify the Secretary of the prorate base fixed for each person and shall notify each such person of the prorate base fixed for him.

§ 922.54 Allotments. Whenever the Secretary has fixed the quantity of oranges which may be handled during any week in a prorate district, the committee shall calculate the quantity of oranges which may be handled by each person during such week. The said quantity shall be the allotment of such person and shall be in an amount equivalent to the product of the prorate base for such person and the total quantity of oranges grown in such prorate district and fixed by the Secretary as the total quantity of oranges which may be handled during such week. The committee shall give reasonable notice to each person of the allotment computed for him pursuant to this part.

§ 922.55 Overshipments. During any week for which the Secretary has fixed the total quantity of oranges which may be handled, any person who has received an allotment and is not required to reduce the quantity of oranges which he may handle during such week, as provided in this section, or whose total allotment is not required for the repayment of an allotment loan, may handle in addition to his allotment an amount of such oranges equivalent to 10 percent of his allotment or one carload of oranges, whichever is greater. The quantity of oranges so handled in excess of such person's allotment (but not exceeding an amount equivalent to the excess shipments permitted under this section) shall be deducted from such person's allotment for the next week. If such person's allotment for such week is in an amount less than the excess shipments permitted under this section, the remaining quantity shall be deducted from succeeding weekly allotments issued to such person until such excess has been entirely offset: Provided, That no overshipment incurred during a marketing year shall be deducted from allotments issued during the following marketing year.

§ 922.56 Undershipments. If any person handles during any week a quantity of oranges, covered by a regulation issued pursuant to § 922.52, in an amount less than his allotment of oranges for such week, he may handle, in addition to his allotment for the next week only, a quantity of such oranges equivalent to such undershipment.

§ 922.57 Allotment loans. (a) A person to whom allotments have been issued, whether under the provisions of early maturity, short life, or general maturity, may lend such allotments to other persons within the same prorate district to whom allotments have also been issued: Provided, That allotments issued under the short life provisions of this part may be loaned only to other persons to whom such allotments have also been issued. Such loans shall be confirmed to the committee by both parties thereto within 48 hours after any such agreement has been entered into, and such agreements shall include a date for the repayment of such allotments to the lender during the then current marketing year. If, on the date of repayment specified in the loan agreement, the borrower has insufficient allotment to repay such loan, he shall repay such loan as soon after the repayment date as he has allotments available to him for that purpose: Provided, That no loans made during a marketing year shall be required to be repaid from allotments issued during the following marketing year.

(b) The committee may act on behalf of persons desiring to arrange allotment loans. In each case, the committee shall confirm all such transactions immediately after the completion thereof by memorandum addressed to the parties concerned, which memorandum shall be deemed to satisfy the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section as to a confirmation of the loan agreement to the committee.

(c) An allotment shall be loaned, pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section for use only during the week for which such allotment was issued. Persons securing repayment of an allotment loan may use such allotment only during the week in which the repayment is made.

(d) No allotment which has been loaned may again be loaned by the borrower, or by the lender after the repayment thereof.

§ 922.58 Assignment of allotment certificates. In connection with all handling of oranges other than shipments by rail car, each handler who first handles oranges shall at the time of handling issue to the consignee thereof, or his agent, an assignment of allotment certificate covering each quantity of oranges so handled. Such assignment of allotment certificate shall be on such forms and shall be issued in such manner as prescribed by the committee and shall contain such information as the committee may require.

§ 922.59 Priority of allotments. During any week in which a person receives an allotment, and has the right to handle a quantity of oranges in addition to the quantity represented by his allotment, by reason of (a) an undershipment of an allotment, pursuant to § 922.56; or (b) the repayment of a loaned allotment, pursuant to § 922.57; or (c) a borrowed allotment, pursuant to § 922.57; and such person handles a quantity of oranges which is less than the total quantity of such oranges which such person may handle during such week, the amount of such oranges handled shall first apply to such person's current weekly allotment (or to that portion which is not used pursuant to § 922.55 or § 922.57). The remainder, if any, shall be applied in the following order; second, to any undershipment of allotments, pursuant to § 922.56; third, to any allotment repaid to him, pursuant to § 922.57; fourth, to any allotment borrowed, pursuant to § 922.57.

§ 922.60 Early maturity allotments. Notwithstanding the provisions of § 922.54 the committee shall, prior to the reaching of general maturity, issue special allotments for the handling of early maturity oranges. Handlers controlling early maturity oranges may apply to the committee for such allotments on forms prescribed by the committee and shall furnish to the committee such information as it may require. On the basis of all available information and after consideration of all of the factors enumerated in § 922.51 (b), the committee shall determine the extent to which early maturity allotment shall be granted. Total early maturity allotments approved by the committee for each prorate district shall be distributed to all handlers who qualify therefor in proportion to the quantity requested by each handler in his application: Provided, however, That early maturity allotments issued to any handler prior to the reaching of general maturity shall not permit the handling of a larger share of the oranges available for current shipment controlled by such handler than the share of oranges available for current shipment in the prorate district estimated to be allotted to all handlers in the utilization schedule established by the committee at the beginning of the season. Early maturity allotments may be loaned only to handlers to whom early maturity allotments have been granted. Upon the reaching of general maturity, allotments issued for early maturity oranges shall be offset or repaid by reducing the oranges available for current shipment of each handler who has received early maturity allotments by the quantity of oranges for which early maturity allotments were issued him, plus his proportionate share of the quantity of oranges that will be used for by-products and elimination in his prorate district. Such proportionate share shall be based upon the utilization schedule established by the committee at the beginning of the season. The committee shall, with the approval of the Secretary, adopt procedural rules and regulations to effectuate the provisions of this part. Allotments issued and allocated under this section shall be on a prorate district basis.

§ 922.61 Short life allotments. Notwithstanding the provisions of § 922.54 the committee shall withhold from the allotment of handlers on a uniform proportionate basis for all handlers, an amount sufficient to permit handlers controlling oranges of short life to handle during the normal marketing period of such short life oranges as large a proportion of oranges as the average which will be handled by all handlers. Handlers controlling oranges of short life may apply for such withheld allotment, and such application shall be made on forms supplied by the committee and shall be accompanied by information necessary to permit the committee to determine the validity of such applicant's claim to allotment. The committee shall determine, on the basis of all available information, the extent to which a handler needs allotment under the provisions of this section and pursuant to such determination shall allocate such allotment to such handler at a uniform weekly rate, insofar as practicable, during the normal marketing period of his short life oranges. Such determination and allotment issued pursuant thereto shall not permit a handler to receive more allotment proportionately than the average allotment to be issued to all handlers of oranges. After a handler of short life oranges has received allotment sufficient to make the total allotment issued to him equal proportionately to the average allotment to be issued to all handlers of oranges, allotment thereafter due such handler of short life oranges shall be allocated to handlers from whom allotment has been withheld. Short life allotments may be used only in the handling of short life oranges. The committee shall, with the approval of the Secretary, adopt procedural rules and regulations to effectuate the provisions of this part. Allotments issued and allocated under this section shall be on a prorate district basis.

§ 922.62 Information to central marketing organizations. The committee shall give any central marketing organization, upon its request, the same notice with respect to prorate bases and allotments applicable to each handler for whom it markets oranges as is given to such handler.

§ 922.63 Recommendations for size regulation. (a) Whenever the committee finds that the supply and demand conditions for sizes of oranges make it advisable to regulate the handling of sizes of oranges during any period, it shall recommend to the Secretary the sizes of oranges grown in each prorate district which it deems advisable to be handled during said period. The committee shall promptly submit such findings and recommendations, together with supporting information to the Secretary.

(b) In making its recommendations the committee shall give due consideration to the factors referred to in § 922.51 (b).

§ 922.64 Issuance of size regulation. Whenever the Secretary shall find, from the findings, recommendations, and information submitted by the committee, or from other available information, that to limit the handling of oranges grown in any prorate district or districts by sizes would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, he shall fix the sizes of oranges grown in each such prorate district which may be handled during the specified period. The committee shall be informed immediately of any such regulation issued by the Secretary, and the committee shall promptly give adequate notice thereof to all handlers.

§ 922.65 Exemptions from size regulation. In the event the handling of oranges is limited pursuant to § 922.64, the committee shall issue one or more exemption certificates to any producer who furnishes evidence satisfactory to the committee that he will be prevented by reason of such regulation from having as large a proportion of his oranges handled as the average proportion of oranges which may be handled by all other producers in the same prorate district. Such exemption certificate shall permit the respective producer to whom the certificate is issued to handle or have handled a percentage of his oranges equal to the percentage determined as aforesaid. Shipments of oranges under exemption certificates issued pursuant to this section shall be subject to and limited by such regulations as may be effective under § 922.52 at the time of the respective shipment. The committee shall adopt, with the approval of the Secretary, procedural rules by which such exemption certificates will be issued to producers. Such exemption certificates may be transferred to handlers when accompanied by oranges covered by such certificates.

§ 922.66 Prorate districts. For purposes of administration of this part and in recognition of the fact that there are general differences in maturity and keeping quality of oranges between certain geographical sections of the production area, the production area shall be divided in three prorate districts as follows:

(a) District 1 shall include that portion of the State of California which is north of the 35th Parallel and south of the 37th Parallel.

(b) District 2 shall include that portion of the State of California which is south of the 35th Parallel, but shall exclude Imperial County and that area in Riverside and San Bernardino counties situated east of a line due north and south through White Water, California.

(c) District 3 shall include the State of Arizona, Imperial County, California, and that area in Riverside and San Bernardino Counties, California, situated south of the 35th Parallel and east of a line due north and south through White Water, California.

§ 922.67 Oranges not subject to regulation. Except as otherwise provided in this section, nothing contained in this subpart shall be construed to authorize any limitation of the right of any person to: (a) Handle oranges to charitable institutions for consumption by such institutions or for distribution by relief agencies; (b) handle oranges to commercial processors for processing into products, including juice; (c) export or handle oranges to exporters for export purposes; (d) handle oranges by parcel post or by express; or (e) handle oranges in such minimum quantities or types of shipments as the committee may, with the approval of the Secretary, prescribe. No assessment shall be levied pursuant to § 922.41 on oranges disposed of for any of the purposes specified in this section. The committee shall prescribe, with the approval of the Secretary, such rules, regulations, and safeguards as it may deem necessary to prevent oranges disposed of under the provisions of this section from entering into commercial channels of trade contrary to or in violation of this part.

REPORTS

§ 922.70 Weekly report. On or before such day of each week as may be designated by the committee, each handler shall report to the committee, in such manner as may be designated and on forms made available by it, the following information with respect to the total of all oranges disposed of by each such handler during the immediately preceding week: (a) The total quantity handled; (b) the total quantity disposed of for manufacture into by-products, showing the identity of each by-product processor involved and the quantity of each; (c) the total quantity disposed of for export, showing the destination and quantity of each such disposition; (d) the total quantity shipped for disposition to persons on relief, including quantities donated for charitable purposes; (e) the total quantity shipped by parcel post or express, showing the destination and quantity of each such shipment; and (f) the total quantity disposed of otherwise, showing the manner and quantity of each such disposition.

§ 922.71 Manifest report. Each handler shall furnish to the committee information regarding the size of oranges in each box handled by such handler and shall mail or deliver such information to said committee or its duly authorized representative within 24 hours after shipment is made in such manner as the committee shall prescribe and upon forms prepared by it.

§ 922.72 Other reports. Upon request of the committee, made with the approval of the Secretary, every person subject to regulation under this part shall furnish to the committee, in such manner and at such times as it may prescribe, such other information as will enable the committee to perform its duties under this part.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

§ 922.80 Compliance. Except as provided in this part, no person shall handle oranges during any week in which a regulation issued by the Secretary pursuant to § 922.52 is in effect, unless such oranges are, or have been, handled pursuant to an allotment therefor, or unless such person is otherwise permitted to handle such oranges under the provisions of this part; and no person shall handle oranges except in conformity with the provisions of this part and the regulations issued under this part.

§ 922.81 Right of the Secretary. The members of the committee (including successors and alternates), and all agents, employees, or representatives thereof, shall be subject to removal or suspension by the Secretary at any time. Each and every regulation, decision, determination, or other act of the committee shall be subject to the continuing right of the Secretary to disapprove of the same at any time. Upon such disapproval, the disapproved action of the committee shall be deemed null and void, except as to acts done in reliance thereon or in compliance therewith prior to such disapproval by the Secretary. If the committee, for any reason, fails to perform its duties or exercise its powers under this part, the Secretary may designate another agency to perform such duties and exercise such powers.

§ 922.82 Effective time. The provisions of this part shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare above his signature to this part, and shall continue in force until terminated in one of the ways specified in § 922.83.

§ 922.83 Termination. (a) The Secretary may at any time terminate the provisions of this part by giving at least one day's notice by means of a press release or in any other manner which he may determine.

(b) The Secretary shall terminate or suspend the operation of any and all of the provisions of this part whenever he finds that such provisions do not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(c) (1) The Secretary shall terminate the provisions of this part at the end of any marketing year, whenever he finds that continuance is not favored by producers; but such termination shall be effective only if announced on or before January 15 of the then current marketing year.

(2) To determine whether continuance is favored by producers, the required percentages set forth in the act with respect to producer approval of the issuance of a marketing order regulating the handling of citrus fruits produced in any area producing what is known as California citrus fruits (approval by three-fourths of the producers who, during a representative period, determined by the Secretary, have been engaged, within the production area in the production of Valencia oranges for market; or by producers who, during such representative period, have produced for market at least two-thirds of the volume of Valencia oranges produced within the production area for market) shall be used. In the event that a referendum is utilized to aid in making this determination, such required percentages for continuance shall be held to be complied with if, of the total number of producers, or the total volume of Valencia oranges produced for market, as the case may be, represented in such referendum, the percentage favoring continuance is equal to or in excess of the percentage required.

(3) The Secretary shall, prior to December 15, 1956, conduct a referendum to ascertain whether continuance of this part is favored by the producers. The Secretary shall conduct such a referendum prior to December 15 of each even-numbered year thereafter.

(d) The provisions of this part shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act authorizing them cease to be in effect.

§ 922.84 Proceedings after termination. (a) Upon the termination of the provisions of this part, the committee shall, for the purpose of liquidating the affairs of the committee, continue as trustees of all the funds and property then in its possession or under its control, including claims for any funds unpaid or property not delivered at the time of such termination.

(b) The said trustees shall (1) continue in such capacity until discharged by the Secretary; (2) from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements and deliver all property on hand, together with all books and records of the committee and of the trustees, to such person as the Secretary may direct; and (3) upon the request of the Secretary execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title and right to all of the funds, property, and claims vested in the committee or the trustees pursuant thereto.

(c) Any person to whom funds, property, or claims have been transferred or delivered, pursuant to this section, shall be subject to the same obligation imposed upon the committee and upon the trustees.

§ 922.85 Effect of termination or amendment. Unless otherwise expressly provided by the Secretary, the termination of this part or of any regulation issued pursuant to this part, or the issuance of any amendment to either thereof, shall not (a) affect or waive any right, duty, obligation, or liability which shall have arisen or which may thereafter arise in connection with any provision of this part or any regulation issued under this part, or (b) release or extinguish any violation of this part or of any regulation issued under this part, or (c) affect or impair any rights or remedies of the Secretary or of any other person with respect to any such violation.

§ 922.86 Duration of immunities. The benefits, privileges, and immunities conferred upon any person by virtue of this part shall cease upon its termination, except with respect to acts done under and during the existence of this part.

§ 922.87 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States, or name any agency or division in the United States Department of Agriculture, to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions of this part.

§ 922.88 Derogation. Nothing contained in this part is, or shall be construed to be, in derogation or in modification of the rights of the Secretary or of the United States (a) to exercise any powers granted by the act or otherwise, or (b) in accordance with such powers, to act in the premises whenever such action is deemed advisable.

§ 922.89 Personal liability. No member or alternate member of the committee and no employee or agent of the committee shall be held personally responsible, either individually or jointly with others, in any way whatsoever, to any person for errors in judgment, mistakes, or other acts, either of commission or omission, as such member, alternate, employee, or agent, except for acts of dishonesty, willful misconduct, or gross negligence.

§ 922.90 Separability. If any provision of this part is declared invalid or the applicability thereof to any person, circumstance, or thing is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this part or the applicability thereof to any other person, circumstance, or thing shall not be affected thereby.

[Docket No. AO-231-A-4]

HANDLING OF MILK IN NORTH TEXAS MARKETING AREA

DECISION WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was conducted at Dallas, Texas, on January 26–27, 1954, pursuant to notice thereof which was issued on January 11, 1954 and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on January 15, 1954 (19 F. R. 272) upon a proposed marketing agreement and proposed amendments to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the North Texas marketing area.

Preliminary statement. The proposed amendments upon which the hearing was held were submitted by the North Texas Producers Association and several handlers. The material issues presented in this proceeding relate to the following:

1. A revision in the method of pricing of Class II milk,

2. The elimination of the administrative assessment on milk diverted to unapproved plants, and

3. The classification of ungraded milk for certain uses.

This decision treats only with that portion of issue numbered 1 above with respect to the pricing of Class II milk for the month of March 1954. Further consideration to the balance of issue number 1 and the remaining issues will be treated in a recommended decision to be issued at a later date.

Findings and conclusions. The basis for pricing Class II milk during the month of March 1954 should be changed so as to apply the average of prices paid by three local manufacturing plants.

Under the present order, the pricing of Class II milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content during July through March, is based on the higher of prices resulting from a butter non-fat dry milk solids formula and the average of prices paid dairy farmers for milk by three local manufacturing plants. During April through June the Class II price is the average price paid by the three local plants.

During 1953 the prices paid by the three manufacturing plants declined considerably in relation to the butter non-fat dry milk solids formula. In 1952 the three plant prices averaged above 13¢ per hundredweight higher than the butter non-fat dry milk solids formula price. In 1953 the three plant prices averaged 25 cents below the formula prices. From 1952 to 1953, therefore, the three plant price declined about 38 cents in relation to the butter solid formula price. In December 1953, the latest month for which data are available in the record, the formula price exceeded the three plant price 31 cents per hundredweight.

The record shows that the present Class II pricing arrangement is not promoting a sufficient usuage of reserve supplies of producer milk in regular manufacturing operations conducted in conjunction with the handlers' fluid milk businesses. Substantial volumes of other source dairy products, such as cream, condensed milk, and non-fat solids were purchased by handlers for Class II operations while at the same time producers experienced difficulty in disposing of their milk production. Milk, produced by members of the local producers' association, has been turned over to the association for disposal to unapproved plants.

Receipts of milk from producers have increased substantially during the past year. During the last quarter of 1953, producer milk receipts increased approximately 1 percent over the corresponding period of 1952. With the increase in producer receipts the total volume of Class II milk at approved plants during 1953 was about 65 percent greater than in 1952. In the few weeks immediately preceding the hearing, a further increase in producers' supplies was experienced, which was apparently more than the usual seasonal increase. With the anticipated seasonal increase in production and the continuation of the spread between the butter non-fat dry milk solids formula prices and the local manufacturing prices, a serious Class II milk disposal problem will prevail during the month of March.

The record indicates that unless the Class II price is adjusted at this time some handlers will continue to limit, and other handlers possibly reduce, the volume of milk received from producers. Individual producers and the cooperative association (in behalf of their members) will be required to dispose of reserve milk supplies. Immediate action should be taken, therefore, to apply local manufacturing plant prices as a basis for establishing the Class II prices during the month of March 1954. This will encourage handlers to absorb a greater portion of the market's reserve supply in their Class II operations. Further changes in the Class II pricing arrangement should be the subject of a recommended decision to which interested parties will be offered an opportunity to file exceptions. Since the pricing of Class II milk is to be considered in a later decision, the amendment recommended herein should extend only until such action is completed on this issue. Such action should be completed and effected not later than April 1, 1954. Therefore the pricing herein proposed need not extend beyond March 1954.

The need for expeditious action. The large increase during the last year in the volume of Class II milk referred to hereinbefore appears to be result of (1) a general increase in the volume of both market requirements and market supplies with the increase in supplies of producer milk being somewhat larger than the increase in market requirements, and (2) somewhat earlier than normal seasonal increase in supplies of producer milk. This latter condition has developed very recently. In the latter part of December 1953, and early in January 1954, considerable volumes of producer milk were disposed of to unapproved plants. These conditions make it imperative that any changes in the order to effect the conclusions reached in this decision should be made at the earliest possible date. It is therefore concluded that good cause exists for eliminating the recommended decision in this proceeding with respect to the pricing of Class II milk in the month of March 1954 and that the due and timely execution of the function of the Secretary under the Act, imperatively and unavoidably requires the omission of a recommended decision by the Deputy Administrator of Agricultural Marketing Service and the opportunity for exceptions thereto on issues herein considered.

Rulings on proposed findings and conclusions. Briefs were filed on behalf of producers and handlers (who would be subject to the proposed marketing agreement and order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended). The briefs contained suggested findings of fact, conclusions, and arguments with respect to the proposals discussed at the hearing. Every point covered in the briefs was carefully considered along with evidence in the record in making the findings and reaching the conclusions hereinbefore set forth. To the extent that the suggested findings and conclusions contained in the briefs are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions contained herein, the requests to make such findings or to reach such conclusions are denied on the basis of the facts found and stated in connection with the findings and conclusions in this decision.

General findings. (a) The tentative marketing agreement and the order as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of, and demand for, milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the tentative marketing agreement and in the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(c) The tentative marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity, specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Determination of representative period. The month of January 1954, is hereby determined to be the representative period for the purpose of ascertaining whether the issuance of an order amending the order as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the North Texas marketing area in the manner set forth in the attached amending order, as amended, is approved or favored by producers who during such period were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the marketing area specified in such order.

Marketing agreement and order. Annexed hereto and made a part hereof are two documents entitled "Marketing Agreement Regulating the Handling of Milk in the North Texas, Marketing Area", and "Order Amending the Order, as Amended, Regulating the Handling of Milk in the North Texas, Marketing Area," which have been decided upon as the detailed and appropriate means of effectuating the foregoing conclusions. These documents shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and orders have been met.

It is hereby ordered, That all of this decision, except the attached marketing agreement, be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The regulatory provisions of said marketing agreement are identical with those contained in the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended by the attached order which will be published with this decision.

This decision filed at Washington, D. C., this 26th day of February 1954.

[SEAL] JOHN H. DAVIS,
Assistant Secretary of Agriculture.

Order[1] Amending the Order, as Amended, Regulating the Handling of Milk in the North Texas Marketing Area

§ 943.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the North Texas marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial acivitiy, specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the North Texas marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, as follows:

Amend § 943.51 (b) by inserting "March 1954", immediately preceding "April, May and June".

[F. R. Doc. 54-1496; Filed, Mar. 2, 1954; 8:55 a. m.]

[1] This order shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and orders have been met.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,

§ 9.1201 Scope and objective. (a) Sections 9.1201 to 9.1205 apply to all stations in the aviation services and is for the purpose of providing for the alerting and operation of radio stations in the aviation services during periods of air attack or imminent threat thereof.

(b) The aim of this plan is to minimize the navigational aid that may be obtained by an enemy from the signals of aviation radio stations, while simultaneously providing for continued radio service to the extent necessary for the safety or control of friendly aircraft.

§ 9.1202 General. All radio stations in the aviation services are required to provide for receiving the Radio Alert and to operate in accordance with §§ 9.1201 to 9.1205.

§ 9.1203 Definitions. (a) The term "Conelrad" is a contraction of the words, "Control of Electromagnetic Radiation," and is the general term applied to the controlled operation of radio facilities under the authority of Executive Order 10312, dated December 10, 1951.

(b) Radio Alert is the term applied to the military warning that an air attack is probable or imminent, which automatically orders the immediate implementation of the controlled operations of all radio stations. The Radio Alert is distinct from the military or civil defense Warnings, Yellow, Red or White, but may be coincidental with such warnings.

§ 9.1204 Alerting. (a) All stations in the aviation services licensed by the Federal Communications Commission[*] will be responsible for making provisions to receive the Radio Alert when such an alert is ordered by appropriate military authorities. The Radio Alert may be received by one or more of the following methods:

(1) Stations directly connected to and in continuous communication with a CAA Air Route Traffic Control Center (ARTCC) may receive the Alert over the ARTCC circuit.

(2) Stations not connected to a CAA circuit, must:

(i) Provide a connection to an accessible CAA communications circuit, or

(ii) Provide a broadcast receiver to obtain the Radio Alert from any broadcast station (standard, FM or TV) that can be heard, or

(iii) Provide a separate receiver to monitor another station in the Aviation Service which is in direct communication with a CAA Air Route Traffic Control Center, or

(iv) Provide any other suitable method which is specifically authorized and approved by an appropriate CAA ARTCC as a result of a local study.

§ 9.1205 Operation. (a) During a period of Radio Alert all stations in the aviation services will maintain radio silence, unless required by an appropriate CAA Air Route Traffic Control Center to remain on the air for the purpose of air traffic control. Such operations will be in accordance with the CAA CONELRAD Plans dated May 1, 1953 and instructions issued by the appropriate ARTCC, under the provisions of the U. S. Department of Defense "Security Control of Air Traffic during a Military Emergency" Plan (SCAT Plan). Licensees in the Aviation Services should contact the CAA Air Route Traffic Control Center, within whose flight advisory area the station is located, for the details of operations applicable to a specific station. When not required by CAA for the purposes of security control of air traffic, all stations in the aviation services will promptly leave the air and maintain radio silence for the duration of a Radio Alert, except as specifically authorized in the local Air Division (Defense) SCATER Plan or by an appropriate ARTCC.

(b) None of the provisions in §§ 9.1201 to 9.1205 shall be interpreted to preclude the operation of certain stations in the Aviation Radio Services in connection with the activities of local, Federal, or civil defense organizations, provided such operations are not in conflict with operations necessary for CAA Air Route Traffic Control, and such operations are specifically authorized by the Federal Communications Commission.

[F. R. Doc. 54-1478; Filed, Mar. 2, 1954; 8:52 a. m.]

[*] The term "licensed by" as used in §§ 9.1201 to 9.1205, includes all forms of authorizations under which a radio station is operated, including station licensees, STA's etc.

NORTH ATLANTIC CONTINENTAL FREIGHT CONFERENCE

NOTICE OF ESTABLISHMENT OF CONTRACT/NON-CONTRACT RATES

Notice is hereby given that on February 25, 1954, the North Atlantic Continental Freight Conference filed with the Federal Maritime Board, pursuant to §§ 236.1 and 236.3 of General Order 76, a statement containing a proposal to establish contract/non-contract rates, effective April 1, 1954, on all cargoes transported by the member lines of the conference in liner service in the trade between United States North Atlantic ports to ports in Belgium, Holland, and Germany (excluding German Baltic ports), with a spread or differential of 10 percent between such contract and non-contract rates. The member lines state that in so filing they are acting pursuant to and in accordance with the January 6, 1954 Order of the Federal Maritime Board in Docket No. 724, and also pursuant to their Conference Agreement No. 4490, approved August 24, 1935, providing for "specific contract and non-contract rates," and amendments thereto, all approved under section 15 of the Shipping Act, 1916.

The statement alleges that the establishment of the dual rate system in the above trade is for the purpose of (1) the promotion and development of American-foreign maritime commerce; stabilization of rates and competitive practices so as to provide and encourage regular and dependable sailings and service; maintenance of harmony among established lines furnishing regular service, on the principles set forth in the basic Conference agreement, which provides for "specific contract and non-contract rates;" (2) the establishment of equitable and just arrangements with merchants, in the interest of providing them with assurance of service and reasonable stability of rates; thus to encourage, permit and support forward trading in and to the interest and advantage of the carriers and the related foreign commerce of the United States; (3) to provide the member lines with reasonable assurance of cargoes in such volume as will enable and encourage them to maintain and improve their foreign trade services; (4) to protect member lines and the foreign commerce in which they are engaged from the potential and likely adverse consequences of rate wars; also the rather constant practice of undercutting of rates by non-member lines; (5) to protect the present member lines and as well those later voluntarily choosing to become members from the inevitable disadvantageous consequences of rate-cutting and other trade-disturbing practices of non-member lines; and to afford to the member lines a reasonable prospect of recovering portions of traffic heretofore lost by said practices; and (6) to make Conference membership attractive to the present members also to other carriers presently not members but who may voluntarily choose to become such, in the sense and purpose of thereby helping to stabilize our foreign commerce in the general public interest as well as in the interest of the carriers. The Conference is open to all lines operating in the trade.

Interested parties may inspect the information contained in the above statement, and may submit within 20 days after the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER written statements with reference to the information filed and any objections or other comments thereon, together with request for hearing should such hearing be desired.

Dated: February 26, 1954.

By order of the Federal Maritime Board.

Secretary.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 1-3553]

SOUTHERN INDIANA GAS & ELECTRIC CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO WITHDRAW FROM LISTING AND REGISTRATION, AND OF OPPORTUNITY FOR HEARING

FEBRUARY 25, 1954.

In the matter of Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Company, Common Stock, No Par Value; File No. 1-3553.

Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Company, pursuant to section 12 (d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-12D2-1 (b) promulgated thereunder, has made application to withdraw its Common Stock, No Par Value, from listing and registration on the Midwest Stock Exchange.

The reasons alleged in the application for withdrawing this security from listing and registration are as follows:

(1) The volume of trading in the above security on the Midwest Stock Exchange for the two-year period from January 1, 1952, to January 1, 1954, amounted to 100 shares.

(2) The volume of trading in this security on the Midwest Stock Exchange is so small that the applicant does not feel justified in continuing the expense of listing and registration on this exchange, inasmuch as the security will continue to be listed and registered on the New York Stock Exchange.

Upon receipt of a request, prior to March 17, 1954, from any interested person for a hearing in regard to terms to be imposed upon the delisting of this security, the Commission will determine whether to set the matter down for hearing. Such request should state briefly the nature of the interest of the person requesting the hearing and the position he proposes to take at the hearing with respect to imposition of terms or conditions. In addition, any interested person may submit his views or any additional facts bearing on this application by means of a letter addressed to the Secretary of the Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D. C. If no one requests a hearing on this matter, this application will be determined by order of the Commission on the basis of the facts stated in the application, and other information contained in the official file of the Commission pertaining to the matter.

By the Commission.

CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS GAS CO. ET AL.

ORDER AUTHORIZING ISSUE AND SALE OF PROMISSORY BANK NOTES

FEBRUARY 24, 1954.

In the matter of Central Massachusetts Gas Company, Mystic Valley Gas Company, North Shore Gas Company; File No. 70-3177.

Central Massachusetts Gas Company ("Central Mass."), Mystic Valley Gas Company ("Mystic") and North Shore Gas Company ("North Shore"), public-utility subsidiary companies of New England Electric System, a registered holding company, have filed a joint declaration with this Commission, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), with respect to the issue and sale to a bank of promissory notes in the aggregate amount of $9,400,000. Section 7 of the act and Rule U-42 (b) (2) promulgated thereunder have been designated as applicable to the proposed transactions which are summarized below:

Central Mass. and North Shore propose to issue to a bank, on or after March 1, 1954, but not later than December 31, 1954, unsecured promissory notes in the respective principal amounts of $700,000 and $2,200,000. Mystic originally proposed to issue similar notes in the aggregate amount of $6,500,000 but since the filing has requested permission to withdraw its proposal. Each of the notes proposed to be issued by Central Mass. and North Shore will mature on February 1, 1955, and will bear interest at the rate of 3½ percent per annum. Central Mass. and North Shore have agreed to pay the bank a commitment fee of ½ of 1 percent per annum from March 1, 1954, to December 31, 1954, on the average daily difference between the amount of the bank's commitment ($700,000 in the case of Central Mass. and $2,200,000 in the case of North Shore) and the amount borrowed. According to the joint declaration, the proceeds derived from the sale of the proposed notes will be used by Central Mass. and North Shore for the payment of note indebtedness, due March 1, 1954, and outstanding in the respective amounts of $600,000 and $1,950,000, and for construction and other corporate purposes in the respective amounts of $100,000 and $250,000.

The joint declaration states that incidental services in connection with the notes proposed to be issued will be performed, at cost, by New England Power Service Company, an affiliated service company, such cost being estimated not to exceed $300 each for Central Mass. and North Shore.

The joint declaration further states that no State commission or Federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

Central Mass. and North Shore request that the Commission's order herein become effective forthwith upon issuance.

Due notice having been given of the filing of the joint declaration and a hearing not having been requested of or ordered by the Commission; the Commission finding that the applicable provisions of the act and the rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied and that no adverse findings are necessary, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that said joint declaration in so far as it relates to the issuance and sale of promissory notes by Central Mass. and North Shore should be permitted to become effective, and it appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate to grant Mystic's request for permission to withdraw its declaration with respect to its proposal to issue and sell $6,500,000 of promissory notes:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, that said point declaration in so far as it relates to the issuance and sale of promissory notes by Central Mass. and North Shore be, and the same hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

It is further ordered, That the request of Mystic for permission to withdraw its declaration regarding its proposal to issue and sell $6,500,000 of promissory notes be, and the same hereby is, granted.

By the Commission.

As soon as possible after consummation of the transactions described above, PG&E will proceed to merge PPS and Coast Counties with itself as the surviving corporation in accordance with the Corporations Code of the State of California. PG&E has requested that PG&E, as a holding company, and its subsidiaries as such, be exempted from the provisions of the act.

The foregoing exchange offers have been approved by the California Public Utilities Commission as fair and reasonable to the stockholders of the companies involved, and the subsequent merger will be subject to that Commission's jurisdiction. The California Public Utilities Commission is the only State Commission which has jurisdiction over the exchanges of securities and the subsequent merger.

PG&E states that there will be no separate legal fees in connection with the proposed transactions and that other expenses, excepting the fees of Registrars and Transfer Agents, incurred and to be incurred are estimated to amount to $68,500, of which $22,000 is for stock transfer stamp taxes, $25,000 for labor in connection with the issuance of stock certificates, $13,100 for engraving, printing, stationery and postage, and $8,400 for miscellaneous expenses.

Due notice having been given of the filing of said applications, and no hearing having been requested of or ordered by the Commission; and the Commission finding that the applicable provisions of the act and the rules thereunder are satisfied, and observing no basis for adverse findings; and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and the interests of investors and consumers to grant said amended applications forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions contained in Rule U-24 and to a certain additional term and condition:

It is hereby ordered, That the amended application of PG&E for approval of its acquisition of the capital stocks of PPS and Coast Counties be, and the same hereby is, granted, effective forthwith, pursuant to Rule U-23, subject to the terms and conditions contained in Rule U-24 and the following additional term and condition, that PG&E shall not mail any material to the stockholders of PPS and Coast Counties soliciting the tender of shares of the common stock of PPS and the preferred stocks of PPS and Coast Counties until the Commission shall have advised PG&E that such material is appropriate for mailing.

It is further ordered, That the application of PG&E for exemption of itself as a holding company, and its subsidiaries as such, pursuant to sections 3 (a) (1) and 3 (a) (2) of the act, be, and the same hereby is, granted, effective forthwith upon the acquisition by PG&E of 10 per centum or more of the outstanding voting securities of PPS.

AMESBURY ELECTRIC LIGHT CO. ET AL.

ORDER AUTHORIZING ISSUE AND SALE BY SUBSIDIARIES OF PROMISSORY NOTES TO BANKS AND TO PARENT

FEBRUARY 25, 1954.

In the matter of Amesbury Electric Light Company, Athol Gas Company, Attleboro Steam and Electric Company, Connecticut River Power Company, Essex County Electric Company, Granite State Electric Company, Haverhill Electric Company, Lawrence Electric Company, Lawrence Gas Company, The Lowell Electric Light Corporation, Northampton Electric Lighting Company, Northampton Gas Light Company, Northern Berkshire Electric Company, North Shore Gas Company, Norwood Gas Company, Quincy Electric Company, Southern Berkshire Power & Electric Company, Suburban Electric Company, Weymouth Light and Power Company, Worcester County Electric Company, New England Electric System; File No. 70-3197.

New England Electric System ("NEES"), a registered holding company, and its above-named public-utility subsidiary companies (hereinafter individually referred to as "Amesbury", "Athol", "Attleboro", "Connecticut", "Essex", "Granite", "Haverhill", "Lawrence", "Lawrence Gas", "Lowell", "Northampton", "Northampton Gas", "Northern", "North Shore", "Norwood", "Quincy", "Southern", "Suburban", "Weymouth", and "Worcester" and collectively referred to as "the borrowing companies"), have filed with this Commission a joint application-declaration, pursuant to sections 7, 10, and 12 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") and Rules U-23, U-42 (b) (2), U-43, and U-45 (b) (1) promulgated thereunder, with respect to the following proposed transactions:

The borrowing companies propose to issue, from time to time but not later than December 31, 1954, short-term unsecured promissory notes (a) to banks in the aggregate principal amount of $55,670,000 and (b) to NEES in the aggregate principal amount of $28,980,000 or a total of $84,650,000. The application-declaration states that the maximum amount of short-term debt which the borrowing companies will have outstanding at any one time during the year 1954 (a) with banks will not exceed $34,180,000 and (b) with NEES will not exceed $23,450,000, with the total amount of such indebtedness at all times being limited to $47,200,000. Each of the notes proposed to be issued will mature in less than one year and in any event not later than March 31, 1955, and, except as hereinafter described, if issued by an electric company, will bear interest at the prime rate at the time of issuance thereof, and, if issued by a gas company, at such interest rate plus ¼ of 1 percent. It is stated that the present prime rate is 3¼ percent. Athol, Lawrence Gas, Northampton Gas, North Shore, and Norwood Gas are gas companies and the other borrowing companies are electric companies.

Any note proposed to be issued by a borrowing company to NEES for the purpose of prepaying any then outstanding note payable to a bank, will bear interest at the same interest rate as the note to be prepaid until the due date of the prepaid note or at the prime interest rate (plus ¼ of 1 percent in the case of gas companies) on the issue date thereof, whichever is lower, and thereafter at the prime rate at the time of issuance or at such rate plus ¼ of 1 percent depending on whether the issuer is an electric or gas company. With respect to any note proposed to be issued to a bank by a borrowing company to prepay any then outstanding note payable to NEES, if the interest rate for the note proposed to be issued exceeds the interest rate on the note proposed to be prepaid, NEES will file an amendment to the application-declaration setting forth therein the amount of the note proposed to be issued and the proposed interest rate thereon which amendment will become effective five days after the filing thereof unless the Commission notifies NEES to the contrary within said five-day period.

The following Table I shows for each borrowing company (1) the aggregate amount of notes proposed to be issued to banks and to NEES in 1954, and (2) the maximum amount of short-term debt to be outstanding with banks and with NEES at any one time during 1954:

TABLE I

	Aggregate amount of notes proposed to be issued in 1954		Maximum amount of short-term debt to be outstanding during 1954

Total	$55,670,000	$28,980,000	$34,180,000	$23,450,000

The proceeds to be derived from the issuance of the proposed notes will be used by the borrowing companies to pay then outstanding notes or to pay for construction expenditures. The application-declaration indicates that during 1954 certain of the borrowing companies (or the resultant company in the event of the merger of certain of such companies) contemplate the issuance of an aggregate amount of $22,500,000 of long term debt and common stock. Each of the borrowing companies proposes that if any permanent financing is done between January 1, 1954, and March 31, 1955, it will apply the proceeds therefrom in reduction of, or in total payment of its short-term debt. In the event of any permanent financing by a borrowing company, except Suburban, the applicable amount in the third column of Table I set forth above will be reduced by an amount equal to the bank debt then outstanding and the applicable amount in the fourth column of said Table I will be reduced by an amount equal to any excess of the proceeds of the permanent financing over the bank debt then outstanding. If the proceeds from any such permanent financing exceed the applicable amount of bank debt and debt to NEES then outstanding, the applicable amount in the third column will be reduced or eliminated by the amount of such excess. In the case of Suburban, an amount equal to the proceeds from any permanent financing will be applied to reduce the amount for such company shown in the third column of said Table I and an amount equal to any excess over $4,000,000 of proceeds from such permanent financing will be applied to reduce the amount shown in the fourth column.

The following Table II shows for each borrowing company (a) the amount of unsecured short-term debt outstanding at January 1, 1954, and (b) the amount of unsecured short-term debt estimated to be outstanding at December 31, 1954, after giving effect to the use of the proceeds from the proposed notes and contemplated permanent financing:

Total	15,070,000	16,820,000	8,365,000	18,610,000

The application-declaration also indicates that NEES anticipates the sale of shares of its common stock in November 1954, to realize proceeds of approximately $11,500,000.

The joint application-declaration states that incidental services in connection with the proposed note issues will be performed, at cost, by New England Power Service Company, an affiliated service company, such cost being estimated not to exceed $50 for NEES and each borrowing company, or an aggregate of $1,050.

The joint application-declaration further states that the Public Utilities Commission of New Hampshire has authorized the notes proposed to be issued by Connecticut and Granite and that, in the opinion of counsel for NEES and the borrowing companies, the proposed notes may be issued by Connecticut without the consent of the Vermont Public Service Commission. The application-declaration further states that, except for these State commissions, no State commission and no Federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

NEES and the borrowing companies request that the Commission's order herein become effective forthwith upon issuance.

Due notice having been given of the filing of said joint application-declaration, and a hearing not having been requested of or ordered by the Commission; and the Commission finding that the applicable provisions of the act and rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied and that no adverse findings are necessary, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that said application-declaration should be granted and be permitted to become effective forthwith:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, that said joint application-declaration be, and the same hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

UTAH POWER & LIGHT CO.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED ISSUANCE OF COMMON STOCK AND BONDS

FEBRUARY 25, 1954.

Notice is hereby given that Utah Power & Light Company ("Company"), a registered holding company which is also a public-utility operating company, has filed with this Commission a declaration pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), designating sections 6 (a) and 7 of the act and Rule U-50 thereunder as applicable to the proposed transactions, which are summarized as follows:

The Company proposes to issue and sell, subject to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, (a) 200,000 shares of its Common Stock, without par or face value, and (b) $15,000,000 aggregate principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, ____ percent Series due 1984.

The interest rate on the Bonds (which shall be a multiple of ⅛ of 1 percent) and the price (exclusive of accrued interest) to be paid for the Bonds (which shall be not less than the principal amount thereof and not more than 102¾ percent of such principal amount), as well as the price to be paid for the Stock, will be fixed by proposals to be invited by the Company, which will reserve the right to reject any or all proposals at or after the opening thereof. The Bonds will be issued under a Mortgage and Deed of Trust dated as of December 1, 1943, from the Company to Guaranty Trust Company of New York and Arthur E. Burke, trustees, as heretofore supplemented and as further supplemented by a Ninth Supplemental Indenture to be dated as of May 1, 1954. Such Bonds will also be entitled to the benefit of the Indenture dated as of December 1, 1943, between the Company's subsidiary The Western Colorado Power Company and the aforesaid trustees.

Stating that it may desire to acquire not more than 5,000 shares of its Common Stock by purchases on the New York Stock Exchange or otherwise, on the morning of the day on which the bids for the purchase of the Stock are to be opened, for the purpose of facilitating the distribution and offering of said 200,000 shares of Common Stock, the Company requests permission to conduct such limited stabilizing operation. Any shares so acquired are to be purchased from the Company by the underwriters in addition to said 200,000 shares.

The Company has also filed applications for the approval of its issuance and sale of Common Stock and Bonds as aforesaid with the Public Service Commission of Wyoming and the Idaho Public Utilities Commission, which, in the opinion of the Company's counsel, are the only state regulatory commissions having jurisdiction in the premises.

According to present schedule, the Company expects to sell said Stock in the latter part of March 1954 and said Bonds about two months later. The proceeds accruing from the sale of said securities will be applied on the Company's current construction program and to pay off a bank loan of $10,000,000 made in connection therewith. The Company estimates that the construction program of itself and its subsidiary, for the years 1954–1956 inclusive, will require approximately $57,400,000, of which approximately $25,300,000 is for 1954, $21,900,000 for 1955, and $10,200,000 for 1956.

The Company estimates that its expenses in connection with the issuance and distribution of said securities will be as follows:

	Bonds	Stock

ATLAS CORP. AND WASATCH CORP.

NOTICE OF FILING REQUESTING EXEMPTION OF CERTAIN TRANSACTIONS BETWEEN AFFILIATES

FEBRUARY 23, 1954.

Notice is hereby given that Atlas Corporation ("Atlas") and its controlled subsidiary Wasatch Corporation ("Wasatch"), both registered, closed-end, non-diversified investment companies, have filed an application pursuant to section 17 (b) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 for an order of the Commission exempting from the provisions of section 17 (a) of the act the transfer by Atlas to Wasatch of certain interests in producing and nonproducing oil leases in exchange for 54,308 shares of Prior Preferred Stock of Wasatch.

Atlas owns 100 percent of the Prior Preferred Stock and 87.3 percent of the Common Stock of Wasatch, which are the only outstanding securities of Wasatch entitled to vote, and Atlas' combined holdings of these stocks represent 95.2 percent of the voting power of Wasatch. Under the provisions of section 2 (a) (3) of the act, Atlas and Wasatch are affiliated persons of each other, and under the provisions of section 2 (a) (9) Wasatch is presumptively controlled by Atlas. The proposed transactions are, therefore, prohibited by section 17 (a) of the act, which makes it unlawful, subject to certain exceptions not relevant here, for an affiliated person of a registered investment company to sell to or purchase from such registered company any security or other property, unless the Commission, upon application pursuant to section 17 (b) of the act, grants an exemption from the provisions of section 17 (a) of the act. In granting such exemption, the Commission is required to find that the terms of the proposed transaction, including the consideration, are reasonable and fair and do not involve overreaching on the part of anyone concerned and that the proposed transaction is consistent with the policy of each registered investment company concerned, as recited in its registration statement and reports filed under the act, and with the general purposes of the act.

The application discloses the following facts:

Atlas owns the following securities of Wasatch:

Description	Amount or number of shares	Percent of total outstanding
6% debentures, Series A due Jan. 1, 1963	$1,882,000	32.8
5% notes, due Apr. 15, 1954	$1,290,095	100
Prior preferred stock	375,193 shares	100
Preferred stock	104 shares	95.1
Common stock	301,170 shares	87.3

The proposed transactions which are the subject matter of the instant application are a part of an overall plan for the recapitalization of Wasatch which is referred to in the Commission's Findings and Opinion dated November 28, 1952, issued as Investment Company Act Release No. 1813. An order of the Commission issued the same date as the said Findings and Opinion exempted from section 17 (a) of the act, pursuant to section 17 (b) of the act, a sequence of transactions among Atlas, Wasatch (then known as Italian Superpower Corporation) and Istituto Per La Ricostruzione Industriale ("IRI"), an agency of the Italian government, which were set forth in two agreements, one between Atlas and IRI dated May 31, 1952, as amended, and the other between Atlas and Wasatch dated October 23, 1952, as amended. Pursuant to these transactions, control of Wasatch was acquired by Atlas and the capitalization of Wasatch, which had been in default since 1942 in the payment of interest on its outstanding debentures, was rearranged. As part of the agreement between Atlas and IRI, it was provided that IRI, at a date not later than January 5, 1954, would surrender to Wasatch $3,883,000 principal amount of debentures of Wasatch, with certain coupons attached, for certain specified securities and cash. In this connection, the agreement between Atlas and Wasatch provided that in the event that such exchange should result in a diminution of the net asset coverage for each $1,000 principal amount of the remaining outstanding debentures of Wasatch, Atlas would purchase a sufficient number of shares of the Prior Preferred Stock of Wasatch at a price equal to the liquidating preference thereof so that the net assets applicable to such remaining debentures should be the same immediately after the transfer as they were immediately prior to such transfer.

On October 26, 1953, the transfer of securities contemplated in the aforementioned agreements was effected. Applicants state that as a result of such transfer the net asset coverage for the $4,821,000 of 6 percent debentures of Wasatch remaining outstanding was reduced by the sum of $271,542.56.

In compliance with the terms of its aforementioned agreement with Wasatch, Atlas proposes to assign and transfer to Wasatch as of November 1, 1953, certain interests which Atlas has in producing and non-producing oil leases located in Texas, Kansas and Oklahoma, in exchange for 54,308 shares of Prior Preferred Stock of Wasatch having a liquidating preference of $271,540, approximately equal to the amount of Prior Preferred Stock which Atlas is obligated to buy from Wasatch by reason of the diminution of the net asset coverage for the 6 percent debentures of Wasatch remaining outstanding. The oil interests to be acquired from Atlas by Wasatch will be entered on Wasatch's books at an amount equal to their net cash cost to Atlas as of November 1, 1953. The precise figure has not yet been finally ascertained, but the net cash cost to Atlas of the properties to be transferred, which Atlas states were acquired in arm's length dealings, was $658,281.31 as of August 31, 1953, and this cost has been increased to the extent that drilling expenditures made since then have exceeded net cash income. In accepting the oil interests, Wasatch will assume, and thus relieve Atlas of, an obligation to spend approximately $100,000 in drilling four additional wells on one of the properties being transferred to Wasatch. The parties have agreed that the assignment and transfer of the oil interests shall constitute a full and complete discharge of any obligations of Atlas to Wasatch with respect to the asset coverage of the said debentures.

Applicants state that it is apparent that on any basis of valuation, the oil interests to be transferred to Wasatch, have a value substantially in excess of the amount of Atlas' obligation to purchase Prior Preferred Stock of Wasatch in order to maintain the asset coverage of the debentures and substantially in excess of the liquidation preference of the Prior Preferred Stock to be received by Atlas. Applicants maintain, however, that this fact is of little practical significance from the point of view of Atlas' stockholders. Applicants state that if Wasatch were liquidated as of October 26, 1953, its assets would be insufficient, after providing for the payment of outstanding debts, to pay off the full liquidation preference of its Prior Preferred Stock and nothing would be available for the Preferred Stock, which has a liquidation preference of about $25,000,000. Applicants thus contend that any value contributed by Atlas would inure to the benefit of the Prior Preferred and Preferred Stocks, all of which, except for a very small fraction, are owned by Atlas. In addition, applicants point out that there are other considerations, such as possible tax benefits under state laws, which make it desirable, from the standpoint of Atlas, to transfer ownership of the oil interests from Atlas to Wasatch.

Applicants state that the proposed transactions meet the statutory standards of section 17 (b) of the act, in that the terms of the proposed transactions are reasonable and fair and do not involve overreaching on the part of any person concerned; that the proposed transactions are consistent with the policies of Atlas and Wasatch and are consistent with the general purposes of the act.

For a more detailed description of the oil leases proposed to be transferred by Atlas to Wasatch, together with estimates of oil reserves underlying the aforementioned leases, and for a more detailed statement of the matters of fact and law asserted, all interested persons are referred to the said application which is on file in the office of this Commission in Washington, D. C.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than March 15, 1954, at 5:30 p. m., submit to the Commission in writing any facts bearing upon the desirability of a hearing on the matter and may request that a hearing be held, such request stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such communication or request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date, the application may be granted as provided in Rule N-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act.

By the Commission.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

ORGANIZATION OF DIVISIONS AND BOARDS AND ASSIGNMENT OF WORK, BUSINESS AND FUNCTIONS UNDER THE REORGANIZATION EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 1942, AS AMENDED

At a general session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 15th day of February A. D. 1954.

Section 17 of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended, (49 U. S. C. 17) and other provisions of law being under consideration:

It is ordered, That the organization of divisions and boards and assignment of work, business and functions under the reorganization effective July 1, 1942, as amended, be and it is hereby revised, effective February 15, 1954, as set forth below:

By the Commission.

[SEAL] GEORGE W. LAIRD, Secretary.

(References are to the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended, unless otherwise specified.)

1.1 Effective February 15, 1954, except as may be otherwise provided herein, the following organization schedule and assignment of work and functions shall be in force:

DIVISIONS OF THE COMMISSION

2.1 There shall be five divisions of the Commission to be known, respectively, as divisions one, two, three, four, and five.

2.2 As provided by section 17 of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended, each division shall have authority to hear and determine, order, certify, or report or otherwise act as to any work, business, of functions assigned or referred to it under the provisions of that section, and with respect thereto shall have all the jurisdiction and powers conferred by law upon the Commission, and be subject to the same duties and obligations.

2.3 Each division with regard to any case or matter assigned to it, or any question brought to it under this delegation of duty and authority, may call upon the whole Commission for advice and counsel, or for consideration of any case or question by an additional Commissioner or Commissioners assigned thereto; and the Commisison may recall and bring before it as such any case, matter or question so allotted or assigned and may either dispose of such case, matter, or question itself, or may assign or refer the matter to the same or another division.

2.4 From such assignment of work there shall be reserved for consideration and disposition by the Commission (1) all investigations on the Commission's own motion heretofore entered upon and hereafter instituted, except as may be otherwise provided, and (2) all applications for rehearing, reargument or other reconsideration and all cases before the Commission for reconsideration, except as hereinafter otherwise provided; and there shall also be excepted from this assignment of work all cases submitted prior to June 30, 1942, either to the Commission or to a division thereof, or submitted to the Commission and specially referred to a division, the various cases enumerated in any previous order of the Commission as reserved for consideration and disposition by the Commission, and all cases otherwise specially assigned.

2.5 All proceedings of the character in which, by provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237), a hearing is required to be conducted in conformity with section 7, and a decision to be made as provided in section 8 of that act, shall be and are reserved to the Commission for initial decision, and for such purpose of initial decision may be assigned to a division, individual Commissioner, or board, as provided in section 17 of the Interstate Commerce Act (49 U. S. C. 17), by the general order of the Commission as to assignment of work, business, or functions. The following are excepted from the foregoing reservation: (a) Proceedings required by section 205 of the Interstate Commerce Act (49 U. S. C. 305) to be submitted to joint boards; and (b) specific cases, or classes of cases, as to which the Commission may order exemption from the operation of this general rule. For the purpose of such initial decision, the record in a proceeding so reserved shall be considered as certified to the Commission for initial decision when received by the Secretary of the Commission for filing in the docket. Such certification shall not be construed as relieving the officer from the necessity of submitting such recommended, tentative, or other type of report (consistent with the requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act) as the Commission shall previously have directed him to prepare in the proceeding. In individual proceedings involving rule-making as defined in section 2 (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act, and in determining applications for initial licenses, the Commission, or the division, individual Commissioner, or board, or examiner, to which or whom a particular proceeding may have been assigned under section 17 of the Interstate Commerce Act (49 U. S. C. 17), will, as warranted by the second sentence of sec. 2 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237), determine (c) whether there shall be a tentative decision by the Commission, or by a division, individual Commissioner, or board, or examiner, to whom the proceeding may be referred or assigned, or (d) whether there shall be a recommended decision by designated responsible officers of the Commission; and (e) in any case the Commission, or the division, Commissioner, or board, may find upon the record that due and timely execution of the functions of the Commission imperatively and unavoidably requires that a tentative or recommended decision be omitted in that case.

2.6 When a Commissioner is transferred from a division he shall continue to serve as a member of such division in lieu of his successor for the purpose of clearing up accumulated work, which shall be limited to the disposition of cases submitted on oral argument prior thereto, and still pending for decision, cases in which drafts of final reports or orders have been circulated, and other matters requiring official action which are under active consideration at the time of the transfer.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE CHAIRMAN OF THE COMMISSION

3.1 The following duties and responsibilities are delegated to the Chairman (or, in his absence, to the Acting Chairman who shall be the available senior Commissioner in point of service) to be exercised in addition to his statutory duties and any other duties that may be assigned or delegated to him:

3.2 He shall be the executive head of the Commission.

3.3 He shall preside at all sessions of the Commission, and shall see that every vote and official act of the Commission required by law to be recorded is accurately and promptly recorded by the Secretary or the person designated by the Commission for such purpose.

3.4 Except regular sessions, which shall be provided for by general regulation of the Commission, he shall call the Commission into special session whenever in his opinion any matter or business of the Commission so requires, but he shall, in any event, call a special session for the consideration of any matter or business upon request of a majority of the members.

3.5 He shall exercise general control over the Commission's argument calendar and conference agenda.

3.6 Except in instances where the duty is otherwise delegated or provided for, he shall act as correspondent and spokesman for the Commission in all matters where an official expression of the Commission is required.

3.7 He shall (a) bring to the attention of any Commissioner, division, or board any delay or failure in the work under his or its supervision, (b) report periodically, not less than once every six months, to the Commission on the state of the Commission's work, and (c) recommend to the Commission ways and means of correcting or preventing avoidable delays in the performance of any work or the disposition of any official matter which he is unable otherwise to have remedied.

3.8 He shall be ex officio Chairman of the Committee on Legislation and Rules and a member of Division One.

3.9 He shall be relieved, during his chairmanship, of any regular assignment as a member of a division other than Division One.

3.10 In any case in which it appears desirable, he may designate an additional Commissioner or Commissioners to sit with a division.

3.11 He may designate a Commissioner to fill a vacancy on any Committee until the Commission otherwise orders.

3.12 Pursuant to the general objectives and broad policies, or to specific instructions of the Commission, he shall represent the Commission in supervising, guiding and directing the Managing Director and the Secretary in the performance of their duties and shall serve as the channel through which they submit recommendations to the Commission.

FEDERAL REGISTER

VOLUME 19 NUMBER 43

Washington, Thursday, March 4, 1954

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

[Docket No. AO-231-A4]

PART 943—MILK IN THE NORTH TEXAS MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED

§ 943.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the North Texas marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity, specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making this order amending the order, as amended, effective not later than March 1, 1954. Such action is necessary in the public interest in order to reflect current marketing conditions and to insure the orderly marketing of available milk supplies. Accordingly, any further delay in the effective date of this order amending the order, as amended, will seriously impair the orderly marketing of milk produced for the North Texas, marketing area. The regulatory provisions of this order amending the order, as amended, are such that little or no preparation prior to its effective date will be required of handlers regulated thereunder. Under these circumstances the handlers will be afforded reasonable time for any such preparations as may be necessary. Therefore, it is impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this order amending the order, as amended, until at least 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, and good cause exists, pursuant to section 4 (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1000) for making this order amending the order, as amended, effective March 1, 1954.

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, which is marketed within the North Texas, marketing area) of more than 50 percent of the milk which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said proposed marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who, during the determined representative period (January 1954), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the North Texas marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. Amend § 943.51 (b) by inserting "March 1954", immediately preceding "April, May and June".

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 26th day of February 1954 to be effective on and after March 1, 1954.

PART 972—MILK IN THE TRI-STATE MARKETING AREA

ORDER SUSPENDING CERTAIN PROVISIONS

Pursuant to the applicable provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 1940 ed. 601 et seq.), hereinafter referred to as the "act," and of the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Tri-State marketing area, hereinafter referred to as the "order," it is hereby found and determined that the provisions appearing in § 972.41 (b) of such order do not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to all milk subject to the provisions thereof for the months of March and April 1954.

A public hearing was held at Gallipolis, Ohio, on February 18 and 19, 1954. A main purpose of this hearing, as first announced on January 18, 1954 in connection with a suspension of § 972.41 (b) of the order for the month of February 1954, was the consideration of the effects of such provisions of the order on the level of the Class I price. The public hearing was attended by a number of handlers regulated under the order, counsel for several handlers, representatives and counsel for cooperative associations having members who are producers as defined in the order, government representatives, and others. The findings set forth below are made on the basis of evidence adduced at the public hearing.

The provisions of § 972.41 (b) are intended to result in automatic Class I and Class II price adjustments as market supplies of producer milk change in relation to the quantity of Class I milk sold. As a measure of changes in the "supply-demand ratio" from a norm, the percentage of supplies to sales in a recent two-month period is compared with a "standard-utilization percentage." Certain revisions in other provisions of the order, including the introduction on November 1, 1953 of "individual-handler" pools to replace the former "marketwide" pool, and expansion of the marketing area, and the adoption of a revised definition of "fluid milk plant" to take effect May 1, 1954, were adopted following a public hearing held in May 1953. Mainly as the result of such changes in the regulatory program certain supply and marketing adjustments are taking place within both the Tri-State milkshed and Tri-State marketing area. However, during the months of November and December 1953 handlers in the marketing area required a quantity of milk for Class I and Class II uses equivalent to 104.8 percent of the available supply of producer milk. The rapid expansion of population in the area adjacent to the atomic energy plant under construction in Pike County, Ohio, should result in a need for additional milk supplies at plants in certain segments of the marketing area for a substantial period in the future. In the circumstances prevailing the standard utilization percentages now effective under § 972.41 (b) do not perform to accurately measure supply changes in relation to market demand and for the months of March and April 1954 will have an adverse effect on the class price differentials in the probable amount of 28 cents per hundredweight even though other source milk still is being received in substantial quantities in portions of the marketing area during many months of the year for use as Class I and Class II milk. It is found and determined therefore that the issuance of this order to suspend the application of such provisions for March and April 1954 is necessary to reflect current marketing conditions and to facilitate, promote, and maintain the orderly marketing of milk produced for the said marketing area. The changes caused by this suspension order do not require of persons affected substantial or extensive preparation prior to its effective date. Revision of the order, based upon the proposed amendments submitted at the hearing on February 18 and 19, is under present consideration. Therefore, a suspension order issued at this time need not apply to months subsequent to April 1954.

It is therefore ordered, That the provisions of the order (No. 72), as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Tri-State marketing area which appear in § 972.41 (b) be and they are hereby suspended in their entirety for the months of March and April 1954.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c)

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture.

2. Section 501.25 (a) (3) states that the Chief, Management and Liquidation Branch, may advertise sales of vested property in such publications as he deems appropriate. This authority now has been conferred on the Chief, Liquidation Section, Office of Alien Property, as successor to the Chief, Management and Liquidation Branch. Accordingly, § 501.25 (a) (3) is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 501.25 Uniform procedure for sales of vested property—(a) General sales. • • •

(3) Advertising. At least 15 days before opening of bids, each sale shall be advertised in a newspaper of general circulation in the locality where the property or the major portion thereof is located and it may also be advertised in such other publications as the Chief, Liquidation Section, Office of Alien Property, may deem appropriate.

3. Section 501.45 states that applications for renewals of permission by the Office of Alien Property for transactions of a continuing nature shall be filed with the appropriate branch or section of the Office. The branches of the Office of Alien Property have been redesignated as sections and the licensing functions with respect to property blocked under Executive Order 8389, as amended, over which the Office exercises controls by virtue of Executive Orders 9989 and 10348, formerly administered in the Intercustodial and Property Branch of the Office, are now administered by the Intercustodial and Foreign Funds Officer in the Office of the Director. Accordingly, § 501.45 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 501.45 Renewal of licenses. Application for renewal of any license, authorization, permit, certificate, approval, registration, or other form of permission, with reference to an activity of a continuing nature, shall be filed with the Office of Alien Property, Washington 25, D. C., not less than thirty days prior to the expiration date thereof, unless otherwise provided therein. In the case of permissions originally granted for less than 45 days, the activity shall be deemed not to be of a continuing nature, and the permission shall be nonrenewable, except as may be otherwise expressly provided.

4. Section 501.50 (b) states that applications for license to engage in transactions with respect to property controlled by the Office of Alien Property pursuant to jurisdiction conferred by Executive Order 9989 shall be filed with either the New York Office of the Office of Alien Property or the Office of Alien Property in Washington, D. C. The jurisdiction conferred by Executive Order 9989 has been continued in force by Executive Order 10348 (3 CFR, 1952 Supp.). There no longer is a New York Office and all such applications should now be filed with the Office of Alien Property in Washington, D. C. Accordingly § 501.50 (b) is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 501.50 Licensing. • • •

(b) Transactions with respect to property over which jurisdiction has been transferred by Executive Order 9989 (3 CFR, 1948 Supp.), and continued in force by Executive Order 10348 (3 CFR, 1952 Supp.), not authorized by general licenses or other public documents, may be effected only under specific licenses. Applications for specific licenses shall be filed in duplicate on Form OAP-200 with the Office of Alien Property, Washington 25, D. C.

5. Section 501.80 states various forms authorized for use by the public. Among these are certain ones relating to reporting requirements incident to investigations of vestable property and the initial phase of administration of vested property. Inasmuch as the Office is no longer vesting property and as the initial phase of administration is completed, continued published reference to such forms is unnecessary. Accordingly, the following forms are hereby declared to be non-current and reference thereto in § 501.80 is hereby revoked:

PART 503—AVAILABILITY OF RECORDS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Part 503 contains certain rules requiring amendment due to organizational redesignations in the Office of Alien Property. It is hereby found that the amendatory requirements relate to agency management and that notice, hearing and suspension of applicability are therefore not required.

1. Section 503.1 (d) states that persons desiring to inspect or copy patent applications filed by former enemy nationals may submit petitions for authorizations to do so to the Patent Section of the Office of Alien Property. The functions formerly administered in the Patent Section are now administered in the Legal and Legislative Section of the Office and the petitions to inspect or copy should now be submitted to that Section. Accordingly, § 503.1 (d) is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 503.1 Official records available to the public. • • •

(d) Patent applications. Any person may petition for permission to inspect or copy a vested patent application filed by a national of Germany, Japan, Bulgaria, Hungary or Rumania. Petitions should be submitted to Legal and Legislative Section, Office of Alien Property, Washington 25, D. C., on a form which that Section will provide on request. Petitions will ordinarily be granted upon a showing of proper interest unless:

(1) A title claim is pending with respect to such patent application, or

(2) The patent application is involved in litigation, or

(3) An American national has filed a patent application which may be in interference with such patent application.

2. Section 503.17 stated that branch chiefs of the Office and the Manager, New York Office, among others, are severally authorized to make available or disclose certain classes of confidential material in the Office of Alien Property. Branches of the Office have been redesignated as sections which are under the supervision of section chiefs and certain functions of the former Intercustodial and Property Branch are now administered by the Intercustodial and Foreign Funds Officer. There no longer is a New York Office. Accordingly, § 503.17 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 503.17 General rule as to non-availability of records of the Office of Alien Property. All official files, documents, records and information in the Office of Alien Property, or in the custody or control of any officer, employee, agent or delegate of the Office of Alien Property, are to be regarded as confidential. No officer, employee, agent or delegate may permit the disclosure or use of the same for any purpose other than for the performance of his official duties, except in the discretion of the Attorney General, the Deputy Attorney General, the Director, or the Deputy Director, of the Office of Alien Property: Provided, however, That each section chief, the Intercustodial and Foreign Funds Officer, the Manager, Hawaii Office, and the Manager, Philippine Office, are authorized to make available or disclose such official files, documents, records and information in the Office of Alien Property, other than classified security information, in the conduct of affairs of his section, office, or function unless otherwise instructed by the Director. Whenever a subpoena duces tecum is served to produce any such files, documents, records or information, the officer, or employee, or agent, or delegate on whom such subpoena is served, unless otherwise expressly directed by the Attorney General, will appear in court in answer thereto and respectfully decline to produce the records specified therein, on the ground that the disclosure of such records is prohibited by this section.

PART 506—PROPERTY IN PROCESS OF JUDICIALLY SUPERVISED ADMINISTRATION OR IN COURT OR ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEEDINGS

REVOCATION OF REGULATIONS

Part 506 consists of § 506.1 which states that distribution to certain countries and nationals thereof pursuant to judicial or administrative actions or proceedings, or partition, libel, condemnation or similar proceedings, are conditioned on consent, disclaimer or nonaction for a stated period of time by the Office of Alien Property. One of the purposes of this section was to enable the Office to determine whether to represent the country or national in such actions or proceedings. The other purpose of this section was to direct attention to the conditions under which transactions with respect to the defined classes of property might be effected.

This Office no longer performs representational functions. The prohibition of transactions with respect to vested property or interests in process of judicially supervised administration or in court or administrative proceedings is set forth in § 505.1 (a) (1) of this chapter and the scope of authorized transactions with respect to unvested property or interests in such categories is set forth in Part 511 of this chapter. It is hereby found that Part 506 is no longer required and should be revoked and that since revocation will relieve existing requirements notice, hearing and suspension of applicability are unnecessary. Accordingly: Part 506, Property in Process of Judicially Supervised Administration or in Court or Administrative Proceedings, is hereby revoked.

PART 510—REPORTS

It is hereby found that the following revocations and amendments to Part 510 either relate to public property or relieve existing requirements and that notice, hearing and suspension of applicability therefore are either not required or are necessary.

1. Section 510.1 states that reports on Form APC–3 are required with respect to property or interests of certain countries or nationals thereof involved in judicial or administrative actions or proceedings, or in partition, libel, condemnation or similar proceedings. The purpose of this requirement was to enable this Office to determine whether vestible property or interests existed. Vesting of such property or interests has ceased. Accordingly: § 501.1 Reports with respect to property or interests of Germany, Japan, nationals thereof and citizens or subjects of either country within Italy, Bulgaria, Hungary, or Rumania is hereby revoked.

2. Section 510.30 states that reports on Form APC–19 and on Form OAP–20 are required concerning royalties payable under vested patents, patent applications or agreements related to patents or patent applications. Form APC–19 is for use in initially reporting coincident with vesting and Form OAP–20 is used for subsequent periodic reports. Vesting of patents, patent applications and agreements relating to patents or patent applications has ceased and continued reference to Form APC–19 is not necessary. Accordingly, § 510.30 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 510.30 Report of royalties due and payable under vested patent rights. (a) In any case in which the Attorney General is entitled to receive royalties under a vested patent, patent application or interest in an agreement with respect to a patent or patent application, any person obligated to pay such royalties shall make payment thereof to the Office of Alien Property, Washington 25, D. C. as they become due. Payments shall be accompanied by reports on Form OAP–20, in triplicate.

(b) As used in this section the terms:

(1) "Royalty" shall include serial payments under a license, assignment or other agreement; and

(2) "Agreement" shall include, without limitation, any contract of purchase or sale, any contract granting a right to obtain an assignment, any agreement to use or not to use, any license held or granted, any cross-license agreement, any royalty agreement, and any agreement as to quantity, price, territorial restrictions or field of use.

3. Section 510.46 states that reports on Form APC–50 and on Form APC–51 are required concerning royalties payable under vested interests in trade-marks, commercial prints or labels, or rights thereunder, or vested interests in agreements with respect to trade-marks, commercial prints or labels. Form APC–50 is for use in initially reporting coincident with vesting and Form APC–51 is used for subsequent periodic reports. Vesting of interests in trade-marks, commercial prints or labels, or of rights thereunder of interests in agreements with respect to the foregoing has ceased and continued reference to Form APC–50 is not necessary. Accordingly, § 510.46 (a) is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 510.46 Report of royalties due and payable under vested interests in trade-marks, commercial prints and labels. (a) In all cases in which the Attorney General is entitled to receive royalties by virtue of having vested an interest in a trade-mark, whether or not registered in the United States Patent Office, or in any commercial print or label, or right thereunder, or an interest in an agreement with respect to a registered or unregistered trade-mark, commercial print or label, persons obligated to pay such royalties shall make payments thereof to the Office of Alien Property, Washington 25, D. C. Payments shall be accompanied by reports on Form APC–51, in duplicate. Royalties shall be paid within ten days after the date they become due and payable. In making payments:

(1) Federal withholding taxes on such royalties shall not be paid by reporter to the Director of Internal Revenue and the amounts ordinarily withheld for such purposes shall be included in payments to the Office of Alien Property.

(2) Charges specifically authorized by the agreement under which the royalties are payable may be deducted by the reporter. Charges which are incurred subsequent to vesting and which are not specifically authorized by the agreement shall not be deducted unless approved by or for the Director, Office of Alien Property, in writing.

4. Section 510.70 states that reports on Form APC–45 and on Form APC–46 are required concerning royalties payable under vested interests in works subject to copyright. Form APC–45 is for use in initially reporting coincident with vesting and Form APC–46 is used for subsequent periodic reports. Vesting of interests in works subject to copyright has ceased and continued reference to Form APC–45 is not necessary. Accordingly, § 510.70 (a) is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 510.70 Report of royalties due and payable under vested interests in works subject to copyright. (a) In all cases in which the Attorney General is entitled to receive royalties by virtue of having vested an interest in a work subject to copyright, persons obliged to pay such royalties shall make payments thereof to the Office of Alien Property, Washington 25, D. C. Payments shall be accompanied by reports on Form APC–46, in duplicate. Royalties shall be paid within ten days after the date they become due and payable. In making payments:

(1) Federal withholding taxes on such royalties shall not be paid by reporter to the Director of Internal Revenue and the amounts ordinarily withheld for such purposes shall be included in the payments to the Office of Alien Property.

(2) Commissions and other charges may be deducted if authorized by the agreements under which the royalties are payable. Charges which are incurred subsequent to vesting and which are not authorized by the agreements shall not be deducted unless approved by or for the Director, Office of Alien Property, in writing.

5. Section 510.90 states that reports on Form APC–56 are required concerning property and interests of Germany, Japan and nationals thereof. The purpose of this requirement was to determine whether vestible property or interests existed. Vesting of property or interests of Germany, Japan and nationals thereof has ceased. Accordingly: § 510.90 Reports of property of Germany and Japan and any national thereof is hereby revoked.

6. Section 510.92 is a partial exemption from the reporting requirement of § 510.90. In view of the revocation of § 510.90, continued publication of § 510.92 is not necessary. Accordingly: § 510.92 Non-applicability of § 510.90 to property acquired on or after January 1, 1947 is hereby revoked.

TITLE 15—COMMERCE AND FOREIGN TRADE

Chapter III—Bureau of Foreign Commerce, Department of Commerce

Subchapter A—Miscellaneous Regulations

PART 361—BRITISH TOKEN IMPORT PLAN

On February 10, 1954, proposed regulations of the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, Department of Commerce, to govern the operation of the British Token Import Plan for the year 1954 were published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (19 F. R. 770). All interested persons were invited by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce to submit, in writing, any views on the proposed regulations not later than February 25, 1954. Further notice was given to interested persons by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, including opportunity to submit their views, by publication of the summary of the proposed regulations in the Foreign Commerce Weekly, issue of February 15, 1954, and by mailing a copy of the summary, the text of the proposed regulations, and related forms to all individuals and firms who had been certified as eligible under the 1953 Token Plan. After consideration of all of the views and comments which have been submitted, the Bureau of Foreign Commerce has adopted the proposed regulations with certain modifications.

Briefly, the modifications are formal rather than substantive in nature, except that a provision has been added to the effect that the Bureau of Foreign Commerce may also extend the June 30 time limit on submission of Token Quota Voucher applications with respect to any specific commodity group (and, therefore, in effect, for all firms certified in that commodity group) under certain conditions. In the opinion of the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, no further substantive revisions in the proposed regulations (19 F. R. 770) need be made at this time. It is believed that the final form of the regulations governing the operation of the British Token Import Plan for the year 1954, which is set forth below, will more effectively carry out the purposes of the Token Plan. It is recognized that actual experience with and under the regulations may demonstrate the desirability of additional changes.

AUTHORITY: §§ 361.1 to 361.13 issued under R. S. 161; 5 U. S. C. 22.

§ 361.1 Introduction. The procedures governing administration of the British Token Import Plan, and the role of the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, Department of Commerce, therein, have been revised for the Plan year 1954 as set forth in this part.

§ 361.2 What the Plan is. (a) The "British Token Import Plan" is an arrangement with the British Government which permits United States manufacturers, their authorized agents, or other qualified exporters with established prewar trade connections in the United Kingdom (England, Scotland, Wales, and Northern Ireland) to export to that area token shipments of the specified commodities listed in § 361.13, the importation of which the British Government generally prohibits from dollar sources of supply under United Kingdom licensing procedure.

(b) Under the Plan, the British Government will permit imports in a yearly amount not to exceed 30 percent of the value of the average annual shipments of the specified commodities of each qualified exporter during a base period consisting of the years 1936, 1937, and 1938. The British Government requires appropriate evidence, issued under authority of the United States Government, that manufacturers wishing to take advantage of opportunities under the arrangement did in fact make shipments of the commodities to the United Kingdom during the base period. The Bureau of Foreign Commerce has agreed to act as certifying agent and issue appropriate certificates, in the form of token quota vouchers, which the exporter forwards to the British importer for presentation to the British Board of Trade as a basis for obtaining an import license. The procedure for obtaining certification for prewar exports is set forth in § 361.3.

(c) An overall national quota, mutually accepted by the Department of Commerce and the British Board of Trade, has been computed for each commodity group from official trade statistics for the base period years 1936, 1937 and 1938. Priority in the distribution of this overall national quota will continue to be given (as in prior years) until June 30 to those individuals and firms (hereinafter referred to as "firms") which are able to furnish appropriate evidence substantiating the value of their prewar trade with the United Kingdom during the base period in the specified commodities. However, such priority is subject to the conditions set forth in § 361.4.

(d) In addition, the procedures make possible a limited participation by individuals and firms (hereinafter referred to as "firms") not having a prewar export base under certain conditions, as hereinafter more fully explained in § 361.7.

§ 361.3 Procedure for obtaining certification for prewar exports—(a) Eligibility for certification. (1) Manufacturers who exported items on the commodity list (§ 361.13) to the United Kingdom (England, Scotland, Wales, and Northern Ireland) during the base period 1936, 1937, and 1938, are eligible for certification under the Plan, in respect to those items. "Manufacturer" means an individual, firm, or corporation that manufactures products sold through established markets. Such manufacturers must themselves request certification under the Plan and not through any agent. However, manufacturers may, under the procedure set forth in § 361.4 (b), authorize an agent to make application for and to receive their Token Quota Vouchers, and to handle the distribution and sale of their products under the Token Plan.

(2) Firms, other than manufacturers, having an established export trade from the United States to the United Kingdom during the years 1936, 1937, and 1938 in items on the commodity list (§ 361.13), may be eligible for certification in respect to those items if they can demonstrate clearly that such trade was developed by them and not by a manufacturer. Firms, not manufacturers, which believe that they are eligible to participate in the Token Plan may request a determination of eligibility from the British Token Import Plan Unit, British Commonwealth Division, Bureau of Foreign Commerce, Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C. Such a request must fully identify their export connections with the United Kingdom during the years 1936, 1937, and 1938 and must contain a detailed description of the manner in which such trade was developed. Such firms must themselves and not through any agent request certification under the Plan. Moreover, it is expected that such firms will themselves actively participate in the distribution and sale to United Kingdom importers of the commodities for which certification is required.

(b) Requests for Certification. All applicants requesting certification under the British Token Import Plan are required to submit a "Request for Certification of Prewar Exports to the United Kingdom", Form FC 558.[1] Requests for Certification need be submitted only one time for each commodity group, unless otherwise required by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce. A separate Request for Certification (one copy only) must be submitted on Form FC 558[1] for each commodity group covered by the Plan. Requests for Certification must be submitted to the British Token Import Plan Unit, British Commonwealth Division, Bureau of Foreign Commerce, Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C. prior to June 30; no applications will be considered after that time. Requests for Certification must be signed by one of the following persons: In the case of an individual owner, by that individual applicant; in the case of a partnership, by a partner; in the case of a corporation, by an officer. The quantity and value of exports listed on Form FC 558[1] by the applicant must cover only the permitted items of each commodity group shown on the commodity list (§ 361.13). The applicant must also certify that the statements contained in its Request are correct and complete and that the data supplied are information taken from verifiable records and other documentary evidence which are available for inspection by any duly authorized representative of the U. S. Department of Commerce. The name and title of the responsible official(s) designated to sign applications, on behalf of the applicant, for Token Quota Vouchers must also be stated on the Form. All applications should be filed as early in the year as possible.

(c) Certificates of Eligibility. (1) Firms certified as eligible to participate in the Token Plan on the basis of their prewar exports to the United Kingdom of items on the commodity list (§ 361.13) will be issued by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce at the beginning of the Plan year a Certificate of Eligibility, Form FC 926.[1] This Certificate will inform certified firms of the amount of quota in each commodity group(s) which has been reserved for them until June 30 of the Plan year. The quota specified on the Certificate will amount to 30 percent of the average annual value (to the nearest $25.00) of the certified firm's exports to the United Kingdom during the years 1936, 1937 and 1938 as shown by the verifiable figures listed in its "Request for Certification of Prewar Exports to the United Kingdom", Form FC 558.[1] In all cases, the Certificates of Eligibility when issued will be forwarded by the British Token Import Plan Unit directly to the certified firms named on them. Those certified firms which have appointed duly authorized agents in accordance with the provisions of § 361.4 (b) may transmit their Certificates of Eligibility to such agents if necessary to enable the agencies to carry out their functions under the Token Plan. A duplicate of the Certificate of Eligibility will be forwarded through the U. S. Embassy in London to the British Board of Trade and a triplicate retained by the British Token Import Plan Unit.

(2) Certificates of Eligibility serve only as a notice of the Token Plan quotas which will be made available to the eligible firm named on the Certificates (or in the case of manufacturers only, to their duly authorized agents), providing that such firms meet the conditions specified in § 361.4. These Certificates, by themselves, do not entitle the firms named on them to make any shipments under the Token Plan. Certificates of Eligibility are neither transferable nor negotiable; they apply only to the certified firms named on them.

§ 361.4 Issuance of Token Quota Vouchers—(a) To certified firms. (1) A Certificate of Eligibility entitles the United States firm named on the Certificate to apply prior to June 30, for one or more Token Quota Vouchers to the amount of the quota specified on the Certificate. Token Quota Vouchers serve the same purpose as token scrip issued in previous years by the Office of International Trade (now the Bureau of Foreign Commerce) under the Token Plan.[2] The British Board of Trade will issue import licenses to British importers on the basis of these Token Quota Vouchers.

(2) Token Quota Vouchers will be issued (to the nearest $5.00) by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce to firms which have received Certificates of Eligibility, providing that such firms have in their possession at the time they apply for the Vouchers an accepted order(s) from their British customer(s) for the amount of quota for which application is made. "Accepted order" means a contract with a British buyer involving the sale and purchase of the certified firm's products. In the case of a certified manufacturer or his authorized agent the products involved must be those produced by the certified manufacturer and by no other person or firm. Accepted orders may be conditioned upon the issuance of a Token Quota Voucher, or, a validated export license by the Department of Commerce (if such an export license is required for the commodity) or the issuance to the British importer of an import license by the British Board of Trade, or such other government document as may be required in connection with the transaction. Evidence of an "accepted order" must be in writing and consist of documents which set forth in definite terms the offer of the British buyer to buy and the U. S. seller's acceptance, or the acceptance by the British buyer of the United States seller's offer. Such documents may take the form of an original or photostatic copy of either the contract signed by both the U. S. seller and the British buyer, or of letters, telegrams, cables or other documents resulting in a contract between the parties Such evidence must be kept available for production and inspection upon demand by any duly authorized representative of the Department of Commerce, and must be retained by the applicant for 3 years from the date of receipt by the Department of the application for Token Quota Vouchers covering the accepted orders. Where the export transaction does not involve a normal purchase and sale contract in the customary form or where for other stated reasons the term "accepted order" as used herein does not apply, the applicant must attach to its application a full description of the nature of the transaction.

(3) A separate application for a Token Quota Voucher must be submitted for each British customer. An application may be submitted for the full amount of the accepted order or any part thereof. In addition, one application may list a number of accepted orders for items in the same commodity group placed by the same British customer. If applicant is certified in more than one commodity group, a separate application for a Token Quota Voucher must be made for each such commodity group and for each customer.

(4) Applications for Token Quota Vouchers must be made on FC Form 927,[1] "Application for Token Quota Voucher (Form A.—Firms Certified on Basis of Prewar Exports)" and must be signed by one of the following persons: the individual owner; a partner; a corporate officer; or other designated responsible official. Such applications must be submitted in duplicate to the British Token Import Plan Unit, British Commonwealth Division, Bureau of Foreign Commerce, Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C. prior to June 30. In exceptional circumstances, the Bureau of Foreign Commerce will consider written requests from certified firms for a reasonable extension of the June 30th time limit on submission of Form FC 927,[1] "Application for Token Quota Voucher (Form A.—Firms Certified on Basis of Prewar Exports)". Such requests must be received by the British Token Import Plan Unit not later than June 15, and must contain a full and detailed explanation of the circumstances requiring the extension. The request, if granted, will apply only to that firm and for the current Token Plan year. The June 30th time limit on submission of Token Quota Voucher applications, Form FC 927,[1] may also be extended by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce with respect to any specific commodity group, where in its opinion such extension is warranted by the nature of the commodity or the general situation as to trade in that commodity. If such a general extension is made, notice thereof will be published promptly in the Foreign Commerce Weekly.

(5) The application for a Token Quota Voucher becomes the Token Quota Voucher only after it has been stamped with the Bureau of Foreign Commerce validation stamp, and returned to the applicant by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce. Any application form not so stamped, is not valid and will not be honored by the British Board of Trade. A validated copy of the application will be returned to the applicant to be forwarded by it to the British importer who has placed the accepted order, for attachment to the latter's Application for Import License.

(b) To duly authorized agents. (1) A manufacturer who has been certified under the Token Plan and who has been issued a Certificate of Eligibility may authorize an agent to make application for and to receive Token Quota Vouchers against the manufacturer's Certificate of Eligibility on the same basis as described in paragraph (a) of this section. "Authorized agent" means an export merchant, export commissioner, or any other person who has been authorized by the manufacturer to handle products produced by that manufacturer.

(2) Such a certified manufacturer must submit a single copy of Form FC 929,[1] "Authorization of Agent to Act for Manufacturer" for each commodity group in which he elects to authorize an agent to act for him under the Token Plan. Such authorization will be considered valid for only one Plan year unless sooner modified or revoked by the manufacturer. Such forms must be submitted by the certified manufacturer to the British Token Import Plan Unit, British Commonwealth Division, Bureau of Foreign Commerce, Washington 25, D. C.

(3) Certified firms, other than manufacturers, may not authorize an agent to make application for and to receive any Token Quota Vouchers available to them.

§ 361.5 Use and transfer of Token Quota Vouchers—(a) By certified manufacturers. Token Quota Vouchers are neither transferable nor negotiable. Vouchers are issued to a certified manufacturer or to his duly authorized agent on the basis of accepted orders from his British customer for products produced by that manufacturer. This means that Token Quota Vouchers issued by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce to a manufacturer certified to participate in the British Token Import Plan must be used only to ship to the United Kingdom those products specified on the Voucher which are produced by that manufacturer and by no other person or firm.

(b) By authorized agents of certified manufacturers. Under the Token Plan an agent can only be authorized by a certified manufacturer to handle products produced by that manufacturer and by no other person or firm. This means that a Token Quota Voucher issued to an agent must be used only to ship to the United Kingdom those products specified on the Voucher which are produced by the certified manufacturer who has authorized him to act as his agent and not those produced by any other person or firm.

(c) By certified firms other than manufacturers. The Bureau of Foreign Commerce will certify as eligible to participate as principals in the Token Plan those firms other than manufacturers which have been able to demonstrate clearly that they and not the manufacturer whose products were shipped, developed an established export trade in an item on the commodity list (§ 361.13) from the United States to the United Kingdom during the years 1936, 1937 and 1938. Such firms may use the Token Quota Vouchers which have been issued to them, to ship to the United Kingdom products which may be purchased on the open market from any supplier in the United States, up to the amount specified on the Voucher. However, Token Quota Vouchers are neither transferable nor negotiable. This means that firms other than manufacturers, which have been issued Vouchers, must use such Vouchers themselves and must not permit any other person or firm to use such Vouchers.

(d) Responsibility. Manufacturers, their authorized agents, and those firms other than manufacturers which have been issued Token Quota Vouchers by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce under the Token Plan shall take every reasonable precaution to assure that those Vouchers are used in conformity with the provisions and conditions of this part (British Token Import Plan regulations); the terms of the Token Quota Vouchers; and any other specific instructions issued by Bureau of Foreign Commerce relating thereto.

§ 361.6 Validity period of Token Quota Vouchers. Token Quota Vouchers issued during any calendar year (whether before or after June 30) for which the British Token Import Plan is operative will be valid through February of the following year. In no event will import licenses granted by the Board of Trade against Token Quota Vouchers issued under any calendar year program be valid beyond March 31 of the following year. Accordingly, all shipments must be landed in the United Kingdom by that date.

§ 361.7 Procedure for distribution of quota balances not issued by June 30—(a) (1) Announcement of quota balances available for distribution. Announcements of the amount of quota balances available for issue in each specified commodity group after June 30 will be published in the Foreign Commerce Weekly starting with the issue published during the second week of July. Announcements will also be made in press releases which will be available to trade journals.

(2) "Quota balances" means the balance of quota in any specified commodity group not issued by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce in the form of Token Quota Vouchers under the conditions set forth in § 361.4 to firms certified on the basis of their prewar exports to the United Kingdom, as announced in the Foreign Commerce Weekly after June 30.

(b) Eligibility for participation. (1) In addition to firms certified on the basis of their prewar exports as provided in § 361.3, U. S. manufacturers of a commodity for which a quota balance is available (or their duly authorized agents), whether or not such manufacturers had an established prewar trade with the United Kingdom during 1936, 1937 and 1938 or had been issued Token Quota Vouchers in that commodity group prior to June 30, will be considered eligible to share in the distribution of that quota balance subject to the conditions set forth in this section. Firms other than manufacturers are eligible to share in the distribution of quota balances only if they have been certified on the basis of their prewar exports. (See definitions of "Manufacturer" in § 361.3 (a) and of "Authorized Agent" in § 361.4 (b).)

(2) Any quota balance so distributed during any one year of Token Plan operations in no way establishes a precedent or a claim to a quota for that

(c) Application for quota balance; Token Quota Vouchers. (1) Time and manner. To share in the distribution of quota balances, application for Token Quota Vouchers may be made by the eligible firms described in § 361.7 (b). Such applications together with any supporting documents required by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce must be received in the British Token Import Plan Unit not later than September 30; no applications will be considered after that date unless with respect to a specific commodity group, an announcement is published in the Foreign Commerce Weekly extending the time limit for that commodity group. Applications must be made on Form FC 928,[1] "Application for a Token Quota Voucher (Form B.—Share in Distribution of Quota Balances)", and submitted in triplicate to the British Token Import Plan Unit, British Commonwealth Division, Bureau of Foreign Commerce, Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C. A separate "Application for a Token Quota Voucher", Form FC 928,[1] must be submitted for each British customer in each commodity group. One application may list a number of accepted orders for items in the same commodity group placed by the same British customer. Applications must be signed by one of the following persons: The individual owner; a partner; or a corporate officer. At the time that they apply for Token Quota Vouchers, all applicants must have in their possession an accepted order(s) (as defined and described in § 361.4 (a)) from their British customer(s) for the amount of quota balance for which application is made. Evidence of such accepted orders must be kept available for production and inspection upon demand by any duly authorized representative of the Department of Commerce, and must be retained by the applicant for 3 years from the date of receipt by the Department of the application for Token Quota Vouchers covering the accepted orders. Where the export transaction does not involve a normal purchase and sale contract in the customary form or where for other stated reasons the term "accepted order" as used herein does not apply, the applicant must attach to its application a full description of the nature of the transaction.

(2) Evidence of agent's authority. If an "Application for a Token Quota Voucher (Form B.—Share in Distribution of Quota Balances)", Form FC 928[1] is made by an agent, evidence of the agent's authority must be submitted to the British Token Import Plan Unit as provided in § 361.4 (b).

(d) (1) Apportionment of quota balances by Bureau of Foreign Commerce. The balance of quota available for distribution in any specified commodity group after June 30 will be distributed among eligible applicants who have submitted, prior to October 1 (except where time limit is extended as provided in § 361.7 (c) (1)), their "Application for a Token Quota Voucher (Form B.—Share in Distribution of Quota Balances)", Form FC 928.[1] Such an apportionment of quota balances will be made only once during each Token Plan year.

(2) In the distribution of the total quota balance in any specified commodity group consideration will be given to the amount of the accepted order supporting the application; the number of applicants who have applied for the quota balance available in that commodity group; the total amount applied for against that quota balance; the total amount of the available quota balance; the minimum amount of quota balance which applicant has stated that he is willing to accept; and, such other factors as may aid to assure, insofar as practicable, a fair and equitable distribution among all eligible applicants.

(e) Token Quota Voucher. (1) Upon determination by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce of the distribution which can be made of the quota balances, Token Quota Vouchers will be issued against approved applications. The original copy of such approved applications becomes a Token Quota Voucher, only after it has been stamped with the Bureau of Foreign Commerce validation stamp and returned to the applicant by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce. A duplicate copy of the Voucher will be forwarded through the U. S. Embassy in London to the British Board of Trade and triplicate retained by the British Token Import Plan Unit.

(2) The provisions of § 361.5 with respect to the permissible use and transfer of Token Quota Vouchers, and of § 361.6 with respect to their validity period are also applicable to Token Quota Vouchers issued by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce under the procedure for distribution of quota balances set forth in this section.

Where appropriate, a temporary order may be issued without notice, pending the making of a final order.

(b) In the absence of such a determination, no modification, suspension or revocation order will be made unless prior to the institution of such action facts or conduct warranting such action have been called to the attention of the person or firm involved, in writing, and such person or firm has been accorded opportunity to demonstrate or achieve compliance with all lawful requirements.

MINIMUM WAGE RATE IN HOSIERY INDUSTRY IN PUERTO RICO

NOTICE OF PROPOSED DECISION

On April 9, 1953, pursuant to section 5 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended (hereinafter called the act), the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, by Administrative Order No. 428, as amended by Administrative Orders Nos. 430, 431, and 432, dated April 27, 1953, May 5, 1953 and May 18, 1953, respectively, appointed Special Industry Committee No. 14 for Puerto Rico (hereinafter called the Committee) and directed the Committee to investigate conditions in a number of industries specified and defined in the order, including the Hosiery Industry in Puerto Rico (hereinafter called the Industry), and to recommend minimum wage rates for employees engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce in such industries.

For purposes of investigating conditions in and recommending minimum wages for the Hosiery Industry in Puerto Rico, the Committee included three disinterested persons representing the public, a like number representing employers, and a like number representing employees in the industry, and was composed of residents of Puerto Rico and of the United States outside of Puerto Rico with due regard to the geographical regions in which the industry is carried on.

After investigating economic and competitive conditions in the Hosiery Industry in Puerto Rico, as defined in Administrative Order No. 428, the Committee filed with the Administrator a report containing the recommendation that "Wages at a rate of not less than 50 cents per hour shall be paid under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the Hosiery Industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce."

Pursuant to Notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on August 1, 1953 (18 F. R. 4524-4527), and circulated to all interested parties, a public hearing upon the Committee's recommendations was held before Hearing Examiner E. West Parkinson and Clifford P. Grant, as presiding officers, on September 2, 1953, and October 6, 1953, respectively, in Washington, D. C., at which all interested parties were given an opportunity to be heard. After the hearing was closed, the record of the hearing was certified to the Administrator by the presiding officer, Clifford P. Grant.

Upon reviewing all of the evidence adduced in this proceeding, and after giving due consideration to the provisions of the Act, particularly sections 5 and 8 thereof, I have concluded that the recommendation of the Committee for a minimum wage rate of 50 cents per hour in the Hosiery Industry in Puerto Rico, as defined, was made in accordance with law, is supported by the evidence adduced at the hearing and, taking into consideration the same factors as are required to be considered by the Committee, will carry out the purposes of sections 5 and 8 of the act.

I have set forth my decision in a document entitled "Findings and Opinion of the Administrator in the Matter of the Recommendation of Special Industry Committee No. 14 for Puerto Rico for Minimum Wage Rate in the Hosiery Industry in Puerto Rico", a copy of which may be had upon request addressed to the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Washington 25, D. C.

Accordingly, notice is hereby given pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001) and the rules of practice governing this proceeding, that I propose to amend the Wage Order for the Hosiery Industry in Puerto Rico, which is contained in 29 CFR, 1952 Supp., Part 687, as follows:

In § 687.2 Wage rate, change "Wages at the rate of not less than 40 cents an hour", to read: "Wages at the rate of not less than 50 cents an hour".

Within fifteen days from the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, interested parties may submit written exceptions to the proposed actions above described. Exceptions should be addressed to the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Washington 25, D. C. They should be submitted in quadruplicate, and should include reasons for any exceptions.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 19th day of February 1954.

WM. R. MCCOMB,
Administrator,
Wage and Hour Division.

[47 CFR Parts 2, 3, 4]

[Docket No. 10832]

FM BROADCAST STATIONS; SPECIFIED NON-BROADCAST ACTIVITIES ON SIMPLEX AND/OR MULTIPLEX BASIS

ORDER AND NOTICE OF EXTENSION OF TIME FOR FILING COMMENTS

In the matter of amendment of Parts 2, 3 and 4 of the Commission's rules and regulations and the Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning FM Broadcast Stations to Permit FM broadcast stations to engage in specified non-broadcast activities on a simplex and/or multiplex basis.

1. On December 31, 1953, the Commission issued its notice of proposed rule making (FCC 53-1747) in the above-entitled matter. The notice stated that written comments on this proposal could be filed on or before February 15, 1954, and that the replies to such comments were to be filed within 10 days from the latter date.

2. Five parties have filed petitions or requests for additional time within which to submit written comments. Three—Field Enterprises, Inc., Atlantic Broadcasting Company, Inc., and Radio Broadcasters, Inc.—have requested lengthy extensions, the first two to May 15, 1954, and the latter to June 15, 1954. The petition of Field Enterprises recites that further investigation is believed necessary with respect to the various pertinent aspects of transmitting and receiving equipment for multiplexing; it states that in the event of a grant of its petition, it "would expect to request an appropriate authorization to permit operation on an experimental basis in order to obtain a sound resolution of some of the technical and economic problems indicated for transmitting and receiving equipment capable of operating on a multiplexing basis."

Radio Broadcasters, Inc., joins in the foregoing petition, stating that its "comments will contain matters in addition to those suggested by Field Enterprises, Inc."

Atlantic Broadcasting Company, Inc., asserts that "The state of the art and the scarcity of information has made it impossible to collect the necessary data (on the technical and economic feasibility of multiplexing) within the time period provided for by the Commission." It requests the extension until June 15th so that it may have an opportunity to assemble the necessary data, and asserts that it is not in a position to present its views with respect to the proposed rule making until its has had an opportunity to gather the desired information.

3. We are unwilling to grant the foregoing requests in view of the length of the additional time period requested. Only if examination of the comments received revealed an inadequacy on the particular points listed in the subject petitions would we feel an extension of such a lengthy nature to be in order.[1] Accordingly, these three petitions are denied.

4. The two other parties—Richard G. Evans and the American Civil Liberties Union have requested a 15-day extension of time within which to file comments. In his request, Mr. Evans asserts that "as the originator of Transitcasting, and a major contributor to Salescasting (Storecasting) and Background Music Service, as a former operator of an FM station engaged in such Services, and as a Management Consultant on such Specialized Services", he has a great deal of information pertaining to these services "which only he is in a position to furnish to the Commission." He states that the additional time requested is needed to assemble this information.

5. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, That the requests of Richard G. Evans and the American Civil Liberties Union for 15 days additional time within which to file comments in the subject proceeding are granted. It is further ordered, That the petitions or requests of Field Enterprises, Inc., Atlantic Broadcasting Company, Inc., and Radio Broadcasters, Inc., are denied.

6. Notice is hereby given that the time for filing comments in the above-entitled matter is extended to March 10, 1954. Replies to such comments may be filed on or before March 20, 1954.

Adopted: February 26, 1954.

Released: February 26, 1954.

[SEAL] MARY JANE MORRIS, Secretary.

[F. R. Doc. 54-1549; Filed, Mar. 3, 1954; 8:53 a. m.]

[1] If study of the comments demonstrates this to be the situation, we would, of course, issue a notice requesting comments on the points in question.

No application for these lands may be allowed under the homestead, small tract, desert-land or any other non-mineral public-land laws unless the lands have already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application, or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application. Most of the lands are rough and mountainous and primarily suitable for grazing. The land in T. 3 S., R. 1 W., is level with gentle slope to northwest. Each application filed on lands described in this order will be considered on its merits.

This order shall not otherwise become effective to change the status of such lands until 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order. At that time the said lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to application, petition, location, and selection as follows:

(a) Ninety-one day period for preference-right filings. For a period of 91 days, commencing at the hour and on the day specified above, the public lands affected by this order shall be subject only to (1) application under the homestead or the desert-land laws or the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, 52 Stat. 609 (43 U. S. C. 682a), as amended, by qualified veterans of World War II and other qualified persons entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944, 58 Stat. 747 (43 U. S. Applications under subdivision (1) of this paragraph shall be subject to applications and claims of the classes described in subdivision (2) of this paragraph. All applications filed under this paragraph either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at that time. All applications filed under this paragraph after 10:00 a. m. on the said 35th day shall be considered in the order of filing.

(b) Date for non-preference-right filings. Commencing at 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this order, any lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to such application, petition, location, selection, or other appropriation by the public generally as may be authorized by the public-land laws. All such applications filed either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this order, shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at the hour specified on such 126th day. All applications filed thereafter shall be considered in the order of filing.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their applications by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

Applications for these lands, which shall be filed in the Land and Survey Office, Phoenix, Arizona, shall be acted

CLASSIFICATION ORDER NO 14

FEBRUARY 23, 1954.

1. Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Director, Bureau of Land Management, by Order No. 427, dated August 16, 1950 (15 F. R. 5639), I hereby classify under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609), as amended July 14, 1945 (59 Stat. 467, 43 U. S. C. 682a), the following described land in the Wyoming land district, embracing approximately 53.45 acres:

For lease and sale for business and home sites:

T. 21 N., R. 88 W., 6th P. M. Wyoming
Sec. 24: Lots 1 through 14, 16 through 21 as shown on the official plat of survey approved and accepted June 12, 1953.

Lot 15 comprises the right of way for U. S. Highway No. 30 and therefore is not available for lease or sale.

2. The lots range from 2.0 to 3.89 acres in size and are located 1½ miles west of Rawlins in Carbon County, Wyoming. U. S. Highway No. 30 and a power and telephone line pass diagonally through the small tract area. Domestic water can be obtained from wells at a depth of about 180 feet. Sewage can be disposed of by septic tanks. Schools, stores, and other facilities are available in the City of Rawlins. The land is nearly level; has sandy loam soils. The native vegetation consists of short and medium grasses and saltbrush. There is no timber on the land nor evidence of metallic or non-metallic minerals. The mineral rights will be reserved to the Federal Government.

3. A multiplicity of filings by those persons entitled to claim veterans' preference for service in World War II only is anticipated during the simultaneous filing period. Therefore, in accordance with the provisions of 43 CFR 257.8, Circular 1764, containing small tract regulations approved September 11, 1950, the special procedure and drawing outlined therein will be used. This special procedure does not apply to veterans of other wars of the United States.

4. Commencing at 10:00 a. m. on the date of this order and for a period of 35 days thereafter, the lands described herein shall be subject to the filing of drawing entry cards only by those persons entitled to claim World War II veterans' preference under the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 748, 43 U. S. C. 279–284), amended. Such veterans desiring to participate in the drawing may secure drawing entry cards, form 4–775, from the Manager, Land and Survey Office in Cheyenne, Wyoming, or the District Range Manager, Bureau of Land Management, Rawlins, Wyoming. The veteran will print clearly his name, post office address, and sign his full name in the space provided on the card, certifying that he is a citizen of the United States, over 21 years of age or the head of a family, and entitled to veterans' preference based upon service in World War II and honorable discharge from such service. Only one drawing entry card may be filed by an entrant. No filing fee or additional papers should accompany the drawing entry card. All drawing entry cards when completed as indicated shall be mailed to the Manager, Land and Survey Office, Cheyenne, Wyoming, and must be forwarded in time to reach him not later than 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order. All cards of qualified entrants received not later than the hour and date mentioned will be placed in a box, and at 2:00 p. m. on the business day following such 35th day will be thoroughly mixed in the presence of such persons as may desire to be present. The cards will then be drawn by a disinterested party, one at a time, and numbered in the order drawn to establish an adequate list of eligibles and of alternates to whom the available tracts will be allocated in consecutive order.

5. Each successful entrant to whom a lot is awarded will be sent by registered mail a decision making appropriate requirements with an offer to lease form 4–776, in duplicate, bearing the description of the tract. The forms must be completely filled out, signed, and returned by the successful entrant within the time allowed. All applications must be accompanied by a $10.00 filing fee. The annual rental for homesites is $5.00, payable for the entire lease period in advance of the issuance of the lease. The minimum annual rental for business sites is $20.00, payable for the entire lease period in advance of the issuance of the lease. The lessees for business sites shall also be obligated to pay any additional rental at the rate fixed by the schedule of rentals. The applicant must also furnish a photostat, or other copy (both sides) of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of the branch of the service which shows clearly the period of service. An award to a successful entrant who was not qualified to enter the drawing, or who for any reason fails within the time allowed to comply with the requirements of the decision accompanying the lease forms, will be cancelled upon the records, and the lot will become available to the alternate next in line as determined by the drawing.

Each entrant to whom no lot is allocated will be informed thereof by the return of his drawing entry card carrying a notation to that effect.

6. Lessees will be required within a reasonable time after execution of the lease to construct upon the leased land, to the satisfaction of the appropriate officer of the Bureau of Land Management authorized to sign the lease, improvements which in the circumstances are presentable, substantial, and appropriate for the use for which the lease is issued. Detailed specifications as to the improvement requirements will be made part of the lease terms and option to purchase.

7. Lessees or their successors in interest shall comply with all Federal, State, County, and municipal laws and ordinances, especially those governing health and sanitation, and failure or refusal to do so may be cause for cancellation of the lease in the discretion of the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management.

8. Leases will contain an option to purchase clause at the appraised value of the lots as follows:

Lots 1 through 8, 11, 12, 18, 19, $100 each.
Lot 14, $200.
Lots 9, 13, 16, 21, $250 each.
Lots 10, 17, and 20, $300 each.

9. Lease and sale of these lots will be made subject to rights of way for roads and public utilities as follows:

50 feet along the south boundaries of Lots 9, 10, 13, and 14.
50 feet along the north boundaries of Lots 16, 17, 20, and 21.
30 feet along the south boundaries of Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 11, 12, 16, and 17.
30 feet along the north boundaries of Lots 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 18, and 19
30 feet along the east boundaries of Lots 3, 6, 11, 14, and 20.
30 feet along the west boundaries of Lots 2, 7, 10, 16, and 19.

10. Such rights of way may be utilized by the Federal government, or the State, County, or municipality in which the tract is situated, or by any agency thereof. The rights of way, in the discretion of the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management, may be definitely located prior to the issuance of the patents. If not so located, they may be subject to location after patent is issued. Lease and sale of the lots will also be subject to all existing rights of way.

11. The lots, if any, which are not leased as a result of the drawing, will not become subject to application by veterans who do not participate in the drawing or by the general public until a further order has been issued granting veterans of World War II a preference right of application for a period of 90 days.

12. All inquiries relating to these lands should be addressed to the Manager, Land and Survey Office, Cheyenne, Wyoming.

MAX CAPLAN,
Acting Regional Administrator.

[File No. 70-3178]

GENERAL PUBLIC UTILITIES CORP.

ORDER REGARDING INCREASE IN AUTHORIZED COMMON STOCK

FEBRUARY 26, 1954.

General Public Utilities Corporation ("GPU"), a registered holding company, having filed a declaration pursuant to sections 6 (a), 7 and 12 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") and Rules U-62 and U-65 of the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder with respect to proposed transactions which are summarized as follows:

Subject to the obtaining of favorable action by its stockholders at the annual meeting of stockholders of GPU to be held on April 5, 1954, GPU proposes to increase the number of shares of its authorized common stock from 9,893,000 shares to 12,500,000 shares. The purpose of such increase in the authorized common stock of GPU is to make provision for the obtaining, as needed from time to time, of the common stock equity component of the capital requirements of the GPU holding company system. The number of shares of GPU common stock issued and outstanding in the hands of the public at the close of business on October 31, 1953, was 9,098,640, including 2,752 shares then held by the Exchange Agent under the Plan of Reorganization of Associated Gas and Electric Company and Associated Gas and Electric Corporation. At that date 76,479 shares of common stock of GPU were held in its treasury. Upon the completion of GPU's projected 1954 common stock program, GPU's presently authorized but unissued common stock will be substantially exhausted.

It is stated that no State or Federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions. In addition to ordinary expenditures in connection with preparing, assembling, and mailing proxies, proxy statements and accompanying data, GPU expects to request persons who hold stock for others to forward copies of this material to them and may reimburse such persons for their clerical and out-of-pocket expenses which, it is estimated, will not exceed $2,000.00 exclusive of postage. Compensation for services of GPU's counsel will be included in the compensation paid to such counsel for general services.

Due notice having been given of the filing of the declaration, a request for a hearing not having been received from any interested person and a hearing not having been ordered by the Commission; and the Commission finding that the applicable provisions of the act and the rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied and that no adverse findings are necessary, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that said declaration, as amended, be permitted to become effective, forthwith, without the imposition of conditions, other than those specified in Rule U-24:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, that said declaration, as amended, be, and it hereby is, permitted to become effective, forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

SCOTT, KHOURY & CO., INC.

ORDER FOR PROCEEDINGS AND NOTICE OF HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C. on the 26th day of February 1954.

In the matter of Scott, Khoury & Company, Inc., 61 Broadway, New York 6, New York.

I. The Commission's public official files disclose that:

A. Scott, Khoury & Company, Inc., formerly Scott, Khoury, Brockman & Company, Inc., a New York Corporation, hereinafter referred to as registrant, has been registered with the Commission as a broker and dealer pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 since July 14, 1952. Charles Scott (Scott) was the president, director and controlling stockholder of registrant until March 26, 1953. Louis Khoury (Khoury) has been an officer and director of registrant at all times since July 14, 1952 and since March 26, 1953 its president and controlling stockholder.

B. On August 28, 1952, Oklahoma Metropolitan Oil & Gas Corporation filed with the Commission a Letter of Notification pursuant to Regulation A of the general rules and regulations under the Securities Act of 1933 covering an offering of 150,000 shares of 1¢ par value common stock at an aggregate offering price of $15,000 and a unit price of 10¢ per share; said Letter of Notification named Scott, Khoury, Brockman & Company, Inc., as underwriter of the said offering.

C. On September 29, 1952, Oklahoma Metropolitan Oil & Gas Corporation filed with the Commission a Letter of Notification pursuant to Regulation A of the general rules and regulations under the Securities Act of 1933 covering an offering of 1,132,000 shares of 1¢ par value common stock at an aggregate offering price of $283,000 and a unit price of 25¢ per share, said Letter of Notification named Scott, Khoury & Co., Inc., as underwriter of the said offering and stated that the underwriting discounts and commissions would be 6¼¢ per share.

II. Members of its staff have reported to the Commission information as a result of an investigation which, if true, tends to show that:

A. During the period from approximately August 28, 1952, to February 1, 1953 registrant, Scott, and Khoury sold to various persons and induced such persons to purchase shares of the common stock of Oklahoma Metropolitan Oil & Gas Corporation, and in connection therewith made false and misleading statements of material facts and omitted to state material facts concerning, among other things, the terms of a contract to purchase interests in certain leases, oil production, earnings, oil-well drilling operations, and the rise in the price of the stock.

B. Registrant, Scott, and Khoury used the mails, the means and instrumentalities of interstate commerce, and the means and instruments of transportation and communication in interstate commerce in the sale of securities as hereinabove set forth in paragraph A of section II.

C. Registrant effected, and Scott and Khoury caused registrant to effect, otherwise than on a national securities exchange, certain of the transactions hereinabove mentioned in paragraph A of section II.

III. The information reported to the Commission by members of the staff as set forth in section II hereof, if true, tends to show:

A. That registrant, Charles Scott, and Louis E. Khoury violated section 17 (a) of the Securities Act of 1933 in that, in the sale of securities, by the use of means and instruments of transportation and communication in interstate commerce and by the use of the mails, registrant, Charles Scott, and Louis E. Khoury employed devices, schemes, and artifices to defraud, obtained money and property by means of untrue statements of material facts and omissions to state material facts necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, and engaged in transactions, practices and a course of business which would and did operate as a fraud and deceit upon the purchasers.

B. That registrant violated section 15 (c) (1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in that registrant made use of the mails and of the means and instrumentalities of interstate commerce to effect transactions in and to induce the purchase and sale of securities, otherwise than on a national securities exchange, by means of manipulative, deceptive, and other fraudulent devices and contrivances as defined in Rule X-15C1-2 (a) and (b) adopted by the Commission under said section; and that Charles Scott and Louis E. Khoury aided, abetted, counseled, commanded, induced, and procured such violation.

IV. The Commission having considered the aforesaid information deems it necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of the investors that proceedings be instituted to determine:

(a) Whether the statements set forth in section II hereof are true;

(b) Whether registrant, Charles Scott, and Louis E. Khoury have wilfully violated section 17 (a) of the Securities Act of 1933;

(c) Whether registrant, Charles Scott, and Louis E. Khoury have wilfully violated section 15 (c) (1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-15C1-2 (a) and (b) adopted by the Commission under said section;

(d) Whether, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, it is in the public interest to revoke the registration of registrant;

(e) Whether, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, pending final determination, it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors to suspend the registration of registrant;

(f) Whether, within the meaning of section 15A (b) (4) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the Commission should find that Charles Scott and Louis E. Khoury or either of them is a cause of any order of revocation or suspension which may be entered pursuant to paragraphs (d) or (e) of section IV hereof.

V. It is hereby ordered, That a hearing for the purpose of taking evidence on the questions set forth in paragraph IV hereof, be held at the New York Regional Office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 42 Broadway, New York, N. Y., on March 22, 1954 at 10:00 a. m., before William W. Swift, Hearing Examiner, or such other hearing examiner as the Commission may designate. Upon the completion of the taking of evidence in this matter the Hearing Examiner shall prepare a recommended decision pursuant to Rule IX (b) of the rules of practice, unless such decision is waived.

This order and notice shall be served on registrant, Charles Scott and Louis E. Khoury, personally or by registered mail forthwith, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER not later than fifteen (15) days prior to March 22, 1954.

In the absence of an appropriate waiver, no officer or employee of the Commission engaged in the performance of investigative or prosecuting functions in this or any factually related proceeding will be permitted to participate or advise in the decision upon this matter except as witness or counsel in proceedings held pursuant to notice. Since this proceeding is not "rule making" within the meaning of section 4 (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act, it is not deemed to be subject to the provisions of that section delaying the effective date of any final Commission action.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

Subchapter A—Civil Air Regulations

[Supp. 6]

OXYGEN

This supplement establishes CAA interpretations and policies on providing oxygen for, and administering oxygen to, crew members and passengers in pressurized and nonpressurized cabin aircraft at various operating altitudes.

The following interpretations and policies are hereby adopted:

§ 40.202–1 Supplemental oxygen for crew members (CAA interpretations which apply to § 40.202 (b) (1)). The phrase, "during the portion of flight in excess of 30 minutes within this range of altitudes" applies to all crew members including the flight crew members on flight deck duty. Thus, oxygen is required to be provided for, and used by, each member of the flight crew on flight deck duty only during the portion of the flight in excess of 30 minutes within this range of altitudes.

§ 40.202–2 Oxygen requirements for stand-by crew members (CAA interpretations which apply to § 40.202 (b)). Stand-by crew members who are on call or are definitely going to have flight deck duty prior to the completion of a flight must be provided with the same amount of supplemental oxygen as that provided for crew members on duty other than on flight deck duty. However, if the stand-by crew members are not on call and will not be on flight deck duty during the remainder of the flight, they must be considered as passengers with regard to supplemental oxygen.

§ 40.202–3 Operating instructions (CAA policies which apply to § 40.202). Operating instructions appropriate to the type of system and masks installed should be provided for the flight crew in the appropriate air carrier manual. These operating instructions should contain a graph or a table which will show the duration of the oxygen supply for the various bottle pressures and pressure altitudes.

§ 40.202–4 Oxygen requirements for jump seat occupant (CAA policies which apply to § 40.202). When the jump seat is occupied by a check airman, a crew member, or a flight crew member, as defined by § 40.5, oxygen should be provided in accordance with the requirements of § 40.202. The provision of oxygen at the jump seat location may be accomplished either by a portable oxygen unit or an outlet in a fixed system.

§ 40.202–5 Oxygen requirements for infants-in-arms (CAA policies which apply to § 40.202 (c)). Provisions should be made for administering oxygen to infants-in-arms and additional oxygen should be carried whenever an unusually large number of infants is carried. This additional oxygen is needed only when there is a passenger or infant for each seat position and the number of infants not provided for exceeds 50 percent of the seat positions. Acceptable methods of administering the oxygen to infants and now used by many operators are: (a) A disposable plastic mask which can be fitted to the face; (b) an infant size BLB oro-nasal mask; and (c) semi-rigid paper cups, specifically reserved for the purpose, which can be fitted over the infant's nose and mouth, with a hole punched through the bottom through which an oxygen tube or a Y-connector can be inserted. Any other acceptable method may also be used.

§ 40.202–6 Oxygen requirements for clinical purposes (CAA policies which apply to § 40.202 (c)). The regulations do not require that oxygen be provided for clinical purposes; hence, if the air carrier believes that such oxygen is to be desired, he should provide oxygen for this purpose. It is suggested that portable units of any size the air carrier desires be used for this purpose in order that the minimum supply required for supplementary breathing purposes will be preserved. If, however, the operator wishes to use a common source of supply for the oxygen required by the regulations and for clinical purposes, he may do so if he provides an amount of oxygen sufficiently greater than that required by the regulations. A quantity of 300 liters STPD would probably be considered as satisfying reasonable needs.

§ 40.203–1 Computation of supply for crew members in pressurized cabin aircraft (CAA policies which apply to § 40.203 (a))—(a) Cabin altitudes less than 10,000 feet. When a pressurized cabin aircraft is certificated to fly with a cabin pressure altitude no greater than 10,000 feet, only the supply of oxygen stipulated by § 40.203 (a) need be provided for crew members. In determining this supply the following policies should be considered:

(1) The supply of oxygen which should be provided for all crew members for the duration of the flight should be computed on the basis of the cabin pressure altitude which would exist after cabin depressurization has occurred and the aircraft has descended to the altitude which would permit safe flight with respect to terrain clearance. (See § 40.203 (c).)

(2) The operator may use the supply furnished for protective breathing purposes (see § 40.205) for compliance with the two hour requirement for supplementary breathing oxygen. For example, the 300 liter STPD supply per flight crew member which is the protective breathing supply when demand (or diluter-demand) systems are used, will provide a two-hour supplementary breathing supply for one flight crew member at 20,000 feet, so that both the minimum two hour supplementary breathing requirement and the protective breathing requirement would be fulfilled under most emergency conditions resulting from loss of cabin pressure or from contamination of cabin air with smoke or poisonous gases.

(b) Cabin altitudes greater than 10,000 feet. When operating a pressurized cabin aircraft which is certificated to fly with a cabin pressure altitude greater than 10,000 feet, a supply of oxygen for crew members computed on the basis of the requirements of § 40.202 (b) should be provided.

(1) The oxygen supply required for protective breathing purposes, as defined in § 40.205 should be provided in addition to the above supply for the flight crew members on flight deck duty. This emergency supply may be used in the event of cabin pressurization failure. In the event that operations occur over terrain which require flights of such duration and altitude as to use of the emergency oxygen supplied either for protective breathing purposes or for the two hour supply following pressurization failure, the supply should be increased to provide for this difference, computing it for crew members on the basis of § 40.203 (a).

(2) To provide oxygen for crew members other than the flight crew members on flight deck duty in the event of cabin pressurization failure, a supply of oxygen in addition to the supplies mentioned above should be provided in accordance with the requirements of § 40.203 (a) except that the total supply for these other crew members need not exceed that provided on the basis of § 40.202 (b) for cabin pressure altitudes in excess of 10,000 feet plus an additional supply necessary to satisfy the increased oxygen flow which might be needed following a pressurization failure; this supplement to the § 40.202 (b) supply should be based on the duration of flight at the altitudes which would permit safe flight with respect to terrain clearance.

(3) During normal operation at cabin pressure altitudes above 10,000 feet oxygen should be used by each member of the flight crew on flight deck duty for the duration of the flight in excess of 30 minutes at the cabin pressure altitudes between 10,000 and 12,000 feet and for the duration of the flight at cabin pressure altitudes in excess of 12,000 feet. In the event of the loss of cabin pressurization, oxygen should continue to be used by the flight crew members on flight deck duty for the duration of flight at cabin pressure altitudes greater than 10,000 feet. All other crew members may use oxygen according to their individual needs.

§ 40.203–2 Computation of supply for passengers in pressurized cabin aircraft (CAA policies which apply to § 40.203 (b))—(a) Cabin altitudes less than 10,000 feet. When a pressurized cabin aircraft is certificated to fly with a cabin pressure altitude no greater than 10,000 feet, only the supply of oxygen stipulated by § 40.202 (c) need be provided for passengers. In determining this supply the following policies should be considered:

(1) The altitude which should be used in computing the supply of oxygen required by this section should be the altitude to which the aircraft would descend following a cabin pressurization failure, considering terrain clearance and operating limitations.

(2) Relative to § 40.203 (b) (1) and (2), no oxygen need be provided for the first four minutes following a cabin pressurization failure.

(b) Cabin altitudes greater than 10,000 feet. When a pressurized cabin aircraft is certificated to fly with a cabin pressure altitude greater than 10,000 feet, the following policies should be considered: When the cabin pressure altitude is above 10,000 feet to and including 14,000 feet, sufficient oxygen shall be provided for 10 percent of the number of passengers for the duration of flight between such cabin pressure altitudes. When the cabin pressure altitude is above 14,000 feet to and including 15,000 feet, sufficient oxygen shall be provided for 30 percent of the number of passengers for the duration of flight between such cabin pressure altitudes. When the cabin pressure altitude is above 15,000 feet, sufficient oxygen shall be provided for each passenger for the duration of flight above such a cabin pressure altitude. In addition to the above supply of oxygen, in order to provide for loss of cabin pressure, the supplementary oxygen required by whatever portions of § 40.203 (b) are applicable, shall be provided except that in no case will it be necessary to furnish a supply of oxygen in excess of that necessary to supply oxygen to 100 percent of the passengers for the maximum possible duration of flight at the maximum cabin altitude which could be attained under either of the normal operating or emergency conditions whichever is greater.

§ 40.203–3 Oxygen requirements for clinical purposes (CAA policies which apply to § 40.203 (b)). The regulations do not require that oxygen be provided for clinical purposes; hence, if the air carrier believes that such oxygen is to be desired, he should provide oxygen for this purpose. It is suggested that portable units of any size the air carrier desires be used for this purpose in order that the minimum supply required for supplementary breathing purposes will be preserved. If, however, the operator wishes to use a common source of supply for the oxygen required by the regulations and for clinical purposes, he may do so if he provides an amount of oxygen sufficiently greater than that required by the regulations. It is suggested that a quantity of 300 liters may be considered as satisfying reasonable needs.

§ 40.203–4 Oxygen requirements for infants-in-arms (CAA policies which apply to § 40.203 (b)). Provisions should be made for administering oxygen to infants-in-arms and additional oxygen over that required by § 40.203 (b) should be carried whenever an unusually large number of infants is carried. This additional oxygen is needed only when there is a passenger or infant for each seat position and the number of infants not provided for exceeds 50 percent of the seat positions. Acceptable methods of administering the oxygen to infants and now used by many operators are: (a) A disposable plastic mask which can be fitted to the face; (b) an infant size BLB oro-nasal mask and (c) semi-rigid paper cups, specifically reserved for the purpose, which can be fitted over the infant's nose and mouth, with a hole punched through the bottom through which an oxygen tube or Y-connector can be inserted. Any other acceptable method may also be used.

This supplement shall become effective April 1, 1954. However, under Special Regulation 393B, published on December 30, 1953, in 18 F. R. 8866, the Administrator may, upon application, amend the operations specifications of an air carrier coming under the provisions of Part 40 effective April 15, 1954, to authorize such air carrier to operate prior to April 1, 1954, in compliance with selected provisions of Part 40 effective April 1, 1954, in lieu of the equivalent provisions of presently effective Parts 40 and 61.

TITLE 21—FOOD AND DRUGS

Chapter I—Food and Drug Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare

PART 3—STATEMENTS OF GENERAL POLICY OR INTERPRETATION

STATUS OF FOODS CONTAINING ADDED COUMARIN

Pursuant to section 3 of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237, 238; 5 U. S. C. 1002), the following statement of interpretation is issued:

§ 3.33 Status of foods containing added coumarin. Manufacturers of coumarin have reported pharmacological investigations showing that it has toxic properties. They have informed the Food and Drug Administration that it will no longer be sold for food use. The Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act defines food as adulterated if it contains any added poisonous or deleterious substance not required in the production or avoidable in good manufacturing practice. Food containing coumarin added as such or as a constituent of tonka beans or tonka extract will be regarded as adulterated under this provision of the law.

PART 10—GENERAL REGULATIONS RELATING TO DEFINITIONS AND STANDARDS FOR FOOD

GENERAL REGULATIONS

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare by the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sec. 701 (a), 52 Stat. 1055; 21 U. S. C. 371 (a); 67 Stat. 18), the general regulations relating to definitions and standards for foods (21 CFR 10.0) are amended as set forth below:

Section 10.0 (c) is amended to read as follows:

§ 10.0 General regulations. • • •

(c) No provision of any regulation prescribing a definition and standard of identity or standard of quality or fill of container under section 401 of the act shall be construed as in any way affecting the concurrent applicability of the general provisions of the act and the regulations thereunder relating to adulteration and misbranding. For example, all regulations under section 401 contemplate that the food and all articles used as components or ingredients thereof shall not be poisonous or deleterious and shall be clean, sound, and fit for food. A provision in such regulations for the use of coloring or flavoring does not authorize such use under circumstances or in a manner whereby damage or inferiority is concealed or whereby the food is made to appear better or of greater value than it is.

(Sec. 701, 52 Stat. 1055; 21 U. S. C. 371)

This order shall become effective upon the date of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Dated: March 1, 1954.

Secretary.

PART 14—CACAO PRODUCTS; DEFINITIONS AND STANDARDS OF IDENTITY

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

In the matter of amending the definitions and standards of identity for chocolate liquor, chocolate, baking chocolate, bitter chocolate, cooking chocolate, chocolate coating, bitter chocolate coating; breakfast cocoa, high-fat cocoa; sweet chocolate, sweet chocolate coating; and milk chocolate, sweet milk chocolate, milk chocolate coating, sweet milk chocolate coating:

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare by the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (secs. 401, 701, 52 Stat. 1046, 1055; 21 U. S. C. 341, 371; 67 Stat. 18), and upon the basis of substantial evidence received at the public hearing held pursuant to the notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on August 5, 1953 (18 F. R. 4606), and upon consideration of the exceptions filed to the tentative order published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on November 3, 1953 (18 F. R. 6945), which exceptions were not allowed as appears from notations on the exceptions on file with the Hearing Clerk, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Room 5440, Health, Education, and Welfare Building, 330 Independence Avenue SW., Washington 25, D. C., the following order is hereby promulgated:

Findings of fact.[1] 1. Based on evidence taken at a hearing held beginning December 9, 1940, on proposals to adopt definitions and standards of identity for various cacao products, coumarin (among other designated substances) was found to be a suitable artificial flavoring ingredient, and accordingly it was listed as a permitted optional ingredient in the definitions and standards of identity for chocolate liquor (21 CFR 14.2), breakfast cocoa (21 CFR 14.3), sweet chocolate (21 CFR 14.6), and milk chocolate (21 CFR 14.7). By reference it also became an optional ingredient in the definitions and standards of identity for cocoa (21 CFR 14.4), low-fat cocoa (21 CFR 14.5), skim milk chocolate (21 CFR 14.8), buttermilk chocolate (21 CFR 14.9), mixed dairy product chocolates (21 CFR 14.10), sweet chocolate and vegetable fat (other than cacao fat) coating (21 CFR 14.11), sweet cocoa and vegetable fat (other than cacao fat) coating (21 CFR 14.12). (Ex. 2.)

2. Pharmacological investigations designed to test the toxicity of coumarin have recently been concluded by a commercial laboratory. The uncontradicted testimony given at the hearing shows that coumarin was tested by the means normally employed to determine the toxicity of ingredients used in food. The only testimony taken at the hearing was that of the pharmacologist whose laboratories conducted the toxicity investigations. The investigations demonstrate that coumarin is a toxic substance which caused damage to various organs of the test animals, particularly the livers. There is a definite possibility that coumarin will cause injury when used for human food. (R. 6–7, 9, 12–13, 15, 17; Ex. 3, 4.)

3. Coumarin is a chemical substance which exhibits toxic properties when fed to test animals in small quantities. While the amount of coumarin fed to animals in the investigations reported at the hearing may have exceeded that normally found in a human diet, it is customary to test food ingredients on animals in quantities greater than is normally found in the human diet, to allow a margin of safety. The experiments reported establish that coumarin has toxic properties, is a poisonous and deleterious substance, and so is not a suitable optional ingredient of the various chocolate products named in finding 1. (R. 6–17; Ex. 3, 4.)

Conclusions. Coumarin is a poisonous and deleterious substance within the meaning of section 402 (a) (2) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U. S. C. 342 (a) (2)). As used in chocolate products, it is unsafe within the meaning of section 406 (a) of the act (21 U. S. C. 346 (a)).

Coumarin was permitted as an ingredient in cacao products only as an optional ingredient, not a required ingredient, on the basis of evidence taken at previous hearings. There was no evidence introduced at any of the hearings to show that coumarin is required in the production of cacao products or cannot be avoided by good manufacturing practice. The Secretary is without authority to establish tolerances for the use of coumarin in such food.

It is concluded that it will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers to amend the definitions and standards of identity for the various cacao products named in finding 1 to repeal all provisions making coumarin an optional ingredient in such definitions and standards of identity.

Therefore, it is ordered, That Part 14—Cacao Products; Definitions and Standards of Identity be amended in the following respects:

1a. In § 14.2 (a) (3), omit the word "coumarin".

b. In § 14.2 (b), last sentence, change the statement "With Added Cinnamon, Vanilla, and Coumarin, an Artificial Flavoring" to read: "With Added Cinnamon, Vanilla, and Ethyl Vanillin, an Artificial Flavoring."

2a. In § 14.3 (a) (3), omit the word "coumarin".

b. In § 14.3 (b), last sentence, change the statement "With Added Cinnamon, Vanilla, and Coumarin, an Artificial Flavoring" to read: "With Added Cinnamon, Vanilla, and Ethyl Vanillin, an Artificial Flavoring."

3a. In § 14.6 (a) (2), omit the word "coumarin".

b. In § 14.6 (e), last sentence, change the statement "With Added Emulsifier and Coumarin, an Artificial Flavoring" to read: "With Added Emulsifier and Ethyl Vanillin, an Artificial Flavoring."

4a. In § 14.7 (a) (2), omit the word "coumarin".

b. In § 14.7 (c), last sentence, change the statement "With Added Emulsifier and Coumarin, an Artificial Flavoring" to read: "With Added Emulsifier and Ethyl Vanillin, an Artificial Flavoring."

(Sec. 701, 52 Stat. 1055; 21 U. S. C. 371. Interpret or apply sec. 401, 52 Stat. 1046; 21 U. S. C. 341)

Effective date. This order shall become effective on the ninetieth day following the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

SUBPART A—GENERAL

§ 400.1 Scope of operations. (a) Federal National Mortgage Association (hereinafter called "FNMA") is a corporate instrumentality of the United States, the capital stock of which is wholly owned by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator. Its principal powers are prescribed by Title III of the National Housing Act, as amended. FNMA provides a market for the purchase and sale of certain real estate mortgage loans. It purchases, on an over-the-counter basis, mortgage loans guaranteed under certain provisions of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, as amended, or insured under certain provisions of the National Housing Act, as amended. FNMA enters into advance commitment contracts to purchase guaranteed or insured mortgages, under certain conditions, when they relate to (1) Defense, Military or Disaster housing, (2) housing located in Alaska, and (3) FHA section 213 cooperative housing. The mortgages which FNMA owns are made available for sale to eligible investors. FNMA also issues Advance Contracts to Purchase, under certain conditions, in an amount not exceeding the amount of sale of mortgages purchased from its portfolio.

(b) FNMA does not make loans directly to individuals or institutions, except that FHA-insured mortgage loans covering properties located in Alaska may be made under certain conditions. Detailed information with respect to such Alaska loans and mortgage purchases may be obtained from the offices of FNMA at Los Angeles, Calif., or Washington, D. C.

(c) FNMA is authorized to conduct its business in any State of the United States, and in the District of Columbia, Alaska, Guam, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands.

A list of the cities in which the FNMA Agency Offices are located, their respective addresses and areas covered are given in this paragraph. All inquiries concerning the activities of FNMA, offerings of mortgages, etc., should be directed to the Agency Office serving the territory in which the mortgaged property is located. Forms for offering mortgages and other forms prescribed by FNMA may be obtained from such Agency Offices.

SUBPART B—MORTGAGES ELIGIBLE FOR PURCHASE

VA-GUARANTEED MORTGAGES

§ 400.101 Guaranty. Any mortgage guaranteed by the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs (herein referred to as a "VA-guaranteed mortgage") must have been guaranteed after February 29, 1952, pursuant to section 501 or 502 of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act.

§ 400.102 VA prior approval. VA-guaranteed mortgages must have been processed through the VA "prior approval procedure".

§ 400.103 Extent of guaranty for single-family dwelling units. If the improvements on the mortgaged premises comprise one single-family dwelling unit, the original principal amount of the mortgage must have been guaranteed: (a) In the case of a section 501 mortgage, to the extent of 60 percent; (b) in the case of a section 502 mortgage, to the extent of 50 percent or $4,000, whichever is less.

§ 400.104 Extent of guaranty for multiple-family dwelling units. If the improvements on the mortgaged premises comprise two or more single-family dwelling units, the original principal amount of the mortgage will not have exceeded the original amount of the guaranty plus 50 percent of the purchase price or cost of the premises: Provided, That the original principal amount of the mortgage must not in any instance have exceeded 90 percent of the purchase price or cost of the premises. This section contemplates that the original principal amount of the mortgage will not have exceeded $50,000 and that the mortgagors, without exception (except spouses), will be veterans whose entitlement to guaranty, without reduction resulting from prior use of all or a portion thereof, will be employed to the fullest extent provided for by the Servicemen's Readjustment Act for the purposes of the mortgage loan or loans under consideration; and it also contemplates, when there is more than one veteran-mortgagor, that all such veteran-mortgagors will be jointly and severally liable for the mortgage debt. Included in this section are instances of a single multi-family building containing two or more single-family dwelling units and also instances of a single parcel of realty upon which the improvements consist of two or more family residences. The officers of FNMA are authorized to consider any case in which the original principal amount of the mortgage exceeds $50,000, or in which the veteran-mortgagors are not jointly and severally liable for the mortgage debt.

§ 400.105 Section 502 mortgages. The mortgaged premises must be improved by a farm residence, and the original principal amount of the mortgage must not have exceeded the purchase price or cost of the premises, as defined in § 400.108. In addition, the purchase price or cost of the premises must be computed without the inclusion of the VA appraised reasonable value of livestock, farm machinery, and automotive or other farm equipment, if any.

§ 400.106 Maturity. Each VA mortgage must mature not more than 30 years from the date of the note, or the date of assumption of the mortgage debt by the veteran-borrower for whom the mortgage loan is guaranteed.

§ 400.107 Application of gratuity. Except as to any mortgage where the related VA Certificate of Commitment (VA Form 4–1866) is dated subsequent to August 31, 1953, and prior to July 1, 1954, and in which the mortgage is guaranteed prior to July 1, 1954, the VA gratuity payment incident to a VA-guaranteed mortgage that is offered to FNMA for purchase must have been received or advanced by the seller and applied on the mortgage debt.

(a) If the VA gratuity has been received by the seller prior to delivery of the mortgage to FNMA, the amount thereof, or that portion thereof to which the mortgagor may be entitled after reduction or offset by reason of indebtedness owing from the mortgagor to VA, or by reason of prior guaranty of other indebtedness, must have been credited upon the loan in the manner required by VA regulations. The documents which are delivered incident to delivery of the mortgage must identify any such payment and must show clearly how it was applied, and, if there had been any reduction or offset against a full gratuity, must include either a VA letter or a copy of VA Form 4–1885 (such copy being numbered 4–1885a) verifying such reduction or offset.

(b) If the gratuity payment has not been received, the full amount thereof (without any reduction or offset) may be advanced by the seller prior to the delivery of the mortgage to FNMA and credited upon the loan. Such amount will be considered as having been received by the seller and shall not thereafter, for any reason, be subject to any adjustment requiring refund to the seller by FNMA.

§ 400.108 Loan not to exceed purchase price. Each mortgage must not exceed in original principal amount the purchase price or cost of the mortgaged premises. In determining the "purchase price or cost" of the mortgaged premises, any costs or expenses (commonly called closing costs) incurred in closing the loan or financing the purchase that are normally required to be paid by the purchaser or lienor under local lending customs shall be excluded. Under this requireemnt, if a VA mortgage is to be eligible for purchase by FNMA, such closing costs may be included in the mortgage loan only to the extent that the original principal amount thereof does not exceed such purchase price or cost, as defined herein; any excess of such closing costs must have been paid by or for the mortgagor otherwise than from the proceeds of the mortgage loan, and from some source other than by a gratuity from the seller of the property.

§ 400.109 Date of first installment. The period of time between the date of a note, or the date of assumption of the mortgage debt by the veteran-borrower for whom the mortgage is guaranteed, and the due date of the first installment of principal and interest shall not exceed: (a) Six months, if the amortization installments are payable monthly or quarterly, except that if in such cases the seller establishes to the satisfaction of FNMA that the veteran-borrower executed the note or assumed the mortgage debt prior to the commencement of construction, that period shall not exceed twelve months; (b) twelve months, if the amortization installments are payable semi-annually or annually.

§ 400.110 Minimum construction requirements. The housing with respect to which each mortgage was made must conform with the minimum construction requirements prescribed by the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs.

FHA-INSURED MORTGAGES

§ 400.201 Insurance. Any mortgage insured by the Federal Housing Commissioner (referred to in this part as an "FHA-insured mortgage") must have been insured after February 29, 1952, pursuant to sections 8, 203, 207, 213 "Individual Mortgages," 213 "Project Mortgages" (Management Type), 803, 903 or 908 of the National Housing Act.

§ 400.202 Service fee. Each FHA-insured section 8 mortgage shall contain a provision requiring the monthly payment by the mortgagor of a service fee of ½ of 1 percent per annum. The servicer shall remit such service fee to FNMA.

§ 400.203 Late charge. Any mortgage insured pursuant to sections 207, 213 "Project Mortgages" (Management Type), 803 or 908 shall contain a provision requiring the payment by the mortgagor of a "late charge" of two cents for each dollar of each payment more than fifteen days in arrears. Whenever, under the law of the jurisdiction where the property is located, the amount of a "late charge" is considered to be additional interest, this provision shall not be used if the rate of interest specified in the mortgage together with the amount of the "late charge" would aggregate an amount in excess of the maximum rate of interest permitted, and would constitute usury.

VA-GUARANTEED AND FHA-INSURED MORTGAGES

§ 400.301 Maximum loan. The original principal amount of any mortgage (except an FHA-insured mortgage covering property located in Guam or Hawaii) must not have exceeded $10,000 for each single-family dwelling unit covered thereby. (A blanket mortgage, which does not contain provisions for the release of individual parcels, is ineligible if the original principal amount of the mortgage loan averages an amount in excess of $10,000 per dwelling unit (original principal amount of loan divided by the number of dwelling units). A blanket mortgage which does contain provisions for the release of individual parcels is ineligible if the portion of the original principal amount of the blanket mortgage allocable to any individual property exceeds $10,000 for any family residence or single-family dwelling unit.)

§ 400.302 Defects in documents; determination of purchase price in such cases. If the examination of mortgage documents in any case discloses defects which in the opinion of FNMA are material, or if the mortgage is otherwise determined to be ineligible for purchase, all of the mortgage documents will be returned to the seller. However, a seller may re-offer any such mortgage under a new contract, provided the defects have been cleared. The price FNMA will pay for a mortgage, which is returned to the seller and thereafter re-offered to FNMA as provided in this section, will be the price in effect on the date such re-offering is received by FNMA.

§ 400.303 Interest. Mortgages offered to FNMA for purchase must bear interest at not less than the following rates: FHA-insured section 8, 203, 213 "Individual Mortgages", or 903 mortgages and VA-guaranteed section 501 or 502 mortgages, 4½ percent per annum; FHA-insured section 207, 213 "Project Mortgages" (Management Type), 803, or 908 mortgages, 4½ percent per annum. Interest accruing to the day which precedes by one regular installment period the due date of the first full installment of principal and interest, shall have been paid by or for the account of the mortgagor.

§ 400.304 Amortization. Each VA-guaranteed section 501 mortgage and FHA-insured section 8, 203 (except section 203 (d)), 213 "Individual Mortgages", or 903 mortgage must provide for amortization thereof by the payment of equal monthly installments applicable to interest and principal, payable on the first day of each month. The installments on VA-guaranteed section 502 and FHA-insured section 203 (d) mortgages and may be payable on a monthly, quarterly, semi-annual or annual basis. FHA-insured section 207, 213 "Project Mortgages" (Management Type), 803, or 908 mortgages may be amortized either, by the payment of equal monthly installments applicable to interest and principal or, on the basis of the FHA accelerating curtail declining annuity method. Each mortgage must provide for additional periodic payments to cover ground rents, taxes, special assessments, other levies and charges, fire and other hazard insurance premiums, and mortgage insurance premiums, if any.

§ 400.305 Mortgage payments. On the date the mortgage is delivered to FNMA, it must be current with respect to matured installments of principal, interest and deposits. Mortgages will not be accepted for purchase after the 25th day of the month, unless the installment due on the first day of the subsequent month has been received and applied on the loan. The seller, within the immediately preceding 3 months, must not have advanced funds, nor have induced or solicited any advance of funds by another, directly or indirectly, for the payment of any amount required by the note or mortgage, except (a) for the VA gratuity, if any, in the case of a VA mortgage, or (b) for interest accruing from the date of the note or the date of disbursement of the loan proceeds, whichever is later, to the day which precedes by one regular installment period, the due date of the first full installment of principal and interest.

§ 400.306 Period of eligibility. The VA Certificate of Guaranty or the FHA Final Insurance Endorsement shall be dated after February 29, 1952, and not less than 2 months nor more than 12 months prior to the date of receipt of the mortgage by FNMA for purchase, except that an FHA-insured section 803 mortgage is not eligible unless the FHA Insurance Commitment was issued on or after March 1, 1951.

§ 400.307 Location of premises. The mortgaged premises must be located within a radius of 100 miles of the principal office of the seller, or of a branch office of seller which FNMA has determined is adequately equipped to service mortgages, or of an office of a bona fide agent of the seller if both agent and office have been approved by FNMA. This requirement does not apply to FHA-insured section 207, 213 "Project Mortgages" (Management Type), 803, or 908 mortgages which are serviced by FNMA.

§ 400.308 Construction and mortgage financing fees. The seller must certify that it has at all times complied strictly with all rules and regulations of the VA or FHA with respect to all fees or charges collected or made incident to the mortgage loan and any predecessor construction or other loan.

§ 400.309 Loan documents and related instruments. The notes and security instruments must be on standard forms approved by FNMA, published by FHA or VA and obtainable from their respective field offices. As a condition of the delivery of any mortgage to FNMA, the seller must have executed a Purchasing and Servicing Agreement (except in the case of FHA-insured sections 207, 213 "Project Mortgages" (Management Type), 803, and 908 mortgages), a Purchase Contract, and a Seller's Certificate. FNMA's eligibility requirements, as well as the evidence to substantiate such requirements, are more fully described in such documents. Seller must comply with all the requirements set forth in such documents and must also comply with such further purchase requirements as FNMA may, from time to time, prescribe.

§ 400.310 Title evidence. FNMA will accept a mortgagee's title policy on the standard form of the American Title Association, if written by a title company satisfactory to FNMA in an amount not less than the original principal amount of the mortgage indebtedness. The maximum single risk (i. e., the risk or hazard attaching to or arising in connection with any one mortgage) assumed by any one title company may not exceed 50 percent of the sum of its capital and surplus, and its reserves other than its loss or claim reserves; excess amounts may be covered by reinsurance or coinsurance of acceptable title companies. Consideration will be given to the acceptance of other types of title evidence to the extent set forth in the Purchasing and Servicing Agreement.

§ 400.311 Restriction. No restriction upon the sale or occupancy of the mortgaged property, on the basis of race, color, or creed, must have been filed of record at any time subsequent to February 15, 1950, and prior to the latest date covered by the current title evidence.

§ 400.312 Prepayment premium. FHA-insured sections 207, 213 "Project Mortgages" (Management Type), 803, and 908 mortgages must include a provision for a premium or charge to be paid to the holder whenever prepayment of principal during any one calendar year exceeds 15 percent of the original principal amount of the mortgage debt. FNMA's minimum requirement in this respect is fully described in the Purchase Contract (FNMA Form 2a).

§ 400.313 Credit requirements. The general credit standing of the mortgagor and present owner, if other than original mortgagor, must be acceptable to FNMA, and the seller must certify that it has no knowledge of any circumstances of, or condition affecting, the mortgagor, present owner, or their affairs, which, in the opinion of the seller, may cause the mortgage to become delinquent. A credit report, which must not be dated more than 6 months prior to the time of delivery of mortgage to FNMA, shall be summitted in each case. Additional information or separate, current credit reports may be required by FNMA, if deemed necessary.

§ 400.314 Property requirements. (a) The improvements on the mortgaged premises must be undamaged by waste, fire or otherwise, and in all respects ready for occupancy.

(b) The seller must certify that it has no knowledge of any circumstances of, or conditions affecting, the mortgaged premises that adversely affects the value or marketability of the mortgage or that would cause private investors in the secondary mortgage market to regard the mortgage as unacceptable for prudent investment.

§ 400.315 Purchase limitation (dollar amount). Part II of Seller's Certificate, FNMA Form 190, includes in substance some of the provisions of the National Housing Act affecting sales of mortgages to FNMA. Such certificate provides a computation by which a seller may readily determine that not more than 50 percent of the amount of originations of certain VA mortgages (other than Defense and Disaster housing mortgages and mortgages delivered pursuant to Advance Contracts to Purchase) can be offered to FNMA; and not more than 25 percent of the amount of originations of certain FHA mortgages (other than Defense, Military and Disaster housing mortgages and mortgages delivered pursuant to Advance Contracts to Purchase) can be offered to FNMA. A different form of computation in the certificate will be used for VA-guaranteed and FHA-insured mortgages; and a seller is required to complete the appropriate form of computation and execute the certificate on the date of delivery of a mortgage tendered to FNMA for purchase.

§ 400.316 Compliance by seller. When a mortgage is delivered to FNMA for purchase, the seller must have complied with the National Housing Act and the Servicemen's Readjustment Act, if applicable, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder; also, the VA guaranty or FHA insurance must be in full force and effect. The seller must be the original mortgagee, and must not have made any prior sale of the mortgage offered to FNMA.

§ 400.317 Mortgages covering leasehold estates. When VA-guaranteed section 501 and 502 mortgages, or FHA-insured section 8, 203, 213 "Individual Mortgages", and 903 mortgages which cover leasehold estates are offered to FNMA for purchase, the seller shall furnish therewith satisfactory evidence that all of the following conditions exist in the political subdivisions—the city, county, or State—where the mortgaged property is located:

(a) The use of leasehold estates for residential properties is a custom of long standing in that area;

(b) Residential properties, consisting of leasehold estates, are readily marketable to informed buyers, and are acceptable to prudent investors in that area as security for mortgage loans;

(c) Mortgages covering residential properties, consisting of leasehold estates, are acceptable to prudent investors generally.

Evidence submitted by the seller shall include a geographical description of the area (city, county, or State), copies of the leasehold agreement in general use in that area, and such other evidence as may be requested. If the required evidence is satisfactory, the seller will be notified that FNMA will not object to offerings of such mortgages in that area. After such notification, the seller is not required to resubmit similar evidence with any subsequent offering in that area.

§ 400.318 Mortgage lien upon personal property. It is required that a valid and first lien be obtained, under applicable law, upon any equipment or other items of property normally regarded as personal property whenever such property constitutes a part of the required security for the mortgage indebtedness. In the case of a VA-guaranteed loan, the lien shall be legally adequate to embrace fully any such items of property used or found in the structure, which have been included in the VA Certificate of Reasonable Value. FNMA applies the same rule to an FHA mortgage where the FHA Commitment for Insurance contains certain items of equipment or other property which the FHA has referred to as "easily removable real estate items"; and, the lien shall be legally adequate to embrace fully any such items of equipment and property. Such items of equipment and property shall be described in such detail as to be readily identifiable.

SUBPART C—DEFENSE, MILITARY, AND DISASTER HOUSING MORTGAGES

§ 400.401 Purchase of defense, military, and disaster housing mortgages. FNMA will purchase, on an over-the-counter basis, and will issue advance commitments for the purchase of mortgages that are otherwise eligible, guaranteed by VA under sections 501 or 502 of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act, or insured by FHA under sections 8, 203, 207, 213, 803, 903, or 908 of the National Housing Act, covering:

(a) Defense Housing (housing programmed by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator in an area determined by the President or his designee to be a critical defense housing area);

(b) Military Housing (housing with respect to which the Federal Housing Commissioner has issued a commitment to insure pursuant to Title VIII of the National Housing Act); or

(c) Disaster Housing (housing intended to be made available primarily for families who are victims of a catastrophe which the President has determined to be a major disaster).

§ 400.402 Exceptions to regular eligibility requirements. Defense, Military, and Disaster housing mortgages must meet the eligibility requirements hereinbefore set forth, except as follows:

(a) They are exempt from the requirement that the mortgage must have been insured by FHA or guaranteed by VA subsequent to February 29, 1952 (§§ 400.101, 400.201, and 400.306).

(b) There is no two months' waiting period (§ 400.306).

(c) They are exempt from the requirements that not more than 50 percent of the amount of the originations of certain VA mortgages can be offered to FNMA for purchase, and not more than 25 percent of the originations of certain FHA mortgages can be offered to FNMA (§ 400.315).

(d) The italicized proviso in the following requirement will be waived where the VA Certificate of Reasonable Value is dated prior to September 1, 1952:

If the improvements on the mortgaged premises comprise two or more single-family dwelling units, the original principal amount of the mortgage will not have exceeded the original amount of the guaranty, plus 50 percent of the purchase price or cost of the premises, provided that the original principal amount of the mortgage must not in any instance have exceeded 90 percent of the purchase price or cost of the premises (§ 400.104).

(e) FNMA will not require that the VA gratuity payment, if any, must have been received or advanced by the seller and applied on the mortgage debt. If the gratuity payment has not been received by the seller prior to delivery of the mortgage to FNMA, the mortgage may nevertheless be purchased if it is otherwise eligible, provided the seller furnishes a written statement to the effect that such payment has not been received and that it will be remitted to FNMA promptly when received. If there is any reduction or offset against the full gratuity the seller shall be required to furnish FNMA, when remitting such payment, either a VA letter or a copy of VA Form 4–1885 (such copy being numbered 4–1885a), verifying such reduction or offset (§ 400.107).

(f) The requirement concerning knowledge of conditions affecting the mortgage shall be amended (as indicated by italics) to read as follows:

The seller must certify that, other than conditions resulting from a failure to sell or rent the mortgaged premises, it has no knowledge of any circumstances of, or conditions affecting, the mortgaged premises that adversely affects the value or marketability of the mortgage or that would cause private investors in the secondary mortgage market to regard the mortgage as unacceptable for prudent investment (§ 400.314).

(g) Mortgages covered by commitment contracts are exempt from the requirement that mortgages will not be accepted for purchase after the 25th day of the month, unless the installment due on the first day of the subsequent month has been received and applied on the loan (§ 400.305).

(h) With respect to mortgages tendered for purchase on an over-the-counter basis subsequent to May 4, 1953, or listed in commitment contracts executed by FNMA subsequent to May 4, 1953, the interest rates must be as follows:

(1) If the FHA Insurance Commitment or VA Certificate of Reasonable Value is dated on or prior to May 4, 1953, the mortgage must bear interest at not less than the following rates:

FHA-insured section 8, 203 and 903 mortgages, 4¼ percent per annum; FHA-insured section 207, 213, "Individual and Project Mortgages", 803 and 908 mortgages, and VA-guaranteed section 501 and 502 mortgages, 4 percent per annum.

(2) If the FHA Insurance Commitment or VA Certificate of Reasonable Value is dated subsequent to May 4, 1953, and on or prior to July 2, 1953, the mortgage must bear interest at not less than the following rates:

FHA-insured section 8, 203 and 903 mortgages and VA-guaranteed section 501 and 502 mortgages, 4½ percent per annum; FHA-insured section 207 mortgages, 4¼ percent per annum; FHA-insured section 213 "Individual and Project Mortgages", 803, and 908 mortgages, 4 percent per annum.

(3) If the FHA Insurance Commitment or VA Certificate of Reasonable Value is dated subsequent to July 2, 1953, the mortgage must bear interest at not less than the following rates:

FHA-insured section 8, 203, 213 "Individual Mortgages", and 903 mortgages, and VA-guaranteed section 501 and 502 mortgages, 4½ percent per annum; FHA-insured section 207, 213 "Project Mortgages", 803 and 908 mortgages, 4¼ percent per annum (§ 400.303).

§ 400.403 Commitment contracts; conditions. (a) Applications for advance commitments (Commitment Contract form executed by the seller) must be delivered in time for execution by FNMA prior to July 1, 1954.

(b) Commitment contracts will be subject to the following principal conditions:

(1) The mortgage relates to housing that has been programmed by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator for critical Defense Housing areas, or to Military Housing, or to Disaster Housing whether programmed or nonprogrammed.

(2) Seller holds an FHA Insurance Commitment, which in a section 803 case was issued on or after March 1, 1951, or a VA Certificate of Reasonable Value.

(3) Construction has not been commenced on the related housing to be encumbered by the mortgage.

(4) Seller has been and is unable to complete arrangements to market the mortgage elsewhere at par.

(5) Arrangements have been made for obtaining or furnishing all construction loan funds.

§ 400.404 Commitment period. The commitment period, under a commitment contract covering an FHA section 8, 203, 213 "Individual Mortgage", or 903 mortgage, or a VA section 501 or 502 mortgage, will be one year. The commitment period, under a commitment contract covering an FHA section 207, 213 "Project Mortgage" (Management Type), 803, or 908 mortgage, will be the time between the date FNMA executes the commitment contract and the latest date on which amortization payments may commence under the terms of the FHA Insurance Commitment.

§ 400.405 Commitment deposits and fees. (a) Concurrently with the filing of an application with FNMA for a commitment to purchase an FHA section 8, 203, 213 "Individual Mortgage", or 903 mortgage, or a VA section 501, or 502 mortgage the seller must deposit with FNMA an amount equal to 1 percent of the original principal amount of each mortgage included in a commitment contract as a commitment deposit. FNMA will charge commitment fees with respect to such mortgages (to be retained from the commitment deposit applicable to each mortgage and any balance to be refunded to the seller) as follows:

(1) One-half of the commitment deposit upon delivery of an eligible mortgage to FNMA within the commitment period; or

(2) One-fourth of the commitment deposit upon the written request of seller within the commitment period to withdraw the mortgage from the commitment, accompanied by a statement (i) that the improvements on the mortgaged premises are ready for occupancy and (ii) that the mortgage in all respects is eligible for purchase by FNMA from the seller; or

(3) The full amount of the commitment deposit if the contract is terminated; or, if at the expiration of the commitment period, the seller has not acted in accordance with either subparagraphs (1) or (2) of this paragraph.

(b) Concurrently with the filing of an application with FNMA for a commitment to purchase an FHA section 207, 213 "Project Mortgage" (Management Type), 803, or 908 mortgage, the seller must deposit with FNMA an amount equal to one-half of 1 percent of the original principal amount of the mortgage as a commitment deposit. FNMA will charge with respect to each such mortgage a commitment fee (to be retained by FNMA from the commitment deposit, and any balance to be refunded to the seller) as follows:

(1) The full amount of the commitment deposit if, within the commitment period, the mortgage is delivered to FNMA for purchase and the mortgage is in all respects eligible for purchase by FNMA; or

(2) One-half of the commitment deposit upon the written request of the seller within the commitment period to withdraw the mortgage from the commitment, accompanied by a statement (i) that the improvements on the mortgaged premises are ready for occupancy and (ii) that the mortgage in all respects is eligible for purchase by FNMA from the seller; or

(3) The full amount of the commitment deposit if the contract is terminated; or, if at the expiration of the commitment period, the seller has not acted in accordance with either subparagraph (1) or (2) of this paragraph.

§ 400.406 Mortgage withdrawn from commitment contract. FNMA will not purchase on an over-the-counter basis any mortgage previously withdrawn from a commitment contract.

Subpart D—Advance Contracts To Purchase

(One-for-One Program)

§ 400.501 Statutory basis. Public Law 94, 83d Congress, authorizes FNMA to issue advance commitments to purchase mortgages in an amount which does not exceed the principal amount paid for mortgages sold by FNMA from its portfolio. FNMA will issue such commitments under the following conditions and requirements (copies of required forms, and complete detailed information concerning this program may be obtained from any FNMA Agency Office).

§ 400.502 Issuance of contract. Advance Contracts to Purchase may be issued in connection with the sale of all mortgages from FNMA's portfolio, including Defense, Military, and Disaster housing mortgages. They will not be issued in any case in which, at the instance of FNMA, a purchaser is repurchasing unsatisfactory mortgages theretofore sold by the purchaser to FNMA. The contract will be issued to either (a) the purchaser that signed FNMA's Mortgage Sales Agreement, or (b) FNMA's immediate assignee of the mortgages, whichever is requested by the purchaser at, or prior to, the time of closing of the sale. The contract is not assignable or transferrable and, after issuance, it will not be re-issued to any other person, firm, or corporation.

§ 400.503 Period of issuance. Advance commitments may be issued by FNMA in connection with sales subsequent to July 25, 1953, and prior to July 1, 1954, on FNMA Form 260 "Advance Contract to Purchase".

§ 400.504 Amount of contract. A contract will be issued in any amount requested by the purchaser, but not to exceed the principal amount paid to FNMA for mortgages purchased from FNMA's portfolio (e. g., if the aggregate of the unpaid principal balances of mortgages sold is $1,000,000, and the mortgages were sold at 98, the sale price is $980,000; and the maximum amount of the contract would therefore be $980,000). The contract obligates FNMA to purchase a specific dollar volume of mortgages, but not specific mortgages covering any particular property. Where a contract is issued at purchaser's request in an amount less than the sale price, no subsequent increase in the amount of the contract will be made.

§ 400.505 Limitation on purchase of mortgages. Although, as stated in § 400.502, Defense, Military and Disaster housing mortgages may be sold by FNMA and contracts issued in connection therewith, such mortgages will not be purchased by FNMA pursuant to the contracts, for the reason that established FNMA procedures already provide for advance commitments and over-the-counter purchases of such mortgages.

§ 400.506 Commitment period. The commitment period shall be one year from the date of the contract. (The date of the contract will in all cases be the effective date of the sale.)

§ 400.507 Commitment fee. Purchasers of FNMA mortgages desiring to obtain an Advance Contract to Purchase must, at the time of the closing of the sale, pay a "Commitment Fee" of one percent of the total amount of the contract. No part of such fee will be refunded.

§ 400.508 FNMA purchase price. Purchases of mortgages by FNMA under an Advance Contract to Purchase will be confined solely to the types of mortgages listed in the schedule appearing on the reverse side of the contract, and the price that will be paid by FNMA for each type of mortgage will be the current price in effect on the date the Mortgage Sales Agreement, FNMA Form 174 or 174–A is executed by FNMA. A contract may be presented to any FNMA Agency Office, regardless of the location of the issuing Agency Office.

§ 400.509 Acquisition and service charge. At the time a mortgage is delivered for purchase under an Advance Contract to Purchase, the seller is required to pay an "Acquisition and Service Charge" of one-half of one percent of the principal amount to be paid by FNMA for the mortgage.

§ 400.510 Exceptions to regular eligibility requirements. Mortgages delivered under Advance Contracts to Purchase must conform in all respects to FNMA's requirements in effect on the date of the issuance of the contract, except as follows:

(a) They are not subject to the two months' waiting period (§ 400.306);

(b) FNMA will not require that the gratuity payment, if any, must have been received or advanced by the seller and applied on the mortgage debt. If the gratuity payment has not been received by the seller prior to delivery of the mortgage to FNMA, the mortgage may nevertheless be purchased if it is otherwise eligible, provided the seller furnishes a written statement to the effect that such payment has not been received and that it will be remitted to FNMA promptly when received. If there is any reduction or offset against the full gratuity the seller shall be required to furnish to FNMA, when remitting such payment, either a VA letter or a copy of VA Form 4–1885 (such copy being numbered 4–1885a), verifying such reduction or offset (§ 400.107);

(c) They are exempt from the requirement that only 50 percent of certain VA mortgages originated by a seller can be offered to FNMA, and only 25 percent of certain FHA mortgages originated by a seller can be offered to FNMA (§ 400.315);

(d) They are exempt from the requirement that mortgages will not be accepted for purchase after the 25th day of the month, unless the installment due on the first day of the subsequent month has been received and applied on the loan (§ 400.305).

Subpart E—Commitment Contracts; FHA Cooperative Housing Mortgages

§ 400.601 Statutory basis. FNMA is authorized to enter into advance Commitment Contracts which do not exceed $30,000,000 outstanding at any one time, if such commitments relate to mortgages with respect to which the Federal Housing Commissioner has issued prior to September 1, 1953, pursuant to section 213 of the National Housing Act, as amended, either a Commitment to Insure or a Statement of Eligibility, provided that not to exceed $3,500,000 of such authorization shall be available for such commitments in any one State.

§ 400.602 Types of mortgages. FNMA will issue such commitments for the purchase of FHA section 213 "Project Mortgages" (Management Type), and FHA section 213 "Individual Mortgages" covering properties to be released from a "Project Mortgage" (Sales Type). FNMA will not issue commitments for the purchase of FHA section 213 "Project Mortgages" (Sales Type).

§ 400.603 Conditions. Commitment Contracts will be issued subject to the conditions: (a) That the seller is an FHA-approved mortgagee (which term does not include a loan correspondent of an approved mortgagee); (b) that the seller holds a Statement of Eligibility executed by FHA or an FHA Insurance Commitment covering the project mortgage; (c) that either the FHA Insurance Commitment or the FHA Statement of Eligibility was issued prior to September 1, 1953; (d) that construction has not commenced; (e) that the seller has been and is unable to complete arrangements to market the mortgage elsewhere at par; (f) if the contract is issued prior to the issuance of the FHA Insurance Commitment on the project mortgage, seller agrees to deliver such insurance commitment to FNMA within 90 days after the date of the execution of the contract by FNMA; and (g) if the contract covers individual mortgages, seller agrees to deliver the individual FHA Insurance Commitments to FNMA at the time such mortgages are tendered for purchase.

§ 400.604 Exception to regular eligibility requirement. Mortgages delivered pursuant to these commitment contracts are exempt from the FNMA requirement that mortgages will not be accepted for purchase after the 25th day of the month, unless the installment due on the first day of the subsequent month has been received and applied on the loan (§ 400.305).

§ 400.605 Commitment deposits and fees. Same as required for section 213 Defense, Military, and Disaster mortgages. (See § 400.405.)

§ 400.606 Additional information. Complete detailed information and copies of required FNMA forms may be obtained from any FNMA Agency Office.

Subpart F—Eligible Sellers

§ 400.701 VA-guaranteed mortgages. In order to be eligible to sell any VA-guaranteed mortgage to FNMA a lender must be acceptable to FNMA and must come within one of the following three classifications:

(a) Any lender that is classified by VA as a "supervised lender" under section 500 (d) of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act, including any National bank, State bank, private bank, building and loan association, insurance company, credit union or mortgage and loan company, which is subject to examination and supervision by an agency of the United States or of any State or territory, including the District of Columbia.

(b) Any lender that is an FHA-approved mortgagee, as defined in this part.

(c) Any other lender, if such lender, as determined by FNMA, is adequately equipped to service mortgages and has a net worth of not less than $50,000.

§ 400.702 FHA-insured mortgages. In order to be eligible to sell any FHA-insured mortgage to FNMA, a lender must be acceptable to FNMA and must be an FHA-approved mortgagee. The term "FHA-approved mortgagee", as used in this part, means an institution, agency or organization that has been approved by FHA as the holder of, and the original lender upon, a mortgage insured pursuant to the provisions of Title I, Title II, Title VIII or Title IX of the National Housing Act. Such term does not include a mortgagee that has been approved on the basis of being a duly authorized loan correspondent of an approved mortgagee which has qualified with FHA to originate loans under the National Housing Act.

§ 400.703 Application for approval as eligible seller. Any lender that applies to FNMA for designation as an eligible seller shall transmit with its application a detailed description of its servicing facilities together with a recent financial statement. The term "lender" as used in this part means an organized business enterprise which has as one of its principal purposes the making of loans secured by real estate mortgages. Such mortgage loans must customarily be made in the regular, usual, and normal course of business. An organization which makes such loans occasionally only, or in special circumstances only, e. g., in aid of another of its principal purposes, would not come within this definition. A Federal, State or municipal instrumentality cannot become an eligible seller.

SUBPART G—MORTGAGE SERVICING PROGRAM

§ 400.801 Mortgage servicing. (a) Sellers are obligated to service, in accordance with FNMA requirements, all VA-guaranteed and FHA-insured mortgages purchased by FNMA (except FHA-insured section 207, 213 "Project Mortgages" (Management Type), 803 and 908 mortgages which are serviced by FNMA), but the seller is not required to foreclose or bear any part of foreclosure expenses.

(b) As compensation for the performance of its servicing duties, a servicer may retain from each full monthly installment collected by it an amount equal to one-half of one percent per annum computed on the same principal amount and for the same period as the interest portion of said installment, and may also retain the late charges, if any, paid by the mortgagor; provided, no compensation will be due the servicer with respect to any period prior to the date of disbursement of the purchase price or subsequent to the date of termination of the Purchasing and Servicing Agreement or of the termination of its servicing duties.

(c) The servicer's servicing duties under the Purchasing and Servicing Agreement may be terminated, in whole or in part, either for cause or at the option of FNMA, upon giving the servicer the written notice stipulated in the Agreement. Servicers are required to maintain fidelity bond coverage or furnish direct surety bond, acceptable to FNMA.

SUBPART H—MORTGAGE SALES PROGRAM

§ 400.901 Mortgage sales. (a) All mortgages owned by FNMA are available for sale to eligible purchasers. The prices at which such mortgages are currently made available for sale may be obtained by application to any FNMA Agency Office.

(b) Any investor that, in the opinion of FNMA, is qualified to service the mortgage is eligible to purchase VA-guaranteed mortgages. Any investor that is an FHA-approved mortgagee is eligible to purchase FHA-insured mortgages.

(c) Lists of mortgages owned and available for sale may be obtained by prospective purchasers upon application to the FNMA Agency Office serving the area in which the investor desires to purchase mortgages. Prospective purchasers may select mortgages in which they are interested from the lists. Any number of mortgages selected from offering lists may constitute either a sale or a reservation; any number of mortgages selected from a reservation may constitute a sale.

(d) Except for mortgages covering large-scale rental housing, FNMA does not issue firm options; instead, mortgages selected by a prospective purchaser will be reserved for its account, and will not be available for sale to any other investor, for a period of 15 calendar days. Prices quoted are subject to change without notice during the reservation period. During such period, mortgaged properties may be inspected, and the mortgage documents examined at FNMA's Agency Offices. Since existing servicing arrangements that are transferred with the mortgages are cancellable on 30 days' notice at the option of the owner of the mortgages, purchasers will always be able to effect their own arrangements for future servicing. FNMA will endeavor to comply with the wishes of purchasers with respect to arranging closing schedules and other matters incident to consummating sales. Expenses that may be incurred by FNMA in connection with the transfer of mortgages must be assumed by the purchaser.

(e) In instances in which both the FHA-insured first mortgage and VA-guaranteed section 505 (a) second mortgage covering the same property are owned by FNMA, sale of the first mortgage will not be made unless the investor will purchase both mortgages as a package; the second mortgage will be sold without the first, if an investor desires to purchase the second mortgage only.

J. S. BAUGHMAN,
President,
Federal National Mortgage Association.

TITLE 33—NAVIGATION AND NAVIGABLE WATERS

Chapter II—Corps of Engineers, Department of the Army

PART 204—DANGER ZONE REGULATIONS

CHESAPEAKE BAY, VIRGINIA

Pursuant to the provisions of section 7 of the River and Harbor Act of August 8, 1917 (40 Stat. 266; 33 U. S. C. 1), § 204.51 governing the use and navigation of danger zones in waters of Chesapeake Bay adjacent to the U. S. Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek, Virginia, is amended to include a small-arms firing range as follows:

§ 204.51 *Chesapeake Bay, Lynnhaven Roads; danger zones, U. S. TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

[Docket No. 10604]

SPECIAL FIELD TEST AUTHORIZATION; GROUNDWAVE SIGNALS

In the matter of amendment of Part 3 (Radio Broadcast Services) of the Commission's rules and regulations and the Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations; Docket No. 10604.

1. The Commission has under consideration its notice of proposed rule making, issued on August 3, 1953, proposing to amend the Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations by (1) deleting the map entitled "Ground Conductivity in the United States and Canada" designated as Figure 3; (2) substituting therefor a new map entitled "Estimated Effective Ground Conductivity in the United States" (figs. M3[1] and R3); (3) deleting Table B in section 4 and all references thereto; (4) deleting footnote 13 of section 1; and (5) making certain editorial revisions to sections 1 and 4. It is also proposed to amend Part 3 of Commission rules and regulations by the addition of § 3.36, which provides for the issuance of special field test authorizations to operate transmitters for the taking of field intensity data.[2]

2. The comments filed favor adoption of the proposed amendments with some modifications. The recommended modifications are considered separately below.

3. The comments of Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc., were directed to footnote 15 of the proposed text, which states, "In all cases the effective field should be established from the dimensions of the radiating system." Columbia points out, and we agree, that this statement is inconsistent with other provisions of the Standards. Accordingly, we are deleting the footnote in question.

4. Radio Station KMA, Shenandoah, Iowa, filed a comment suggesting changes in conductivity value in an area north of Shenandoah. The Commission's proposed map indicates values 15 and 30 mmhos/m south and north, respectively, of Station KMA. KMA contends that the field intensity measurements filed with its comment show a value of 30 mmhos/m to exist to a point approximately 100 miles north of KMA, and that the line between 15 and 30 mmhos/m should be moved northward to that point. We have studied the data submitted and find it warrants moving the line about 20 miles northward but that beyond this distance, the conductivity tends to decrease. Accordingly, the map has been modified to show the higher value of conductivity north of KMA but only to the 20-mile extent indicated.

5. The Association of Federal Communications Consulting Engineers filed a comment setting forth several suggestions. First, it points out an error with respect to a corridor of low conductivity, extending through North Dakota. We have corrected the error by ascribing the value of 30 mmhos/m to the area in question.

6. The Association also calls attention to measurements made on a station at Sayre, Pennsylvania, northward to Lake Ontario and to the apparent discrepancy between the results obtained and the conductivity value shown on the proposed map. The measurements show varying conductivity values over the three paths measured, with 2 mmhos/m as the most consistent value; with a minor exception, none of the various values indicated is as great as the 4 mmhos/m figure shown on the map. It is implicitly suggested that we have erred either in the assignment of the conductivity value to the area or in the delineation of the line of demarcation between the areas of 2 and 4 mmhos/m, which line is shown to be south of Sayre. We have studied the measurements referred to and the other measurements that originally led us to assign the 4 mmhos/m value to the area and to arrive at the line of demarcation. It is our conclusion that assignment of the 4 mmhos/m figure and retention of the present demarcation line is warranted by the preponderance of measurements pertaining to the area. In this connection, it is pointed out that the map does not purport to give precise values along particular paths and therefore, the narrow refinement sought is inappropriate.

7. The Association objects to the requirement in § 3.36 as proposed that the test antenna resistance be measured and such measurements, together with log notations of the antenna power input, be submitted to the Commission. It is argued that the resistive component of the impedance of such antennas is usually so low as to make accurate measurement difficult or impossible; and that the resistance of the antennas has little direct relationship to the radiated field. As an alternative, the Association suggests that the rule be revised to require the maintenance of constant antenna current. We believe this suggestion to have merit. Accordingly, we have revised the proposed paragraph (a) (3) and (7) to provide that the plate power of the final stage of the transmitter not exceed authorized power; that the antenna current be maintained constant for each phase of the test; and that certified copies of logs of the plate voltage and plate current of the final stages of the transmitter be submitted.

8. The Association's suggestion that the term "unattenuated field" appearing in paragraph (b) (6) be replaced by "inverse distance field" to avoid any possibility of confusion, has been adopted.

9. We believe the Association's final recommendation that the map be held in abeyance until questions of "measuring techniques and acceptability of measurements are finally established," to be without merit. Assuming that new measuring techniques should be adopted, we cannot tell what effect, if any, such techniques would have upon the conductivity values shown on the map; further, reevaluation because of new techniques of the large amount of data upon which this map was based would take years to accomplish. In view of these considerations, the public interest clearly requires adoption of the subject map.

10. Certain changes not suggested by parties to this proceeding have also been made. Thus, we have noted an error in our placement of a portion of the line of demarcation between the areas of 4 and 2 mmhos/m in central Maryland, and are accordingly moving the line somewhat northward so as to include Baltimore and its environs in the area shown as having a conductivity value of 2 mmhos/m. Also, there has come to our attention field intensity measurement data which indicates that an area in south central Michigan is not accurately represented by the value of 8 mmhos/m shown by the proposed map; the map has therefore been revised to reflect the proper value for this area and to move the western line of demarcation. Finally, on the basis of certain field intensity measurements filed with the Commission, the area from east to central Utah, which is shown as having a value of 8 mmhos/m, is modified so that the value 15 mmhos/m is set out and slight changes are made in the lines of demarcation about the area.

11. One other point should be noted in connection with § 3.36. Paragraph (a) (1) provides that test authorizations will be granted only if no objectionable interference will result to other authorized radio operations. We believe it desirable to supplement this provision by precluding the use of power in excess of that necessary to carry out the desired tests; in this way, any possibility of interference is minimized.

12. We conclude that the proposed amendments to the rules and standards, as modified and set out below, should be adopted.

13. Authority for the adoption of the amendments herein is contained in sections 1, 4 (i), 303 (f), (h) and (r), and 307 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

14. It is ordered, That effective April 5, 1954, the Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations and Part 3 of the Commission's rules and regulations are amended as set forth below.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066 as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interprets or applies secs. 303, 307, 48 Stat. 1082, as amended; 1084; 47 U. S. C. 303, 307)

[SEAL] MARY JANE MORRIS,
Secretary.

[1] Because of its large size, figure M3 is not to be a physical part of the Standards, but is to be published as a separate document and is available from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D. C., for the sum of $3.50.

[2] The notice erroneously stated that changes were to be made in section 2 of the Standards.

I. A new section is added to Part 3 (Radio Broadcast Services) of Commission rules and regulations as follows:

§ 3.36 Special field test authorization. (a) Upon a showing that a need exists, a special test authorization to operate a portable or regularly authorized transmitter may be issued to persons desiring to make field intensity surveys to determine values of soil conductivity, or other factors influencing radio wave propagation, in particular areas or paths for the period necessary to conduct the survey. Such authorizations may be granted upon the following conditions:

(1) No objectionable interference will result to the operation of other authorized radio services; in this connection, the power requested shall not exceed that necessary for the purposes of the test.

(2) The carrier will be unmodulated except for half-hourly voice identification.

(3) The plate power ($E_p \times I_p$) of the final stage of the transmitter shall not exceed authorized test power and the antenna current shall be maintained at a constant value for each phase of the test.

(4) The test equipment shall not be permanently installed, unless such installation has been separately authorized. Mobile units shall not be deemed permanent installations.

(5) The equipment must be operated by or under the personal direction of either a licensed radiotelephone first-class or second-class operator.

(6) A report, under oath, containing the measurements, their analysis and other results of the survey shall be filed with the Commission within sixty (60) days from the termination of the test authorization. The measurements taken shall be sufficiently complete, in accordance with section 2 of the Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations, so as to permit a determination of the inverse distance field at 1 mile in pertinent directions.

(7) The plate voltage (E_p) and plate current (I_p) of the final stage of the transmitter shall be logged at half-hour intervals and at any time that such power is changed. Certified copies of such log notations shall be submitted to the Commission with the required report.

(8) Operation shall conform to the requirements of Subpart G of this part.

(b) The test equipment, installation and operation thereof need not comply with the requirements of Commission rules and standards except as specified in this section: Provided however, That the equipment, installation and operation shall be consistent with good engineering principles and practices.

(c) No authorization shall be issued unless the applicant for such authorization is determined to be legally qualified. Requests for authorizations to operate a transmitter under this section shall be made in writing, signed by the applicant under oath or affirmation (with no special form provided, however), and shall set forth the following information:

(1) Purpose, duration and need for the survey.

(2) Frequency, plate power and time of operation.

(3) A brief description of the test antenna system and its estimated effective field and its proposed location.

(4) In the case of a directional test antenna, an estimate of the maximum fields expected to be radiated in the direction of pertinent broadcast stations.

(5) In the case of a person who is not a licensee or permittee of this Commission the information required by section II of FCC Form 301.

(d) The authorization may be modified or terminated by notification from the Commission if in its judgment such action will promote the public interest, convenience or necessity.

II. Annex 1 of section 1 of the Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations is amended to read as follows:

ANNEX 1

Groundwave Signals

A. Interference that may be caused by a proposed assignment or an existing assignment during day time should be determined, when possible, by measurements on the frequency involved or on another frequency over the same terrain and by means of the curves in Appendix I entitled "Ground Wave Field Intensity versus Distance."

B. In determining interference based upon field intensity measurements, it is necessary to do the following:

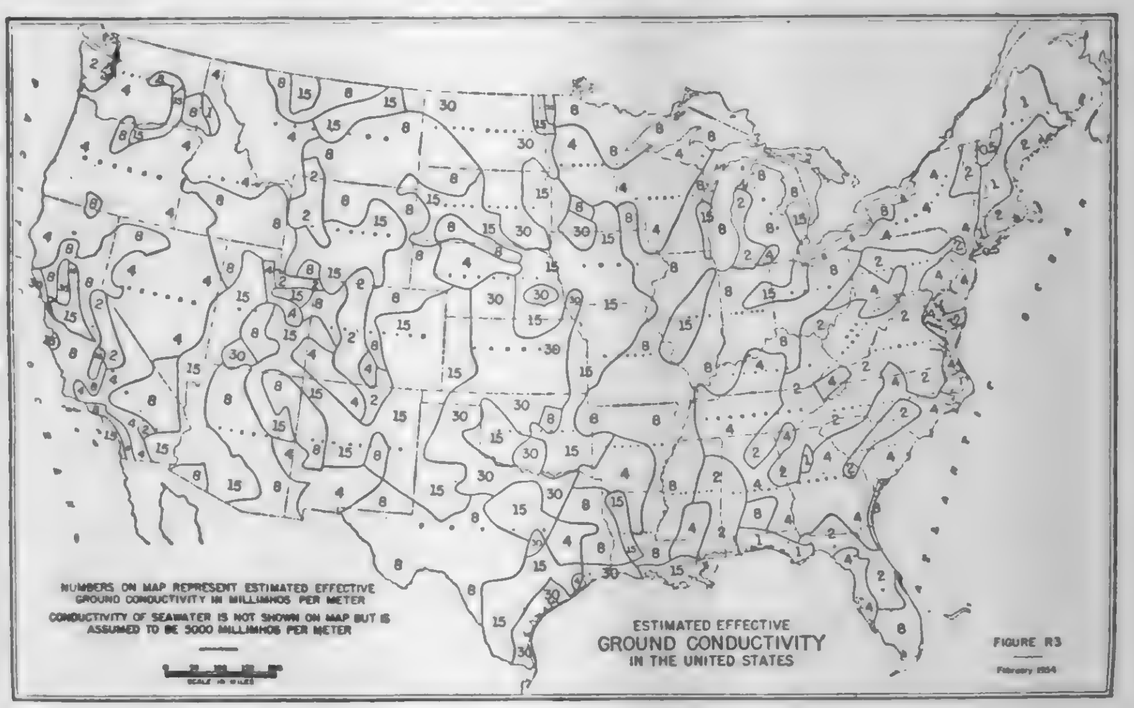
First, establish the outer boundary of the protected service area of the desired station in the direction of the station that may cause interference to it. Second, at this boundary, measure the interfering signal from the undesired station. The ratio of the desired to the undesired signal given in Table V should be applied to the measured signals and if the required ratio is observed, no objectionable interference is foreseen. When measurements of both the desired and undesired stations are made in one area to determine the point where objectionable interference from groundwave signals occur or to establish other pertinent contours, several measurements of each station shall be made within a few miles of this point or contour. The effective field of the antennas in the pertinent directions of the stations must be established and all measurements must be made in accordance with section 2 (Field Intensity Measurements in Allocation).

C. In all cases where measurements taken in accordance with the requirements are not available, the groundwave intensity must be determined by means of the pertinent map of ground conductivity and the groundwave curves of field intensity versus distance. The conductivity of a given terrain may be determined by measurements of any broadcast signal traversing the terrain involved. Figures M3 [14] and R3 show the conductivity throughout the United States by general areas of reasonably uniform conductivity. When it is clear that only one conductivity value is involved, Figure R3, which is a replica of Figure M3 and contained in these Standards, may be used; in all other situations Figure M3 must be employed. It is recognized that in areas of limited size or over a particular path, the conductivity may vary widely from the values given; therefore, these maps are to be used only when accurate and acceptable measurements have not been made. Figure 4 is a map of ground conductivity in Canada prepared by the Canadian Department of Transport. It is to be noted that at some locations there are differences in conductivity on either side of the border, which cannot be explained by geophysical cleavages. Pending adjustment of the maps for such inconsistencies, all variations at the border will be treated as real.

D. An example of determining interference by the curves in Appendix 1 follows:

It is desired to find whether objectionable interference exists between a 5 kw Class III station on 990 kc and a 1 kw Class III station on 1000 kc, the stations being separated by 130 miles; both stations use nondirectional antennas [15] having such height as to produce an effective field for 1 kw of 175 mv/m. The conductivity at each station and of the intervening terrain is determined as 6 mmhos/m. The protection to Class III stations during daytime is to the 500 uv/m contour. The distance to the 500 uv/m groundwave contour of the 1 kw station is determined by the use of the appropriate curve in Appendix 1—Graph 12. Since the curve is plotted for 100 mv/m at a mile, to find the distance to the 500 uv/m contour of the 1 kw station, it is necessary to determine the distance to the 285 uv/m contour ($\frac{100 \times 500}{175} = 285$). From the appropriate curve, the estimated radius of the service area for the desired station is found to be 39.5 miles. Subtracting this distance from the distance between the two stations, leaves 90.5 miles for the interfering signal to travel. From the above curve it is found that the signal from the 5 kw station at this distance would be 158 uv/m. Since a one to one ratio applies for stations separated by 10 kc, the undesired signal at that point can have a value up to 500 uv/m without objectionable interference. If the undesired signal had been found to be greater than 500 uv/m, then objectionable interference would exist. For other channel separations, the appropriate ratio of desired to undesired signal should be used.

E. Where a signal traverses a path over which different conductivities exist, the distance to a particular groundwave field intensity contour shall be determined by the use of the equivalent distance method. Reasonably accurate results may be expected in determining field intensities at a distance from the antenna by application of the equivalent distance method when the unattenuated field of the antenna, the various ground conductivities and the location of discontinuities are known. This method considers a wave to be propagated across a given conductivity according to the curve for a homogeneous earth of that conductivity. When the wave crosses from a region of one conductivity into a region of a second conductivity, the equivalent distance of the receiving point from the transmitter changes abruptly but the field intensity does not. From a point just inside the second region the transmitter appears to be at that distance where, on the curve for a homogeneous earth of the second conductivity, the field intensity equals the value that occurred just across the boundary in the first region. Thus the equivalent distance from the receiving point to the transmitter may be either greater or less than the actual distance. An imaginary transmitter is considered to exist at that equivalent distance. This technique is not intended to be used as a means of evaluating unattenuated field or ground conductivity by the analysis of measured data. The method to be employed for such determinations is set out in section 2 of these Standards.



F. An example of the use of the equivalent distance method follows:

It is desired to determine the distance to the 0.5 mv/m and 0.025 mv/m contours of a station on a frequency of the 1000 kc with an inverse distance field of 100 mv/m at one mile being radiated over a path having a conductivity of 10 mmhos/m for a distance of 15 miles, 5 mmhos m for the next 20 miles and 15 mmhos/m thereafter. By the use of the appropriate curves in Appendix 1—Graph 12, it is seen that at a distance of 15 miles on the curve for 10 mmhos/m the field is 3.45 mv/m. The equivalent distance to this field intensity for a conductivity of 5 mmhos/m is 11 miles. Continuing on the propagation curve for the second conductivity, the 0.5 mv/m contour is encountered at a distance of 27.9 miles from the imaginary transmitter. Since the imaginary transmitter was 4 miles nearer (15−11 miles) to the 0.5 mv/m contour, the distance from the contour to the actual transmitter is 31.9 miles (27.9+4 miles). The distance to the 0.025 mv/m contour is determined by continuing on the propagation curve for the second conductivity to a distance of 31 miles (11+20 miles), at which point the field is read to be 0.39 mv/m. At this point the conductivity changes to 15 mmhos m and from the curve relating to that conductivity, the equivalent distance is determined to be 58 miles—27 miles more distant than would obtain had a conductivity of 5 mmhos/m prevailed. Using the curve representing the conductivity of 15 mmhos/m the 0.025 mv/m contour is determined to be at an equivalent distance of 172 miles. Since the imaginary transmitter was considered to be 4 miles closer at the first boundary and 27 miles farther at the second boundary, the net effect is to consider the imaginary transmitter 23 miles (27−4 miles) more distant than the actual transmitter; thus the actual distance to the 0.025 mv/m contour is determined to be 149 miles (172−23 miles).

III. Section 4 of these Standards is amended by deleting paragraph I together with Table B and substituting therefor the following:

I. Figures M3 and R3 indicate effective conductivity values in the United States and are to be used for determining the extent of broadcast station coverage when adequate field intensity measurements over the path in question are not available. Since the values specified are only for general areas and since conductivity values over particular paths may vary widely from those shown, caution must be exercised in using the maps for selection of a satisfactory transmitter site. Where the submission of field intensity measurements is deemed necessary or advisable, the Commission, in its discretion, may require an applicant for new or changed broadcast facilities to submit such data in support of its application.

IV. Figure 3 is deleted from these Standards and Figures M3 and R3 substituted therefor. Figure M3 is substituted and incorporated into the Standards by reference. Figure R3 is set forth below.

[F. R. Doc. 54-1472; Filed, Mar. 4, 1954; 8:51 a. m.]

[14] Figure M3 which is incorporated in these Standards by reference, was derived by indicating ground conductivity values in the United States on the United States Albers equal area projection map (based on standard parallels 29½° and 45½°; North American datum; scale 1/2,500,000). Figure M3, consisting of two sections, an eastern and a western half, may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C.

[25 CFR Part 130]

PINE RIVER INDIAN IRRIGATION PROJECT

Notice is hereby given of the intention to modify § 130.55 Charges and § 130.56 Payments of Title 25, Code of Federal Regulations, Chapter I, Subchapter L, dealing with operation and maintenance assessments against the irrigable lands of the Pine River Indian Irrigation Project, Colorado, and to increase the basic water charges from $0.75 per acre to $1.50 per acre per annum. The revised sections shall read as follows:

§ 130.55 Charges. Pursuant to the provisions of the acts of August 1, 1914, and March 7, 1928 (38 Stat. 583; 45 Stat. 210; 25 U. S. C. 385–387), the annual basic charge for operation and maintenance assessed against the irrigable lands of the Pine River Indian Irrigation Project, Colorado, to which water can be delivered and beneficially applied under the constructed works of the project, is hereby fixed at $1.50 per acre per annum for the year 1954 and thereafter until further notice.

§ 130.56 Payment. (a) The annual charge fixed in § 130 55 shall become due on April 1 of each year, is payable on or before that date, and any assessment remaining unpaid after the due date shall stand as a first lien against the land until paid. Any delinquent charges against land in non-Indian ownership and Indian lands under lease to non-Indians shall be subject to a penalty of one-half of one percent per month or fraction thereof from the due date until paid.

(b) The delivery of water shall be refused to all tracts of land for which the charges have not been paid when due, except where the lands are in Indian ownership, not under lease to non-Indians, and the Indian owners shall have made the necessary arrangements with the superintendent as hereafter provided. When any Indian owner of land not under lease to a non-Indian is financially unable to pay the operation and maintenance charges on the due date from cash on hand, the superintendent may make the necessary arrangements with such Indian owner as will permit him to perform labor on the irrigation project works, the proceeds derived therefrom to be applied in partial payment of such charges. The superintendent may also make necessary arrangements for such Indian owner to pay the operation and maintenance charges from the proceeds of the crops grown on the land when harvested and marketed within that calendar year, provided written statements to that effect are furnished the superintendent by the Indian owner on or before the due date.

(c) In any instance where the superintendent is convinced that an Indian landowner, whose land is not under lease to a non-Indian, is financially unable to pay his operation and maintenance charges from proceeds of labor performed on the project works, or from the proceeds of the crops being grown on the land, or from any other source, the delivery of water may be continued if a written certificate is issued by the superintendent stating that such Indian is not financially able to pay such charges and copies thereof forwarded to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs for approval or rejection. In such cases the unpaid charges shall be entered on the accounts and will stand as a first lien against the land until paid but without penalty for delinquency.

§ 130.56a Water users responsible for water after delivery. It is the duty of the Indian Irrigation Service to furnish available water for beneficial irrigation use only. It is the duty of all water users of the project to aid in the prevention of the waste of water and of damage to adjacent lands. The water users are responsible for the water after it has been delivered to their lands, and are required to have their field ditches of proper capacity and in suitable condition for the use of economical heads of water.

§ 130.57 Condition of payment. Condition of payment shall remain in effect as heretofore promulgated.

Interested persons are hereby given opportunity to participate in preparing the proposed amendments by submitting their views and data or argument in writing to Guy C. Williams, Acting Area Director, Albuquerque Area Office, P. O. Box 1346, Albuquerque, New Mexico, within thirty (30) days from date of publication of this notice of intention in the daily issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER.

DOUGLAS MCKAY,
Secretary of the Interior.

[Docket No. AO 231-A4]

HANDLING OF MILK IN NORTH TEXAS MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF RECOMMENDED DECISION AND OPPORTUNITY TO FILE WRITTEN EXCEPTIONS WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT, AND TO ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of the filing with the Hearing Clerk of the recommended decision of the Deputy Administrator, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, with respect to proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the North Texas marketing area. Interested parties may file written exceptions to this decision with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business the 7th day after publication of this decision in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Exceptions should be filed in quadruplicate.

Preliminary statement. The hearing, on the record of which the proposed amendments, hereinafter set forth, to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, were formulated, was conducted at Dallas, Texas, on January 26–27, 1954, pursuant to notice thereof which was issued January 11, 1954 (19 F. R. 272).

The material issues of record are concerned with the following:

1. A revision in the method of pricing of Class II milk,
2. The elimination of the administrative assessment on milk diverted to unapproved plants, and
3. The classification of ungraded milk for certain uses.

Findings and conclusions. The following findings and conclusions are based upon the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof:

1. Pricing Class II milk. The alternative formula for determining the Class II price on the basis of butter and nonfat dry milk solids prices should be reduced 16 cents per hundredweight of milk containing 4 percent of butterfat. The price of milk disposed of for use in the manufacture of cheddar cheese during April, May, June, and July 1954, should be computed by multiplying the price of cheese at Wisconsin assembly points by 8.4. The butterfat differential for Class II milk should be reduced from 0.120 to 0.108 times the price of butter.

Producer milk supplies are now about adequate to meet market requirements for Class I milk at all seasons of the year. The number of producers supplying the market increased substantially from the time the order was promulgated in October 1951 until the middle of 1953. Since that time, producer numbers have remained relatively stable. Receipts of producer milk during the last quarter of 1953 increased approximately 15 percent over the corresponding period of 1952 and 38 percent over 1951. This increase indicates that the Class II price in the past has not discouraged handlers from developing adequate supplies of producer milk.

The record indicates, however, that the present Class II pricing arrangement is not promoting the usage of reserve supplies of producer milk in the manufacturing operations usually conducted by handlers in conjunction with their fluid operations. Not all handlers have the necessary equipment to process the entire reserve supplies of milk that normally accompany a fluid milk operation. Milk for all Class II uses however can not be priced to handlers so that each handler can be assured of a profit in handling it. Handlers, who lack facilities or who receive milk in excess of their capacity, must procure their fluid milk supply in competition with handlers who are able to process or dispose of reserve supplies. Furthermore, the pricing arrangement for Class II milk should not result in handlers soliciting for additional supplies or retaining sources of supply of producer milk in excess of their normal reserve requirements throughout the year solely for manufacturing purposes.

With the increase in the receipts of producer milk, the total volume of Class II milk at approved plants during 1953 was about 65 percent greater than in 1952. If market supplies are maintained at a level to supply the year around Class I sales, the volume of Class II milk can be expected to continue at about 1953 levels. The record shows that difficulty was encountered in disposing of reserve milk supplies during 1953. The proportion of total producer receipts classified as Class II milk for the year 1953 however was less than 20 percent. It ranged from 7.2 percent in October to 29.8 percent in April.

During each of the years of 1952 and 1953 over 85 percent of the total volume of Class II milk was utilized at approved plants in frozen desserts, condensed milk or skim milk, or cottage cheese or was transferred or diverted from approved plants to unapproved plants in the form of milk, skim milk, or cream. From 1952 to 1953 utilization in each of these four major outlets increased as follows: frozen desserts, 28 percent; condensed milk or skim milk, 36 percent; cottage cheese, 27 percent; and milk, skim milk, or cream transferred or diverted to unapproved plants, 335 percent. This shows that the utilization of Class II milk at approved plants increased at a much smaller rate than the rate at which the total volume of Class II milk increased. Accordingly, a greatly increased disposition of Class II milk to unapproved plants has been necessary.

In 1953 almost one-fourth of the total volume of Class II milk at approved plants was other source milk received in forms other than milk. While these Class II other source milk products were being received at approved plants, large volumes of milk, cream, or skim milk were at the same time being disposed of by approved plants through transfer or diversion to unapproved plants. Thus, the problem of finding outlets for Class II milk was aggravated by some of the handlers who acquired other source milk for uses which otherwise represented outlets for Class II producer milk.

During 1953 the prices paid for milk at the three manufacturing plants, which are used as a basis for the Class II price in April, May, and June, and as an alternative basis during the other months of the year, declined considerably in relation to the butter-nonfat dry milk solids formula. This formula is an alternative basis of pricing Class II milk during all months except April, May, and June. In 1952 the three-plant price averaged about 13 cents per hundredweight higher than the butter-nonfat dry milk solids formula price whereas in 1953, the three-plant price averaged 25 cents lower. From 1952 to 1953 the three-plant price declined about 38 cents in relation to the butter and nonfat dry milk solids prices. The butter-nonfat dry milk solids formula was higher than the three-plant price in every month of 1953 except January. These changed relationships have aggravated the problem of pricing Class II milk under the order.

Ice cream is a desirable outlet for Class II producer milk because ice cream sales are seasonally high at about the same time of the year that supplies of producer milk are greatest. A substantial portion of the ice cream sold in the marketing area is manufactured and distributed by operators of unapproved plants. Reserve supplies of producer milk or ice cream ingredients made by approved plants cannot be disposed of to such unapproved plants unless they are available at prices that are competitive with prices for ingredients from other sources. Class II milk should be priced, therefore, at a level which will result in a cost for ice cream ingredients that is competitive with costs of ingredients from other sources. Using this criterion, it appears that during the latter part of 1953, ice cream ingredients were available from unregulated sources at prices reflecting a value for milk at somewhat less than the Class II price; therefore some reduction from the level of the Class II prices during that period appears appropriate.

Proposals were considered to price Class II milk on the basis of prices paid for milk at manufacturing plants located in or near the milkshed throughout the year. As previously stated above, prices paid for milk at these plants has declined substantially in the last year in relation to butter and nonfat dry milk solids prices. The reasons for this decline are not apparent, and the extent to which this changed relationship should influence Class II prices is not discernible. The lowering of Class II prices at all seasons of the year to the full extent of this decline is not necessary. This decline may be accompanied by larger profit margins, which if allowed handlers, might cause them to obtain supplies of producer milk solely for manufacturing purposes. Normal seasonal reserve supplies have some value to a handler in addition to their intrinsic value as milk products. This is due to the fact that the producers of such milk will be needed, and their will be available, in the short production season to meet fluid milk requirements. It is concluded that a reduction in the butter-nonfat dry milk solids formula price of 16 cents per hundredweight of milk containing 4 percent of butterfat will result in an appropriate level of Class II prices and will promote greater utilization of reserve supplies of producer milk by regulated handlers. In the event the butter and nonfat dry milk solids formula prices decline in relation to local manufacturing plant prices, then the three plant price should be used as a basis for the Class II price as it now is.

Proposals to include additional plants along with the three whose prices are averaged and used as a basis for the Class II price should be denied. All of the plants suggested or proposed as possible additions pay generally lower prices than the three now used. Any addition of other plants would tend to reduce the Class II price below the competitive price being paid by local plants for ungraded milk. The need for a reduction in prices to this extent was not shown. Nor was it shown that the addition of other plants would result in more timely changes in the Class II price.

The average butterfat content of Class II producer milk has been considerably above 4 percent. In 1953, it ranged from 4.713 percent in April to 10.721 percent in October; therefore the Class II butterfat differential has a significant effect on the handlers' cost of Class II milk. A comparison of butter prices with prices at which cream has been available from competitive sources indicates that a butterfat differential of 0.108 times the price of butter would closely reflect this relationship. It is therefore concluded that the Class II butterfat differential should be the price of butter times 0.108.

In the few weeks immediately preceding the hearing producer milk supplies had increased considerably—apparently more than the usual seasonal increase during that period. It cannot be determined at this time whether this represents a new trend in increased supplies of producer milk or a changed seasonal pattern or merely a short term shift in production. If this increase continues into the months of heavy production in 1954, the problems of disposing of the seasonal reserve supplies will be further complicated and the need for disposing of milk to unapproved plants will be that much greater. With the limited existing outlets to unapproved plants, it might become necessary to move substantial volumes of producer milk to cheddar cheese plants. Returns available for milk disposed of to local cheese plants have been considerably lower than for milk disposed of to most other manufacturing outlets. Therefore, a special price for any milk which may be used to produce cheese is necessary to promote the orderly marketing of seasonal reserve milk during the flush production season of 1954. This special price should be applicable only during the flush production months of 1954 because it cannot yet be determined that similar problems will recur in subsequent years. The problems of disposing of Class II milk can be expected to be greatest, during April through July. It is concluded, therefore, on the basis of this record, that the special pricing of milk used for cheese be applicable only during April, May, June, and July 1954.

The price of Class II milk disposed of during this four-month period for use in the manufacture of Cheddar cheese should be priced on the basis of cheese prices. The value of milk for cheese has a close relationship to the price of cheese. The price paid for Cheddar cheese at Wisconsin primary markets is considered representative of changes in the price of cheese. A comparison of this cheese price with prices paid for milk by plants engaged in manufacturing cheese in this area indicates the value of milk for cheese to be about 8.4 times the price of cheese. It is concluded that milk for use in Cheddar cheese should be priced on the basis of this relationship.

A number of uncertainties existing at the time of the hearing contribute greatly to the difficulty of determining an appropriate level of Class II prices. Two mentioned earlier in this decision concern (1) the future relationship between prices paid for milk by local manufacturing plants and butter and nonfat dry milk solids prices, and (2) the volume of Class II producer milk during the next few months. Others include the effect of the change in the level of Government support prices for manufactured milk products on prices of milk and dairy product prices locally; the ability and willingness of handlers to utilize increased quantities of producer milk in Class II operations; the progress made on plans to expand local manufacturing facilities; and the extent to which Class II milk and milk products can be disposed of to existing unapproved plants. It will be desirable after time has resolved some of these uncertainties to reconsider the problem of pricing reserve milk at a later hearing.

2. Expense of administration. The proposal to make the administration assessment inapplicable to producer milk diverted to an unapproved plant should be denied. It cannot be concluded from the record that the proposal, if adopted, would result in a more equitable distribution of the expenses of administration among handlers. To some degree, the problems sought to be corrected by this proposal are pricing problems and to that extent, have been considered in arriving at the conclusions contained herein concerning pricing.

3. Classification of ungraded milk for certain uses. A proposal to classify as Class II milk, ungraded milk or skim milk disposed of by handlers for use in oleomargarine or mellorine should be adopted. Ungraded milk disposed of from an approved plant for such purposes is presently classified as Class I milk during each of the months of September through February and as Class II milk during the other months.

At least one handler receives both graded and ungraded milk at his approved plant, as defined in the order. Separate facilities for receiving and processing both graded and ungraded milk are maintained in the same building. Such handlers are required to report their total receipts and utilization of all milk received at their approved plants. The provisions of the order for allocating milk from sources other than producers, to the various dispositions of the approved plant, are such that producer milk is given priority of allocation to all Class I dispositions from such plant. Any ungraded milk or skim milk, received at an approved plant and disposed of for the manufacture of oleomargarine or mellorine is classified as Class I milk during the months of September through February. This higher classification assigned to such usage for ungraded milk accrues to the benefit of producers. Inasmuch as ungraded milk received at unapproved plants is available as a source of supply for these products, the higher classification assigned to ungraded milk (for similar disposition) which is received at approved plants places a handler at a competitive disadvantage in supplying these outlets. The adoption of this proposal will remove this disadvantage.

General findings. (a) The tentative marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the tentative marketing agreement and in the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(c) The tentative marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity, specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Rulings on proposed findings and conclusions. Briefs were filed on behalf of producers and handlers (who would be subject to the proposed marketing agreement and order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended). The briefs contained suggested findings of fact, conclusions, and arguments with respect to the proposals discussed at the hearing. Every point covered in the briefs was carefully considered along with evidence in the record in making the findings and reaching the conclusions hereinbefore set forth. To the extent that the suggested findings and conclusions contained in the briefs are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions obtained herein, the requests to make such findings or to reach such conclusions are denied on the basis of the facts found and stated in connection with the findings and conclusions in this decision.

Recommended marketing agreement and order. The following amendments to the order are recommended as the detailed and appropriate means by which the foregoing conclusions may be carried out. The proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement are not repeated in this decision because the regulatory provisions thereof would be the same as those contained in the order with the following amendments:

1. Delete paragraph (b) of § 943.51 and substitute therefor the following:

(b) Class II milk. For each of the months of April, May, and June, the price computed pursuant to § 943.50 (c), rounded to the nearest one-tenth cent; and for each of the other months of the year, the price computed pursuant to § 943.50 (b) less 16 cents or the price computed pursuant to § 943.50 (c), whichever is higher, rounded to the nearest one-tenth cent: Provided, That for each of the months of April, May, June, and July 1954, the minimum price per hundredweight for Class II milk disposed of for use in Cheddar cheese shall be computed by multiplying the simple average of the daily prices paid per pound, using the midpoint of any price range as one price, for Wisconsin State Brand Cheddars in cars or truckloads, f. o. b. Wisconsin assembly points, as reported by the Department for the trading days during such month, by 8.4.

2. Amend § 943.52 (b) to read as follows:

(b) Class II milk. Multiply such price for the current month by 1.08.

3. Delete paragraph (b) (3) of § 943.41 and substitute therefor the following:

(3) Disposed of (i) in bulk during the months of March through August; (ii) as bulk cream during any month; and (iii) as ungraded bulk milk or skim milk during any month to commercial bakeries or food product manufacturing plants (other than dairy plants) which do not dispose of milk for fluid consumption: Provided, That the amount of skim milk or butterfat so classified pursuant to subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph shall not exceed the butterfat and skim milk contained in ungraded milk received by such handler from dairy farmers during the month;

[Docket No. AO-232-A2]

HANDLING OF MILK IN SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF RECOMMENDED DECISION AND OPPORTUNITY TO FILE WRITTEN EXCEPTIONS WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of the filing with the Hearing Clerk of the recommended decision of the Deputy Administrator, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, with respect to a proposed marketing agreement and a proposed order amending the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the San Antonio, Texas, marketing area. Interested parties may file written exceptions to this decision with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business the 10th day after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Exceptions should be filed in quadruplicate.

Preliminary statement. A public hearing was conducted at San Antonio, Texas, on January 11-12, 1954, pursuant to notice thereof which was issued on January 6, 1954 (19 F. R. 71) upon a proposed marketing agreement and proposed amendments to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the San Antonio, Texas, marketing area.

The material issues of record were concerned with:

1. The pricing of Class I milk, and
2. The classification and pricing of milk presently classified as Class II milk.

A decision of the Secretary of Agriculture issued January 28, 1954 (19 F. R. 561) and subsequent amendment to the order disposed of the issue concerned with the pricing of Class I milk and that portion of the issue concerned with the pricing of Class II milk which related to the pricing of milk disposed of for the manufacture of cheddar cheese through July 1954.

Findings and conclusions. The findings and conclusions with respect to the material issues herein decided, all of which are based on the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof, are as follows:

1. The Class II pricing provisions of the order should be modified to promote more orderly marketing of reserve supplies of producer milk.

The present Class II pricing provisions of the order have hindered the maximum utilization of available supplies of producer milk by handlers in the San Antonio market. On a market wide basis, the supply of producer milk has been extremely short in relation to Class I sales. In spite of this fact, some handlers have at times refused to accept all of the milk from producers and transferred the burden of finding outlets to individual producers or their cooperative association. Handlers have procured other source milk for Class II usage at the same time producer milk has been refused.

Receipts of producer milk during the last six months of 1953 exceeded receipts during the corresponding period a year ago by more than 15 percent. Class I sales remained at about the same level. With indications that reserve supplies will be much larger during the spring and summer months than in the past, a separate lower price for milk used for cheddar cheese was incorporated in the order (19 F. R. 286) for a limited period of 1954. At the same time Class I prices were reduced. This emergency action was taken to encourage greater usage of producer milk in Class I and to facilitate the disposal of reserve producer milk which must be marketed outside of normal marketing channels. The present Class II pricing formula was included in the order when it was promulgated in 1952. At that time the market was extremely deficient in local producer milk. The record indicates that with increased production, a somewhat lower level of Class II prices will contribute to the full marketing of producer milk by handlers and the maximizing of returns to producers. Milk that now may be temporarily diverted to cheese plants at relatively low prices could be used by handlers at the regular Class II price.

The principal Class II uses for reserve milk by handlers are in ice cream, condensed skim milk, cottage cheese, and butter. Because of past shortages of locally produced milk, few handlers now have condensing facilities or cottage cheese equipment. Handlers testified that milk ingredients for ice cream, frozen desserts, and cottage cheese were purchased from outside sources at less than order prices. Considerable quantities of reserve producer milk could be utilized by handlers in place of other source milk in meeting their requirements for these products. With a general trend to higher receipts of producer milk and the presence of some reserve supplies above Class I sales, it is necessary to readjust the level of Class II prices to afford producers an outlet for these supplies through handlers' fluid milk plants.

The record shows that a butter and nonfat solids formula is an appropriate basis for reflecting changes in Class II prices in this market during most of the year. However, there is some problem in pricing on this basis during the flush production season. The record indicates that manufacturing milk prices rather than dairy product prices may be a more appropriate basis of pricing during this season of the year.

For the immediate future, the problems of pricing Class II milk in this market are those of (1) a closer alignment of butterfat prices with prices at which handlers can procure butterfat from outside sources and (2) a closer alignment of whole milk prices with competitive manufacturing prices particularly during the flush production season.

This may be accomplished by modifying the butterfat component of the present Class II butter and nonfat solids formula and by applying prices paid by manufacturing plants for ungraded milk during April through June of each year.

Producers proposed that the present Class II butter and nonfat solids formula be amended to reduce the price for 4.0 percent milk approximately 38 cents per hundredweight based on the 1953 level of butter prices.

The butterfat component of the present formula price for 4.0 percent milk is derived by subtracting three cents from the Chicago wholesale 92-score butter price and multiplying by a factor of 4.8. The Class II butterfat differential is 0.120 times the price of butter.

The record indicates that the present factors for determining butterfat values results in prices for butterfat at considerably higher levels than butterfat can be procured from outside sources or at which it could be disposed of by handlers to local unapproved plants. It is concluded that the Clas II pricing formula should be changed by using the 92-score butter price multiplied by a factor of 4.4 for the period of July through March. At the current level of butter prices, this change will have the effect of reducing the Class II formula price for 4.0 percent milk during these months approximately 12 cents per hundred.

During the months of April through June the Class II price should be the average price paid dairy farmers for ungraded milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content by the following Texas manufacturing plants:

Carnation Company, Sulphur Springs, Tex.
The Borden Company, Mount Pleasant, Tex.
Lamar Creamery, Paris, Tex.

These plants are located in Northeastern Texas and are used in certain months as a basis for pricing Class II milk under the North Texas Order (943). One of these plants disposes of ice cream mix and other products in the San Antonio area in direct competition with regulated handlers. There are no sizable manufacturing plants located in the San Antonio area which engage in manufacturing operations and procure a major portion of their supplies of milk from ungraded dairy farmers. There are plants, in this general area, however, which purchase graded surplus milk from other markets and small quantities of ungraded milk from farmers. These plants are available sources of cream and nonfat solids for handlers. The record contains little or no information, however, with respect to prices paid for milk at such plants.

As a further means of assuring appropriate prices for Class II milk, provision should be made to apply the three-plant manufacturing milk price in any month that it is higher than the price resulting from the butter and nonfat milk solids formula.

The adoption of the paying price of the above stated plants during the months of April through June of 1953 would have reduced the Class II price for 4.0 percent milk from $3.85 to $3.38 per hundredweight, a reduction of 47 cents per hundredweight.

The average butterfat content of Class II producer milk has been considerably above 4.0 percent. It has ranged from approximately 5.0 percent in the spring months to more than 10 percent in other months. Therefore, the Class II butterfat differential has a significant effect on the cost of Class II milk. The Class II butterfat differential should be reduced from 0.120 to 0.108 times the price of 92-score butter. This reduction in the butterfat differential will bring the price of butterfat derived from producer milk in close alignment with prices of butterfat procured in the form of cream from other sources.

It is concluded that the proposed changes will provide appropriate prices for Class II milk and promote more orderly marketing of reserve supplies of producer milk.

At the close of the hearing all interested parties waived the filing of briefs.

General findings. (a) The tentative marketing agreement and the order as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the tentative marketing agreement and in the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(c) The tentative marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity, specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Recommended marketing agreement and order. The following amendments to the order are recommended as the detailed and appropriate means by which the foregoing conclusions may be carried out. The proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement are not repeated in this decision because the regulatory provisions thereof would be the same as those contained in the order with the following amendments:

1. Delete § 949.53 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 949.53 Class II milk. The prices, rounded to the nearest full cent, for Class II milk shall be determined pursuant to paragrah (a) of this section for the months of April, May and June and the higher of the prices determined pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section for all other months:

(a) The average of the basic or field prices per hundredweight reported to have been or to be paid for milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the month at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or to the United States Department of Agriculture:

Carnation Company, Sulphur Springs, Tex.
The Borden Company, Mount Pleasant, Tex.
Lamar Creamery, Paris, Tex.

(b) The sum of the amounts computed pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph:

(1) Multiply by 4.4 the simple average as computed by the market administrator of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture during the month;

(2) From the average of the carlot prices per pound of nonfat dry milk solids for human consumption, spray process, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture for the period from the 26th day of the preceding month through the 25th day of the current month, subtract 5 cents, multiply by 8.16.

2. In § 949.54 (b) delete "0.120" and substitute therefor "0.108".

DOMESTIC QUARANTINE NOTICES

PINK BOLLWORM

Notice is hereby given under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003) that the Administrator, Agricultural Research Service, pursuant to sections 8 and 9 of the Plant Quarantine Act of 1912, as amended (7 U. S. C. 161, 162), is considering amending notice of quarantine No. 52 relating to the pink bollworm and the regulations supplemental to said quarantine (7 CFR 301.52, 301.52-1 et seq., as amended, 18 F. R. 6348 and 7339) in the following respects:

(a) Amend § 301.52 by adding to the quarantined States specified therein the State of Arkansas.

(b) Amend § 301.52-2 (a) by adding to the heavily infested areas described therein the county of Bexar, in Texas, thereby excepting said county from the lightly infested areas described in § 301.52-2 (b).

(c) Amend § 301.52-2 (b) by adding to the lightly infested areas described therein the counties of Columbia, Hempstead, Howard, Lafayette, Little River, Miller, Nevada, and Sevier, in Arkansas; the parishes of Bienville and Webster, in Louisiana; and all presently nonregulated counties in Oklahoma.

The purposes of these amendments are to include the State of Arkansas under the pink bollworm quarantine, to regulate Bexar County, Texas, as a heavily infested area, and to regulate as lightly infested areas the Arkansas, Louisiana, and Oklahoma counties and parishes indicated above.

The proposed amendment with respect to Arkansas parallels quarantine action already taken by that State.

Bienville and Webster Parishes, Louisiana, although not known to be infested, are located between infested parishes and because of interchange of cotton products should be included in the regulated areas.

All presently nonregulated counties in Oklahoma are proposed for inclusion in the regulated areas for several reasons. Pink bollworm infestations have been found in the nonregulated counties of Blaine, Kingfisher, Logan, and Roger Mills, north of the presently regulated areas. There are also now three isolated regulated areas in the southeastern quarter of the State, and both Oklahoma and Arkansas plant quarantine officials agree that addition of all presently nonregulated counties in Oklahoma to the regulated areas would be advisable to protect Arkansas against spread of the pink bollworm. Cotton production in the presently nonregulated areas of Northern Oklahoma is very limited, with only a few scattered gins. Consequently, from the standpoint of effective quarantine enforcement and to reduce the volume of intrastate permit work, Federal and State officials concur in the proposal to include the entire State of Oklahoma in the regulated areas.

Redesignation of Bexar County, Texas as a heavily infested area instead of a lightly infested area is deemed essential because pink bollworm infestation there is sufficiently heavy at the time of the States stalk-destruction date to cause pink bollworms, when deprived of their primary host, to infest pods of commercial plantings of okra. Such a redesignation of Bexar County would impose stricter requirements on shipments of okra, the dry pods of which often become heavily infested with pink bollworm.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments in connection with this matter should file the same with the Chief of the Plant Pest Control Branch, Agricultural Research Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., within 10 days after the date of the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

AMMONIUM NITRATE PHOSPHATE FERTILIZER MIXTURES

SHIPMENT ABOARD VESSELS

1. The transportation of ammonium nitrate phosphate fertilizer mixtures, a homogeneous mixture consisting of approximately 60 percent ammonium nitrate and 40 percent phosphate salts, mainly dicalcium phosphate, is subject to the requirements in 46 CFR Part 146. Certain restrictions for the transportation of this material have been enforced since the Texas City disaster in 1947.

2. The Commandant, United States Coast Guard, on February 9, 1954, relaxed the requirements of 46 CFR 146.22-30 in the regulations entitled "Explosives or Other Dangerous Articles on Board Vessels" which are applicable to materials described as "ammonium nitrate phosphate fertilizer mixtures consisting of 60 percent by weight of ammonium nitrate and 40 percent phosphate salts, mainly dicalcium phosphate."

3. The Commandant, United States Coast Guard, on February 9, 1954, pursuant to the recommendations of the Interagency Committee on the Hazards of Ammonium Nitrate, based on the findings and report of the National Academy of Sciences and other available information, in order to permit a greater distribution of ammonium nitrate phosphate fertilizer mixtures consisting of 60 percent ammonium nitrate and 40 percent phosphate salts, mainly dicalcium phosphate, currently in popular demand by agricultural interests, has found it was necessary to invoke emergency provisions in R. S. 4472, as amended (46 U. S. C. 170), to allow the shipment of such fertilizer mixtures by relaxing the requirements of 46 CFR 146.22-30 with regard to the degree of isolation required for waterfront facilities used in loading or unloading this commodity within the continental United States, its territories or possessions, except the Panama Canal Zone. Before this date such ammonium nitrate phosphate fertilizer mixtures could be loaded or unloaded only at isolated waterfront facilities meeting the requirements of Federal and local regulations covering dangerous cargoes.

4. By virtue of the authority vested in me as Commandant, United States Coast Guard, by Treasury Department Order No. 120, dated July 31, 1950 (15 F. R. 6521), and R. S. 4472, as amended (46 U. S. C. 170), the following interim instructions may be followed in lieu of the requirements of 46 CFR 146.22-30 applicable to materials which are described as "ammonium nitrate phosphate fertilizer mixtures consisting of 60 percent by weight of ammonium nitrate and 40 percent phosphate salts, mainly dicalcium phosphate":

a. The formulation must be composed of ammonium nitrate and dicalcium phosphate, in the approximate proportions of 60 percent by weight of ammonium nitrate and 40 percent dicalcium phosphate, packaged in multiwall paper bags or metal drums.

b. The facility to be used shall be so located as to permit unrestricted passage to open water. The vessel shall be moored bow to seaward, and shall be maintained in a mobile status either by presence of tugs or readiness of engines.

c. The proposed facility shall not be located in areas of dense population, nor where facilities of high value and/or high hazard exist.

d. The facility must meet with the requirements specified for a designated waterfront facility (33 CFR 126.15), and be provided with abundant water supply.

e. The master or officer in charge of unloading the vessel shall insure that the following safety precautions are observed:

(i) Hose lines must be connected and laid out and tested before unloading operations commence.

(ii) Smoking, except in designated areas, the use of open lights, welding or burning, or other ignition sources in the hold, on deck, or on the dock immediately adjoining ammonium nitrate material shall be strictly prohibited.

(iii) A fire watch shall be provided by the master and stationed in the hold from which the material is being discharged.

(iv) Ruptured containers, spilled material, and trash must be immediately removed from the vessel.

(v) In the event of fire large quantities of water must be used and maximum ventilation established. The area must be cleared of all unnecessary personnel and vehicular equipment.

5. In dealing with the problem of determining the suitability of a pier at which this material is to be handled, the main object is to insure that high hazard facilities, such as petroleum tank farms, chemical plants or industries handling inflammable materials, are not in the immediate vicinity. Likewise, vessels unloading this material should be clear of other shipping and away from passenger trade terminals. With regard to dwellings, distances, normally found with respect to commercial warehousing districts and waterfront activities from populated communities should afford sufficient protection for inhabitants in surrounding areas. Obviously, areas of dense population, i. e., tenement districts, housing projects, etc. in close proximity to the pier facility proposed to be used in unloading subject material, preclude the issuance of a permit. This reasoning is based on findings that ammonium nitrate phosphate consisting of dicalcium phosphate reacts similarly to other oxidizing materials and that the chance of explosion is nil when such material is properly handled. The primary object of the safety precautions is to prevent fire and to extinguish incipient fires quickly, using large volumes of water before they become uncontrollable.

Dated: February 26, 1954.

Rear Admiral, U. S. Coast Guard,
Acting Commandant.

Sec. 2, S½SE¼,
Sec. 11, SW¼NE¼, E½NW¼, NE¼SW¼, NW¼SE¼.

The areas described aggregate 280 acres.

The lands described occupy an elevation of 3,900 feet, and the soil is medium light sandy loam intermingled with some surface rock. The topography of the lands is level to slightly rolling. From the standpoint of soil and topography the lands are classified as suitable for entry under the desert land laws.

While any application that is filed will be considered on its merits, it is unlikely that any part of the lands will be classified for any use or disposal other than that shown above.

No application for the lands may be allowed under the homestead, small tract, desert land, or any other nonmineral public land laws unless the lands have been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of classification or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application.

This order shall not otherwise become effective to change the status of such lands until 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order. At that time the said lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to application, petition, location, and selection as follows:

(a) Ninety-one day period for preference-right filings. For a period of 91 days, commencing at the hour and on the day specified above, the public lands affected by this order shall be subject only to (1) application under the homestead or the desert-land laws or the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, 52 Stat. 609 (43 U. S. C. 682a), as amended, by qualified veterans of World War II and other qualified persons entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944, 58 Stat. 747 (43 U. S. C. 279–284), as amended, subject to the requirements of applicable law, and (2) application under any applicable public-land law, based on prior existing valid settlement rights and preference rights conferred by existing laws or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation. Applications under subdivision (1) of this paragraph shall be subject to applications and claims of the classes described in subdivision (2) of this paragraph. All applications filed under this paragraph either at or before 10:00 a. m., on the 35th day after the date of this order shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at that time. All applications filed under this paragraph after 10:00 a. m., on the said 35th day, shall be considered in the order of filing.

(b) Date for non-preference-right filings. Commencing at 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this order, any lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to such application, petition, location, selection, or other appropriation by the public generally as may be authorized by the public-land laws. All such applications filed either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this order, shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at the hour specified on such 126th day. All applications filed thereafter shall be considered in the order of filing.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their applications by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

Applications for these lands, which shall be filed in the Land Office, Boise, Idaho, shall be acted upon in accordance with the regulations contained in § 295.8 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations and Part 296 of that title, to the extent that such regulations are applicable. Applications under the homestead laws shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 166 to 170, inclusive, of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, and applications under the desert-land laws and the said Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 232 and 257, respectively, of that title.

Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to the Land Office, Boise, Idaho.

UNITED GAS PIPE LINE CO.

ORDER ALLOWING WITHDRAWAL OF NOTICE OF CANCELLATION, PERMITTING FILING OF SERVICE AGREEMENTS, SUSPENDING SUCH SERVICE AGREEMENTS AND PROVIDING FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING

United Gas Pipe Line Company (United), on January 25, 1954, tendered for filing two proposed service agreements with Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company (Arkansas) for sale to the latter company of 50 percent of its natural gas requirements in Shreveport, Louisiana, and vicinity. Billing for the proposed service agreements, for which a March 1, 1954, effective date is requested, would be made under applicable standard rate schedules, and would increase the cost of natural gas to Arkansas by approximately $347,000, or 45 percent per year, based on estimated sales for 1954.

United represents that one of the proposed service agreements is applicable to general service sales while the other relates to sales of natural gas resold to three special large industrial customers.

The present contract between United and Arkansas, entered into in 1929, is an effective rate schedule on file with the Commission as United's Rate Schedule FPC No. 69, and supplements thereto. It provides, through a single service at a single rate and without separate provision for sales of industrial gas, for the supply by United of 50 percent of Arkansas' requirements of natural gas in the Shreveport area. The rate is 50 percent of the average rate collected by Arkansas in that area.

At the time United filed its conversion tariff in 1952, it proposed to cancel this contract as non-jurisdictional. This cancellation notice was suspended by the order issued August 1, 1952, in Docket No. G-2019, until January 3, 1953, and until such further time as it may be made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act. To date, the operation of such notice of cancellation has continued to be deferred and in its tender of January 25, 1954, United requests permission to withdraw that notice of cancellation.

The tendered agreements propose to effect changes in the rates, classifications, practices, terms and conditions of the service rendered by United under its Rate Schedule FPC No. 69, as supplemented, and the notice of cancellation presently under suspension in Docket No. G-2019.

On the basis of the facts presented it has not been shown that the sales of gas under the proposed agreements would constitute separate and distinct transactions or that the changes proposed are lawful.

United specifically requests that it be granted any special permissions that may be required with respect to its proposed filings.

The Commission finds:

(1) It is necessary and proper in the public interest and in aid of the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission allow the withdrawal of the notice of cancellation of United's Rate Schedule FPC 69, as supplemented which was suspended by order issued August 1, 1952 in Docket No. G-2019; that the Commission permit the filing of the proposed service agreements tendered January 25, 1954, and that said service agreements be suspended and the use thereof be deferred, as hereinafter provided, pending hearing and decision thereon.

(2) It is reasonable and appropriate in the public interest in carrying out the provisions of the Natural Gas Act to consolidate for the purposes of hearing and decision thereon the proceedings involved in United's proposed service agreements tendered for filing on January 25, 1954, described above, with the consolidated proceedings in Docket No. G-1142, et al., and to hold hearings in the proceedings so consolidated at such time and place as the Commission may direct by further order.

The Commission orders:

(A) The aforesaid proceedings as noted in finding (2) above, be and the same hereby are consolidated for purposes of hearing and decision.

(B) The public hearing heretofore ordered to be reconvened upon a date to be fixed by further order of the Commission in the consolidated proceedings in Docket No. G-1142, et al., shall be concerned also with the lawfulness of the rates, charges, and classifications contained in United's proposed service agreements tendered for filing on January 25, 1954, described above.

(C) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, United's proposed service agreements tendered for filing on January 25, 1954, and described above, be and the same hereby are suspended and the use thereof deferred until August 1, 1954, and until such further time thereafter as said service agreements may be made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(D) United be and it hereby is permitted to withdraw its notice of cancellation of Rate Schedule FPC No. 69 filed July 3, 1952, and suspended by Commission order issued August 1, 1952, in Docket No. G-2019.

(E) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

Adopted: February 26, 1954.

Issued: March 1, 1954.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 54-177]

PENNSYLVANIA GAS & ELECTRIC CORP. ET AL.

ORDER WITH RESPECT TO FILING OF REPORTS CONCERNING FEES AND EXPENSES IN CONNECTION WITH SECTION 11 (e) PLANS

In the matter of Pennsylvania Gas & Electric Corporation, North Penn Gas Company, Crystal City Gas Company, Penn-Western Service Corporation, File No. 54-177

The above-entitled consolidated proceedings involve plans and amendments thereto filed pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") and a proceeding instituted pursuant to section 11 (b) of the act designed to bring the system of Pennsylvania Gas & Electric Corporation, a registered holding company, into compliance with section 11 (b) of the act. The Commission has heretofore reserved jurisdiction with respect to the fees and expenses paid or to be paid by the several companies concerned with these plans for services rendered in connection therewith and related proceedings.

Applications for allowances or approval of amounts already paid have been filed with the Commission but no procedure with respect to the disposition of such applications has been fixed.

The Commission has decided it to be necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers that, as a first step in fixing the ultimate procedure to be followed and as an aid to the Commission in determining what fees and expenses it should ultimately approve, an order should be entered, under the authority conferred by section 11 (f) of the act, requiring that certain of the companies concerned with said section 11 (e) plans, file with the Commission, either jointly or severally, a report or reports setting forth certain information.

It is therefore ordered, That on or before May 31, 1954, Pennsylvania Gas & Electric Corporation and North Penn Gas Company shall file with the Commission, either jointly or severally, 10 copies of a report or reports which shall set forth in a manner so as to indicate the proposed allocation thereof between such companies:

(1) The amounts of fees and expenses claimed by the respective applicants for services rendered in connection with the above-entitled and related proceedings;

(2) The amounts of fees and expenses which the paying company has already paid or is prepared to pay without modification;

(3) The amounts of fees and expenses, if any, which each company is willing to pay and which the claimants after negotiation with the company or companies involved have indicated a willingness to accept; and

(4) In cases where such negotiations have been unsuccessful, the amounts of fees and expenses which each company considers to be reasonable and which it is willing to pay.

It is further ordered, That any agreement as to amounts as contemplated by paragraph (3) above shall be subject to the provisions of the plans and to approval by the Commission and the exercise by the Commission of its full powers with respect to fees and expenses conferred by the Act in connection with plans filed under section 11 (e) thereof.

It is further ordered, That with respect to the information required to be furnished by paragraph (4) above, such information shall be submitted directly to the Chairman of this Commission and be kept confidential unless and until a further order of this Commission shall require otherwise.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] ORVAL L. DUBOIS,
Secretary.

INTERNATIONAL HYDRO-ELECTRIC SYSTEM

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION AND PERMITTING DECLARATION AS TO SOLICITATION IN CONNECTION WITH NOMINATION AND ELECTION OF DIRECTORS TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

FEBRUARY 26, 1954.

Paul H. Todd and William K. Jacobs, Jr. ("declarants"), Class A stockholders of International Hydro-Electric System, a registered holding company undergoing reorganization pursuant to section 11 (d) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") and now in process of nominating and electing a new board of directors, having filed with the Commission a declaration as to their solicitation of the Class A stockholders in connection with such election, pursuant to Rule U-62 promulgated under the act, and having at the same time filed an application pursuant to Rule U-100 requesting exemption from paragraphs (g) and (h) of said Rule U-62 and qualified exemption with respect to Items (4) and (8) of Form U-R–1 thereunder, and requesting acceleration of the effective date of their declaration pursuant to Rule U-62 (d); and

It appearing to the Commission that, in view of the nature of the election now being conducted by International Hydro-Electric System and in view of the character and purpose of the solicitation proposed to be conducted by the declarants, the conditions imposed in Rule U- respect to purchases and sales of securities and giving investment advice are inapplicable and inappropriate; that the information which the declarants have given in Item (4) of Form U-R–1 with respect to purchases and sales of securities by themselves and their associates is sufficiently informative; that the first letter of solicitation to be used by the declarants, a copy of which is annexed to their declaration, satisfies in all essential respects the applicable requirements in Item (8) of said form, and that said first letter likewise substantially satisfies the relevant requirements of Schedule 14A of the regulations under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 as amended, which provisions normally govern the solicitation of proxies for the election of corporate directors; and

It further appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate to grant declarants' request that the effective date of their declaration be accelerated, pursuant to Rule U-62 (d), and that said declaration become effective forthwith:

It is therefore ordered, That the application filed by declarants seeking exemption pursuant to Rule U-100 from paragraphs (g) and (h) of Rule U-62 and seeking qualified exemption with respect to Items (4) and (8) of Form U-R–1 thereunder, be and the same hereby is granted;

It is further ordered, That the declaration filed by the declarants pursuant to Rule U-62, with modifications as hereinabove approved, be and is hereby made effective forthwith.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

AUTHORITY: §§ 51.1970 to 51.1981 issued under sec. 205, 60 Stat. 1090, Pub. Law 156, 83d Cong.; 7 U. S. C. 1624.

GRADES

§ 51.1970 U. S. No. 1. U. S. No. 1 consists of watermelons of similar varietal characteristics which are mature but not overripe, fairly well formed, and which are free from anthracnose, decay, sunscald and free from damage caused by other diseases, sunburn, hail, scars, insects, hollow heart, whiteheart or mechanical or other means. (See §§ 51.1974 and 51.1975.)

(a) In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, not more than a total of 10 percent, by count, of the watermelons in any lot may fail to meet the requirements of this grade: Provided, That not more than one-half of this amount, or 5 percent, may be badly misshapen, or seriously damaged by any means, including therein not more than 1 percent for decay.

§ 51.1971 U. S. Commercial. U. S. Commercial consists of watermelons which meet all the requirements of U. S. No. 1 grade except for anthracnose spots. In this grade each watermelon shall be free from damage by anthracnose. (See §§ 51.1974 and 51.1975.)

(a) In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, not more than a total of 10 percent, by count, of watermelons in any lot may fail to meet the requirements of this grade: Provided, That not more than one-half of this amount, or 5 percent, may be badly misshapen or seriously damaged by any means, including therein not more than 1 percent for decay.

§ 51.1972 U. S. No. 2. U. S. No. 2 consists of watermelons of similar varietal characteristics which are mature but not overripe; which are not badly misshapen and which are free from decay, sunscald and free from serious damage caused by anthracnose, other diseases, sunburn, hail, scars, insects, hollow heart, whiteheart or mechanical or other means. (See §§ 51.1974 and 51.1975.)

(a) In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, not more than a total of 10 percent, by count, of the watermelons in any lot may fail to meet the requirements of this grade: Provided, That not more than one-tenth of this amount, or 1 percent, shall be allowed for decay.

UNCLASSIFIED

§ 51.1973 Unclassified. Unclassified consists of watermelons which have not been classified in accordance with any of the foregoing grades. The term "unclassified" is not a grade within the meaning of these standards, but is provided as a designation to show that no grade has been applied to the lot.

APPLICATION OF TOLERANCES

§ 51.1974 Application of tolerances. (a) When packed in crates or other types of containers the contents of individual packages in the lot, based on sample inspection, are subject to the following limitations: Provided, That the averages for the entire lot are within the tolerances specified for the grade:

(1) For a tolerance of 10 percent or more, individual packages in any lot may contain not more than one and one-half times the tolerance specified, except that when the package contains 15 specimens or less, individual packages may contain not more than double the tolerance specified; and,

(2) For a tolerance of less than 10 percent, individual packages in any lot may contain not more than double the tolerance specified, except that at least one specimen which does not meet the requirements shall be allowed in any package.

§ 51.1975 Size. (a) Where the size of watermelons is stated in terms of average weight, unless otherwise specified, the melons in any lot averaging less than 30 pounds shall not vary more than 4 pounds below the stated average, and the melons in any lot averaging 30 pounds or more shall not vary more than 6 pounds below the stated average. Size may also be stated in terms of minimum weight, or minimum and maximum weights.

TABLE OF WEIGHTS

40	34	5

(b) In order to allow for variations, incident to proper sizing, not more than 5 percent, by count, of the watermelons in any lot may be below the minimum size requirements: Provided, That when minimum and maximum weights are specified, not more than 5 percent, by count, may be below the specified minimum weight and not more than 5 percent, may be above the specified maximum weight.

DEFINITIONS

§ 51.1976 Mature. "Mature" means that the melon has reached the stage of development at which the flesh is at least fairly sweet and shows characteristic color of a mature melon for the variety.

§ 51.1977 Fairly well formed. "Fairly well formed" means having the characteristic shape but not necessarily the perfect type of the variety.

§ 51.1978 Damage. "Damage" means any defect which materially affects the appearance or the edible or shipping quality of the melon. Any one of the following defects, or any combination of defects, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect, shall be considered as damage:

(a) Sunburn when affecting the appearance to a greater extent than 9 square inches of greenish-yellow sunburn on a 30-pound melon.

(b) Hail, scars and other external defects, except anthracnose, when affecting the appearance to a greater extent than 9 square inches of greenish-yellow sunburn on a 30-pound melon; and,

(c) Hollow heart when the internal appearance is affected to a greater extent than that of a 30-pound, long type melon having cracks which aggregate three-fourths inch in width, or that of a 30-pound, round type melon having cracks which aggregate 1¼ inches in width.

§ 51.1979 Free from damage by anthracnose. "Free from damage by anthracnose" means that each melon may have not more than 5 anthracnose spots which are not cracked or sunken below the contour of the surface of the melon.

§ 51.1980 Not badly misshapen. "Not badly misshapen" means that the melons are not bottlenecks or gourdnecks, but may be tapered at the ends or slightly constricted.

§ 51.1981 Serious damage. "Serious damage" means any defect which seriously affects the appearance or the edible quality of the melon. Any one of the following defects, or any combination of defects, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect, shall be considered as serious damage:

(a) Anthracnose when there are more than 15 anthracnose spots, or when any spot is cracked or sunken below the contour of the surface of the melon;

(b) Sunburn when affecting the appearance to a greater extent than 20 square inches of greenish-yellow sunburn on a 30-pound melon;

(c) Hail, scars and other external defects, except anthracnose, when affecting the appearance to a greater extent than 20 square inches of greenish-yellow sunburn on a 30-pound melon; and,

(d) Hollow heart when the internal appearance is affected to a greater extent than that of a 30-pound, long type melon having cracks which aggregate 1½ inches in width, or that of a 30-pound, round type melon having cracks which aggregate 2½ inches in width.

The United States Standards for Watermelons contained in this subpart shall become effective 15 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER, and thereupon supersede the United States Standards for Watermelons which have been in effect since February 12, 1945 (7 CFR Part 51; 18 F. R. 7146).

It is hereby found that it is impractical, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to postpone the effective date of these standards until 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER because the shipping season for watermelons will begin around March 20 and it is in the public interest that the standards be in effect at the start of the shipping season; and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective date.

Dated: March 3, 1954.

Pursuant to the authority conferred on him by § 319.56–2 of the regulations supplemental to the Fruit and Vegetable Quarantine (Notice of Quarantine No. 56, 7 CFR and Supp. 319.56) under section 5 of the Plant Quarantine Act of 1912 (7 U. S. C. 159), the Chief of the Plant Quarantine Branch hereby issues administrative instructions to appear as § 319.56–2i in Title 7, Code of Federal Regulations, as follows:

§ 319.56–2i Administrative instructions prescribing method of treatment of mangoes from the West Indies. Approved fumigation with ethylene dibromide at normal atmospheric pressure, in accordance with the following procedure, is hereby prescribed as a condition of entry under permit for all shipments of mangoes from the West Indies:

(a) West Indies. As used in this section, the term "West Indies" means the foreign islands lying between North and South America, the Carribean sea, and the Atlantic Ocean, including, among others, Cuba, Jamaica, Dominican Republic, and the Bahama, Leeward and Windward Islands, but excluding the chain of islands adjacent and parallel to the north coast of South America (the largest of which are Aruba, Curacao, Bonaire, Tortuga, Margarita, Trinidad, and Tobago).

(b) Ports of entry. Mangoes to be offered for entry must be shipped direct from the country of origin to New York or such other North Atlantic ports as may be named in the permit.

(c) Precooling of fruit. Mangoes to be offered for entry must be cooled to a maximum temperature of 50° F. prior to unloading from the ship. The fruit may not be removed from the vessel until the plant quarantine inspector has satisfied himself that this requirement has been complied with and that the fruit can be moved promptly to the fumigation chamber.

(d) Approved fumigation. (1) The approved fumigation shall consist of fumigation with ethylene dibromide at normal atmospheric pressure, in a fumigation chamber which has been approved for that purpose by the Plant Quarantine Branch. The dosage shall be applied at the following rates:

6 ounces of ethylene dibromide per 1,000 cubic feet of space for 2 hours at 80° F.
8 ounces of ethylene dibromide per 1,000 cubic feet of space for 2 hours at 70° F.

Cubic feet of space shall include the load. The 2-hour period of exposure shall begin when all of the fumigant has been introduced into the chamber. The required temperatures apply to both air and fruit. The ethylene dibromide must be applied in the liquid state and volatilized within the sealed fumigation chamber by direct contact with a highly heated metal surface over an electric hot plate or other suitable heating medium. The gas shall be circulated within the chamber continuously for the 2-hour period by an electric fan or blower.

(2) Mangoes to be fumigated may be packed in crates with shredded packing material. When fruits are individually wrapped in paper the wrappings must be removed before fumigation. When loaded in the fumigation chamber the crates or other containers shall be separated at least 2 inches on all sides by wooden strips or other means. The chamber shall not be loaded to more than 50 percent of capacity.

(e) Other conditions. The unloading of fruit from the vessel, its delivery to an approved fumigation plant, and the fumigation procedure will be under the supervision of a plant quarantine inspector. Final release of the fruit for entry into the United States will be conditioned upon compliance with prescribed regulations.

(f) Costs. All costs of treatment and prescribed safeguards, other than the services of the supervising inspector during regularly assigned hours of duty and at the usual place of duty, shall be borne by the owner of the mangoes, or his representative.

(g) Department not responsible for damage. While the prescribed treatment is judged from experimental tests to be safe for use with mangoes, the Department assumes no responsibility for any damage sustained through or in the course of treatment, or in the precooling of fruit required prior to unloading from the vessel.

The purpose of these instructions is to authorize the importation from the West Indies under permit of mangoes that are to be given an approved fumigation treatment. Heretofore such movement has been prohibited. This newly authorized treatment therefore removes a restriction previously imposed. In order to be of maximum benefit to mango importers, the newly authorized procedure should be made available as soon as possible. Therefore, pursuant to section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003) it is found upon good cause that notice and public procedure on the foregoing administrative instructions are unnecessary, impracticable, and contrary to the public interest, and since these instructions relieve restrictions they may properly be made effective under said section 4 less than thirty days after their publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

These administrative instructions shall be effective March 6, 1954.
